

THE SPIRIT OF UNREST.

IT SEEMS AT PRESENT TO PERVADE THE RELIGIOUS WORLD.

The Attack of Father Ignatius on Rev. Heber Newton—Controversy Between Two Catholic Bishops—Why Dr. Bridgman Resigned His Charge.

A strange spirit of unrest seems to have taken possession of the religious world of late. Eminent pastors are questioning the doctrine of eternal punishment and casting doubt upon the resurrection of Christ. Professors of theology are giving the broadest construction to creeds, church dissensions are rife over foundational truths, and a veritable battle of beliefs is in progress. Foremost in the strife for the old faith and customs is Father Ignatius, the Protestant monk of Wales. This gentleman claims to preach the gospel pure and undefiled, and it shocked him to find men of other ideas in charge of Episcopal churches in America. Certain utterances of the Rev. Dr. Heber Newton, one of the most eloquent divines of New York, aroused the indignation of Father Ignatius, whose coiled followers in Wales recently went over in a body to the Roman Catholic church. The monk saw danger to the church at large should Dr. Newton remain a prominent member. He publicly denounced the "hypocrisy" of the preacher and called upon Bishop Potter to discipline him.

FATHER IGNATIUS.

Dr. Newton's offense, as formulated by Father Ignatius, consists in his alleged denial of the incarnation and resurrection of Christ. He is also said to have expressed the opinion that there is no need for the miraculous conception of the divine word. Dr. William R. Huntington, rector of Grace church, who questioned the accuracy of the monk's statement of Dr. Newton's position, and appealed for tolerance in the church, was dubbed an infidel, and his letter on the subject characterized as a "piece of slippery Jesuitism." Dr. Da Costa, in upholding Father Ignatius, declared that "the church today is badly entangled in the coils of Satan. The spirit of worldliness, inspired and directed by wealth, is eating as a canker, regardless of divine truth. The wealth of the land, to a large extent, views religion as a system of economical insurance, a cheap defense for the nation, and regards the priest simply as a member of the moral police." *

Dr. Newton has conducted himself with dignity during the hubbub. In a sermon he said the massacre of St. Bartholomew was one of the atrocities committed through faith, which "has also burned libraries, closed schools, anathematized science, martyred philosophers, white-washed the walls on which art has drawn her glorious visions, staid the progress of the human race through centuries, and wrought incalculable evil to civilization." He pleaded for a wider charity, "the corner stone of true Christianity," and said the chief regard of organized Protestantism, equally with Romanism, was not truth in itself, but truth as held by the fathers, and delivered by them to their children—that is, "truth arrested, fixed, stereotyped, final."

There is also warfare in a certain section of the Catholic church. This, however, is not a dispute as to doctrine, but what appears to be a personal quarrel between two bishops openly carried on by the Rochester Catholic Journal and the Buffalo Catholic Union. Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester, condemned the course of the latter paper in a recent pastoral letter. He said it had for years misrepresented and maligned himself and diocese in a shameful manner, with the fullest approbation of the Right Rev. Bishop of Buffalo. It had sought to create division among the priests and people in a malicious, unchristian spirit. To prevent serious injury to the faith and morals of the young he protested against the circulation of The Catholic Union in the diocese, as it was "not fit reading for decent and pure minded children," and was "constantly recurring to sin and shame." Bishop Ryan, of Buffalo, refused to make any answer to this pastoral letter. "The Bishop of Rochester," he said, "undoubtedly felt justified in writing the letter, and with his action this diocese has nothing to do. I have no quarrel with Bishop McQuaid."

Baptist circles have been stirred to their depths by the defection of one of their leading pastors on the all absorbing topic of eternal punishment for sinners. The Rev. Dr. C. DeW. Bridgman recently resigned the pastorate of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, because his views thereon were in conflict with the general belief of the church. In a recent sermon he expressed his firm conviction that the doctrine of hell is directly opposed to Christ's teaching; that the hell against which the Lord warned mankind is just the inward depravity which selfishness and unbelief and unfaithfulness are certain to breed.

His Garrulous Wife.

"Samantha," grumbled Mr. Chugwater, fumbling in one of the bureau drawers, "I'd like to know where, in the name of common sense, you keep my socks."

"What pair do you want, Josiah?" inquired Mrs. Chugwater.

"Any pair, if they are only mates. Here's an odd gray sock and an odd black one, and down here in the corner is an old pair of last summer's socks, with holes in the toes. I don't see why my things can't be kept in order, the same as other men's."

"If you had only told me—"

"Told you! Have I got to run to you, Mrs. Chugwater, for every little thing I want? Is that your idea about the way to carry on the household business? If you'd just take trouble enough to pile things in here so I can find 'em when I want 'em it would save me lots of bother."

"Josiah, if you will let me—"

"Now, there's no use of your getting excited about this thing. If you know where I can get a pair of half-way decent socks just say so, and I'll hunt 'em up, and if you don't know and will have the kindness to put the fact in plain English I'll go out and buy a pair. That's all."

"If you hadn't tumbled these things all out of shape, Josiah!"

"Tumbled them out of shape, have I? What's a bureau drawer for, anyway? Is it to hide things in, madam? If I don't find what I want on top haven't I got to look down under, I'd like to know? Any woman that will pack and jam a bureau drawer full of things, and arrange them so you've got to dig and claw all through the whole business to get what you're after and then don't get it, hasn't got the right idea about arranging a man's haberdashery. If you know where my socks are, Mrs. Chugwater, why don't you say so, instead of standing around like a stouthead bottle and doing nothing?"

"I could have found them for you in a minute and saved you all this trouble if you had given me a chance," said Mrs. Chugwater, as she straightened out the tangle in the drawer and brought to view from one of the bottom corners five pairs of clean socks. "When you want anything of this kind hereafter, Josiah, if you'll just let me know—"

"The trouble with you, Samantha," growled Mr. Chugwater, as he jerked a pair from the top of the pile and went off to one corner to put them on, "is that you talk too much."—Chicago Tribune.

Getting a Pointer.

A Macomb county farmer who was on the market with vegetables the other morning was accosted by a young man who explained:

"I have a patent hay fork which I am going to travel with this summer, and should like to get a few pointers from you."

"Point, oh, Well, what's that?"

"How shall I approach the average farmer?"

"Well, you'll generally find him in the field."

"Yes."

"Just tell him in a pleasant way what you've got."

"Yes."

"He'll ask you up to the barn to talk it over."

"I see."

"But don't you go. Instead of that make a bee line for your buggy, climb in and scoot your horse as fast as he kin go for the next six miles."

"But why?"

"Oh, nuthin' much. I only killed six myself last week, but you know it rained pretty steady for two days and travel was light."—Detroit Free Press.

Parental Pride.

"This book I can confidently recommend for your son's reading."

"Oh, if my son wants to read a book he can write it himself!"—Fliegende Blätter.

Doctor Freshcut—Allow me, Professor, to present to you my wife.

The Professor (regarding Mrs. F. with some curiosity)—So this is your new wife, eh? Er—as you know, I have never interested myself in the study of the sex—and my opinion on such a matter is therefore not valuable. However, I am inclined to the opinion you have secured a very fair specimen.—Life.

CONSUMPTION.

I have a positive remedy for the above disease; by using thousands of cases of the worst kind of long standing have been cured. Indeed so strong is my faith in its efficacy, that I will send you a bottle FREE, with a VALUABLE TREATISE on this disease to any sufferer who will send me their Express and P.O. address. T. A. Slocum, M. D., 151 Pearl St., N. Y.

For these complaints take Simmons Liver Regulator. It keeps the stomach clear and prevents any of the above poisons from getting in the system, or, if there already it will drive them out, no matter how strongly rooted or long-standing, and you will again have good health and be happy.

Have you a pain in the side, back or under the shoulder-blade? It is not rheumatism but dyspepsia. Take Simmons Liver Regulator.

Does your heart throb violently after unusual exertion or excitement? It is not heart disease, but indigestion.

Take Simmons Liver Regulator.

"As a matter of concealed duty to humanity I wish to bear my testimony to the unfailing virtues of Simmons Liver Regulator. If people could only know what a splendid medicine it is, they would be many a physician without a patient and many an interminable doctor's bill saved. I consider it infallible in malarial infection. I had, for many years, been a perfect physical wreck from a combination of complaints, all the outgrowth of malaria in my system, and even under the skillful hands of Dr. J. P. Jones, of this city, I had despaired of ever being a well woman again. Simmons Liver Regulator was recommended to me. I tried it, I hoped long, and it is the only thing that ever did me any good. I persevered in its use and I am now in perfect health. I know your medicine cured me and I always keep it as a reliable 'stand by' in my family."—Mrs. MARY RAY Camden, Ala.

For quite a number of years I have been a great sufferer and paid out large sums of money for doctors and medicines. My disease was claimed by some to be Bright's disease; others said it was gravel, but I could find no relief. I got worse and worse until my life was despaired of. The treatment and operations to which I submitted were terrible. Finally, at the request of a friend who had been cured by Dr. Woh, I consented to submit my case to his hands. Dr. Woh has thousands of similar testimonials, but space alone prevents further publication of them here.

The remedies are purely herbs and roots which Dr. Woh has familiarized himself thoroughly with by a long practice in the Imperial Hospital of China.

DR. WOHO!

The Celebrated Chinese Physician.

For many years I have been troubled with lung disease, which finally ended in asthma and consumption. I consulted with the best physicians I could find, but they did me no benefit, but on the contrary I got worse and worse, until I was told by one of them I could not recover. Dr. Woh took me in this condition. He has in two months' time entirely cured me. I most cordially recommend him to all sufferers.

MRS. F. WESSEL, 325 Boyd St., Los Angeles, Cal. May 1st, 1891.

For eight months past my wife was a great sufferer from female troubles. For days at a time her pain was so severe that no rest could be obtained or sleep at night. Unwillingly I forced her to visit Dr. Woh, the Chinese physician. The doctor undertook to cure her, and now with grateful hearts we confess to a complete recovery in her case.

J. F. BURDICK, Riverside, Cal. February 6, 1891.

I have tried many doctors for heart disease, but have derived no benefit until Dr. Woh, the Chinese physician, of Los Angeles city, prescribed for me.

Two months ago I began his treatment, and I can now certify that he has done me great good. I recommend Dr. Woh to my friends as an able doctor.

P. E. KING, Justice of the Peace, Burbank, Cal. April 4, 1891.

Dr. Woh was recommended to me by a friend. I had been troubled for years with indigestion, causing fearful headaches and vertigo, making my life one of misery. I tried and paid the best physicians without relief. Finally, to please my friend, I visited Dr. Woh at his office, and he advised with me and gave me medicines. This was but six weeks ago. Today I can truthfully say I am entirely cured. I have not felt one symptom of my old trouble during the whole time. Dr. Woh is certainly a wonderful healer of the sick.

BRONCHITIS. CONSUMPTION.

Bronchitis is a disease of the mucous membrane of the air passage, and is one of the most common of the pulmonary affections. Chronic bronchitis more often appears later in life. When cold settles on the lungs, and if it ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold on the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath with more or less warmth in the palms of the hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength, and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearance of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the lungs or chronic bronchitis.

The patient usually dies from exhaustion and suffocation, being unable to expectorate the mucus which accumulates in the passage leading to the lungs, which in some cases is sticky and small in quantity,
