

SUNDAY CLOSING.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTION TO DECIDE THE QUESTION.

All the Returns Not Yet In—The Official Figures From Thirteen Precincts Give a Majority Against the Saloons.

Yesterday's election to decide the question as to whether or not the saloons should be closed on Sundays, was a remarkably quiet and unexciting one. This was due to some extent to the indifference of the saloon men, who were apparently of the opinion that the movement was merely an emanation of a number of "cranks," and to the quiet manner in which their opponents conducted operations. The latter evinced the utmost confidence in the result of their labors early in the day, and it was evident that they, at least, were in earnest, in spite of the lack of interest manifested by the public generally. It was estimated at noon that the saloon men would be defeated in all the wards but the Seventh, Eighth and Second; but, on the other hand, it was surmised that the majority from these three would overbalance the deficit from the rest. As the returns came in after the polls closed, however, it was very soon apparent that the saloon men had underestimated the strength of the enemy, and for the first time they realized that the movement meant something more than had been anticipated.

In the First ward the anti-saloons were in a decided majority, and at one stage of the proceedings their votes were being polled at the rate of two to one against their opponents.

There was an air of quiet determination about the Sunday closers in the Second ward which entirely escaped the notice of the oppositionists until it was too late to effect a radical change. They rallied to some extent, but in only one precinct was there any appreciable difference felt, and that was insufficient to affect the general result.

The Third ward voted for closing the saloons by almost two to one, and the Fourth followed suit, although to what extent could not be ascertained officially. As no returns came in from the Fifth and Ninth wards, the result cannot be definitely stated, but it is generally conceded that the Sunday closers carried the day. Only one precinct was heard from in the Seventh ward, and that gave a small majority for the saloon men.

The Eighth ward, the stronghold of the publicans, was the only one in which any unpleasantness occurred. In Precinct B, the Sunday closers were badly beaten by almost four to one, but when the returns came in the officers reported that while they were counting the ballots some evilly disposed person absconded with their tally sheets, poll lists and other documents relating to the election, leaving but the ballots in the box. A discrepancy of thirty-four votes was found when a count was made, but the ballots and box were taken to the city clerk's office and another count taken there.

The official returns are as follows: First Ward. Precinct A: For, 274; against, 82; total vote cast, 356. Precinct B: For, 160; against, 103; total vote cast, 263. Second Ward. Precinct A: For, 146; against, 57; total vote cast, 203. Precinct B: For, 313; against, 250; total vote cast, 572. Precinct C: For, 144; against, 173; total vote cast, 317. Third Ward. Precinct A: For, 342; against, 203; total vote cast, 545. Precinct B: For, 256; against, 162; total vote cast, 418. Precinct C: For, 183; against, 44; total vote cast, 227. Fourth Ward. Precinct A: For, 197; against, 54; total vote cast, 251. Precinct B: No returns. Fifth Ward: No returns. Sixth Ward. Precinct A: For, 276; against, 65; total vote cast, 341. Seventh Ward. Precinct A: For, 267; against, 342; total vote cast, 609. Precinct B: No returns. Eighth Ward. Precinct A: For, 104; against, 228; total vote cast, 332. Precinct B: For, 78; against, 629; total vote cast, 707. Ninth Ward: No returns. Totals from 13 precincts: For, 2740; against, 2402; majority for Sunday closing, 338.

NOT A SORCERER.

Sereno Emeterio Discharged Yesterday by Commissioner Van Dyke. Sereno Emeterio, the Tule reservation Indian who was accused of having caused the death of Gullie Charley, another Tule Indian, by poisoning a bottle of wine which the deceased drank, had his examination before United States Commissioner Van Dyke yesterday. Nothing was introduced by the prosecution to show that Emeterio had been guilty of such a crime. The stomach of deceased had not been subjected to a chemical analysis, because it was perfectly empty when removed from the body. The accusation of murder against Emeterio must be ascribed to the superstition of the Indians, who cannot be made to understand that a person will die a natural death without the incantations of a sorcerer or medicine man, and partly, also, to the hate they bare the defendant. Commissioner Van Dyke, after hearing all the testimony adduced by the United States district attorney, discharged the defendant.

NEW SUITS.

Several People Who Want Their Differences Settled in Court. William R. Haizlip yesterday brought suit in the superior court against F. N. Townsend, to have him enjoined from entering upon plaintiff's land to dig ditches and laying pipe. Jeremiah Baldwin sues W. E. Rogers and others to foreclose a mortgage for $1000. W. A. Morgan sues Fred C. Smith and Charles Smith for $500, damages sustained by the unlawful seizure and sale of one horse, set of harness and one cart.

The Western Electric company sues T. H. Rhodes and the Keese Electric company for $517.34, balance due on a note. Julius Phillips, a tailor and clothier, filed his petition in insolvency. His liabilities are $1630.33; assets, nothing. The adjudication of insolvency was signed by Judge McKinley, and the creditors' meeting set for December 15th.

LOS ANGELES IN IT.

This City to Have a Big Baseball Nine.

Colonel Robinson and Henry Harris, two of the leading lights of the California Baseball league, arrived here yesterday on a tour of inspection. The California league will contain six clubs in 1891, and there is quite a rivalry between several towns to get in. At the present writing San Francisco, San Jose, Oakland, Sacramento and Los Angeles are sure to get in. The fight for the sixth team is a very pretty one between Stockton, Fresno and San Diego. It will be a big thing for Los Angeles to have a team in the state league, and the baseball enthusiasts in this city will not keep their hands in their pockets when money is required to secure a team that will worthily uphold the prestige of Los Angeles.

"Yes," said Colonel Robinson, "Los Angeles is sure to be in the league, and everything points to Marco Hellman will secure the franchise, although nothing definite will be known until after the meeting of the directors next month." Both Messrs. Harris and Robinson are of the opinion that Los Angeles will be one of the best paying cities in the California league next season. The colonel also informed the HERALD representative that he will start for Southern California next Saturday week, and will play at Fresno on Sunday. Colonel Robinson will pilot the Coronado team, and in addition to the Oakland and the George Van Halten and another eastern professional. Lohman, of the Oakland, will catch for the Los Angeles club, and with that exception the Colonels will have most of their regular men.

The California league magnates went north last night. Marco Hellman and Ben Benjamin also go to San Francisco the latter part of the week on business connected with the Southern California league.

A PALPITATOR.

Is What the Physician Calls Cousin Cohn's Heart.

The trial of L. B. Cohn, who is sued by the county of Los Angeles, and which had been continued once before, was commenced yesterday afternoon before Judge Van Dyke, in department four. When the last continuance was granted, First Cousin Cohn was sick, and the trial was then postponed upon the payment by the pawnbroker of $100 witness' fees. The defense wished the case continued once more yesterday, because First Cousin Cohn was on the sick list again. As this did not work, a continuance was asked for by Mr. Variel, on the ground that S. M. White was awaiting the verdict of the jury in First Cousin Edelman's case. This racket also proved unavailing, and as a consequence the trial had to proceed. It seems by the doctor's affidavit that Mr. Cohn is troubled with palpitation of the heart. If this unhappy victim of the narcotic weed will persist in smoking, his heart will palpitate until he dies, and his memory will continue to impair until he won't be able to recollect his own name nor where he lives. It is a sad case, which ought to be reported to the anti-tobacco journals. The county is anxious to recover $2062 which First Cousin Cohn collected from the county treasurer by means of those warrants with which his relative Henry kept him so plentifully supplied. A ruthless grand jury has called them fraudulent warrants, and perhaps the grand jury knows. The case is being tried without a jury.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

The Inquest on the Body of Carlos Fachinetti. Coroner Weldon held an inquest yesterday morning on the body of Carlos Fachinetti, a native of Italy, 48 years of age, who was accidentally killed on Monday afternoon, near Redondo, on the Southern California railroad, by the caving in of a bank at which he was working.

From the testimony taken before the jury of inquisition it was learned that Fachinetti was loading a flat car with sand, dug from a bank some thirty feet high. As the upper end of the bank was slightly overhanging, the foreman of the gang warned the Italian repeatedly of his danger, but he did not apparently realize it, as he continued to undermine the bank with his long-handled shovel. About ten minutes past two a loud noise was heard, accompanied by a cloud of dust, and turning to the place where Fachinetti had been working, his companions saw a pile of sand sufficiently large to load three or four cars. Under this, and crushed against the flat car he had been loading, they found the Italian dead, when they dug him out several minutes later.

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death from "injuries received by the caving in of a bank of dirt on the Santa Fe railroad, near Redondo, while shoveling dirt on a car."

SECOND-STREET CABLE.

The Contractors Will Arrive in the City Today.

A telegram was received here yesterday stating that the contractors, in whose hands the Second-street cable road is placed, will arrive here today. The promoters of the scheme announce that it is their expectation that active work will begin at once, and the project will be pushed rapidly forward until completed. The people on the hills will hope this may be so.

HERE'S RICHNESS.

A ROBBER LEGALLY LOOSED AND GIVEN HIS PLUNDER.

Because the Robbed Man Was Not in Court—A Highway Plunderer Permitted to Keep His Swag.

John Voscoe, who was recently arrested at Burbank for highway robbery, by Justice Marshall, was yesterday discharged by the same magistrate, on the ground that the complaining witness was not present.

It seems unfortunate that such a miscarriage of justice should result in a clear case. This man Voscoe, when arrested by Justice Marshall, confessed to him his crime, and told the story to several police officers. The $1.1 found on his person he acknowledged was part of the booty he had robbed his partner of, at the muzzle of a revolver. Jailor Darcy yesterday received through attorney Crawford, who defended Voscoe, an order from Justice Marshall for the man's release, and for the return of the $111 to him, which he had by force of arms robbed a man of.

This is a small case, but in its principle it is the same as the Dameron-Edelman, and other legal fiascos, in that through a little technicality a self-confessed robber is not only discharged from custody, but given legal possession of the money he stole, and turned loose again on the community. It is such a case as that which produces a feeling of the most intense indignation among the people, as well as a feeling of outrage committed in the name of justice.

A law that turns loose a self-confessed robber and allows him to put back in his pocket the proceeds of his crime, and go out of jail a free man, without trial, evidence or anything else, is a travesty on right and an absurdity on its face, and a feature calculated to bring the law, lawyers and courts to the level of a sort of public bunco game, conducted by public officials.

Justice Marshall stated to a HERALD reporter that according to the law he had no other alternative than to discharge the prisoner. No one who knows the justice will question that statement or believe that he acted from any other than the most conscientious conception of his duty. It is the law and its technicalities which is to blame—technicalities the only purpose of which is evasion.

HUNTING THE INDIAN.

The Sheriff's Posse Make a Determined Effort.

The Indian who killed Mrs. Farmer at Mint cañon last week is leading the officers a pretty dance. Deputy Sheriff Abila returned yesterday afternoon. He stated to a HERALD reporter that the posse is constituted of Sheriff Aguirre, the two Melrose boys, brothers of Mrs. Farmer, Deputies Haunell, Villiejos and Brady, Thomas J. Mitchell, F. Mitchell, and Weston.

These men have been on the trail since Saturday. They have been all over Capitan and Placeritos cañons, as well as on every ridge, and through every wash, gulch and cut for five miles around in a northeast and southerly direction from Humphreys. This occupied the posse up to Monday night. On yesterday morning Aguirre, Melrose, Brady, Hamme and Villiejos started from the Mitchell ranch, near Humphreys, to search Mint cañon, Dead Man's cañon, and then push their way to Elizabeth lake and work back over the mountains to Castac cañon.

The trail of the murderer was followed up to Sunday night to a sheep camp in Placeritos cañon, where a can of flour he had carried was found in a deserted cabin. On Monday morning the trail was taken up, but soon lost, and had not been found when Deputy Abila left. There is very little chance of the fellow's escape, unless he should reach the railroad and manage to board a freight train.

The pursuit has been full of hardship and danger, but has not been relaxed in the least. The posse received a great amount of assistance and kind attention from Messrs. Mitchell and Genier, ranchers near Humphreys.

WENT TO BLAZES.

The Fire Department Called Out Twice Yesterday.

At 9:20 o'clock yesterday morning the fire department was called out by alarms rung in from boxes 25 and 26, to extinguish a lively blaze at the works of the Los Angeles Refining company, on the Mission road, caused by an explosion of oil in the engine room. Before the arrival of the firemen the flames had consumed the shed in which the fire broke out, and spread to four tanks, each of which contained about one hundred gallons of oil. All four tanks exploded, and the contents thereof scattered about in all directions, but fortunately no one was near at the time, except one man, who escaped more serious injury than the singeing of his hair and whiskers. The firemen soon had the blaze under control, but when their labors were concluded, it was found that the machinery and premises had been damaged to the extent of nearly $2000, which, however, is fully covered by insurance.

At 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning a telephone alarm was received at the Boyle Heights engine house for a brush fire in a pasture belonging to ex-Mayor W. H. Workman, on the corner of Boyle and Louisiana avenues, caused by the careless handling of matches by a child. The blaze was extinguished before any material damage was done.

FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

A State Alliance to Be Organized in California.

The various Farmers' Alliances of the state will meet in their delegates tomorrow at San Jose, for the purpose of organizing a state alliance. Last night the delegates from this city went north, to be at the meeting. Los Angeles has three delegates in the persons of F. I. Durly, Cahuena; P. K. Wood, Clearwater; and E. M. Wardell, Duarte. All three went north last night.

The alliance in this state will be a strong body, as there are fifteen sub-alliances organized with a membership estimated at 800 or 900.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

The Full Election Returns to Be Made Public Tomorrow.

Owing to the fact that the election board of Cahuena precinct, which had been summoned before the board of supervisors yesterday, did not appear, it is not expected that the full election returns can be made known before tomorrow.

J. C. Davis's bid for a bridge over Smith's crossing was accepted. He was directed to put in a 48-foot crossing, instead of a 40-foot one. The petition of Al Cobler and J. S. Mackenzie for salaries as deputy county tax collectors in March, 1887, which has been every month before the board since that time, came up once more yesterday and was denied.

The resignation of George M. Sells, as director of the Vineland irrigation district, was accepted.

THE OREGON WRECK.

The Company Settling Damages—An Investigation Going On.

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 18.—The railroad commissioners resumed their investigation of the recent wreck on the Southern Pacific. Manager Koehler was represented by counsel. Several witnesses testified sustaining the company's theory of criminal derelict. A large number of witnesses were examined yesterday, among them Railroad Commissioner Calvig. He had visited the scene soon after the wreck occurred and gave a description of the work of destruction. The opinions of the witnesses seemed to differ in regard to the claim that a rail had been misplaced before the train came along. They saw an extra rail lying by the track, but there were also enough rails without it to complete the track. Several witnesses said they had seen evidence of this rail having been pried from the ties with a crowbar. Other witnesses testified that the timbers of the bridge were in bad condition. Manager Koehler succeeded in obtaining a settlement in full for a number of passengers injured in the wreck. The prices for receipts in full to cover all damages, are said to range from $100 to $2500.

The net returns so far received aggregate over $710,000. A careful estimate as to the amount in hand, places it in the neighborhood of $400,000.
