

ADAMS'S ADDRESS

Displeased the Gould-Sage Party.

The Magnates Riled by His Remarks.

Serious Charges Made Against the Late President.

He Hoodwinked the Directors and Run the Road for the Promotion of Private Interests.

Associated Press Dispatches.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Tomorrow the Tribune will print an interview with Jay Gould, in which he says Ex-President Adams of the Union Pacific is a theorist, who conducted many affairs of the Union Pacific without the knowledge of the directors. Gould said he learned when last in Kansas City, that Adams personally owned control of the stock yards there, and while the railroad was carrying in their live stock at bare cost of transfer, the stock yards earned $1,000,000 the past year. Such action as this, Gould said, would never be permitted under the new management. He believed the Burlington and Rock Island will both come into the plan for securing better results from the railroad railway business. No further changes, he said, were to be made in the Union Pacific.

Mr. Gould further said in part: "The Union Pacific has earnings of $40,000,000 a year, and its terminals are estimated by the congressional commission to be worth at least $15,000,000. I should not have gone into its management again if I had not known we had something to bank on. Adams's statement about harmony during his administration is not wholly correct. The fact is the directors really knew very little about what the president was doing. There is a piece of road out in Utah, graded and ready for the rails, and although it is 150 miles long, the directors knew nothing about it. There is another piece eighty miles long in Southern Kansas, on which I believe the rails have been laid. It does not connect anywhere with the Union Pacific system, and the directors were surprised to know the company was building it. These extensions, and the purchase of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, which I think was a wise one, made a considerable floating debt, but it can easily be handled. The addition of 4000 names to the pay roll is a mystery not yet explained. The change in the management of the Union Pacific insures harmony among the western railways, and the formation of a strong association on about the basis suggested by Chairman Walker. Instead of a great paraphernalia of agents and solicitors, the association will have agencies only in the large cities, and freight can be routed under direct orders of a committee chosen by the association.

"A meeting of the western railroad officers will be held very soon, probably next week, but the certainty that such an association will be formed has already had its good effects."

In regard to the general financial situation, Gould reiterated his assertion that the most serious trouble has passed. Trust stocks, sugar, whiskey, lead, and things of that kind, produced much of the trouble, in his opinion. The public lost money by them, and consequently lost confidence in everything in Wall street. These stocks had some merit, but the companies were organized in the wrong way.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—It is evident that the Gould-Sage party did not enjoy the farewell address of President Adams. Sage in an interview today said: "The tenor of Adams's address is most uncalculated for. There has been no public criticism of his management by any of the directors, notwithstanding the fact that he was running the road to ruin. Mr. Adams says in his address that he has been president seven years, and during that time the actions of the directors have been unanimous. That is simply saying that Adams is responsible for the Union Pacific's condition. He should explain how it was that the pay roll increased 4,000 names in nine months; what personal interest he had in the Kansas smelting works, in favor of which discrimination was made in rates for shipping bullion, and half a dozen other matters."

CANADIAN ENTERPRISE.

Our Neighbors Reaching Out for Foreign Trade.
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—An Ottawa special says: The Dominion government will shortly inaugurate a vigorous foreign policy, as the result of the McKinley bill. They intend to establish commercial agencies in the Southern and Central American states, to find out the prices Canadian products bring in those countries, together with the prices of products they can send to Canada. Reports will be published monthly for the information of merchants, farmers and manufacturers. In addition, the government will have regular steam communication with the places mentioned, and a monthly service to China, Japan and Australia.

EXCITED PASSENGERS.

A Case of Smallpox on Board a Union Pacific Train.
SALT LAKE, Nov. 27.—There was great excitement on the east-bound Oregon Short Line yesterday after leaving Pocatello, when it was discovered that a man in one of the coaches was sick with smallpox. He had been on the train some time, and the train hands had passed and repassed through the coach. Besides this, there were twelve other passengers in the coach with him. The car has been side-tracked at Bryan with the sick man in it, and the passengers who rode with him have been taken to Green River in another train for examination.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

SCOTLAND, Ga., Nov. 27.—The boilers of Acker's sawmill exploded this morning, killing three men and injuring four others.

NO MATCH FOR YALE.

Princeton Shut Out in the Great Football Game.
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The championship football game between Princeton and Yale, which was contested in Brooklyn today, was won by Yale, 32 to 0. The game was witnessed by 25,000 persons, who had recovered from the depression caused by the accident of a few hours before, and manifested their enthusiasm in every manner. Nearly all the different colleges in the east were represented among the coaches. Their sympathies were evenly divided. The game was a great one, but the Princeton eleven was over-matched. Their rush line seemed mere striplings compared with Yale, and frequently used bad judgment. When the first half was ended, Yale had a score of 16 and Princeton 0. When the second half began no one was in doubt about the result, and gloom had fallen over the Princeton contingent. Their eleven seemed incapable of stopping the irresistible rush of Yale. In thirteen minutes Yale had increased their score to 28, and thereafter only exerting themselves to shut out the Princeton, succeeding well, as the score tells.

CORPORATIONS SUED.

UNCLE SAM PROCEEDING AGAINST THE CENTRAL PACIFIC.

The Object is to Compel the Cancellation of the Southern Pacific and Western Union Leases.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The call this morning states that complaint was filed in the United States circuit court on Wednesday, by the government of the United States, through Attorney-General Miller and Special Assistant Charles Martin, of Chicago, against the Southern Pacific company and Central Pacific railroad company, and the Western Union telegraph company. The object of the complaint is to secure the cancellation of the lease of the Central Pacific to the Southern Pacific, and also to secure the cancellation of the lease of the Central Pacific's telegraph lines to the Western Union telegraph company.

In addition to the cancellation of the leases, the complaint demands that the lines referred to, be operated and maintained separately and independently, in accordance with the original agreement between the corporations and the government.

In the document, which is withheld from publication until the court can issue the necessary processes, the entire history of the relations between the Central Pacific railroad and the government is reviewed, and it is sought to show that the railroad company has violated its pledges to the government in the matter of the leases referred to.

It is the intention to issue the legal processes today (Friday), and in the absence of President C. P. Huntington, who is now in the east, it is said that the secretary of the Central Pacific will be cited to appear and show cause why the leases should not be annulled.

An Emperor's Modest Mother.

The empress of Germany is a daughter of the Duchess Adelheid of Schleswig-Holstein-Augustenburg. The latter is a singularly modest and reserved personage, quite averse to display and palaver. She is in the habit of traveling about incognito, and this is incognito invariably of the strictest kind. Recently she went to Vienna, and, as the Comtesse de Wolfersdorf, hired apartments in a bourgeois part of the city. The landlady treated her as he might have treated any other elderly lady, whose only visitors were her physician and a few solemn-looking friends. One day, however, this landlady was stricken nearly aguish when the emperor of Germany, who happened to be visiting Vienna, whirled up in front of the modest mansion and inquired after the Comtesse de Wolfersdorf. After this imposing visitor had departed, the landlady scuttled up to his lodger's apartments.

"Do you know, Mme. la Comtesse," he inquired breathlessly, "who your caller is? Why, it was the emperor of Germany."

"Of course," answered the old lady, quietly, "he happens to be my son-in-law."

The sister of this estimable woman is the wife of Dr. Esmarch, an eminent surgeon, who is very chummy with the Kaiser. It seems rather curious (doesn't it) that the emperor of Germany should have for an uncle a professor of Kiel university!—[Corr. Chicago News.

The Progressive Party's Primaries.
The Australian ballot system plan of holding primary election, tried by the Young Men's Progressive party yesterday, was a success. Six hundred and twenty votes were polled, and at a late hour last night it was impossible to tell who had received the nominations, as the count had not been completed.

THE IRISH CAUSE.

Balfour Introduces His New Land Bill.

An Amendment by Labouchere Rejected.

Parnell and Part of His Party Vote With the Government.

Gladstone and Morley Do Not Vote at All. Late Allies of Parnell Snub Him.

Associated Press Dispatches.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—In the commons today, Spencer asked the government, in view of the recent financial crisis, to introduce a bill to amend the bank act by providing for the issue of £1 notes. Balfour introduced an Irish land bill. He said the government's policy was the same as in 1883, but for simplicity the bill had been cut in half. Both portions, however, were practically the same as the bill of 1889. One variation of the present bill from that of last year, was that it met in some degree Parnell's views in regard to the privilege of purchase. It excluded all purely grazing farms and farms whose tenants did not reside on them. The limit of twenty years to purchase, objected to last session, had been removed.

In regard to increasing the power of the local authorities, Balfour said it would be absurd to leave to communities under the incitement of agitators, to determine whether they should remedy it by going to the root of agrarian discontent. If they were to give local control in any form, it ought to be by a plebiscite of rate-payers, with Sexton and a number of others, turned back and abstained from voting, while Parnell, Powers and thirty others supported the government.

After the house rose, a hurried meeting of the Nationalists was called in the conference room. Parnell was not present, and great secrecy was observed as to what was done.

WILL SUSTAIN HIM.
Feeling More Favorable Among the Nationalists Toward Parnell.
LONDON, Nov. 27.—Timothy Healy and Parnell had a conference today. The feeling among the Nationalist members is more favorable toward Parnell than yesterday, and the opinion prevails that they will sustain him.

Healy is very reticent and refuses to say anything about the Irish leaders' intentions. Parnell appears to be in buoyant spirits and splendid health.

A noticeable incident occurred in the commons today, when Parnell went to vote on Labouchere's amendment. Parnell had to pass the Liberal benches, and his late allies studiously ignored him.

It is stated that if Parnell remains in the leadership, Sexton and other Irish members will offer themselves for reelection in order to test the feelings of the electors.

The Press Association says Parnell considers that he has been unfairly treated by some of his colleagues, who practically owe their position to him. He also feels strongly about Gladstone's attitude, and is more determined than ever to remain. If Monday's meeting opposes him, he will appeal to the Irish people.

Labouchere has written Parnell urging him to withdraw.

The Premier, in a speech tonight, while eulogizing Parnell's work, said the opinion of the Liberals is clearly against Parnell's continuance as the leader. If he did not retire, the Irish cause would be rolled back, and it would be a mighty misfortune to both Ireland and the empire.

The News again appeals to Parnell to accept Lord Spencer's calm advice, and not give his followers the painful duty of rejecting him.

One of Parnell's closest personal friends declares that Parnell regards the movement to expel him as a radical revenge for his support of the royal grants last summer, and that he will resist to the last this attempt to destroy the independence of the Irish party, and make them a mere appendage to the Liberal party.

It is understood that at Monday's meeting of the Parnellite members, a resolution will be adopted recognizing Parnell's great services, but calling upon him to resign the leadership.

DUBLIN, Nov. 27.—The Freeman's Journal says Parnell will issue a manifesto to the Irish people, and meanwhile asks them to suspend judgment.

DISASTER AVERTED.

The U.S.S. Alert's Narrow Escape from Total Destruction.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The Chronicle says the United States steamer Alert, which is under orders to relieve the Swatara on the China station, and has been at Mare Island several months undergoing repairs, was to have sailed December 3d, and everything was in readiness. On Monday last, as a final preparation, she was taken to the dry dock to have her bottom scraped and painted. The workmen had hardly commenced operations when they heard a rumbling noise overhead. An investigation showed that about twenty square feet of iron boiler supports, which form an interior or second bottom, had fallen in amidship. The heavy iron beams were found to have corroded away, and the heavy boilers were resting on the ship's bottom. The Alert, although an old ship, was regarded as a staunch vessel. A large force was at once put to work making repairs, and are working night and day to get the ship in readiness to sail December 10th. Had the supports of the boilers held out until the vessel was at sea and given away there, the heavy boilers would probably have fallen clean through, leaving the vessel not only without steam power, but with a hole in her bottom so large that she would have immediately sunk.

DISHONEST DOCTORS.

SELLING KOCH'S MEDICINE AT FANCY PRICES.

The French Customs Laws Bar Importations of the Lymph Because of Its Secret Properties.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—The Post publishes a statement by Dr. Danelius, a colleague of Dr. Levy, in which he admits that 500 marks was asked and paid for a single injection of Koch's lymph. The money was paid to Doctors Carnet and Dengel. Koch has declined a further supply either to Levy or Dengel.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The French government will not allow the importation into France of Koch's lymph. The refusal of the customs officials on the frontier to admit the lymph sent Pasteur by Koch was based on the ground that the importation of medicines, the composition of which is not known, is illegal, the law prohibiting such imports being in existence.

FRENCH FINANCES.

The Largest Public Debt in the World, But has Good Credit.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The budget committee report on the financial condition of France, shows that the debt of the country is 30,300,813,594 francs nominal capital, and 22,824,043,609 francs actual capital. The nominal rate of interest is 3.48 per cent., and the actual rate 4.62 per cent. This, continues the report, is the largest public debt in the world, but the French credit is sufficiently solid to allow French stocks to be reckoned as 8 per cent.

The commercial tribunal has ordered the Bank of Eddet to go into liquidation. Deputy Raynaud, managing director, has absconded, and it is reported, suicided. He is reported to have gambled heavily in stocks and offered 20 per cent. interest on deposits. The bank's liabilities are 400,000 francs. The chamber of deputies today, (28th) 1899 granted a subvention in 12,000,000 francs for public works in Annam and Tonquin.

The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows an increase in gold of 275,000 francs, and a decrease of silver of 1,350,000 francs.

A SALOON FRACAS.

Three Men Plugged with Bullets by a Fool with a Gun.

ASTORIA, Nov. 27.—John Campo, a Mexican, and Antone Gerieich, an Austrian, were shot in a saloon this evening, by Martin Watson. A number of men were in the saloon drinking, and became involved in a quarrel. Watson drew his revolver and began firing. Gerieich and Campo were hit in the head and dangerously, though not fatally wounded. Another of the crowd received a bullet in the thigh, causing only a flesh wound. Watson escaped, but was arrested on the river bank later. When brought to the police station he denied all knowledge of the affair.

REJOICING IN BELGIUM.

The Government Encourages the Hope of the Suffragists.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 27.—Jansen (Radical) today introduced a bill providing for the extension of the franchise, and to the great surprise of all, its discussion was favored by the government. The streets tonight are thronged with people, and rejoicing is general.

A FALSE ALARM.

No Fight with the Indians Has Occurred.

The Situation is Improving Right Along.

Desertions from the Hostile Camp Continue.

The Craze Spreading in Indian Territory and Oklahoma, But No Danger is Apprehended.

Associated Press Dispatches.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 27.—At the headquarters of the department of Dakota, no news of the reported battle with the Indians near Fort Keogh was received this morning, and it is not thought that there is any truth in the report. Lieutenant Woodruff stated to an Associated Press reporter that the Cheyenne Indians near Fort Keogh were all friendly, and have asked permission to fight the Sioux in case the latter go on the war path. Most of the Cheyenne Indians in the neighborhood of the fort have enlisted in the service of the government. He says if there had been a fight the department would have been advised before this.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—General Miles was this morning shown the report saying that a fight had occurred yesterday between United States troops and Indians, near Fort Keogh, Montana. He said he did not think there was a word of truth in it. He has received no official news whatever of the reported conflict.

A dispatch received by the Associated Press this evening, from General Manager Mellen of the Northern Pacific railroad, said the report from Missoula, Montana, of fighting between Indians and soldiers, was absolutely without foundation.

The Trouble Subsiding.

General Miles this evening said today's advices from General Brooke were of a very satisfactory nature. He confirms the report that Chief Little Wound came into Pine Ridge agency yesterday, and says every hour seems to lessen the strength of the disaffected Indians. Short Bull, of Rosebud agency, has also come in, and his people, numbering nearly 2500, are reported as following. The general considers Short Bull one of the worst and most treacherous Indians in the northwest. The general

THIS TURKEY WAS NOT IN IT.

It is scarcely necessary to tell the story of the festive turkey which figures in the picture. Many marvelously narrow escapes have gone down to history, but this, perhaps, was the narrowest of all. In another moment the knife of the butcher would have ended its career. A flash of genius came to it in that instant of fearful peril, and it took refuge in the store of the LONDON CLOTHING CO. Why didn't the butcher know it when it came out? Simply because their elegant suits have such a wonderfully transforming influence. If you desire to test this power of transformation, call and examine their many stylish goods. Everything sold at popular prices. Fine stock of Boy's and Children's Suits, as well as Men's.
