Evans and Sontag Appear in Public. They Visit a Tulare County Supervisor.

Many People See Them and Converse With the Bandits. The Officers at Visalia Notified, and Again in Pursuit—The Nerve of Chris Evans Commands Admiration.

By the Associated Press. VISALIA, Cal., Sept. 5.—Evans and Sontag were found yesterday near the residence of Supervisor Ellis, twenty miles north of this city, by two of Ellis's children.

Evans's house in this city was guarded last night by trusty men, and had the robbers appeared, they would have been taken, dead or alive.

The Plague Thus Far Prevented from Landing—Several New Cases on the Infected Vessels in the Harbor.

New York, Sept. 5.—Fifty special physicians, to inspect the city with a view of warding off cholera, or other infectious diseases, were sworn in this morning, and began work at once.

Evans told Ellis that he had not been far away since the train robbery; that he was not leaving now.

Evans says Evans is very cool and collected, but Sontag is somewhat nervous.

Evans and Sontag were at the residence of Supervisor Sam Ellis, who is a brother-in-law of Russell.

Evans was very communicative while at Ellis's. He said he was near where the cart and horse were found the night after the killing of Beaver.

On top of Stoke's mountain, where the robbers have evidently been located, one can see every town in the country.

Anyone approaching the point would be discovered several miles distant before reaching there.

Evans's house in this city was guarded last night by trusty men, and had the robbers appeared, they would have been taken, dead or alive.

Evans has numerous friends in the country, and men were heard to say, on the streets of Visalia, today, that they admired his nerve, and hoped he would escape.

THE PUGILISTS' CARNIVAL.

Opening of the Great Fights at New Orleans.

The Lightweight Championship Effectively Settled.

Myer Knocked Out by McAuliffe in Fifteen Rounds.

It Was a Hurricane Battle From Start to Finish—Corbett Springs a Sensation in Regard to Sullivan.

By the Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—The Olympic club's high-priced pugilistic carnival was inaugurated tonight with the lightweight championship, under circumstances auspicious in all respects, save that of weather.

Evans's house in this city was guarded last night by trusty men, and had the robbers appeared, they would have been taken, dead or alive.

forehead, and was staggered from a left swing. The fighting so far was something terrific.

Fifth—The men mixed matters, and had to be parted at the end of the round.

Sixth—McAuliffe landed a heavy left on the face, but received the same compliment in return.

Seventh—McAuliffe landed his usual left punch on the nose. Myer aimed a vicious right-hander, but it went into the air.

Eighth—The round begun with a hug, and a great deal of clinching was done in this round. First blow was claimed and allowed for McAuliffe.

Ninth—McAuliffe nearly knocked Myer down with a right-hand swing. Myer fell from exhaustion, and refused to arise.

Tenth—Myer was waiting for a famous right jolt and got it in with terrific force, though McAuliffe did not fall.

Eleventh—Nice boxing occurred; both missed light leads.

Twelfth—The referee jumped to the center of the ring and smelt Myer's gloves, though nothing unfair was attempted, and the men were permitted to box.

Thirteenth—McAuliffe landed a left-handed face and the men clinched. In the rally both men landed blows on the head, Myer getting the best of the exchange.

Fourteenth—Terrific blows were landed, followed by a neat bit of boxing. McAuliffe attempted to feint with his left for the stomach. Myer would not fight, and the round ended with honors easy.

MYER KNOCKED OUT. FIFTEENTH—The opening was characterized by several awkward attempts on the part of both men, and the audience cheered when Myer was knocked down with a heavy left. McAuliffe knocked him down again as he got up. This time he lay helpless on the ropes until he was counted out.

It was a heavy right-hand swing that did the trick, and McAuliffe was borne triumphantly on his seconds' shoulders to his corner.

The Williamsburger was made the recipient of hearty applause, notwithstanding the fact that New Orleans is known as a Myer city.

McAuliffe's seconds opened champagne in their corner, while Myer was offered a glass of wine by his conqueror, which was accepted, and a hearty handshake wound up the greatest battle recorded in the light-weight class since the days of Billy Edwards, Barney Aaron and Sam Colyer.

POMPADOUR JIM. He Says the Champion Must Fight Fair or Not at All.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 5.—Corbett received a rousing reception at Atlanta, Ga., where a large crowd had gathered. He spoke to the crowd and shook hands with a dozen or two of them, who climbed up the platform, to offer their best wishes.

Montgomery great crowds gathered at every station. Corbett spent the day between stations quietly, having taken a good deal of lively exercise at Gainesville. The party was to reach New Orleans about 7 o'clock in the morning.

Corbett will be driven direct to the residence of Mr. Walmeley, where he will remain until the fight.

It was learned today that Corbett will serve notice on the Olympic club that unless Sullivan goes into the ring and fights according to the Queensberry rules, there will be no fight.

That is, Sullivan will have to show bare flesh from his navel up. Corbett and his friends claim that in all of Sullivan's previous encounters he had his stomach bandaged up with heavy plasters, from half an inch to an inch thick, and thus protected his stomach, and took an unfair advantage of his opponent.

THE ALL-ABSORBING QUESTION. Which of the Two Monster Gladiators Will be Victor on Wednesday.

Never in the history of the prize ring in America has there been a fight in which public opinion was so scattering in its findings, as the great fight which takes place at New Orleans on Wednesday night.

The oldest sporting men in America are equally divided upon the question, and while the Sullivanites are outbidding the Corbett party at the rate of 20 to 12, still this fight is hard enough to "get a line" upon as to the more probable conqueror.

Most fighting men name Sullivan as the winner, simply for the reason that he has demolished every man that ever stood in front of him, except the English champion, Charley Mitchell, whose ring tactics converted a fight into a foot-race.

That fight ended in a draw, and it is claimed now that Sullivan's backers, Johnson and Wakeley, paid handsomely for the decision.

Outside of that fight, Sullivan has had a "cake walk" over every man that he ever had. Probably the hardest fight he ever had was when he whipped Flood, on a bare, in the Hudson river, sometime in 1882.

Sullivan was then a comparative novice in the ring, and owed his success largely to the fact that Flood was no better boxer than himself. In his next fight, with Paddy Ryan, at New Orleans, now ten years ago, he met a much abler antagonist than Flood, for Paddy had whipped old Joe Goss, who was regarded a good fighter in England, in his day.

But it is a notorious fact that Ryan was badly ruptured before he entered the ring; and that his truss slipped off three times during the course of the fight. Hence Paddy had the worst of it from the very moment he faced his antagonist. Sullivan was the younger and the fresher of the two, and when Ryan began to tire, the sledgehammer blows of Sullivan broke through his enfeebled guard, as though it was a girl opposed to him.

In his fight with Kilrain he virtually had that
