COLLIS TRAIN ROBBERS

Trailed by Officers to Their Home in Visalia.

An Ineffectual Attempt to Capture Them.

Detective Will Smith Shot by One of the Desperadoes.

Deputy Sheriff Witty Wounded by the Other Outlaw—Neither Seriously Injured—A Posse Pursuing the Bandits.

By the Associated Press.]

VISALIA, Cal., Aug. 5.—Detective Will Smith and Deputy Sheriff Witty were shot by the Collis train robbers, one mile north of Visalia, about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Smith was hit in the back, and Witty in the neck. Neither is dangerously wounded. Chris. Evans, an old resident here, shot Witty. A hundred men with rifles are in pursuit and will probably capture the robbers.

On Tuesday, last, Chris. Evans and John Sontag hired a livery team in this city to go to the mountains. Yesterday at noon they returned with the shoes off the horses.

After the Collis train robbery, Detectives Thacker and Hickey and Sheriff Cunningham traced the robbers to this city.

Before noon today, Detective Will Smith asked Deputy Sheriff Witty to accompany him to Evans' house, in the north part of town, where, he stated, he wanted to interview a man. They went to the house and found George Sontag, and took him to jail. They afterwards again went to Evans' house and secured a trunk supposed to contain the stolen coin.

Following is Smith's statement of the occurrence at Evans' house:

DETECTIVE SMITH'S STORY. "Mr. Witty and myself went down to Chris Evans' house and asked George Conant, alias Sontag, to step up to the sheriff's office, as we heard he was on the train when it was robbed, and we wanted to question him. John Sontag was in the house at the time. We brought Conant to the sheriff's office, where he made a statement, and was afterwards arrested and charged with robbing the train.

"Mr. Witty and I then returned to Evans' place. While we were hitching our horses we saw John Sontag enter the house. We asked a little girl in the house where Sontag was, and she said he was not in the house. Just then Chris Evans entered the house from the back door. The house contained a sitting-room and a bedroom on the left side. In place of a door to the bedroom there was a partition. There was another bedroom next to the sitting-room. Evans was in the latter bedroom. He said that Sontag had gone up town. I told him that Sontag had just entered the house. I stepped into the house and pulled aside the partition, and there stood Sontag with a double barreled shotgun. I stepped to one side and attempted to unbutton my coat to reach my six-shooter, when I saw that Chris Evans also had a shotgun.

"The officers peppered with shot. "Witty and I then ran out through the front door. He ran through the gateway and I went over the fence. I turned to the left of the road and Witty to the right. We left our team, as we did not have time to unhitch it. Evans pursued Witty and Sontag pursued me. I looked over my shoulder just as Evans fired at Witty. I stopped and fired two shots at Evans, when Sontag stopped and fired at me. As he pulled the trigger I crouched and the charge went over me. But he fired again, his shot striking me in the back and hands. The charge was double B shot.

ESCAPE OF THE ROBBERS. As Evans and Sontag continued their pursuit they threw out their empty shells and reloaded their guns; but they then took our wagon and drove off, but as one of the horses is stiff, I think they will be captured soon.

"I found in Chris Evans' home the material from which the masks were made, and I also found that the team which the robbers used two nights ago, was hired here by John Sontag. "After Evans fired at Witty, the latter fell and Evans stepped over him with a gun to fire again, when Witty asked him not to shoot again as he was killed already."

A POSSE IN PURSUIT. Half an hour after Smith and Witty had their encounter with the robbers, one hundred men were in pursuit, but up to the present moment the robbers have escaped.

Witty was shot under the right shoulderblade, the bullet coming out under the left arm. His back and one side of his face are well sprinkled with shot. The cavity of his chest was not penetrated. Detective Smith's wounds are mere scratches.

The opinion is general that if Smith had awaited the arrival of Sheriff Cunningham and Detective Thacker, the men would have been arrested. Evans is well acquainted in the mountains east of here, and the chances are that upon reaching the timber he will escape.

IDENTITY OF THE DESPERADOES. Evans has a wife and seven children here. Sontag has been paying attention to Evans' oldest daughter. Sontag has been a railroad engineer. The two men, a year ago, kept a livery stable at Modesto, which was destroyed by fire. Sontag has been under the surveillance of officers for some time.

Forest Fires at Folsom. ESCALANTE, Aug. 5.—Warden Aull, of Folsom prison, telephones the Record-Union tonight that great forest fires are sweeping over the hills on the north side of the American river, destroying timber and pasture. Several thousand acres were burned over today, and tonight the fire covers a large extent of territory.

ASSAULTED THE MINISTER.

An Arizona Youth's Revenge for Being Reprimanded in Church.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 5.—Rev. D. F. Fuller, D.D., pastor of the M. E. church, south, was attacked by Willis Warren, son of a well-to-do farmer, three miles north of the city. The minister was in a buggy, accompanied by his little son. Warren, who was on horseback, struck the minister over the nose with a heavy rope, with a knot in the end. Dr. Fuller defended himself for half a mile with a buggy whip, and Warren was badly lashed. Upon reaching the residence of William Osborne, the minister stopped and got out of the buggy, and Warren fled. The trouble was caused by Warren being reprimanded for disturbing the services at Smith's chapel, where Dr. Fuller preaches occasionally. The mother and sister of Warren called on the minister this morning, and apologized for the young man's conduct.

A STORM IN ARIZONA.

The Wind Raises High Jinks at Phoenix and Vicinity.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 5.—A terrific sand storm struck Phoenix and vicinity last evening, and for half an hour nothing but dust was in sight. Considerable damage was done by the blowing down of awnings, signs, sheds, stables and a few frail houses. A chimney at the asylum was blown down, breaking through two floors. The walls of the building were badly cracked. Much fruit was blown off the trees. In Tempe, everything loose was overturned. Two Indians, a squaw and a buck, were killed by lightning, sixteen miles from Phoenix. No other lives were lost so far as known. Trees were blown down everywhere.

DOCTORS ON THE SCENE.

A BAD WRECK ON THE LAKE SHORE ROAD.

A Flyer Dashes Into a Broken Down Freight Train—An Engineer and Fireman Killed—Many Passengers Injured.

ERIE, Pa., Aug. 5.—A bad wreck has just occurred on the Lake Shore road, at Harbor creek, between a passenger and a freight train. It is reported that many passengers were killed and wounded. Physicians have been sent to the scene of the wreck, from this city.

The wreck occurred while a freight train was taking a switch to allow a flyer to pass at 11:50 this evening. The flyer, consisting of the baggage, combination and three sleepers, crashed into the freight, pulling the wreckage in a heap. Engineer Welch and Fireman J. Barker, of Buffalo, on No. 6, were killed outright, and many wounded. The railroad officials refuse to give any information.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 5, 2:25 a. m.—It is stated here that the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern train dispatcher made the following statement about the wreck: "A passenger train, due at Buffalo at 3:45 a. m., ran into a wreck at Harbor creek. The engineer and fireman of No. 6 were killed, one passenger seriously injured, one sleeping car damaged and the buffet car totally wrecked. The wreck was caused by the breaking down of a train going west, and No. 6 running into it."

No additional particulars of the Harbor Creek wreck have been received up to 3:45 a. m., though the report of the train dispatcher given above, is about right, but probably more passengers were injured.

A CHANCE FOR SETTLERS.

A Large Tract of Land Opened in Humboldt County.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—More than a million and a half acres of timber and grazing lands in Humboldt county have been thrown open to entry and sale by a decision of the commissioner of the United States land office. The lands are in the northern part of Humboldt county. In 1880 a survey of sixty-nine townships in Humboldt county was made by Surveyors Holcomb and Buckley, and persons working under them. The lands covered by the survey had not been previously mapped, and the country was practically without inhabitants, although known to be well watered and, in parts, heavily covered with the finest redwood and other timber. On account of fraud the government, in 1887, withdrew from entry all of the lands surveyed by Holcomb and his party. Since 1887 the government land office has been investigating the surveys made in Humboldt county, and today the commissioner directed Surveyor-General Pratt to announce that the order of suspension had been rescinded, and that the lands covered by it were now restored to entry and sale. Surveyor-General Pratt is familiar with the sections now opened, and considers them desirable. Water abounds all through the county. Most of the land is suitable for grazing, but there are many thousands of acres thickly covered by timber. The land is all within the Humboldt land district, and is reached easily from the California Northern railway.

The Hegira to Denver.

DENVER, Aug. 5.—As an indication of the phenomenal rush to Denver, it is only necessary to say that the railroads have been forced to put windows into baggage and even box cars, thus turning them into passenger coaches. From all quarters of the union come messages that every commandery will have more knights in line than at first expected. Two hundred thousands strangers are expected to be here Tuesday.

Bad Bookkeeping.

DENVER, Aug. 5.—Receiver Griffith, of the Western Farm Mortgage Trust Company, today filed a report of the condition of the affairs of the company. The receipts were $13,414 and disbursements $22,988; assets, $5,251,396; liabilities, $2,082,968. Receiver Griffith says the books show that the Seattle bank owes $10,745, while the company really owes the bank $5000. There were many similar instances in the book.

HOME RULE IN IRELAND.

The Prospects for Its Advent Brightening.

John Morley's Acceptance of the Irish Portfolio.

Mutual Confidence Between Gladstone and the Irish Leaders.

Members of the New Parliament Being Sworn In—A British Mission to Afghanistan—General Foreign News.

By the Associated Press.]

LONDON, Aug. 5.—[Copyright, 1892, by the New York Associated Press.]—Conferences between the Irish leaders and Gladstone have resulted in such a degree of mutual confidence as promises greatly to expedite the advent of home rule in Ireland. The acceptance by John Morley of the chief secretaryship for Ireland, was a point upon which the chiefs of the McCarthyite faction laid considerable stress. John Dillon, today, expressed the satisfaction of the Irish party at Morley's appointment. He would say nothing about Gladstone's home rule bill, except that it was likely to be one Parnell would have accepted, adding they would take nothing less; that Ireland's representation must be as full as now. It is expected that the bill will be introduced as soon as the house re-assembles in January or early in February.

When the house of commons adjourned today 346 members had been sworn in. Hardie, a Labor member, with boorish ostentation, walked up the floor of the house with his hat on, until called to order by the speaker, when he reluctantly took it off.

The serious position of the affairs in Afghanistan has decided the Indian government to send General Sir Frederick Roberts, at the head of a large detachment, called an escort, but really a small army, to meet the ameer. The mission will be accompanied by a political agent, and the main object is to arrange plans to strengthen the ameer against internal feuds and Russian advances. The ameer wants money and new arms.

Private Simla advices indicate that grave military emergencies are pending. Englishmen are so busy instructing American mobs of workmen that they overlook affairs here. Thousands of idlers assembled in Leabridge road, and proceeded to move the alleged obstructions erected by the London Water Works company, and did other damage. The police made no attempt to interfere, beyond taking the names of the leaders.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT IN LONDON.

First Auction Sale—Bidding Slack and Prices Low.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—An auction sale of California fruit, just received from New York by the steamer Majestic, was held today. The fruit was in fine condition, and greatly admired, but English dealers declare refrigerated fruit will not keep a sufficient length of time to enable the trade here to handle it with profit. Bidding was slack and prices low. Washington plums brought 10 shillings per box; souvenir congress pears, 15 to 17 shillings; Bartlett pears, 10 shillings. The receipts contained in the shipment will be sold at auction tomorrow.

Smith and the Sultan.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Tangier correspondent of the Times says: In an interview today, Sir Charles Evan Smith denied in toto, the recent sensational reports issued by the Central News company in regard to an encounter between himself and the sultan. He says the farewell of the sultan was of the most cordial description, and diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Morocco have not been broken, and that negotiations for a treaty are still pending.

Swearing in Members.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The house of commons assembled at noon, and proceeded to the house of lords, where they participated in the ceremony of reading the commissions for the new parliament. This ceremony ended, the members of the house returned to their own quarters and the work of swearing in members began. This will occupy several days.

Cholera's Ravages in Russia.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says cholera continues to increase and spread in Russia. A STRIKE ULTIMATUM.

Demands of the Union Pacific Telegraphic Operators Refused.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 5.—The negotiations between the telegraphers and the Union Pacific, which have been going on for two months, came to a focus tonight when President Clark telegraphed from Idaho, endorsing General Manager Dickinson's refusal to accede to the demands of the committee and Dickinson ensued, and a strike ultimatum resulted. Grand Chief Ramsey, of the telegraphers, is reticent, but admits that a strike is on if the demands are not met.

Ramsey served notice tonight on the Union Pacific officials that unless the order's demands are acceded to by noon tomorrow, a general strike on the system will occur.

There are 880 operators on the system, besides train dispatchers, nearly all union men. Their original demand was for an increase of wages aggregating for the entire road $200,000 per year, but on the representation of the road that it could not pay this it was scaled down to $50,000, which Superintendent Dickinson said the road could not raise any better than it could the first demand.

O'DONNELL'S WORK.

ORGANIZING BOYCOTTS AGAINST CARNEGIE IRON.

Reported Strike in the Studebaker Wagon Works—All Quiet at Homestead and Duquesne—Frick at His Desk.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 5.—As the result of Carpenter's union No. 829 of this place refusing to use Carnegie material, the Studebaker works, employing 3000 men, have been compelled to close down.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 5.—A special from South Bend says: There is no trouble of any kind at the Studebaker wagon works. The men are working as usual. The origin of the false report is a mystery.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Aug. 5.—It is given out here that the reported strike at the Studebaker wagon works at South Bend, Ind., is the first fruits of the work which has been done by Hugh O'Donnell since he left Homestead so mysteriously after being released on bail. He has been visiting the large establishments using Carnegie's iron, and working with the employees to get them to boycott the Homestead works. No names are given, but it is said a number of large plants will be compelled to stop using Carnegie iron or stop work. The Carnegies have been expecting such a move, but from assurances received from their customers they do not anticipate any serious loss of business.

There was no change at the mill today, but the all was quiet at Duquesne, but the military will remain on guard until all danger seems to be past. The strikers claim that most of the old hands who applied for work have reconsidered and will not go in Monday.

Everything is quiet here tonight. Three or four new men went to work at the mills today, but an equal number quit work.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 5.—No change in the situation here or at Duquesne today. Three of the rioters at Duquesne were arrested today. Many others have returned. Thirty repairmen driven away to work today.

H. C. Frick has so far recovered from his wounds as to be able to resume his duties this morning.

Several prostrations occurred, but no fatalities. A hot wind blew all day. Grave fears for the safety of the Kansas corn crop are entertained.
