

SALISBURY'S REPLY.

The Answer to Wharton's Recent Note.

Poachers Warned of the Risk They Run.

The Question of Time Therefore Not Urgent.

England Is Willing to Renew the Modus Vivendi Only Under the Conditions Heretofore Insisted Upon.

Associated Press Dispatches.

LONDON, March 27.—Lord Salisbury, under date of March 26th, replied as follows to Sir Julian Pauncefote, in response to Mr. Wharton's note of March 22d:

"Notice has been given the owners of ships sailing for Bering sea that the agreements to arbitrate and immediate arrangements under discussion between Great Britain and the United States, may affect the liberty of sealing in Bering sea. They have had notice of their liability to interruption and will sail subject to that notice.

"The question of time is therefore not urgent. We concur in thinking that when the treaty is ratified, our contract will be governed by your note of June 14, 1890, but when it is ratified both parties must admit that the contingent rights which both desire to protect become vested in each other. We think the prohibition of sealing, if it stands alone, would be unjust to British sealers if the arbitrators should decide adversely to the United States.

"We are willing, however, when the treaty shall be ratified, to agree to an arrangement similar to last year, if the United States will consent that the arbitrators, in the event the decision is adverse to the United States, assess the damages inflicted on British sealers during the pending arbitration, and, in the event the decision is adverse to Great Britain, assess the damages which the limitation of the slaughter shall, during the pendency of the arbitration, have inflicted on the United States or its lessees.

"As an alternative we are willing, after the ratification of the treaty, to prohibit sealing in the disputed waters if vessels be exempted from the prohibition which produce a certificate that they have given security for such damages as the arbitrators may assess in case the decision is adverse to Great Britain, the arbitrators to receive the necessary authority in that respect.

"In this case the restriction of slaughter on the islands will not in point of equity be necessary. Her Majesty's government is unable to see any other than these methods of restricting seal hunting in the disputed waters during arbitration, which would be equitable to both parties."

A LATER NOTE.

A later note from Lord Salisbury to Sir Julian Pauncefote, under date of March 26th, says:

"With further reference to your telegram of March 23d, I am not prepared to admit, as I gather that the president thinks that we objected to the arbitrators having jurisdiction to award damages inflicted in the past by the party against whom the award is given. I only objected to her Majesty's government being liable for action they have not committed. I am ready to consent to referring on this point on the following terms: In case the arbitrators decide in favor of the British government they may ask that they further decide whether the United States government, since 1885, has taken any action in Bering sea directly inflicting wrongful loss on British subjects, and also to assess the damages incurred thereby; that in case the arbitrators decide in favor of the government of the United States, they may ask them to decide further whether the British government, since 1885, has taken any action in Bering sea directly inflicting wrongful loss on the United States, and if so assess the damages incurred thereby."

RECEIVED AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Salisbury's reply to Acting Secretary Wharton's note of the 22d inst., expressing the hope of the president that Lord Salisbury would give prompt and friendly assistance for the renewal of the modus vivendi for the protection of seal life in Bering sea, was laid before the president this afternoon. It bears the date of the 26th, and was received by Wharton today through Pauncefote. When Wharton laid it before the president he had a brief talk with him regarding the contents. Neither the president nor the secretary would indicate through the press the nature of the communication.

PAUNCEFOTE'S NOTE OF JUNE, 1890.

Pauncefote's note of June 14, 1890, to Blaine, referred to in Salisbury's letter of the 26th, expressed his regrets at the failure to receive assurance that, during the continuance of the negotiations for the settlement of the seal fishing question, British vessels would not be interfered with by the United States revenue cutters in the Bering sea outside of the territorial limits; protested against such interference with British vessels, and said: "Her Majesty's government learned with great concern that the government of the United States has issued instructions to the revenue cutters about to be dispatched to Bering sea, under which the vessels of British subjects will again be exposed, in the prosecution of their legitimate industry on the high seas, to unlawful interference at the hands of American officers. Her Majesty's government is anxious to co-operate to the fullest extent of their power with the government of the United States in such a measure as may be found expedient for the protection of the seal fisheries. They are at the present moment engaged in examining, in concert with the United States government, the best method of arriving at an agreement upon the point, but they cannot admit the right of the United States, of their own sole motion, to restrict for this purpose the freedom of navigation of Bering sea, which the United States themselves in former years convincingly and successfully vindicated; nor enforce their municipal legislation against British vessels on the high seas beyond the limits of their territorial jurisdiction. Her Majesty's government is therefore unable to pass over without notice the public announcement on the part of the government of the United States of its intention to renew its acts of interference with British vessels navigating outside the territorial waters of the United States, of which they previously have had to complain. The undersigned, in consequence, is instructed formally to protest against such interference, and therefore that her Britannic Majesty's government must hold the government of the United States responsible for the consequences that may ensue from acts which are contrary to the established principles of international law. The undersigned, etc. "JULIAN PAUNCEFOTE."

LONDON COMMENT.

LONDON, March 27.—The News approves Lord Salisbury's proposals, but says the Americans are justly regarded with disfavor in the proposals that a fishery be opened to vessels guaranteeing damages.

The Chronicle regrets that the correspondence will not tend to popularize arbitration. It says: "Mr. Blaine very cleverly, by a sort of attorney's trick, put Lord Salisbury in the somewhat absurd position of consenting to arbitrate whether we ever had or have a right to catch seals on the way to American breeding waters. We admit that our right is doubtful. The world would vote us fools to go to war on account of 25,000 seals. It matters nothing, if President Harrison does assume an attitude of spread-eagles, not only marked by rank injustice, but perfectly grotesque in its absurdity. It is clear that Blaine detected from the first the supreme advantage on his side. His government is on the eve of an election and can afford to be ridiculous. We cannot."

The Telegraph says: "At present it must be confessed that the negotiations appear to come to a deadlock, not altogether devoid of anxiety. On every ground it is most to be desired that the arbitrators shall get to work at the soonest possible moment."

The Times says: "Lord Salisbury has proposed several methods to make the award of the arbitrators retrospective, all of which have been rejected with scant courtesy, and often scant regard for the American negotiations. If neither of the equitable modes which Lord Salisbury now offers are accepted, it will be difficult to resist the inference that America has remarkably little confidence in her case. It is difficult to be very sanguine in regard to the disputant who failed to take from the imperturbable courtesy with which Lord Salisbury sets aside and ignores the numerous irrelevancies of American diplomacy."

The Standard says: "Lord Salisbury's dispatch seems to reach the utmost bounds of conciliation. It is a plain, business-like and fair offer which America must accept or refuse."

SCARED INTO FITS.

Murderer Deeming's Narrow Escape From Being Lynched.

ALBANY, Australia, March 27.—Deeming's journey from Perth to this city, where he is to embark for Melbourne, was notable for a series of exciting scenes. Rushes were made for the train wherever it stopped. The windows of Deeming's carriage were broken, and great efforts were made by the people to lynch him. Women, especially, were violent. During the journey the prisoner had several fainting fits; his returning to consciousness was marked by violent struggles which required men to hold him. He became more quiet toward the end of the journey, and was transferred to jail quietly, but had another fit during the night.

Interesting Agricultural Exhibits.

The department will have many of these interesting articles on exhibit, besides a number of other matters interesting to agriculturists.

Dynamite the Order of the Day in Paris.

A Regular Reign of Terror Prevailing.

The House of a Public Prosecutor Blown Up.

Intense Excitement and Considerable Damage Caused by the Explosion—Sensational Happenings Abroad.

Associated Press Dispatches.

PARIS, March 27.—At 8 o'clock this morning a dynamite explosion occurred at 39 Rue Clichy, where resided M. Bulloz, one of the prosecuting counsel in the recent anarchist trial. The explosion was immediately followed by frenzied shrieks from the occupants of the building, who were in bed at the time. The main staircase was completely wrecked. A number of half-dressed women and children escaped hurriedly by the servants' staircase. The fire brigade extinguished a small fire in the debris, and rescued the inmates. Seven persons were seriously injured by the infernal machine, which was apparently deposited at the door of the second floor, which was occupied by M. Bulloz. The whole of the interior of the building was wrecked, and in two adjoining houses all of the doors and windows were smashed. Much furniture was broken to fragments and the courtyard strewn with debris. Several workmen engaged in a building opposite, were injured by flying fragments of stone and glass.

Ministers Loubet and Ricard visited the scene during the day. M. Bulloz and family escaped uninjured. The police continue the search of Anarchistic haunts and the seizure of Anarchistic publications. Two robbers named Mar, and two brothers named Mathieu, accomplices of Ravasol have been arrested. The explosion caused intense excitement throughout the city. Nobody feels safe. Tonight a gendarme found an infernal machine at the Ivory barracks and quenched the lighted fuse.

A SEA OF FIRE.

The Harbor of Barcelona Aflame—Seven Vessels Burned.

BARCELONA, March 27.—During a transfer of petroleum today a lighted match was accidentally dropped on a barrel of oil. The lighter was instantly ablaze, and the men barely had time to escape before the vessel alongside was also in flames. The timbers of the small soon broke away, and the blazing petroleum converted the water of the harbor into a sea of fire. Many vessels escaped, but seven were encircled by the flames and destroyed. They were the Theyra, Cassilla, Kabano, Walter, Pison, the man-of-war La Fante, and the launch Clamor. The loss is enormous. No personal injury is reported. The spectacle from the shore was one of terrible grandeur.

SELF-CROCIFFIXION.

A Religious Maniac Inflicts Horrible Penance on Himself.

BERLIN, March 27.—From Konigsburg, in East Prussia, comes the story of the self-croicifixion of a religious maniac named Puschke, residing at Rulack. The man bound his legs together, drove nails through his feet into the ground, and then lying stretched out on his back nailed his left hand to the ground. After which he stabbed himself repeatedly in the chest with his right hand. His wife found him unconscious. In spite of his injuries he may recover.

Storms in Great Britain.

LONDON, March 27.—Severe storms are again reported in the north of Wales, England and Scotland, with drifts two to five feet high. The snow storm is terrible of Berwick, and it is feared the Newcastle steamer Holmrook foundered, with the loss of twelve lives. A man-gled body has been washed ashore there, and a portion of the vessel and masts are visible from Berwick.

Fire Losses.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—The plant of H. O. Wilbur & Sons, manufacturers of chocolate, was gutted by fire today. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The loss will reach fully $200,000, nearly covered by insurance.

OMAHA, March 27.—A five-story building, occupied by the Omaha Hardware company, was completely destroyed by fire this morning, causing a loss of $200,000. It is thought the fire was the work of burglars, who resorted to arson to hide their crime.

A Dance House Cutting Affray.

PATERSON, N. J., March 27.—Leo and Peter Presello, brothers, were escorting two young women of ill-repute from a dance house early this morning, when William Farrell, a member of the notorious Cream gang, asked one of the girls to accompany him. A row ensued, during which Farrell was terribly slashed with a razor by Leo. Farrell is in a critical condition. The Presellos and the girls were arrested.

A Sensational Funeral.

ASHLAND, Wis., March 27.—There was a sensational scene yesterday afternoon at the funeral of Mr. Lang, who suicided Friday by hanging. Her son, Frank Allay, got drunk, went to the coroner's office, and over the dead body accused his step father of having driven the deceased to suicide. "I will have your heart's blood," said he, but he was seized before he could get to his step-father with a knife. The funeral was to be held in the afternoon. The son became drunk, drove off the minister and demanded a priest. In the confusion the body was driven to the cemetery at a break-neck speed, followed by the son.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

Five Crooks Burglarize a Meerschaum Pipe Factory.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The police today arrested five men said to have been implicated in the boldest robbery here since the looting of the Manhattan bank. John Frederick's meerschaum pipe factory was entered last Sunday and at least a wagon load of property was carried off. The shutters of the window through which the burglars entered were replaced and the police knew nothing of the robbery till it was reported to them. The prisoners are George Speck, alias George Smith, Allen Howard, alias "Chicago Kid," Frank Bamberger, alias "Pop," David Collins, alias "Dave," and John H. Goll.

AFTER THE STORM.

The Streets of Omaha Littered With Prostrated Wires.

OMAHA, Neb., March 27.—The traces of yesterday's storm were numerous throughout the city this morning. Telephone and telegraph wires were strwn everywhere, and the city railroad system was in a bad condition. Gangs of men were put to work, and tonight order is largely restored. Motor trains are running as usual, and the electric light circuit is on. Telegraphic communication has been established and business is being handled as usual.

A SILVER-LINED CLOUD.

THE BLAND BILL HAS A FOREBODING ASPECT.

The Bright Side of It Is Not Visible—It Threatens to Create Stormy Times in the House—The Silver Fight to Be Resumed and Fought to a Finish.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Bland silver bill still impends over the house as a cloud whose presence makes possible a storm which may disturb the prognostications of those who endeavor to form an accurate chart of the course of the legislative ship.

Owing to the absence of Catchings of Mississippi and the desire that there shall be a full representation of the members of the house when the rule making the Bland free coinage bill and the pending amendments a special order, is taken up, the rules committee will not report and call up the much talked-of special order until Tuesday. The silver fight will then be renewed and fought to a finish, one way or the other. Tomorrow will probably be devoted to measures relating to the District of Columbia. The remainder of the week, not devoted to consideration of the silver question, will be consumed either in debate on the tariff question or consideration of regular appropriation bills. No decision has yet been arrived at as to whether or not the tariff discussion shall be further interrupted. There are three appropriation bills, namely, the naval, the consular and diplomatic, and the sundry civil, ready for action by the house in the order indicated. The river and harbor appropriation bill has been agreed upon by the committee, but will not be reported to the house until next week.

Interest in the proceedings of the senate this week will turn upon the disposition to be made of the Bering sea arbitration treaty. In the course of legislative business, the Indian appropriation bill will be further considered and there is more to be said upon the subject of employing army officers in the capacity of Indian agents. The West Virginia direct tax bill is assigned for debate on Tuesday, on which day Senator Stanford will also, according to notice, address the senate on his bill to determine the value of the legal tender dollar. It is expected that the District of Columbia appropriation bill will be taken up afterward, and as this is a measure in which the senators feel much interest, owing in part to the fact that many of them own homes in this city, the debate upon the provisions of the bill will likely occupy the senate for some time.

FOUNDED ON A BOOK.

Why the Church of Christ Survived the Dark Ages.

BALTIMORE, March 27.—In the course of a sermon today by Cardinal Gibbons, he dwelt upon the reason given by the Historian Gibbon for the growth and development of Christianity. Cardinal Gibbons said, in part: "If the church survived, it is in obedience to the decree of God, who said: 'The gates of hell shall not prevail against her.' Gamaliel, therefore, was right when he said: 'If this work (the church of Christ) be of men it will come to naught; but if it be of God, you cannot overthrow it.'"

A World's Fair Swindle.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Word was recently received here from Paris that a consoling named Stacing was in jail and awaiting trial on a charge of swindling Lewis Cohen of Paris out of 100,000 francs. Stacing established a fraudulent world's fair agency in Paris and secured money from Cohen by representing to him that he had procured a privilege for space on the world's fair grounds. Stacing showed Cohen a letter signed by Director General Davis, which was a forgery, Cohen paying the money on the strength of the letter as an installment to secure the proposed privileges.

THE HOPKINS SETTLEMENT.

A Rumor that Tim was Bought Off for Ten Millions.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The World's Pittsfield, Mass., special says: Did Timothy Hopkins receive $3,000,000 or $10,000,000 to settle the contest over the will of his foster mother, the late Mrs. Edward F. Searles? Down at Great Barrington, where Kellogg terrace, the $2,000,000 house that the widow of Mark Hopkins built, but scarcely occupied, stands deserted, it is whispered with bated breath that the demand for $10,000,000 was acceded to. A lady who was often the guest of Mrs. Hopkins before she became Mrs. Searles, said she knew Searles paid Hopkins $10,000,000. Hopkins wanted $12,000,000 at first, but being supposed to be about half the value of the estate he finally dropped to $10,000,000, and Searles was willing to settle, for as she said, Hopkins had some damaging evidence to produce had the case gone on.

Life Insurance Report.

HARTFORD, Ct., March 27.—Yesterday Insurance Commissioner Tyler issued a report on the life companies. Seven Connecticut and twenty-one of other states reported to him. The report commends the companies which are circulating their reserve on the 3 per cent instead of 4 per cent basis, and condemns the short-term endowment scheme by which thousands of poor people of Connecticut have lost money.

A large manufacturer, whose affairs were very much embarrassed, and who was overworked and broken down with nervous exhaustion, went to a celebrated specialist. He was told that the only thing needed was to be relieved of care and worry, and have a change of thought. He ought to have advised him to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the best remedy for nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, headache, ill effects of spirits, tobacco, coffee, opium, etc. Thousands testify to cure.
