

H. JAY HANCHETTE.

His Whereabouts Thus Far Unknown.

Not Heard From Since Leaving Chicago.

No Clue to Him Since He Entered a Carriage.

An Inexplicable Disappearance—Nearly a Week Overdue—The Chicago Police Fail to Find Any Clue.

H. Jay Hanchette, the secretary of the chamber of commerce, has disappeared. For ten days past his friends in Los Angeles and the east have endeavored, by liberal use of the telegraph and every agency available, to ascertain his whereabouts.

Yesterday word was received from the police department and other agencies at Chicago which have been at work on the case, that no trace of Mr. Hanchette had yet been discovered, and last night the Associated Press sent the facts, so far as known, to the newspapers all over the country, in the hope that the press might succeed where the police had failed.

As far as now known, Mr. Hanchette was last seen at 7:50 o'clock on the night of the 7th, at the Santa Fe railroad depot in Chicago. Frank Wiggins, the superintendent of the chamber of commerce exhibit, at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the same day, saw him enter a coupé, which was to take him to the depot. In conversation with Mr. Wiggins, Mr. Hanchette expressed a wish to change his tickets so as to return to Los Angeles over the northern route.

While in Chicago, Mr. Hanchette stopped with a cousin, Mr. Elbert C. Smith, a Chicago broker. This gentleman saw him at 6:40 on the night of the 7th. The train on which Mr. Hanchette and Mr. Wells were to have started for Los Angeles left at 7:50. Mr. Smith was to have seen Mr. Hanchette off at that time, but as Hanchette failed to appear he assumed that the plan for changing the tickets had succeeded.

The last word received from Mr. Hanchette in this city is one addressed to his wife, dated on the 5th, in which he expresses his regret at being unable to start on that day, and says that he will start on the 7th and will let no claims of business, pleasure or politeness delay him beyond that date.

IN SOCIETY.

The very much anticipated production of Golden Hair and the Three Bears, for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, takes place this evening at the Grand opera house.

At 11 o'clock the doors of the dining hall were thrown open, revealing to the dancers the table laden with delicacies, set off by wreaths of roses and smilax.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanchette have been seldom separated for any length of time since their marriage, and if the separation was for more than three days, he never let a day pass without dispatching a letter or a telegram to his wife.

Mr. Wiggins when seen said that the last two days before his disappearance Mr. Hanchette enjoyed better health than at any previous time during the exhibition; that he was in excellent spirits, and seemed to be happy over his expected departure for home.

Mr. Herve Friend, who was the photographer of the carnival and who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning, had a conversation with Mr. Hanchette the day after the close of the carnival, and remembers that he said that he might possibly visit his brother, C. D. Hanchette, who lives in Michigan, but Mr. Hanchette saw his brother several times during the exhibition, and had certainly given up the idea of going to visit him.

A phantom party was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Curtis at their residence on South Broadway, on Thursday evening last, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Davis. The halls and reception rooms were

THE BARON'S HOUSE.

IT WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE LAST EVENING.

A Heavy Loss and Only a Small Insurance. Part of the Contents Saved, But Many Valuable Articles Lost.

Baron Rogniat's handsome villa in East Los Angeles was destroyed by fire last evening. The family, consisting of the baron and baroness, and the servants, were all at home, and no fire had been used in the house during the afternoon.

The fire was soon subdued, but owing to the great pressure necessary to force water up to the height of the villa, as it stood on the hill, the hose burst, several firemen being drenched and thrown violently from the roof of the building. This stopped operations for a time, and before engine No. 4 arrived and work could be renewed, the fire was again under control, and but a small portion of the building could be saved.

Despite the great loss, which is probably all of $25,000, the baron last night stated to a Herald reporter that he should at once rebuild the house, this time of "brick that will not burn."

One bit of damage that will be hard to repair is the tramping and rooting up of much of the beautiful shrubbery and rare plants on the lawn.

A Pioneer's Experience With Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I am a pioneer in this county, having been here 30 years. Four years ago my little son Elery became blood-poisoned by impure virus in vaccination. His arm swelled terribly, causing great agony; physicians said the arm must be amputated, and even then his recovery would be doubtful. One day I read about a blood purifier, new to me, and was surprised to learn that it was prepared by C. I. Hood, with whom I used to go to school in Chelsea, Vt. I decided to have my boy try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and was much gratified when it seemed to help him. He continued to grow better as we gave him the Sarsaparilla, and having used 8 bottles is now entirely cured. As Hood's Sarsaparilla has accomplished such wonderful results, I recommend it as 'possibly can.'" JEROME M. SLEEPER, Upper Lake, Lake Co., Cal.

The City Treasurer

Of Lowell, Mass., says: "The above is from my brother, whose signature I recognized. I am also glad to testify to the excellence of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and to say that C. I. Hood & Co. are considered one of the most reliable firms in New England." VAN B. SLEEPER, City Treasurer, Lowell, Mass.
