

SOUTH CALIFORNIA.

A London Paper's Tribute to Our Resources.

The Climate and Products Warmly Eulogized.

This is Declared to be the Best Orange Belt on the Earth.

The London Graphic Publishes the Article and the Scientific American Copies it at Full Length.

The London Graphic recently published an article on Southern California, its climate and its products, that is a glowing eulogy on the subject.

"Like all distant countries, California has enjoyed a sort of fluctuating reputation in the various reports which have brought it into notice from time to time.

"The boom is said to have collapsed. In their turn railroads have come to the front, and visions are presented of unheard-of developments in engineering.

"The potatoes of the higher and cooler lands have returned as much as from $100 to $500 per acre, and, unlike warm climate potatoes in general, possess all the prized qualities of the English tuber.

"The cherry, unsuited to share the home of the orange, yields an almost fabulous production, both in size and quantity.

"The vine-grower may also include in his occupation the manufacture of wine, if possessed of sufficient capital to conduct it.

"It is remarkable that some other balm and equable climates, such as, for instance, as those of Madeira and the Canary islands, refuse to yield some kinds of produce, among which may be named several of the common bush fruits, and certain vegetables, as the broad bean, cauliflower, etc.

"In Southern California, however, the orange stands facile princeps—that is to say, throughout all the regions best adapted to its growth.

"It has been stated on the authority of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce that there are at this moment, in that county alone, nearly 600,000 orange trees, of which more than two-thirds have reached the bearing period.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

THE LAW SCHOOL FOR WOMEN ESTABLISHED BY MME. KEMPIN.

She Can Take Care of Herself—Women at Camp Meetings—How Baby Sleeps—First Woman Bicyclist—Well Paid Literary Women—Search for Pretty Wives.

Two societies having for their object the instruction of women in the law have been organized in this city during the past year.

The first woman's law school grew out of Mme. Kempin's own experience at Columbia college.

"Baby always sleeps with her back up," said the doctor. "That is the natural position for babies to sleep in."

"She has, of course, had not a sign of the 'snuffles,' so inevitable with most babies. 'Snuffles' is simply an indication of inflammation of the mucous membrane or internal skin, due to the outer skin being so sweltered that it can't do its work, which is thrown on the mucous membrane, resulting in snuffles that may very easily develop into a serious trouble.

"Hundreds of women in speaking to me of their older children have said: 'Oh, yes, they are very healthy. They have had most of the children's diseases' of course, such as measles, croup, etc., but they are all right now."

"They shouldn't have had those diseases. A child brought up under proper treatment ought to be no more subject to disease than an adult, or even as much."—Boston Globe.

Well Paid Literary Women. Somebody said the other day, "It would be interesting to call a convention of the best paid literary women of New York."

She Can Take Care of Herself. One of the amusing and perennial summer topics in the newspapers is "the sweet girl graduate."

First Feminine Bicyclist. Miss Carlotta Cole, of Prospect place, has the distinction of being the first lady in Brooklyn to have ridden the ladies' tandem bicycle, and she is an enthusiastic admirer of the sport.

Women at Camp Meetings. A unique feature of the season is the "Women's Camp of Holiness," which pitched its tents at Mount Tabor, N. J., on the 9th of August, for a seven days' sojourn in a very pretty wilderness, indeed.

Reed, swept the hardened sinners into line. Mrs. Osborn, who has been selected by the National Holiness association to go to Old Orchard beach and take a leading part in the services there, is one of the bright phalanx of Methodist women who make the great camps a success annually.

Mrs. Osborn is the head of the missionary training school and was the first lady in America to establish unaided, in her home at Niagara Falls, an institute which has in a few years sent out missionaries to many countries.

The school is a great establishment in Brooklyn now, with many pupils, but the principal still has time to devote to her annual outing with the worshippers in the woods.

Another lady who is a popular figure at camp meetings is Miss Jennie F. Willing, one of the cultured leaders at Chautauqua. Miss Willing, who is related to one of the leading families at the national capital, is an enthusiast on camp meetings.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

How Baby Sleeps. About the loveliest sight the reporter—who, by the way, is himself a father—ever saw was this little nude baby asleep under her face, with legs drawn up snugly under her, meeting the little elbows at her side.

"Baby always sleeps with her back up," said the doctor. "That is the natural position for babies to sleep in. She cuddles her head down on her little hand, and without a stitch of clothing on sleeps through these hot nights as well as you do who have cottages on the seashore.

If the night is cool we throw over her a light linen sheet and perhaps a light blanket, but in such days as we are having now she needs nothing.

"She has, of course, had not a sign of the 'snuffles,' so inevitable with most babies. 'Snuffles' is simply an indication of inflammation of the mucous membrane or internal skin, due to the outer skin being so sweltered that it can't do its work, which is thrown on the mucous membrane, resulting in snuffles that may very easily develop into a serious trouble.

THE SEARCH FOR PRETTY WIVES. Girls to be successful today must have something more than pretty features. The men who are worth marrying are looking for something else than pretty faces, coy manners, or fetching gowns. They are recognizing full well that women are progressing at a pace which will quicken rather than slacken. They realize that the woman of to-morrow will be brighter in mind than her predecessor of today. Hence they are looking for wives who will be the equals of their neighbors. Beauty is being considered an adjunct to common sense. "I want a wife who knows something, who is worth having for what she knows; not one of these social butterflies," said one of the greatest "catches" of the New York season to me at the winter's close. And he expressed the sentiments of thousands of the young men of today. The scent for pretty wives is over, and the look out for bright young women has begun. And the girl who today trains her mind to knowledge will be the woman of to-morrow.—Edward W. Bok in Ladies' Home Journal.

S.S.S. Mrs. Geo. P. Smoot, a highly cultivated and estimable lady of Prescott, Ark., writes under date of April 23, 1887: "During the summer of 1887 my eyes became inflamed, and my stomach and liver hopelessly disordered. Nothing I ate agreed with me. I took cholera medicine, and for some time my life was despaired of by my family. The leading physicians of the country were consulted, but the medicine administered by them never did me any permanent good, and I lingered between life and death, the latter being preferable to it, as you I was enduring. In May, 1888, I became disgusted with physicians and their medicines. I dropped them all and depended solely on Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), a few bottles of which made me permanently well—well from then until now."
