

THE GOULDS IN IT.

They Again Get Control of the Pacific Mail.

George Gould Gets Back the Presidency.

Jay and George Gould Both Members of the Directory.

Large Holdings of Atchison and Union Pacific Said to Have Been Acquired by Them.

Associated Press Dispatches.

New York, Nov. 19.—At a meeting of the directors of the Pacific Mail this afternoon, George Gould was elected president, J. B. Houston vice-president, and Jay Gould, George Gould and Russell Sage were elected directors.

The board of directors now consists of Jay Gould, George Gould, Russell Sage, Calvin Brice, Samuel Thomas, C. P. Huntington, Henry Hart, J. B. Houston and Isaac E. Gates.

This is a decided victory for the Goulds, and a defeat for C. P. Huntington. Last May, Huntington caused George Gould's defeat for re-election to the presidency, because Gould proposed to put in steamers between Tacoma and Japan and China.

George Gould said to a reporter: "My election was due to my having decided to take back the interests in the company with which I parted last May. I was actuated in part by reports spread abroad that I had been unfriendly to the company, and pursued a policy unfriendly to its prosperity."

A local paper says this evening: "When the present financial flurry is over, marked changes will be found in the relations and ownership of some of the more important systems of roads. It is understood definitely that Jay Gould has acquired large interests in the Atchison, and that George Gould will be one of the directors. It is almost certain that Gould has acquired large holdings in the Union Pacific, and it is admitted that he has gained control of a large portion of the Richmond Terminal stock."

WALL STREET.

Stocks Go Up on a Moderate Volume of Business.

New York, Nov. 19.—The stock market in response to the panicky feeling in London, opened 1 to 3/4 down. Prices, however, were subsequently fairly well held and on a comparatively moderate business were soon 1/2 to 1 1/2 better than at opening.

Excitement in the market soon subsided and business subsided into a very moderate volume. Fluctuations became small and the best prices were well held. At 11 o'clock the market was fairly active and steady to firm, at about the best of the hour.

Stocks after 11 displayed a firm front on a very moderate business, which brought prices above the best figures of the first hour, recovering nearly all loss from last night. A reaction appeared before noon, however, and the market was rather heavy, but close up to the best prices of the morning.

The momentary weakness at noon was soon over, and the market showed greater strength than at any time during the day. Everything traded in advanced sharply, and was finally lifted above last night's prices. Later, after slight reaction, further gains were made.

At 2:15 the market was active and strong, at the highest prices of the day. Stocks, after 2:15 p. m., became more active. An upward movement made material progress; close was active and strong, at the highest prices of the day.

Final changes were quite irregular, but advances were largely in the majority. Burlington and Quincy is up 3/4; Jersey Central, 3/4; Pacific Mail, 3/4; Union Pacific, 1/2; Northern Pacific, preferred, 1/2; North American, 1 per cent.

LONDON CHANGE.

After verging on a panic, the Market Closes Improved.

London, Nov. 19, 1 p. m.—Stocks opened very flat, but the prices of all securities have since improved. American securities are 1 per cent. higher than at 12:30, when they were 1 to 3 per cent. lower than last evening's close.

Foreign securities were steadier, but American railway securities were again drooping. Discount houses, to secure the payment of coupons on Uruguay bonds, have been provided for.

After verging upon a panic, the market closed with a better tendency all around. The cause of depression in the stock market this morning was the refusal of the Bank of England to discount bills of Baring Bros. and Co. for maturity.

The Times says: No bills drawn on Baring Brothers, after last Saturday, by their correspondents will be accepted. All drawn previously will be recognized. The Bank of England is practically in charge of the Barings affairs. Probably the firm will be resuscitated with fresh capital. The bank is charging a high rate of discount to prevent a fresh rush of bills. It desires holders to exercise forbearance and not throw unnecessary work on the bank. All acceptances already provided for will be met at maturity.

The amount of bullion gone into the Bank of England on balance today was £1,010,000.

Saved by a Pilot's Skill.

New York, Nov. 19.—The gunboat Concord left the dock yesterday for a trip on the Sound. It was discovered that her steering gear had been disarranged by a discharged workman. It was a perilous moment, as the vessel was in the jaws of Hell gate. By the extraordinary coolness and skill of the pilot, she was put safely through the dangerous narrows. She will be given a speed trial today.

Money for Methodist Missions.

Boston, Nov. 19.—Among the appropriations made by the Methodist missionary conference last evening were: For Norwegian work in California, $1650;

Swedish work on the Columbia river, $1800; Southern California Swedish work, $1200; entire amount for domestic Scandinavian missions, $52,142; for German work in California, $5000; for Chinese work in California, $7800; in Oregon, $700; Japanese work in California, $5000; Sandwich islands, $2000. A number of additional appropriations were made.

Silver Purchases. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—The amount of silver offered the treasury today was 847,000 ounces; the amount purchased, 500,000, at $1.971 down to $1.925.

The director of the mint today announced that the treasury department, having purchased during the current month 4,500,000 ounces of silver, the amount authorized by law, no further purchases would be made until December 1st.

A Panic in Pork. CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—As the result of the panicky feeling in London and New York, this morning wheat opened here 2 to 2 1/2 lower. Other markets were also lower, and there was a panic in pork. Later, however, on better financial news, there was a substantial rally all around, and the market became steady.

A Run on a Bank. NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 19.—There was a run on the Howard Savings institution today. Money was paid out as fast as the clerks could count it. President Frelinghuysen says the bank can pay every depositor in full, and have a million dollars left.

The North River Bank. NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Judge O'Brien has appointed Francis Higgins receiver for the North River bank.

A Tea Dealer Falls. NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Joseph F. Recker, a dealer in teas and coffees, has failed.

WORLD'S FAIR MATTERS.

THE BOARD OF LADY MANAGERS CONVENED.

A Lively Wrangle in the National Commission Over a Resolution Passed by the Executive Committee.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The board of lady managers of the world's Columbian exposition met here today. They were called to order and welcomed to participation in the work by President Palmer of the national commission. In the course of his remarks he called attention to the fact that this was the first time in the history of a nation that woman had been fully recognized by the government in the administration of a great public trust.

The congressional committee concluded its hearings today. One of the members said they confidently looked for the settlement of the site problem in a day or two.

Early in the session of the national commission today, trouble was again developed. Massey of Delaware referred to the report in the local papers that the executive committee had passed a resolution "to head off the foreign affairs committee from establishing a London bureau," etc.

Governor Waller of Connecticut, a member of the foreign affairs committee, also objected strenuously to the stigma cast upon the committee by the resolution. He said the executive committee was all wrong, and that it has nothing to do with the standing committee except in a supervisory way.

Commissioner De Young wanted to introduce a resolution calling for the expurgation of the entire executive committee of the resolution, but Waller said he only wanted justification.

Commissioner Allen, of New York, then moved a resolution requesting the executive committee either to expunge the unfortunate resolution from its proceedings, or officially disavow all intent of disrespect to the foreign affairs committee.

After a lengthy talk both resolutions went over. McKenzie and Britton, members of the executive committee, made addresses in which they regretted that their resolution had been so worded as to give a false impression of their intentions in the matter; no disrespect or aspersion was intended.

The report of the foreign affairs committee was then read and laid over. The committee on buildings and grounds made a report reviewing the site enlargement, and recommending that the main portion of the fair be located in Jackson park; the art gallery, music hall and electrical display on the lake front, and that the Midway pleasure and Washington park be used for the overflow. This report went over without action.

The classification committee then reported the result of its labors, they having agreed upon the De Young classification. After some discussion a report was adopted, fixing the De Young classification as the official one for the exposition.

A Legal Conundrum.

A correspondent asks this pertinent question, which perhaps some of the legal fraternity can answer: "It is held to be infamous, and in law a felony, for Lockwood to harbor for the purpose of assisting to escape, Damon, when he was a fugitive from justice, why is it any less so for a lawyer to do his utmost to help him to escape if he is guilty? Is not the principle precisely the same in each case, the only difference being as to methods? Is not the wound inflicted on society as grievous when wrought by the latter method as by the former? This is a question which our people are seriously and angrily pondering."

OUR INDIAN SUMMER

A Ride in a Day as Perfect as if in June.

The Frostless Foothills in the Balmey November Weather.

Vistas of Mountain, Plain and Sea Under a Cloudless Sky.

Peas, Tomatoes and New Potatoes Growing All Along the Coast as if in Midsummer.

A HERALD reporter took a long ride yesterday with Mr. A. H. Denker, and proposes to tell the readers of this paper what he saw. It may be an old story here, and some one may call for the chestnut bell and ring it loudly. That will be all right; but if all the many thousands of people who take the HERALD will run a red mark through this article and send it to some friend at the east, it will do good missionary work in attracting attention to the delights of dwelling under skies like ours.

And what so perfect as a day in June? Then if ever come perfect days. Here he can find as perfect days in this November, as in any June that ever hung the New England hillsides with a rich drapery of verdure. The drive yesterday took us out past Westlake park, by the Baptist college on the western limits of the city, near Colegrove, up toward the Lick tract, then westerly to the Calhoun pass, to Mr. Miller's, Mr. Yager's, Mr. Durly's places, and down to Mr. Denker's Rodeo de las Aguas. The mountains stood out as well defined in the warm, hazy air, a canvas in pietra dura, and the plains below lay bathed in a flood of sunlight, while to the west the broad sea smiled and sparkled like a great belt of diamonds girding the waist of Nature. There are indeed few spots in the whole wide world where such a vista of loveliness presents itself to the delighted eye. It is one which only the brush of the artist or the pen of the poet can do half justice to.

And the orange, lemon and lime flourish here as in their original habitat. Here are ideal sites for the country homes of men of taste. Such another place is Mr. Durly's, and there are many of them all the way to Santa Monica cañon. The ranch Buenos Ayres has a number of such spurs in it, so has the St. Vicente, and the Rodeo de las Aguas. At this ranch the trip was brought to an end. Here Mr. Denker has acres of sugar cane, which he uses as feed for his stock. This ranch will one day be the homes of hundreds of rich men, who will make a paradise around each one. The orange trees at the ranch hung loaded with perfect fruit, and the dark green of the foliage shows how full of vigor are the trees. Streams of water flow from the hills and well up here on the plains, the slope is to the east, and the soil is very fertile. It is one of the great ranches of the country.

Killed a Rattler. One of Lock Haven's handsome young ladies who was up at Queen's run on Sunday had the misfortune of coming into contact with a rattlesnake which measured three feet in length, and which caused great excitement around that neighborhood for awhile. The snake was killed by the young lady after a very hard struggle which lasted ten minutes. After arriving in this city and coming down Main street she took the snake and wrapped it around her neck, showing her nerve.—Lock Haven Democrat.

A Woman's Building. The corner stone of the Prophylaeum, a building designed to accommodate the various social and literary clubs of Indianapolis, where it is to be located, was recently laid with appropriate ceremonies. This enterprise, the idea of which was conceived about a year ago by Mrs. May Wright Sewall, is in the hands of a woman's stock company, of which there are more than 200 members. The capital stock is $30,000, and all of the shares have been sold for $25 each.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Seaside Newspaper Women. A short time ago Miss Vining, of Hull, Mass., entertained fifty newspaper women belonging to the New England Women's Press association. One of the features of the day was a sail down the harbor. The sea got choppy, and when the boat reached Plymouth Rock every girl was as weak as a doll and as yellow as a bar of laundry soap. There will be little left of the lady with the sweet clinging name when these fifty literary ladies get to making copy for her.—New York World.

Mrs. Gladstone has the reputation of being the most devoted wife and mother in parliament. There is seldom a week during the session that this beautiful young old lady is not in the ladies' gallery. When her husband or son delivers a speech of any importance she is always present. During the prolonged sitting of the Farnell commission she was a daily attendant.
