Santa Ana People Fittingly Celebrate Columbus Day.

Incidents of the Display Which Was Made at Pomona.

A Denial That the Vine Disease is Prevalent in Orange County—South Pasadena—Claremont Matters—Redondo Shipping.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 21.—The day has been one of rejoicing in this city, and business of all kinds has been suspended to properly celebrate Columbus day.

In the afternoon special services were held, and a parade nearly a mile long, and in which over 2500 persons were in line, was one of the features.

At the hall, fully 3000 people were present during the afternoon exercises, and a splendid programme was rendered.

Charles F. Axelson, one of the proprietors of the Acme Iron works and a leading citizen of this city, lost the sight of his right eye this morning.

Residents in the Santiago canyon have for a long time been troubled with visits from an unwelcome guest, which has been playing bad havoc with sheep, calves and other domestic animals.

The "paper carnival" to be given by the young ladies of the Fruit and Flower Mission, promises to be one of the most unique entertainments Pomona has seen in many a day.

The Unitarians are to give a concert and present a drama, November 11th. Miss Jessie A. Padgham is one of the singers.

The Episcopalians are to have a fancy bazaar, November 15th.

Ed Sexton and Verne Whitson, two boys in this town, had a lively fistic encounter in French's opera house this morning, in which Sexton got badly injured by a blow from Whitson on the neck.

Miss Jettie Hittun organized a dancing class in this city last night. There are about 40 ex-Confederates in this city, who will organize themselves into a society in the near future.

A meeting was held by the Beet Sugar Factory committee yesterday, and considerable important business was transacted.

REDDONDO. REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 21.—A large party from Pasadena visited Redondo Beach today, in commemoration of Columbus day.

The steamer Los Angeles arrived in port today from the north at 2:45 p. m., landing 80 tons of merchandise and 28 passengers in Redondo.

The guests at the Ocean View house are: Charles Stober, San Pedro; T. F. Juniper, L. R. Powderly, Virginia; J. Minard, San Francisco; Miss M. V. Abbott, Miss J. M. Tyler, Chicago.

Just as a rotten tenement collapses when too great a weight or strain is brought to bear upon its upper floors, so does a puny physique collapse and cave in when subjected to the strain of disease which must come sooner or later if it is not relieved and built up.

Don't fail to see our fall and winter line of men's wear, consisting of $10, $12, $15, $18, $20, $25, $28, $30, and $35, the most elegant set so in our ever-broad line to this market.

POMONA. Columbus Day Celebrated—Local Affairs.

POMONA, Oct. 21.—Pomona began to bedeck herself for the momentous occasion of Columbus day, with the rising of Old Sol.

At noon a squad from the N. G. C., under the colors of Spain and Mexico, fired a salute of 21 guns.

At 2 o'clock the procession, headed by the Ninth regiment band of 13 pieces, and Major James A. Drifill, marshal of the day, commanding, marched east on Second street; following the band came the N. G. C., 34 strong.

Then came a float with the kindergarten tots and the first, second and third year school children, numbering 300.

By the deft fingers of Misses Alice Boret, Inez Rolph, Constance Ruth, Stella Ford and Fannie Lober, the M. E. church was transformed into a tastefully decorated edifice with streamers of bunting and wreaths of flowers, etc.

The following programme was carried out: Senator J. E. McComas, master of ceremonies.

Invocation—Rev. E. R. Bennett, pastor Baptist church.

The Colonels Again Laid Out by the Angels.

Columbus Day and Ladies' Day Too Much For Them.

An Immense Crowd Out at the Park to See an Old-Fashioned Stugging Match—Some Baseball Notes.

The combined influence of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America and the hundreds of pretty and attractive ladies at Athletic park yesterday afternoon proved rather disastrous to the hopes of Colonel Robinson's young ball-tossers, for they dropped the third consecutive game to the locals, in the presence of over three thousand people.

The spectators saw one of those good old-time hitting contests, at least it was such a game on the part of the Los Angeles team. The Oaklanders did not have so good success in the first part of the game, but later they connected with McNabb's curves in a pretty lively manner.

McNabb was in the box for the home team, and for the first half of the game he held his opponents at a safe distance from the score board.

But this is not the point as to how the victory was won and lost yesterday afternoon. The Angels earned two out of three runs in the first inning.

With one hand out, Rasty sent a hot bouncer to Irwin at short, but it was fumbled, and Rasty was given a life.

The second inning was also productive of an earned run for the local team. Hulen beat out a little one in front of McNabb's sacrifice.

In the fourth inning five more runs were added to the Angels' score. Baldwin started the procession with a double, and stole third while Hulen was striking out.

McNabb's sacrifice. Stafford's single advanced him to third, from which base he scored on the throw-in of Rasty's long fly to right field.

And then Oakland got in and scored the first run in two days. Lange started the difficulty with a double, stole second and scored on Carroll's single.

Brown followed with a double to left on which Carroll tried to score, but a quick throw home by Hulen headed the runner off, who tried to return to third.

Brown in the meantime had almost reached third, and Stafford by a bit of refined work struck both out.

Tredway started the seventh inning with a single to center and went to third on McNabb's hit. Then when the ball was thrown to second to head off Pop, Tredway purlined a tally.

Glenalvin's sacrifice advanced the old gentleman to third and Lytle's similar hit scored him. Baldwin got to first on Carroll's error, took a wild pitch, and scored.

Hulen's single. Oakland also scored in their half on a hit by Irwin, Glenalvin's error of O'Neill's bouncer and Hulen's low throw of German's in-field swing.

In the eighth the Angels added two to their score on a double by McCauley, singles by Glenalvin and Lytle, and Carroll's error.

The visitors then turned in and piled up four runs in their half of the eighth inning. Errors and bases on balls out as much figure as hits, as the fast approaching darkness made clean fielding almost an impossibility.

Yet for all of that they started in to play the ninth inning, but when the locals had got one man across the plate, the visitors had only one out.

Notes and Gossips About the National Pastime.

What a crowd it was! The Colonels, in halting distance in the race, are a drawing attraction.

McCaughey, in a flowing beard, convulsed the bleachers during the warming-up practice.

Colonel Robinson thinks he will have Do Wald, his new sinister twirler, in time to pitch in this afternoon's game.

The Oakland manager is having had hard luck with his pitchers, having missed connection about a dozen times already this season.

The Young Tufts-Lyons club was defeated yesterday afternoon at the Adams-street grounds by the Young St. Vincents.

The features of the game were the battery work of Stephen Mott and Joe Carson, and the left-field work of Thomas O'Harra.

The Boyle Heights baseball club would like to play a game of baseball next Sunday with some club, the Seventh regiment preferred.

AT HARPER'S MERCY.

The Crack San Jose Pitcher Was Too Swift for the Daddies. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Pitcher Harper had the home players at his mercy today, and they did not make a hit until the sixth inning.

In the second inning, with two men out, Sharp dropped a fly. Then three doubles, a single and a home run hit gave San Jose five runs.

Score—San Jose, 5; San Francisco, 3. SPIDERS SHUT OUT. The Beaneaters Give Them the Worst Defeat of the Season.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Boston gave Cleveland the worst defeat of the series this afternoon. Nichols was in fine form, very effective at critical times and received extraordinary support.

Cleveland—Runs, 6; hits, 7; errors, 2. Battery, Cupp and Zimmer. Discourteous Canucks. OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—The Dominion ministers are being severely criticised for not attending the opening ceremonies of the Chicago world's fair, although invited as a government and individually, by the United States government.
