"THAT CRONIN MATTER"

A Remark Whereby Seems to Hang a Tale.

Convict Coleman's Incriminating Conversation.

He Practically Confesses Complicity in the Cronin Murder.

His Description Tallies With That of Cooney the Fox—Was He the Driver of the White Horse?

By the Associated Press.

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 2.—The dispatch last night, from Chicago, which stated that Thomas Coleman, who is now confined in the penitentiary here, is supposed to have been connected with the murder of Dr. Cronin, was news to the prison officials, who state that they have had no communication with the Chicago officials about the matter. They claim to have heard a rumor that Coleman was connected with the crime, but put no faith in the story. Coleman was sent here from Portland, in March, 1891, to serve a two-years' term for the crime of assault with a dangerous weapon. He had been a trusty up to two months ago, when a bench warrant for his arrest came from Portland, where he is wanted to answer the charge of robbery and assault. Coleman is smooth, and has the appearance of being an all-around crook. When he heard of the dispatch, this morning, connecting him with Dr. Cronin's murder he said he would have no trouble in clearing himself of the charge. He formerly lived in Chicago, where he has a brother and three sisters living. He said in the past five years he has been in Oklahoma, Puget Sound and San Francisco. He seemed nervous when speaking about Chicago, and when he was permitted to read the Chicago dispatch his hand quivered and tears came to his eyes. Two months ago when Coleman had his trustyship taken away, he asked the reason, and said he presumed it was on account of "that Cronin matter." At that time he said nothing further about the crime, but has since told the convicts that he could easily prove an alibi. Coleman says he has never gone by the name of Geoghegan, but said he was formerly known by the name of Carston. He states that he was married during the excitement over Cronin's murder. Coleman, alias Carleton, is 40 years old, and of medium height; he has a heavy head of soft, dark hair, tinged with gray, and full sandy beard and mustache; his eyes are blue and set apart; his forehead is broad. The two-years' term he is serving for the crime of assault, expires soon, but the prison officials have a warrant for his arrest for the crime of robbery at Portland. His prison friends, while they were "trusties" together, say Coleman's description pretty nearly tallies with "Cooney, the Fox," who drove the white horse and took Cronin to the Carlson Cottage, where the murder was committed. Coleman says he knew Dan Coughlin, the detective, who was sentenced to prison at Joliet for life, for the murder of Cronin. It will be remembered that it was Coughlin who ordered the vehicle for his friend, and it was this vehicle that carried Cronin to the cottage. The prison officials say they know nothing of Coleman's connection with the Cronin case, and say they have no warrant for his arrest from Chicago. They are inclined to believe there is nothing in the story. Two months ago, when Coleman was locked up, he asked for the reason, and remarked it was probably on account of "that Cronin matter," but the prison officials thought nothing of it and made no investigation. Coleman denies ever having said he was arrested in Oklahoma for the murder of Cronin, but says he had been in Oklahoma. He was arrested the very day he arrived in Portland. He was sentenced for two years for the crime of assault with a deadly weapon, committed upon a policeman, at the Union depot. He is known to the officers as a pickpocket and general smooth, all-around crook. He says he knows nothing about the Cronin murder, but admits making the remark that he "guessed it was on account of that Cronin matter," when the penitentiary guards locked him up. He says he made that remark because he did not know what else to say, and he had to account for it in some way. He is a cigar maker by trade, and says he used to work in the Chicago Times press room in the days of Story. He says he never went under the name of Geoghegan, and intimates that Thomas Carlson is his real name. The Associated Press reporter asked him: "Were you in Chicago when Cronin was murdered?" Coleman replied: "You ask pretty direct questions."

He evaded the answer, finally saying he lived at Chicago with his wife, but said he was not at home then.

British Occupation of Uganda.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Press Association says: "The amount of the grant voted by the government to enable the British East Africa company to remain in Uganda, for at least three longer, is £12,000. It is also probable that, after the evacuation of the territory by the company, a British commissioner will be appointed to take charge of affairs there."

A Fatal Balloon Voyage.

PROBIA, Ill., Oct. 2.—James Eames and J. A. Loomis, two practical aeronauts, made a balloon ascension today and alighted in some trees. Their trapeze bar broke and the men fell 70 feet. Both were badly injured. They will die.

Death of a Veteran Editor.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 2.—Hiram Atkins, editor of the Argus and Patriot, and chairman of the Democratic state committee, is dead. He was 65 years old.

Mrs. Nancy Wirtz, 1201 Caroline St., Baltimore, Md., thus gives her experience: "We have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and have never found its equal for our children."

IN THE FAR NORTH.

Scientific Researches on the East Coast of Greenland.

GLoucester, Mass., Oct. 2.—The schooner Ada S. Babson and Laurel arrived today from Iceland, each bringing 14,000 pounds of halibut. August Johnson, a member of the crew of the Babson, was lost overboard on the homeward passage. The Danish bark Hogla, exploring the coast of Greenland, had arrived at Dvrefjord. Her commander reports that she was 15 months on this coast, most of the time imprisoned in ice; that one of the crew had died, and that explorations of considerable importance were made. The party found the remains of the Eskimauz habitations, with the dishes made of stone, and other articles, the use of which was unknown. The Hogla explored the island of Janmayer, in latitude 71 degrees north, longitude 7 degrees west, very deep water being found in that locality. The party dredged in 475 fathoms of water, bringing up sediment containing much animal vegetation as sea anemone, together with pebbles similar to iron ore. After refitting at Iceland, the Hogla sailed August 28th for Greenland, to complete the scientific researches she had been commissioned to do, intending to remain all winter in south Greenland.

SUICIDE OR MURDER?

The Mysterious Death of a Prominent Young Woman.

WINNEPEG, Man., Oct. 2.—Miss Olive Odell, a well known young Winnipeg lady, prominent in the Episcopal church, and daughter of a Canadian Pacific official here, was found dead in the kitchen of her parents' residence this morning. The body lay in a pool of blood, with a bullet hole through the breast, and her brother's gun lying near by. The circumstances are so sensational and mysterious as to completely baffle the police. The theory of suicide was at first accepted, but the statements of a neighbor that at 3 o'clock she heard a man hurriedly leave the Odell residence and run down the street, led to the supposition of murder. It is strange that none of the neighbors, nor the family of the girl sleeping upstairs, heard the report of the gun.

A LIGHT FROM HEAVEN.

Mr. Somerby's Inspiration for Reorganizing the Iron Hall.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 2.—Sommerby, who is trying to reorganize the Iron Hall, addressed a meeting last night. His speech did not take well, particularly the part in which he declared, with tears in his eyes, that after he was served with an injunction in the receivership proceedings, he spent the entire night on his knees in prayer, during which a plan for a new order was revealed to him by a light from heaven. The meeting was a disorderly one.

The Southern Pacific in Mexico.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 2.—A dispatch was received today from Monterey, Mexico, stating that representatives of the Southern Pacific company are now in that city, and a survey will immediately be made of a proposed railroad from Monterey to Portland, Texas, where it will connect with the San Antonio and Aransas Pass. Such a road will be a direct seaport route to Monterey, and would shorten the time from New York to the City of Mexico, by fully 200 miles. It will run through some rich mineral districts in Mexico.

A Race War in Mississippi.

CHARLESTON, Miss., Oct. 2.—A sheriff's posse was organized yesterday to put down an insurrection among the negroes near here. It was reported the negroes had formed an oath-bound organization, with the avowed purpose of killing the whites. The sheriff's posse returned today, and reports two negroes killed, several mortally wounded and others hiding in the woods. No whites were hurt.

Fatal Row at a Fandang.

KYLE, Texas, Oct. 2.—Last night at a Mexican fandango, four miles from here, a row was raised between a young white man named Tom Porter and a Mexican, which grew into a small battle. There were several Americans present, and when the row started they took part. After the smoke had cleared away, Porter and two Mexicans were dead and one Mexican fatally wounded.

Will Gresham Vote for Grover?

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Judge Gresham will neither confirm nor deny the story printed here this morning to the effect that he intends to vote for Grover Cleveland. He was seen by a representative of the Associated Press tonight and refused absolutely to talk on the subject, answering all questions with: "I will not say a word."

Forest Fires in New Jersey.

CAMP MAY COURT HOUSE, N. J., Oct. 2.—Forest fires yesterday broke out between Belleplain and Woodbine, the Jewish settlements of Baron Hirsch. The fire raged all yesterday and today, burning thousands of acres of timber. It continues to advance towards Woodbine, and tonight is burning fiercely.

No Apprehension of Was.

BUDA PEST, Oct. 2.—The delegations elected Count Tizza president and Count Szapary vice-president. Count Tizza, in his opening address, said there was nothing in the present European situation to warrant any apprehension of war.

The Anti-Snapper Programme.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A committee appointed by the anti-snappers at a meeting tonight, decided unanimously to go ahead with their original intention of supporting the independent ticket in this city.

A Noted Outlaw Killed.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 2.—Frank Cooley, leader of the famous Cooley outlaw band, was shot and killed today at his father's home, while trying to escape from a posse under Sheriff McCormick, of Fayette county.

THEY FOUGHT IN MID-AIR.

An Exciting Episode at Niagara Falls Bridge.

Two Painters Engage in a Perilous Encounter.

A Fierce Fight on a Frait Platform 200 Feet Above the Water.

One of the Combatants Frightfully Out With a Hatchet—A County-Seat War in Nebraska—General News Gleanings.

By the Associated Press.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Two painters, working on a cables and guy ropes of the Cantilever bridge across the Niagara river, yesterday, swung a slender scaffold 200 feet above the stream, on which to work. They were both Canadians, Joseph Greaves and William Gamel. They quarreled and engaged in a terrific hand-to-hand struggle. Gamel grasped a hatchet and threatened to brain his companion. Greaves grasped his wrist but Gamel was the stronger and pressed him to the edge of the scaffold, threatening to hurl him into the river. To save himself from falling, Greaves loosed his hold on Gamel's wrist and grasped a rope. Three quick, sharp blows were rained upon him by his enraged assailant. Two fell on his back, and one split open his scalp, back of the left ear. He staggered, lost his hold and fell, but was caught between two guy ropes, where he lay out of reach of the other. With blood streaming from his cuts, Greaves climbed hand over hand up the cables to the bridge floor. Gamel followed, hatchet in hand. Here the other workmen interfered. Greaves was taken to the hospital. He is not expected to live. Gamel has disappeared.

A COUNTY-SEAT WAR.

Citizens of Western Nebraska Engaged in Armed Strife.

CULBERTSON, Neb., Oct. 2.—A red-hot county seat war is now in progress in this county. An injunction was served, Friday, on the county officials, by the supreme court, not to remove the county records from Culbertson. The county treasurer and clerk, however, disregarded the order, and proceeded to remove the records of their offices, but were stopped by citizens. At night a mob attempted to steal the records, when the citizens again rallied. Today a posse of citizens of Culbertson, led by the county treasurer and a deputy clerk, again made a raid on the court house, and succeeded in loading a portion of the records, when citizens again interfered. A number of shots were fired and the Trenton posse retreated in hot haste. The town is in a fever of excitement, and more trouble is anticipated.

SENSIBLE IRISHMEN.

They Will Honor Themselves by Supporting the Democratic Party.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Irish-American union, an organization of Irish-Americans of this city, today issued an address deprecating the fact that, "prompted by the Republican party," many citizens of their race had been tempted to form Irish Republican clubs, "to advocate, and, if possible, convince the citizens of their race that in aiding the Republican party they would help Irish interests." The address says the inability of such talk is apparent to any thoughtful citizen, and that it was not alone unamerican, but unwise for any body of citizens to be guided or controlled in the exercise of their duties by any other consideration than patriotic duty to America. "In performing that duty," says the address, "we believe we can best do so by supporting the Democratic party."

A BLOW TO THE FUSIONISTS.

The Kansas Democrat Bolts the Fusion Movement.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 2.—The Kansas Democrat, which was heretofore the recognized organ fusion of the Democrats and Populists, has bolted the movement in a long editorial. The Democrat states that it has discovered that the fusion movement was called into existence, and is now controlled, by a set of selfish office-seekers who are dominated more by the hope of selfish gain than a desire for the triumph of Democratic principles. The bolt is a body blow to the fusion movement.

EVILS OF THE RACE TRACK.

The Rev. Thomas Dixon Delivers Another Sensational Sermon.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Rev. Thomas Dixon today delivered another of his characteristic talks, the subject being the Garfield race track of Chicago. He said, in part: "After all, the Garfield track is typical of the race track of today. The whole dirty business is of the same piece. The conscience of the nation has outgrown it. The race track must go, as the lottery has gone. The plain fact is, the lottery is a small evil compared with races."

Dr. Douglas Dead.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Dr. Douglas, the famous throat specialist, who abandoned his practice and devoted his whole time to General Grant for six months during the general's last illness, died today from the same disease which carried off the old commander.

Mrs. Harrison Improving.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Dr. Gardner reports Mrs. Harrison resting well and improving.

There is no excuse for any man to appear in society with a grizzly beard since the introduction of Buckingham's Dye, which colors a natural brown or black.

A ROYAL SCANDAL.

Dirty Linen of German Aristocrats to Be Washed in Public.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A Berlin cable to a morning paper says: A suit which involves no less a person than Empress Eugenia Victoria and near relatives of Sleswig-Glucksburg, will be called in the courts in a few days. It appears that the late Emperor William, after taking possession of Sleswig-Holstein in 1866, tried his utmost to befriend the deposed dynasty. In this spirit he sanctioned the marriage of his grandson, the present Kaiser William, with a poverty-stricken princess of Augustenbourg, and Prince Frederick Leopold, of Prussia, to her sister. He distributed the castles and crown estates of the Holstein family among its various homeless members, and put them on their feet again. Among the castles was the Glucksbourg schloss, which he turned over to Duke Charles of Sleswig. The duke and duchess are dead, and the present incumbent, up to a few weeks ago, considered himself the undisputed proprietor of the Schloss-Glucksbourg. Then a secret scandal was flashed before his eyes by a letter from a lady belonging to the highest nobility in the country, who showed him deeds and other legal instruments to prove that her daughter is the child of the late Duke Charles, who, she claims, left her all his personal property and selected Schleswig-Glucksbourg for her residence. Duke Frederick Ferdinand, who, like the rest of the family, considered his late Uncle Charles a model of propriety, refused to believe the lady's statement, and said the documents were not sufficient legal evidence. The lady, therefore, appealed to the Kaiser, who, however, refused to interfere. All hopes of an amicable arrangement being abandoned, the case will not be tried in open court and my diplomat friend says a good deal of dirty linen will be washed.

A FAMINE RIOT.

Hunger Causes a Serious Uprising in a Mexican City.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 2.—Homer Finley, who for the past six years was in business in the city of Morlia, Mexico, arrived today, and gave a vivid account of a famine riot in that city last Sunday. Morlia is the capital of the state of Michoacan, and is one of the most beautiful cities of Southern Mexico, but several thousand poor people are on the verge of starvation, owing to the total failure of crops and the scarcity of other food supplies. When a famine was threatened several months ago, several wealthy merchants of Morlia contracted for large quantities of corn in the United States, enough to supply the suffering people. Speculators put up prices, and extorted what little money the poor people had in a short time. For the past two months the suffering has been intense, and many deaths have occurred. The streets became thronged with beggars, and men, women and children made a heart-rending appeal for help. This was kept up until last Sunday, when the starving people organized themselves into a mob, and, driven by desperation, began a concerted attack upon the food stores of the city. Fully 6000 people were in the mob, and the police were utterly powerless to stay it. Two regiments of federal cavalry and one of infantry stationed at Morlia were called out to quell the riot, but this only added to the desperation of the starving people. The soldiers opened fire, and one man was killed and several wounded. The mob looted the granaries and then dispersed. Finley looks for a repetition of the trouble.

CHOLERA STATISTICS.

The Plague Still Raging in Different Parts of Europe.

HAMBURG, Oct. 2.—Cholera statistics show 43 new cases and 21 deaths yesterday. Returns today: New cases, 98; deaths, 31. Nine thousand clerks are thrown out of work in the city, owing to the depressing influence the epidemic has exerted on all lines of business.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Many persons continue to be attacked daily by cholera in the city and suburbs. Yesterday 35 fresh cases and 10 deaths were reported.

BUDA-PESTH, Oct. 2.—It is officially announced that this city is infected with cholera. The officials state the disease was introduced here through the medium of imported hides.

Fire in Portland.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2.—Shortly after midnight fire broke out in the fourth story of Jacob Kamus's building, on First street, and for a time the entire structure was in danger, owing to the inability of the fire department to get water. After burning for half an hour and destroying the lower and west half of the upper story, the flames were gotten under control. The building is a four-story brick, 200x75. The entire east half of the building is occupied by Charles Kessel & Co., wholesale crockery. Loss, $50,000.

A Mexican Cyclone.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 2.—A recent cyclone destroyed a number of bridges and a large portion of the road-bed of the Mexican Central railroad. At Cosamaloapan thirty houses were destroyed.

The New Jesuit General.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Padre Martino has been elected Jesuit general. He is a native of Bourges, of humble parentage, and 44 years of age. He is a distinguished theologian and scientist.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason, of Chilton, Carter county, Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. "This medicine can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases, both for children and adults. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by C. F. Heinemann, 222 North Main, druggists."

Nancy Hanks to Be Tried to Acton.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A special to the Herald from Boston says Nancy Hanks will be retried from the track after this season, temporarily, at least, and be bred to Arion.
