IS LAMB INNOCENT?

National City's Second Deboucher of Little Girls Captured.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 26.—Charles Lamb, a young man accused of having debauched little girls at National City, was arrested today on the road between Lakeside and Cajon, and brought to this city. Being arraigned, he was released on $1500 bail. He immediately swore out warrants for the arrest of certain residents of National City, who had warned him to leave town on pain of a coat of tar and feathers. Lamb alleges that by their actions they seriously frightened his mother and sister. Opinion is now somewhat divided as to his guilt, but a clear case can be made out against Stecken, his friend, who was last night lodged in jail on a similar charge.

THE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

M. A. Chase and Miss Gilliland Are the Winners.

Interesting Games and a Large Attendance at Santa Monica.

The Tournament to Close With Today's Events and the Prizes are to Be Awarded This Afternoon.

The excitement at the Santa Monica tennis tournament was high yesterday, and there were many brilliant plays made. The game was the mixed doubles, which drew a large crowd of ladies. The finals between Cawston and Miss Shoemaker and M. A. Chase and Miss Gilliland took up the entire afternoon, being the longest game played in the tournament.

In the mixed doubles in the morning M. A. Chase and Miss Gilliland beat R. P. and Miss Carter in an extraordinary match. The Carters opened by winning the first set, but in the second lock was against them. Miss Carter and Miss Gilliland made some very fine plays, but the gentlemen did most of the work, Chase making a number of true "places," although badly fatigued by ten days of constant playing. Chase and Gilliland won the second set, to the surprise of everybody. In the third set Chase made a number of good drives. The two Carters let a ball pass between them, losing the set and match.

Score: 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

In the afternoon the finals of the mixed doubles were played, between M. A. Chase and Miss Gilliland, and Cawston and Miss Shoemaker. Cawston opened by serving a slow ball, which Chase volleyed wide of his mark.

Cawston and Miss Shoemaker were carrying everything before them till Chase made a mighty effort, repeating again and again his "Lafford drives," which told on his opponents. The ladies did some excellent playing, which pleased the lady spectators. The score, in sets, now stood "two all" and Mr. Chase refused to continue playing, saying that the light was too poor to finish.

There was a meeting of the committee present, and it was resolved to give Cawston and Miss Shoemaker the match if Chase did not continue to play, and rather than lose it he resolved to do the best he could under the circumstances. The umpire mounted a chair and announced that playing was to be renewed at once. Young Chase went to work with a will, and was determined to win even if they had to play "by the light of the moon."

Cawston rushes to the net and brings down a high ball, placing it beyond the reach of Chase. The ball passed the net forty-seven times before it went out of its boundary.

Chase and Miss Gilliland won; score, 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 3-6, 6-3.

In the association doubles, first round, Bumiller and Cawston beat Lester and Butcher, 6-3, 6-3.

Cawston and Young beat Sterling and Moore, 6-0, 6-3.

In the second round R. P. and K. Carter beat Edwards and Acker, 6-3, 6-3.

Cosby and Germain beat Woodhouse and Waring, 6-1, 6-0.

Alexander and Routh beat Manning and Wright, 6-3, 6-5.

In the association singles, second round, Germain beat Young, 6-1, 6-1.

In the third round, Alexander beat Manning, 6-1, 6-1, and Germain beat Stoll, 6-0, 6-1.

The finales of the association singles this afternoon. Summary: Preliminary and handicap will begin this morning.

The presentation of prizes has been postponed till this afternoon.

Yesterday's paper made a statement to the effect that the Carter Bros. have never met their match in Southern California. This not so, as Benton and Cosby defeated them in an exhibition contest two years ago at Pasadena. Score, 5-7, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

The tournament will continue throughout Monday.

Snyder all Right. EDITORS HERALD: Instead of the police commission investigating Mr. Snyder why wouldn't it be well to look into the matter suggested by his resolutions? There seems to be an undue sensitiveness on the part of some of the members of the board of police commissioners. Mr. Snyder's resolutions might possibly have been couched in a little more politic form but certainly there is no charge against any one of the members. Don't try to divert attention from the main, in fact the only question gentlemen, but inquire into the matter. It is a duty which every good citizen should urge you to perform.

and gone, and with him a lot of their belongings. While telling this part of her story, Mrs. Wernet became quite jocular, and laughed outright, as she described what he had taken. The articles enumerated included bedding, a pillow shams, a clock, and various things that her husband had given her. Laughingly she said she could not conceive what he would do with some of the things he took away with him. She had first visited the police to obtain their assistance in recovering her things, and was referred by them to the district attorney. She said her husband is still in the city, and was advised to make a formal demand on him for the articles he had taken. She departed somewhat amused at her husband's singular choice of household articles to spirit away. She is good looking, and while no longer a girl, looks as though she would hold her own in a contest with almost any man.

IN SOCIETY.

Mr. Bernard Voight celebrated the first semi-anniversary of his marriage, Wednesday evening, by perpetrating a surprise party on his bride of six months. Having passed the word around among a number of his friends to be on hand, he persuaded his better-half to don her wedding gown just as a pleasant reminder of the happy event of half a year ago, and led her to believe that they would spend a quiet evening at home. With all of his suggestions Mrs. Voight unsuspectingly complied, and great was her surprise, when shortly after 8 o'clock a body of guests arrived.

The young wife's first thought after recovering from her temporary embarrassment, was how to fittingly entertain all her unexpected visitors, but she found that her husband had in some mysterious way provided for all emergencies. Cards and other amusements were indulged in, and the evening passed merrily. Miss Gertrude Finney delighted the company with several recitations. Bounteous refreshments were served, and at a late hour the guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Voight continued happiness in their conjugal relations.

Among those present were: Mrs. W. Clarke, Messrs. Dan and Watts Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kringle, Mrs. A. M. Cooper, Miss Finney, Dr. and Mrs. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Livingston.

Last Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ball gave a progressive whist party at their home on Temple street, which was greatly enjoyed by the friends who were present. The party was given in entertainment of Miss Annie McCarter, who leaves Los Angeles in a few days for her old home in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Ball are always charming in the role of host and hostess, and a pleasant evening is always assured those who are invited to their informal gatherings. Wednesday evening was no exception, and the hours, until midnight, enlivened with social converse and laughter, passed quickly away.

Miss Tamar McCarter was awarded the first prize for the ladies, and Mr. Andy Francisco the first prize for the gentlemen. Miss Adams and Mr. N. Bradley played so well that they captured the booby prize. The following were present: Misses A. McCarter, T. McCarter, Cora Bradley, N. Adams, Sylvia Ball, M. Woods; Mrs. F. Terry and Mrs. E. L. Newbro; Messrs. F. Terry, J. H. Humphreys, E. M. Hancock, A. E. Hanna, N. Bradley, Andy Francisco, A. E. Williams, J. E. Koerber; B. Bonli, McCarter, J. E. Koerber; B. Bonli, Williamsport, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ball.
