

BEYOND THE ROCKIES

Another Bank Failure in Philadelphia.

Bonds Reputed by Missouri Counties.

Usurper Bulkeley's Answer to the Quo Warranto Proceedings.

A Rich Widow Disposes of Her Wealth So as to Clip the Wings of a Wayward Son.

Associated Press Dispatches.

PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—The Spring Garden National bank closed its doors at 11 o'clock today, by order of National Bank Examiner Drew.

The news of the closing spread rapidly, and a large crowd soon collected, but admittance was denied to all. President Kennedy sent out the following note: "It was this morning decided to place the bank in the hands of the national bank examiner. This was forced upon us, principally by the large withdrawal of deposits during the financial stringency last September, and the continued dullness of business since."

Subscriptions were called for, and in a few minutes $50,000 was subscribed for international work. Mr. March, of Denver, made a statement that he understood that the Portland test for membership had been modified in India. This brought out a lengthy discussion, and several delegates wanted to denounce the eastern brothers for making this change.

But little information as to the bank's real position could be learned, as the officials, directors and Examiner Drew were in consultation and could not be seen. Among the crowd of stockholders and depositors, who gathered on the street in front of the bank, a strong feeling prevailed that the closing of the bank would prove but temporary, and that they would recover their money.

The Pennsylvania Safe Deposit and Trust company, which has its office in the Spring Garden National bank building, made an assignment this afternoon. The trust company is really a part of the bank, but is said to be solvent, the assignment being simply for protection against a run. The capital stock of the bank is $750,000, fully paid in, and by its February statement the reserve fund amounted in round figures to $150,000.

The bank's line of deposits amounted to about $2,000,000, and the city of Philadelphia, which has $400,000 locked up in the broken Keystone bank, again suffers to the extent of $154,000. When the run took place on the Keystone bank, last winter, a small run was also made on the Spring Garden bank, but the bank met it without difficulty. Outside bank officials were not surprised at the failure today. They said it had been for some time in a weak condition, and that in the inner financial circles of the city, it was known that unless the bank received aid from some influential quarter, it would get into trouble.

BOND TROUBLES.

Two Missouri Counties Refuse to Pay Their Obligations.

KANSAS CITY, May 8.—There is trouble in the execution of the recent judgments in the bond cases against Cass and St. Clair counties. It grows out of the refusal of the judges of the county court to levy taxes for the payment of these judgments. The judges of each county announced their determination to go to jail rather than order a tax on the people.

There are two judgments against St. Clair county, one in favor of B. D. Stewart, and the other in favor of the Ninth National bank, New York, aggregating over $100,000. When Deputy Marshal Oechsly served the papers on the judges yesterday, they told him they would never order the tax; that they had been elected under a promise to the people never to levy a tax for the payment of these bonds, and that they were not only opposed to it, but were afraid of it. The condition of affairs in Cass county is even more desperate. A judgment was rendered some time ago in favor of Albert Parker, a capitalist of San Diego, Cal., for about $100,000. A mandamus ordering a levy of taxes was granted by the court and disregarded. Three judges were arrested and gave bonds in the sum of $1000 each to appear before the court in Kansas City the second Monday in June. The bonds are railroad bonds, and issued by the counties twenty years ago.

USURPER BULKLEY.

His Answer to the Quo Warranto Proceedings Against Him.

New Haven, Conn., May 8.—Attorney Case, acting for Governor Bulkeley and Lieutenant-Governor Merwin, filed an answer to the quo warranto proceedings brought by Morris and Alsop, in the superior court, this morning. Governor Bulkeley claims that he, and no other person, is the true and lawful governor of Connecticut; that the general assembly of Connecticut, at its January session of 1889, by joint ballot, elected him to be governor for two years, and until his successor has duly qualified. He still acts as governor, because no successor has yet been chosen. He states that Morris did not have a majority over all, and on account of manifest mistakes in the returns, it was impossible to tell who, if any one, had been legally chosen governor. Concluding, Bulkeley denies that he usurps the office, and says he uses said office by warrant and authority of the law, and asks to be dismissed of and from the things charged upon him in the information. Merwin's answer is the same.

A WIDOW'S WILL.

Mrs. Osborn's Wealth Placed Out of the Reach of Her Son.

New York, May 8.—The will of Mrs. Miriam A. Osborn, widow of Chas. Osborn, stock broker, was filed for probate today. She places all her son Howell's share safely out of the reach of any wife who has been a professional actress, or any children of such marriage. She seeks to establish the "Miriam A. Osborn Memorial Home association," and makes a bequest to Yale college of $150,000, for a memorial to her husband. Other charitable bequests are made. Howell Osborn does not get $1, absolutely.

A WIDOW'S MITE.

A Scoundrelly Lawyer Tries to Make Way With It.

ASHLAND, Ore., May 8.—A warrant was issued this afternoon and telegraphed to the sheriff of Douglas county, at Roseburg, for the arrest of Luther L. Barthenshaw, a lawyer who has had his shingle out in Ashland for a year or two past. Barthenshaw solicited the collection of an insurance policy for $1200, for Mary J. Moore, an aged widow, whose son died several months ago, and Wednesday collected the amount of the policy, through Jackson & Co.'s bank, at Medford. Last evening, he sent Mrs. Moore $600, saying he had not collected the balance and that he was going away for a few days and would collect it on his return. Suspicion was aroused, which led to the discovery that he had collected the full amount through the Medford bank, and had taken a train for the north. It was learned by telegraph that he had left the train at Roseburg, and the sheriff of Douglas county was notified, who arrested him, as stated above, on the charge of embezzlement. Deputy Sheriff Taylor went to Roseburg tonight to bring him back.

Y.M.C.A. DOINGS.

Proceedings of the International Convention at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 8.—The Young Men's Christian Association convention today decided on Indianapolis as the place to hold the next convention.

A lengthy report from the international committee was read. Its recommendations, for the observation of the second Sabbath in November as a day of praise and thanksgiving, for an appropriation of $75,000 yearly for international work, and other things, were approved.

Subscriptions were called for, and in a few minutes $50,000 was subscribed for international work.

Mr. March, of Denver, made a statement that he understood that the Portland test for membership had been modified in India. This brought out a lengthy discussion, and several delegates wanted to denounce the eastern brothers for making this change. A resolution was finally adopted, however, simply stating that the test of active membership in foreign associations be the same as the Portland test, under which the American associations are organized.

MOUNTAINS OF WATER.

THE GREAT FLOOD IN THE RIO GRANDE DEL NORTE.

Whole Mountain Sides Covered With Water—Melting Snow Causing an Overflow of Unprecedented Proportions.

SANTA FE, N. M., May 8.—"Mountains of water," is the way the court officers who have just returned from Tierra Amerillas put it in speaking of what they saw on the way. They say that the half has not been told of the flood that must soon sweep down the Rio Grande. At Cumbress Hill, Colorado, the water now stands up beside the Denver and Rio Grande station house, six feet deep, and thence it extends for miles, covering the whole range as far as Toltec Gorge, and ranging in depth from four to twenty-five feet. All the streams are running bank full. The Chama, Rio Brazos, Wolf Creek and tributaries are rushing streams. In places it is said whole mountain sides are covered with water, trickling out from under the snow on top, and spreading over the face of the decline in every direction. Thus far the weather has continued cool in that region; hence the floods that have passed do not begin to indicate what may follow. At Valverde, above San Marcial, much land is under water, and there is also trouble in the Lajora bottoms.

A TOTAL WRECK.

The Steamer Premier Lost Off the Coast of Alaska.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—A dispatch to the merchants' exchange from Port Angeles by the steamer St. Paul has arrived, bringing word that the Premier was wrecked off the coast of Alaska, April 6th. The Premier left here for Alaska last February, under charter to the Alaska Improvement company, to move a cannery from Oregon to Bering sea. Whether she was lost while on her way to Bering sea, or on her way back, is not known. The captain made his way to Port Townsend and simply telegraphed the fact that the vessel is a total wreck. The Premier was built in Port Ludlow, in 1876, and was of 363 tons net burden. She was 130 feet long, 31 feet 7 inches broad, and 14 feet 4 inches deep.

A DEARTH OF SEAMEN.

The United States in Sore Straits for Competent Sailors.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The navy department is still in sore straits to find able seamen enough to man our ships. Nearly all the recruits the law allows have been taken on, and yet there are not enough men to go around. The United States steamer Lancaster, in California, is ready to go to China, but she is short of her complement of men by at least eighty. The monitor Muttonomah, at New York, is ready to go into commission, but there are no sailors to man her. It is said at the navy department that there must be a pro-rata scaling down of the complements of all our ships, at least until congress meets and enlarges the force. The White, the squadron, now at Norfolk, will be the first to feel the reduction, and it is understood that the Chicago will lose seventy and the Boston and Atlanta sixty men each.

The Transit of Mercury.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 8.—General instructions to observers respecting the transit of mercury Saturday, have been issued from the naval observatory, as follows: The attention of astronomical observers is invited to the transit of Mercury over the disk of the sun, which will occur May 9, 1891, and will be visible throughout the United States. Its accurate observation is of great importance. Every effort should therefore be made to have it carefully observed by all who possess the necessary equipment. The naval observatory will be glad to receive observations of the transit from as many stations as possible.

Forest Fires in Wisconsin.

ASHLAND, Wis., May 8.—The city is enveloped in dense smoke from the surrounding forest fires. The fire department has been busy all day in the outskirts of the city fighting the flames. At Washburn a large force of men are at work trying to save the town, which is in great danger. Several lives are reported to be lost at Marengo. The woods along the Omaha road are a mass of flames. The Northwestern road lost several hundred cords of wood at Ashland, and the Ashland Iron and Steel company lost over 50,000 cords at High Bridge.

A Large Meteor.

VICTORIA, B.C., May 8.—A large meteor passed over this section last evening, causing considerable consternation. It came from the northeast and was seen or heard all along the line of railway from Rosenberg to Goliad, a distance of about 250 miles. About the time it reached this vicinity, it exploded with a tremendous report.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A NUMBER OF NEW MEMBERS ELECTED LAST EVENING.

The Reception of the Carnival Men From Chicago—The Financial Situation. Other Matters.

The chamber of commerce met last night, with an attendance of less than fifty. Mr. Germain called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock, and the minutes of the January meeting were read and approved.

The committee on membership reported favorably on the following names:

University bank, of Los Angeles, by R. M. Widney, president, 317 New High street; San Fernando Fruit Colony and Investment company, by C. D. Howry, president, 317 New High street; S. P. Tressler, 207 West Second; Farmers & Merchants bank, by H. J. Fleishman, assistant cashier, P. O. box 1213, Station C, city; C. W. Gibson company, 219-221 North Los Angeles street; Jacoby Bros., Los Angeles street; J. H. Kiefer, president and manager Troy Laundry company, 135 W. First street; C. P. Lyndall, 105 S. Broadway; Los Angeles Mantel company, by C. P. Dandy, manager, 314 South Main; F. W. Mattern, room 8, over Los Angeles National bank; A. Edward Gray, Alhambra; R. H. Brown, 147 South Broadway; John P. Culver, 145 South Broadway; E. F. C. Klokke, 2105 Figueroa; De Amestoy, 131 Boyle Heights; Atlas Milling company, by C. C. Rohlfmeier, corner San Pedro and Fifth; Fred L. Baker, 730 Roses street; Emmanuel Eyraud, 220 Commercial; Innes & Mangrum, by C. W. Innes, 207 West Second; John J. Akins, superintendent Pacific railway company, corner Grand avenue and Seventh; W. B. Cline, president Los Angeles Lighting company, 144 South Spring; M. S. Severance, 758 Adams street; Geo. Steckel, photographer, 220 Sixth Street.

On motion the acting secretary was instructed to cast a ballot for the parties named, who were thereupon declared elected.

The special committee appointed on the previous Friday reported themselves opposed to holding any entertainment at the present time. The same committee reported that the pavilion could be obtained for a reception to those engaged in the Chicago exhibit, for a merely nominal consideration.

Mr. E. W. Jones, Mayor Hazard and others spoke. The secretary was requested to read the financial report of the chamber, that it might be seen how much money the treasury contained to hold the reception with.

The report showed receipts of $1107.50, expenditures of $498.81, and a balance in the bank of $266.31, with outstanding bills to the extent of $1700 remaining unpaid.

Mr. Hughes moved that a committee, with Mayor Hazard as chairman, be appointed to arrange for the reception to the Chicago circus fair workers.

Colonel H. G. Otis spoke against the reception if it was to increase the debt. In his opinion the thanks of the chamber would be an ample reward to these men, as the success of the circus fair depended more on the people and papers back of the scheme than upon the men in charge.

Mr. Lee thought the idea of the reception was to arouse enthusiasm, give the people of Los Angeles a chance to learn what had been done in Chicago, and increase the membership of the chamber.

On motion of Mayor Hazard the former motion was amended to the effect that the reception should cost the chamber nothing.

Major Jones introduced a resolution thanking the railroad companies for their assistance in the orange carnival, and particularly to Messrs. Wade, Hynes, Besmer, Henderson and Bleekman, of the Santa Fe, and Messrs. Crawley, Hewitt, Saylor, Muir and Hamilton of the Southern Pacific.

On motion of Colonel H. G. Otis, the resolution was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Major Jones, the thanks of the chamber was extended to the press of Southern California for substantial aid given the same enterprise.

On motion of Mayor Hazard, a bill for $15 for flowers for the senatorial dinner at the Westminster was allowed.

The acting secretary reported a communication from the trans-Mississippi commercial congress, the object of which is the consideration of various important questions. The congress is to be held in Galveston on the 19th. On motion, the president was empowered to appoint the necessary delegates from the chamber of commerce.

The president appointed H. T. Hazard, G. R. Shatto, E. W. Jones, H. Denker, C. F. A. Last, William E. Hughes, William McLean, H. Bohman, Joseph Mesmer, J. R. Mathews, A. D. Ellis, S. M. White, William Niles, J. B. Lankershim, and R. W. Hellman as a special committee on reception to the Chicago workers.

On motion of Mr. Hazard, a special committee of five was appointed to see the business men not already members of the chamber, and request them to add their names to the list of members. The committee consists of Mayor Hazard, E. M. Widney, Dr. MacGowan, W. W. Howard and L. E. Mosher.

Col. Otis moved that each member be constituted a committee of one to fetch in one new member each at the next meeting. The motion was carried, and the secretary instructed to notify the absent members of what was expected of them, and supply them with membership application blanks.

This matter being settled, Judge R. M. Widney was called upon for an account of his visit to the commercial congress recently held at Kansas City. He responded with an outline of the work accomplished by the four-day session of the congress, and the work that was proposed and discussed at that great gathering.

Judge Anderson referred to the recent advance in freight and passenger rates made by the railroads, and moved that the directors be instructed to inquire as to the probable effect of this action by the railroad upon the commerce of Southern California. The motion carried.

FIGHTING M'COOK.

He Did Not Need Any Orders From Washington.

EDITORS HERALD:—In the reported interview with me as published in your paper of this date, your news gatherer has unintentionally made one error which I desire to have corrected. I never met General McCook, and have not the honor or pleasure of his personal acquaintance. I do know him by reputation, and feeling that the necessity might arise when the military power of the government would be necessary to enable our marshal to maintain his position in seizing the Itata, I requested a friend of his to go with me and introduce me to General McCook. We found him absent, much to my disappointment, but in conversation with Captain Bailey I found that all my possible wants had already been anticipated by General McCook. On the day before he had instructed the officer in command at San Diego, to render to Marshal Gard every assistance he might require. I asked no order from Washington for any military assistance. I did ask for the Charleston, but not for land forces. I know that General McCook had assumed the command of this department, and his reputation did not leave a doubt in my mind but that he would readily assume all the responsibilities of his position. I wanted to know him personally, and for that reason I called at his headquarters, and was more than gratified to learn that all I could hope from any military source had by his foresight been already provided for. Yours truly,

May 8th. A. BRUNSON.

[The reporter who interviewed Judge Brunson did make the error referred to. The judge had just spoken of telegraphing to Washington for the use of the Charleston in pursuing the Itata, and immediately after referred to General McCook's action, and in the haste of making notes the two incidents were mixed.]

SUSPECTED POISONING.

The Sudden Death Yesterday of Maggie Fingers.

Yesterday morning a colored woman named Fingers died under very suspicious circumstances at the Buena Vista house on New High street. She showed all the symptoms of having been poisoned, and the coroner was accordingly notified. The woman's husband is a cook at the St. Elmo hotel. He says that for twenty-four hours before her death, his wife had complained of severe pains in her breast and shoulders. Dr. Choate was called just before her death, but nothing that he could do appeared to help her.

The woman was formerly an inmate of Brown's dance house at San Pedro, and the reason of her being at home now was that she might testify in a San Pedro arson case, which will be tried soon in the superior court here.

It is suspected by her friends that she was poisoned. A post mortem was held yesterday, and the result of that, together with other facts, will be brought out at the inquest, which is set for today at 2 p.m.

THEY CAN WED.

E. R. Flores, aged 27, and Lizzie R. Palmer, aged 20, both residents of Los Angeles.

Ben. Butler's Effects Attached. LOWELL, Mass., May 8.—The Prescott National bank has placed an attachment on the property of General Butler, for $12,000. A money consideration was given about four years ago, on a personal note which the bank discounted. When the note fell due it was not paid for some reason not at present explainable.

S. S. S. HIS CHILDREN.

My little son had a number of bad ulcers and running sores to come on his head and body, which lasted for four years. I tried all the doctors and many remedies, but the sores still grew worse, until I did not expect him to recover. My friends were confident that if the sores healed it would kill him. I at length quit all other treatment and put him on Swift's Specific, and less than three bottles cured him a sound and healthy child. S. S. S. also cured a sore on another of my children.
