SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Forecast till 8 p. m., Friday, for Southern California: Fair weather, except light rains on southwest coast.

NEWS NOTES.

Messrs. Gardner & Cortelyou open a news stand at the Nadeau house today.

The ladies of the Central Baptist church give a dinner today in the empty store at 235 West First street.

The Central W. C. T. U. will hold its regular weekly meeting this afternoon at 2:30 in Temperance temple.

The board of managers of the Soldiers' home will meet at the Santa Monica branch the latter part of this month.

A magic lantern exhibition will be given tonight at the Park Congregational church, for the benefit of the Sunday school.

Ladies of the Central Baptist church will serve dinner from 11 o'clock until 2 p. m., Friday, June 12th, at 235 West First street, next to the Times office.

The commencement exercises of the academy of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, at Pico Heights, Los Angeles, will take place Thursday, June 18, 1891, at 1:30 p. m.

The Sisters of the convent of the Holy Name, Ramona, Cal., will have their commencement exercises on Tuesday, June 23, 1891, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. A special train on the Rapid Transit leaves Aliso street at 2 p. m. No flowers.

The pupils of Ann and Railroad street schools are preparing to give an entertainment a week from next Monday, as a sort of finale to the school year. From the sketch of the programme given the HERALD school reporter it appears that the entertainment will be an excellent one.

Mr. McGarvin reported yesterday that a certain Chicago man visited the orange carnival the first night and was so filled with enthusiasm that he packed his trunk that night and started for Los Angeles the following morning. Ten days later he had purchased twenty acres in Los Angeles county and was located.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the National Bank of California, held on yesterday, Mr. Perry Wildman was elected cashier and A. Hadley assistant cashier. The bank is in a most satisfactory condition, and is rapidly taking a foremost place among financial institutions.

The new fruit cannery and crystallizing works at Seventh and Alameda streets is preparing to open up for business next Monday. Twenty-five or thirty hands have been engaged during the past day or two, and about a hundred more will be engaged before the place opens up.

The new diplomas of the Los Angeles Business college are decided works of art, and are noteworthy as being entirely the production of home talent. One of the students made the design, and the Los Angeles lithographing establishment prepared the stone and did the printing from that design.

An unknown dead man was found yesterday near Tropic, between the main road and the railroad track. It is thought that his name is D. B. Sower, as that was the name written on a purse found on the body of the deceased. The supposition is that Sower was on his road to the county hospital, but was overcome before reaching the city. Coroner Weldon will hold an inquest today.

The Los Angeles Business college is preparing to issue a monthly paper in the interests of their work. The first number will appear Saturday. It is an eight-page paper, of fine typographical appearance, and with the contents carefully prepared. It is not an advertising sheet in the strict sense of the term, as no advertisements except that of their own institution will be inserted.

There seems to be a diversity of opinion in regard to the location of Immanuel church, in this city. The Express of Wednesday evening places it on Pearl street, south of Pico, and the Times of yesterday on Eleventh and Pearl streets. Now, as a matter of fact, Immanuel church is on the corner of Main and Pearl, and the second lecture of the anonymous course will be given there next Wednesday evening, the 17th inst. Subject, Two Famous Characters.

An English gentleman, who was introduced to a HERALD reporter yesterday as a new arrival, is another result of the orange carnival. He has come out here with plenty of money and a determination to stay. He is talking and reading about oranges and possibly dreams about them. At any rate he has bought a twenty-acre tract at Pacoima, and is preparing to plant it as soon as he can obtain trees, while he has also in contemplation the purchase of a similar tract at Glendora.

A free entertainment will be given by the Central W. C. T. U., at 8 o'clock this evening, at which the following will be the programme: Singing; responsive reading; prayer; Genesis of the World's W. C. T. U.; Mrs. E. M. Crow; Exodus of the World's W. C. T. U.; Miss E. Harriman; music; relation of W. C. T. U. to Missions; notes from the field; Mrs. Saxton; congress of nations; song; the daughters of the W. C. T. U.; Miss F. Dunham; Aunt Columbia's letter to Uncle Samuel; Mrs. L. J. Kendall; Rabelais; Mrs. M. E. Garbutt; The Temples; Mrs. M. J. Mayhew; collection speech, Constance Ewing; solo, Prof. F. A. Bacon; benediction; social hour in headquarters. The entertainment will be at Temperance temple.

Major Kimball yesterday morning commenced sending to various bidders a list of awards for army supplies which have just been determined upon. The supplies are for the entire year and are furnished to the following posts: Forts Apache, Bowie, Huachuca, San Carlos and Whipple in Arizona, and Forts Bayard, Stanton, Wingate and Albuquerque in New Mexico, and San Diego and Los Angeles in California. The supplies consist of oats, corn, hay, straw, bran, barley, charcoal, blacksmith's coal, soft wood, live oak and hard wood, juniper and pine wood and other kinds of wood for fuel purposes. About 150 awards were made. There were over 500 bidders. The supplies will cost $500,000.

The many friends of Miss Sue Bowles in this city will be pleased to learn that she has opened what she has appropriately named Cedar Cottage, at Santa Monica. This will be a pleasant and homelike resort for summer boarders by the sea, and rates are very reasonable. Those desiring rooms should apply soon. The location is Second street, between Oregon and Arizona avenues. Take street car at depot. Address for terms Miss Sue Bowles, Santa Monica, Cal.

Don't miss the Barbers' Union picnic next Sunday, Main-street garden.

For sale—10 head thoroughbred Holstein bulls, cheap. Bonita Meadows, Washington street, or apply to J. E. Durkee, Ardmore.

J. J. Reynolds, the veteran driver and owner of Judge Salisbury, Jr., now standing at Golden Gate stables, 311 Aliso street, intends to remove to race track July 15th, where he will train horses for the public; bar his own horses if desired. J. J. Reynolds.

The Six Sisters Millinery has removed to 429 South Spring street, between Fourth and Fifth.

R. D. List, notary public. Legal papers carefully drawn. 125 West Second. Never out.

G. G. Johnson, Notary Public, has removed to 119 N. Spring st. Always in.

PERSONAL.

Judge Noah Levering is slowly recovering from a very severe attack of erysipelas.

Hon. H. Z. Osborne on Wednesday took possession of the office of collector of customs at Wilmington.

Mr. Sparks B. Johnson, son of Gen. E. P. Johnson, who has been dangerously ill with typhoid fever, is recovering.

Prof. Ira More started for Sacramento yesterday noon, to attend the meeting of the state board of education, which convenes at Sacramento.

W. A. Clement of this city leaves today for Manchester, New Hampshire, on a visit to relatives and friends. He will be away about two months.

Jacob S. Taylor, Esq., of Del Mar, who has been a forced resident of Los Angeles for several months on account of law matters, is confined to his room on Broadway by illness.

Mr. Jno. Tobin started for Salt Lake City yesterday by the noon train over the Southern Pacific. He will stop but one day there, then proceed to Boston with the Phillips excursion.

Mrs. W. A. Davis, who has been in the city for the past six weeks visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. D. Hughes, 845 Hemlock street, leaves today for her home in Contra Costa county. She is accompanied by her two children, Warren and May. This is Mrs. Davis's second visit to Los Angeles.

The hotel arrivals at the Hotel Temescal, South Riverside, since Monday last are: Emma Kiehl, H. E. Taylor, Lizzie J. Hendricks, C. D. Frazier, W. A. Bingham, C. D. McMillan, W. F. Freeman, Wm. A. Witte, W. E. Soms, H. K. Snyder, E. T. Lee, George Jones, Mrs. R. B. Taylor, Mrs. S. K. Root, R. E. McGregor.

George A. Merrill, of the department of sciences of the Cogswell school of San Francisco, passed through Los Angeles yesterday, en route to San Diego. He returns to Los Angeles today and will remain several days. Mr. Merrill is not only a very pleasant, well-informed gentleman personally, but is connected with one of the finest schools in the state.

Thomas A. Wallace, one of San Francisco's police officers, and bailiff of police court No. 2, after sojourning in Los Angeles and vicinity for about ten days past, returns to the Golden Gate city today. Mr. Wallace came here for his health, and leaves the angel city much improved, as well as astonished at Southern California's wonderful stride during the past few years.

Colonel George Butler Griffin, besides doing all of his duty as assistant city engineer, is employing his leisure in translating a lot of original documents pertaining to the early history of California, loaned the Historical society by Adolph Sutro, Esq., of San Francisco. Colonel Griffin is thoroughly acquainted with the Spanish language, laws, history and customs, and is pre-eminently qualified for the work. Already his translation of these documents has discovered a good many important items of early history that wholly escaped the attention of H. H. Bancroft. The translations will be published by the Historical society.

Samuel Flint, superintendent of the railway mail service of the Eighth district, and Wm. P. Campbell, assistant general superintendent of the railway mail service, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., are in town. Both gentlemen have been since Monday last traveling Southern California in a special car with a view of improving the postal service. Mr. Campbell has been for twenty-five years connected with the postoffice department and has held the position of assistant general superintendent for fully fifteen years. His knowledge of mail matters is exceptionally good.

Theodore S. Van Dyke, that most delightful writer on Southern California, has been in Los Angeles a few days, and left yesterday for Anaheim. Mr. Van Dyke is personally investigating all the irrigating districts of Southern California for the purpose of writing a book upon that subject. What he writes is always from personal observation and knowledge, and is thoroughly reliable. Mr. Van Dyke is a correspondent for many eastern sporting publications, and has written, The Still Hunter, Rifle, Rod and Gun, Southern California—Its Resources, etc., and several interesting novels with plots laid in this section, together with his latest production, The Millionaires of a Day, place him among the foremost of writers.

THE COURTS.

A FATHER GIVEN POSSESSION OF HIS CHILD.

Albert Pico Sent to Folsom for Three Years—Bevione vs. Nicolas—Bull vs. Strong Again on Trial.

A writ of habeas corpus was sworn out in department one of the superior court several days ago by Joe Ennis to regain possession of his 6-year-old child, Susie Ennis, who was in the keeping of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Jora Grialda. The writ was made returnable yesterday morning, and at the appointed time all of the parties were in court. Ennis stated that he had married the mother of the child about seven years ago and had lived with her three years. They had but one child, and not long after its birth Mrs. Ennis left her husband and went to live with another man, leaving Susie with its father. Ennis put the child into the keeping of a woman whom he could trust, and the latter kept her until last February, when she moved to San Francisco. At that time Jora Grialda, the child's grandmother, obtained possession of her and had since refused to give her up.

Shortly after this Ennis swore out a writ to obtain possession of his daughter, but no action was taken by the court, because Mrs. Grialda promised to put Susie in the Sisters' school within a certain time. This was not done, however, and another writ was obtained, the coming of yesterday. After hearing testimony as to Ennis's character, the court awarded the custody of the child to its father, and the latter bore her off triumphantly. Ennis will consign his daughter to the care of the sisters.

THREE YEARS IN FOLSOM.

Albert Pico, alias Pece, was yesterday sentenced to imprisonment for three years in Folsom by Judge Smith for the embezzlement of a horse and buggy from a livery stable keeper named Robertson on March 30. Pico pleaded not guilty at first and after an examination was held to answer. On Monday he withdrew this plea and pleaded guilty. The rig, which was valued at $400, was rented by Pico on the date above named and part of it, the buggy, was sold by him on the same day to a liveryman in another part of town. The horse was not disposed of till the next day, when Pico made a bargain with a different person for it for $20. The evidence against him was conclusive.

BEVIONE VS. NICOLAS.

The case of J. Bevione vs. Pierre Nicolas, a suit for $1500 damages alleged to have been caused by the defendant tearing down the wall of the plaintiff's saloon, while he was occupying it and against his protest, was on trial before a jury in department four yesterday. The plaintiff asserts that Nicolas, who was the owner of a building at the corner of Bellevue avenue and New High street, a portion of which Bevione rented, on October 1, 1890, put a force of men at work on the place and tore out a brick wall on the side of his saloon, letting in the rain and damaging his stock, before it was replaced by a wooden partition. The trial will be continued today.

BULL VS. STRONG.

The long-fought case of Alpheus Bull vs. C. W. and Hattie W. Strong, which was commenced in 1885, and has been to the supreme court three times, was up for argument in Judge Wade's court yesterday. The present plaintiff, a son of the original plaintiff in the case, is attempting to foreclose a trust deed for certain lands at Downey, given by the defendants to his father to cover advances made on a mine which Bull and Strong were working together in Placer county. The contention of the defendants is that the deed was security only for an advance of $3000, but plaintiff claims that it was made to cover all advances made by Bull to his partners, which amounted to $11,000. The argument is not yet completed. Wells, Monroe & Lee appear for the plaintiff, and Bicknell, White, Chapman and Hendricks for the defendants.

COURT NOTES.

The trial of the case of the First National Bank of Pomona vs. H. R. O'Brien, an action on a breach of contract, is still on in department five.

The plaintiff in the foreclosure suit of Loomis vs. Carr, obtained a judgment by default in department two yesterday. Judge Clark, yesterday, discharged Wm. H. Kelso from his duties as administrator of the estate of Anna M. Kelso, deceased, the estate having been settled up.

Judge Wade, yesterday, dissolved the injunction restraining the Terminal road from obtaining a right of way through Cerritos.

James Tutaine was yesterday taken before United States Commissioner Van Dyke on the charge of entering the Banning reservation for Mission Indians on January 30th, and squatting there, displacing the legal owners of the land. Another warrant is out for Lucy Tutaine, mother of the man arrested yesterday, but she has not been apprehended. Tutaine was sent to the county jail in default of $100 bail, and his examination was set for Saturday. Indian Agent H. N. Rust is the complaining witness, and the case is an outgrowth of disputes over the location of the boundary lines of the reservation.

NEW CASES.

Lovie, Dodd & Co. sue W. E. Rogers et ux, to recover $166.07 on an unpaid street assessment, for work done on Belmont avenue.

J. H. Bryan sues James McGill and the trustees of St. Vincent's college to quiet title to a lot on the southeast corner of Seventh and Broadway, fronting 110 feet on Seventh and 120 feet on Broadway.

Frances J. Pond, administratrix of the estate of Henry W. Pond, deceased, sues Frank J. Smith et al. to foreclose a mortgage given to secure a promissory note for $2000 executed May 28, 1889.

D. W. Field applies for letters of administration on the estate of George Stockton, who died at Piru, Ventura county, June 1st.

Shot and Killed Himself. SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Fred Hansen, formerly employed as watchman at the Judson powder works, shot and killed himself this afternoon, after making an unsuccessful attempt to kill his wife. It is stated that he had been drinking for some days.

Livery Men. None but the best of wood can successfully endure the usage of the livery; yet, nearly every livery man in the United States is a willing witness to the superiority of the Columbus buggy. They have tried them thoroughly and do not hesitate in pronouncing them unapproachable for durability, style and finish.

A Remarkable Occurrence.

Last December, while piloting some logs, a Maine lumberman lost his watch overboard near the mouth of the Penobscot river. He located the spot by landmarks on the bank, and intended to dredge for it the next day, but the river froze over and he had to wait till the ice broke up. He was so fortunate as to find the watch when he dredged for it last week. When brought to the surface it was still ticking, and only a few minutes behind time. The owner explains this somewhat startling fact by stating that the watch lay on the bed of the river in such a position that the ebb and flow of the tide has wound it up every day. We remember reading in our geography that the tides down east were very remarkable; now we know it.—Life.

A Straight Tip.

"Is your sister in the house, Miss Dorothy?"

"Yes, she is, and if you're coming often you'd better hurry up and propose, 'cause I've noticed with all the others when it goes on so long it never comes to anything."—Life.

Life Too Short.

"Is Mr. Shykes at home?" inquired a caller at a house in the suburbs yesterday morning.

"No, sir," said Mrs. Shykes. "He is in the city."

"Can you tell me where I will be likely to find him? My business with him is somewhat urgent."

"Yes, sir. You will find him in the city at No. blankety-seven Dearborn street."

An hour later the man who had important business with Mr. Shykes found himself in front of No. blankety-seven Dearborn street. The building was one of the new 'steep story cloud piercers' that line that highway of commerce. He looked half way to the top, took a rest, and then lifted his gaze to the last row of windows.

"How many rooms are there in this building?" he asked of a man who was whittling a stick in the doorway.

"I dunno. 'Bout 500, I guess," was the reply.

The man in search of Mr. Shykes assisted his weary gaze down to earth again, shook his head dismally, and turned away. "Life is too short!" he said.—Chicago Tribune.

PAINT

YOUR HOUSE WITH

Raynolds' House & Villa Paint

THIS IS NO NEW PAINT.

The house of C. T. Raynolds & Co. is the OLDEST PAINT CONCERN in the United States, the business being established about 1735. Their goods are recognized by consumers and dealers as being among the best and most reliable of their class. The house has stood at the head of the trade in regular succession for MORE THAN A CENTURY, and the superiority and uniformity of their products are unquestioned throughout the whole country. We have recently obtained the exclusive agency for RAYNOLDS' HOUSE and VILLA PAINT in this city, and respectfully solicit a share of the public patronage.

Sample boards of the very latest shades can be sent at once, or sample cards sent upon application. Very respectfully,

PEOPLE'S STORE.

FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1891.

Why is it, Oh Friday, that in years past you have been a traditional quiet day? We will disturb the quiet of your tranquility, and draw crowds within our stores to convince you that people will take hold of bargains on Friday as readily as any other. We will stimulate trade today by offering some extra inducements to verify our words.

Has it ever occurred to you that the Peoples' Store is something of an establishment? Have you ever thought that in a town of fifty thousand inhabitants there has successfully grown a modern department store covering an area of 12,000 square feet of store space (everything grows large in phenomenal Southern California), wherein is kept shoes, hats, gloves, clothing, underwear, trunks and valises, dry goods, notions, art goods, domestics, millinery, stationery, drugs, perfumery and druggists' sundries, laces and trimmings, umbrellas and parasols, jewelry, corsets, hosiery, window shades, draperies, cornice poles, toys, crockery, glassware, tinware, baskets and house-furnishings of all kinds—each carrying everything complete in its line—all working harmoniously under one roof, and each contributing towards the common result—the best to be obtained and placed before its patrons at the lowest living prices? Well, such an institution does not exist in any city in the United States of similar habitation, and not in San Francisco—with its 300,000 inhabitants—until we introduce it there next Saturday evening.

OUR BASEMENT SALESROOM.

The lack of floor space upstairs, and the growth of our trade necessitated our opening a salesroom in our basement. This is done in every large store in the eastern cities, and when frontage becomes more valuable, will have to be resorted to here. We carry a complete line of draperies, curtains, curtain nets, table oilcloths, upholstery effects and trimmings, etc., and the results of the department show it's appreciated. Then we have the largest lines of toys, games, children's books, wagons, etc.—everything, and more, than you would expect at a toy store. In addition we carry crockery, glassware, stoneware, tinware, agateware, house-furnishing goods, cutlery, etc. Our departments are tastefully arranged. A visit to it will show you the many necessities your kitchen and dining-room requires—it's low down, and compares with our prices. We know that we are cheaper on these goods than anyone else, because our prices have been compared. A visit is solicited.
