WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1890.

THE total war debt is now down almost to the billion point.

THE state convention of fruit-growers will meet at Santa Cruz November 18th to 21st.

THE Santa Cruz politicians have devised a plan that ought to be followed.

THE Republican ring think a week will not be long enough to strip their candidates naked and show their spotted men to the public eye.

PROPERTY holders along Main street have a long political knife in their belt for all members of the present city hall ring.

THE board of directors of the state citrus fair will meet at Sacramento December 2d.

THE Terminal Railroad company is really making good progress in putting in the levee on the east bank of the river.

I ASK you, in casting your ballots on Tuesday next, to remember that you can sustain the administration of an able, conscientious and independent president, or you can set a seal of doubt upon it; you can do much to perpetuate Republican administration or you can do much to destroy it.

THE San Francisco Bulletin, with its usual claptrap and insincerity, says California goes Republican and the east Democratic, because our people, as a rule, are more intelligent than our old friends whom we bade goodbye at the east a few years ago.

CANADA is pushing the beet sugar industry with renewed vigor since the passage of the McKinley bill, which permits the introduction of sugar, duty free, into the United States.

ESTIMATES are made that before the opening of the coming year the supplies of California dried fruits at the east will all have gone out of the market.

IN the case of one noted Republican at least, Blaine was right when he said there was no balm in Gilead to heal the wound of the big defection from the g. o. p.

wail, Oh Absalom, my son; nor yet, Ichabod, the glory is departed, would do. Deacon Shepherd had to fly to more mundane things for comfort, and turned the United States flag upside down to express his disgruntlement.

A GOOD OCCUPATION.

Mr. Mathew Stanley Quay, no matter what virtues he may lack, is certainly a gentleman of great directness of methods, and his graces of expression are beyond compare. His appreciation of the result of the eastern elections was expressed with an epigrammatic brevity that could not be improved upon.

THE Republican ring think a week will not be long enough to strip their candidates naked and show their spotted men to the public eye. Said public eye is peered, and its vision is keen. It will pierce through all disguises in less than a week.

PROPERTY holders along Main street have a long political knife in their belt for all members of the present city hall ring. They look at their street with all its unsightly chuck holes, and then compare the perfect surface of Broadway, and they say thereby hangs a tale—of woe to the ring.

THE board of directors of the state citrus fair will meet at Sacramento December 2d. The principal business will be selecting the place for holding the next citrus fair. It is desirable that every member of the board be present. It would be well to have it somewhere north, so as to let the people see what Southern California does in the way of citrus fruit production.

I ASK you, in casting your ballots on Tuesday next, to remember that you can sustain the administration of an able, conscientious and independent president, or you can set a seal of doubt upon it; you can do much to perpetuate Republican administration or you can do much to destroy it. It is in your hands. I have come here, not with the purpose of eulogizing the administration, but to bear my testimony and give you a warning, that as Pennsylvania votes on Tuesday next, the nation votes two days hence.

THE San Francisco Bulletin, with its usual claptrap and insincerity, says California goes Republican and the east Democratic, because our people, as a rule, are more intelligent than our old friends whom we bade goodbye at the east a few years ago. If the late election had been a matter of intelligence, this great silver-producing state would never have voted for the party that failed to pass the free coinage bill, because it was scared away from its duty by the squeak of the little man under his grandfather's hat, the little corporation lawyer, who threatened to veto such a bill if presented to him.

CANADA is pushing the beet sugar industry with renewed vigor since the passage of the McKinley bill, which permits the introduction of sugar, duty free, into the United States. There are nearly $70,000,000 of them out, and the secretary offers their face, plus interest to August 31, 1891, for their surrender, yet they come in slowly. That is all they can bring at the end of the year. Such of these bonds as are not held for the circulation of national banks, one would suppose, would be rushed in for redemption, but they are not. Yet they will cease to draw interest after next year.

ESTIMATES are made that before the opening of the coming year the supplies of California dried fruits at the east will all have gone out of the market. This means a bare market for the next crop, and this means an active demand for fruit with good prices here. The California fruit-grower is "in it" from this on. In the future the country will turn to us for its supply of fruit. Good lands in this sun-kissed clime are going to be worth as much silver as would cover their superficies in standard dollars.

ON HIS LAST LEGS.

Stanford's Great Stallion Electioneer Nearing His End. Electioneer is on his last legs. He is twenty-two years old and is now a wreck. The great stallion has produced many famous trotters, and has more than any other horse contributed to the renown of California bred stock.

Electioneer was purchased of Mr. Backman of Stony Ford, N. Y., by Senator Stanford in 1877. The sum paid for him was $10,000. He is by Rysdyke's Hambletonian, out of Green Mountain Maid, by Henry Clay, his second dam being Shanghai Mary. Electioneer's first get was Fred Crocker, who made at the time the world's fastest two-year-old record—2:25 1/2. Will Flower followed with 2:21 at the same age. Manzanita made 2:17 1/2, in her three-year-old form, and 2:16 in the third heat of a race with four-year-olds. The 2:16 stood good until Sunol tapped at fame's door. Hindoo Rose held the yearling record, 2:36 1/2, until Norlaine beat it with 2:31. Norlaine was by Norval, another of Electioneer's get, so the honor was in the family. Hindoo Rose also made the three-year-old record of 2:19 1/2.

THE prices brought by Electioneer get have been something phenomenal. Sunol sold for nearly $60,000; Anteeo sold for $30,000; his brother, Anteevo, sold for $30,000; Bell Boy brought $31,000 at public auction; the two-year-olds sold at $12,500 each, and one yearling sold for $12,500; Norval sold for $15,000, and a large number have brought $10,000 each. Charles Marvin, the driver of Sunol and the manager of the Palo Alto stud, is strongly in favor of sending the great old horse to this city for a change of climate. His owner, however, does not favor the plan, but has surrounded him with every comfort that money can procure. Electioneer has never stood publicly. However, with his great progeny, it is probable that his blood will flow freely through many generations to come, his get numbering something over 400, an aristocratic number.

PLUCKY FIREMEN.

They Fight an Oil Fire with Energy and Success.

At 9:20 o'clock yesterday morning the fire brigade was called out by an alarm rung in from box 23, to extinguish a lively blaze at the yard of the Standard Oil company on San Fernando street, the contents of two large oil tanks having become ignited from too close proximity to a tinner's furnace, used for soldering oil cans. Engines Nos. 2 and 4, the Park hose and the hook and ladder companies were soon on the spot, and the firemen worked like Trojans to prevent the flames from spreading to the five other tanks filled with the combustible fluid, which stood within fifty feet of those which were already burning. Fortunately but a small quantity of oil, comparatively speaking, was in the two tanks which caught fire, and after half an hour's hard work the blaze was extinguished. The damage, amounting to about $500, was covered by insurance.

WHICH WILL WIN?

Another Outrage by the City Council Well Under Way.

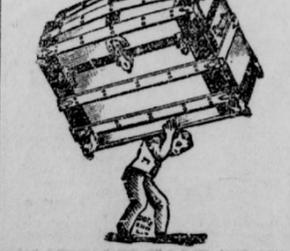

T. Rebant, a property owner on Aliso street, east of Alameda, called at the Herald office yesterday to express the indignation of the residents along the river that any proposition has been seriously entertained by the council of narrowing the present limits of the Los Angeles river. A protest of 150 names has gone to the council against this latest outrage on the people, and a vigorous fight will be made to prevent the Terminal or any other railroad from carrying out any scheme to flood the lower part of the city. The people along the west side of the river want 300 feet space for the river to flow in, and say that half a dozen transcontinental railroads would not pay for the damage of another overflow. One of the property owners in that section, who lost a child by drowning during the overflow of several years ago, remarked to a Herald representative a few days ago: "The people are beginning to count the days, hours and minutes when the present council will be powerless to do more who might have prevented this danger. We complain, but we cannot respect them. Among the silted are martyrs to rheumatism, gout and dropsy are privately expelled, and it imparts a degree of vigor to digestion and assimilation which has a most favorable bearing on the general health, remedies biliousness, kidney troubles and malaria."

There are many martyrs. Some were wise in the loftiest, some are silly in the most improvident sense. The worst improvident actually applies to the latter class, since they neglect to provide against threatened danger. We complain, but we cannot respect them. Among the silted are martyrs to rheumatism, gout and dropsy are privately expelled, and it imparts a degree of vigor to digestion and assimilation which has a most favorable bearing on the general health, remedies biliousness, kidney troubles and malaria.
