This Lottery will afford an elegant specimen of the private buildings to be erected in the City of Washington—Two beautiful designs are already selected for the entire fronts on two of the public squares; from these drawings, it is proposed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as soon as possible after this Lottery is sold, and to convey them when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner described in the scheme for the Hotel Lottery. A net deduction of five per cent. will be made to defray the necessary expences of printing, &c. and the surplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National University, to be erected within the City of Washington.

The drawing will commence as soon as the Tickets are sold, or at all events on Monday, the 22nd of December next: The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is finished, and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is closed are to be considered as given towards the fund for the University, it being determined to settle the whole business in a year from the ending of the drawing and to take up the bonds given as security.

The real securities given for the payment of the Prizes, are held by the President and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the Lottery. The drawing will be under the management of 24 gentlemen approved by the commissioners for the City of Washington, for the time being, and acting on oath.

S. BLODGET.

JOHN HOWARD, Esq. L. L. D.

F. R. S.

Embellished with striking likenesses of that Citizen of the World.

By JOHN AIKEN, M. D.

To which is subjoined an ODE inscribed to John Howard, by William Hayley, Esq.

FROM realm to realm, with crofs or crescent crown'd,

Where'er mankind and misery are found,

O'er burning sands, deep swaves, or wilds of snow,

Great HOWARD journeying seeks the boufe of woe.

Down many a winding step to dungeons dank,

Where anguish awaits aloud, and fetters clank:

To caves bestrew'd with many a mould'ring bone,

And cells, whose echoes only learn to groan;

—Onward he moves!—Disease and death retire,

And murrin' demons bate him, and admire.

Half a Cent Reward.

DESERTED from the detachment of five hundred cavalry ordered from the State of New Jersey, a certain William Mackey a dragoon in Capt. Bulcarrick's troop of the Bergen Squadron; the said Mackey is about 35 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches high—round shouldered, dark complexion and eyes, down look, dark curled hair, a scar upon his upper lip. For the honor of the Cavalry and credit of the State, I am bound to inform the public, that the above described deserter, is not a native of New Jersey, and that he could not, after making repeated trials induce a single man to follow his example, in basely and cowardly deserting the standard of Freedom. All good citizens are therefore cautioned against harboring so unprincipled a man, and all the Dragoons of the Brigade are requested to use their exertions in having him apprehended and secured, that he may receive punishment equal to the disgrace he has attempted to bring on the Cavalry of New Jersey.
