MINOOKA MATTERS.

Stray Paragraphs in Reference to Scranton's Southern Suburb. Special to the Scranton Tribune. MINOOKA, Pa., March 18.—The handi-capped foot race which came off at St. Patrick's Day was won by Patrick Philbin, the prize being $2. Only two entered in to run, the other being Michael Kane. It was a very close contest and Kane was beaten by half a yard.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Barbara Mangan occurred yesterday afternoon from the residence of her daughter on Main street. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery. The well known correspondent of the Elmira Budget seems to imagine that he is gaining great notoriety on account of his funny paragraphs. His prominence, however, is of the long-enduring kind and will bring more ridicule upon himself than upon those he attempts to injure by cheap wit.

UNIVERSALLY PRAISED.

Read What They Say of It. On comparison of THE TRIBUNE edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica with Scribner's, for which I paid $135.00 I find that they are the same throughout, plates and engravings and all, except that the Tribune edition has the American articles and supplemental matter written up to date, and later maps; making it, with the additions in history, biography, science, etc., more desirable as a work of reference than the expensive edition. No one will question the superiority of the Britannica over all Encyclopedias. Its merit, together with the phenomenal price and easy terms, should place it in every home.

HONABLE E. HAND, Attorney and Counselor

I have carefully examined the reprint of the Edinburgh edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica offered by THE TRIBUNE, in 25 volumes, and find it thoroughly reliable, being a copy of the original with American articles and supplemental matter written to date and later maps, besides being in volumes more convenient to handle.

CHARLES E. ROBINSON, Pastor Second Memorial Presbyterian Church.

I am always glad to recommend a good thing. I have used with great satisfaction the fifth edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, and it would be among the very last of my books with which I would consent to part. Its articles are written by men entitled to speak with authority. It is a storehouse of information which one rarely consults in vain. The opportunity to consult such a work daily is certainly valuable, and association with such men as its index catalogue can be but enhancing. WALTER H. BULL, Principal school of the Lackawanna.

Resolutions.

We, the undersigned committee of Sheridan Lodge, 300 Knights of Pythias, of Peckville, appointed to draft a copy of resolutions, submit the following:

Whereas, it is pleased the Supreme Architect of the universe to remove from our midst our late brother Arthur Stone; and whereas, the personal relations long held by our deceased brother with the members of this lodge render it proper that we should place on record our appreciation of his services to fellow citizens; and whereas, he was a true knight and his merits as a man, therefore be it

Resolved, that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been called from our labor to rest;

Resolved, that in the death of Brother Arthur Stone this lodge loses a member who was always zealous in his work as a knight, ever ready to succor the needy and distressed of the fraternity, prompt to advance the interests of the order, devoted to its welfare, and whose relations long held by our deceased brother with the members of this lodge render it proper that we should place on record our appreciation of his services to fellow citizens; and whereas, he was a true knight and his merits as a man, therefore be it

Resolved, that this lodge tender its heartfelt sympathy to the family and relations of our deceased brother in their sad affliction.

Resolved, that these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of the lodge, and that a copy of them be sent to the family of our deceased brother and be printed in a daily paper, the SCRANTON TRIBUNE.

Prehistoric Irrigation in the Southwest. There have been discovered at from 20 to 40 miles below Eddy, N. M., the crumbled remains of five different Aztec towns that formerly contained, according to usual estimates, 15,000 to 20,000 persons. The canyon near by, now filled with sand, formerly furnished water. The remains of an ancient canal had previously been discovered. Broken pottery, arrowheads and stone axes prove the identity of the race to be the same as that which when extinguished left peculiarly built towns in north Mexico, northern New Mexico and Arizona.

They were a people who built towns in the hills for defense and farmed the river lands. The discovery shows that agriculture was carried on by the prehistoric dwellers and a dense population supported.—Collector.

The Smallest Newspaper. The smallest paper in the world is published in Guadalajara, in Mexico. Its title is El Telégrafo and underneath is the announcement that the paper is an independent weekly periodical of politics and varied news. The monthly subscription is 4 cents, by mail 5 cents, for this weekly is a cent publication. It is printed in eight columns, each 4 1/2 inches long and 1 1/2 inches wide, on thick manilla paper. And yet the staff includes an editor and director, an administrator, or business manager, a responsible man, or capitalist, and a printer. Among newspapers this tiny Sunday journal certainly occupies a unique position.—San Francisco Call.

Emulsifying Oil for Painting. A well known manufacturer claims that the only proper way of making a ready mixed paint in which there is a considerable portion of white lead and zinc white present, is to keep including, is to emulsify the oil. This prevents the chemical action which the painter knows as "fattening," that is, prevents the formation of that particular kind of lead soap which will not dry.—New York Commercial Advertiser.
