HUMOROUS ITEMS.

A western girl says she likes to make bread because it cleans her hands so beautifully.

Why is a young man who never lays a wager quite as bad as one who does? Because he's no better.

"Hurry, mamma," said a little innocent with his finger cut; "hurry, it's leaking."

If men's faults were written on their foreheads, broad-brimmed hats would be fashionable.

A crusty old bachelor says that Adam's wife was called Eve because when she appeared man's day of happiness was drawing to a close.

A German, being required to give a receipt in full, after much mental effort produced the following:—"I ish full I wants no more monish.

"By their fruits ye shall know them," as the farmer exclaimed when he traced half his golden pippins to the pockets of a truant schoolboy.

There is a "fast" young man in this town, who, it is said, heats his shaving water every morning by the fire of his own genius.

"I've risen from the bar to the bench." That's what a lawyer said on quitting the profession and taking up shoemaking.

A handsome girl in Utica went crazy the other day because her parents wouldn't let her marry a fellow seven feet high and red headed.

"Coffee, is that the second bell?"
 "No, massa, dat's de second ringing ob de fuss bell. We habn't got no second bell in dis hotel."

"I am, indeed, very much afraid of lightning," murmured a pretty young girl, during a storm. "And well you may be," sighed the despairing lover, "for your heart is made of steel."

"Vat vedder vill it be to-day?" asked a German of his neighbor. "Vell I don't know; vot you tink?" "I tink it will be vedder as you tink." "Vell, den I tink so too."

At a Sunday school meeting out West, a young lawyer made a motion that they "choose a committee of ladies and gentlemen to raise children for the Sabbath school."

An auctioneer exclaimed: "Why really, ladies and gentlemen, I am giving these things away!" "Are you?" said an old lady present; "well, I'll thank you for that silver pitcher you have in your hand."

The individual who tried to clear his conscience with an egg, is now endeavoring to raise his spirit with yeast.
 If he fails in this, it is his deliberate intention to blow out his brains with a bellows, and sink calmly into the arms of a young and handsome lady.

Saxe gives the following advice to the rising generation:
 In going to parties just mind what you are at,
 Beware of your head and take care of your hat,
 Lest you find that a favorite son of your mother
 Has an ache in the one and a brick in the other.

An old toper bet that he could when blindfolded, tell each of several kinds of liquors. When brandy, whiskey, gin, and other drinks were presented to him, he pronounced correctly what they were. At length a glass of pure water was given to him; he tasted it, paused, tasted again, considered, and shook his head. At last said he "gentlemen, I give it up." It tasted good but it is a kind of liquor I am not used to.

We heard a good story on a certain slow railroad the other day. On this road the train was frequently delayed by cattle upon the track. This had happened several times, but finally the locomotive entered upon clear sailing and for ten or fifteen miles the train rattled along at a lively jog. All of a sudden, however, the engine began a lively blowing, showing that trouble had come again. At this, one individual, who had been watching the trees fly past the windows, and had just persuaded himself into the belief that he was riding into glory at the rate of a league at a breath jumped up with surprise and the ejaculation: "Well, I'll be hanged if we havn't caught up with those blasted cattle again!"
