POLICE DO A BIG BUSINESS

Every Cell in the Station House Taken—Family War of the Timmins' Due to Jealousy—Two Interesting and Enjoyable Social Events—Annual Meeting of Stockholders of West Side Bank—Other Matters.

The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 135 South Main avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention.

The fine cells of the West Side station house were all occupied last evening for the first time in many months. Early in the evening the police were notified of a family row in Decker's court, and on going to the scene found the disturbance to be in the home of Robert Timmins. Mr. and Mrs. Timmins were drunk and engaged in a lively fight, the cause of which was William Russo. Officers Salvy and Costello on arriving at the place found Russo on the bed with his face smeared with blood, the result of a bout with Timmins. The trouble was prompted by jealousy and strong drink. The parties were taken to the station house. Shortly afterward a man came to the precinct and asked to see the Timmins family.

He again returned bringing with him some luncheon for them. This time he was under the influence of liquor, and when requested by Sergeant Williams to retire he became indignant and refused to leave the place. He was placed behind the bars. His name is Green. A man in an intoxicated condition was found at the corner of Main avenue and Price street last evening by Constable Timothy Jones. He was locked up. The sixth victim was a man who came to the station house and asked for a drink. For the impudent insult and his intoxicated condition he was locked up.

Two Society Events.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smith, of 142 South Rebecca avenue, entertained friends on Monday evening. The house was neatly furnished and dancing and games were indulged in until midnight when refreshments were served. Music was rendered on the mandolin, violin and guitar. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kommerer, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Jones, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Beale, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. William Madden, Misses Emma Treva, Lena Galbert, Carrie and Gertrude Hartley, Emma Becker, Ida Thompson, Hattie Brown, Mertle Thomas, Fannie Smith, Jennie D. Becker, of New York, and W. D. Scruton, L. A. Deane, Tom Thomas, Professor Andrews, Charles Galters, Charles Tarantini, Dr. George B. Reynolds, Peter Baker, Dennis Hughes, Wainkin Morgans, Fred Evans, William Morgan and Philip Martin.

The home of Benjamin F. Evans, on South Main avenue, was a scene Monday evening of a celebration in the shape of a farewell party. About twelve couples of young people congregated at the house, where mirth reigned supreme until a late hour. Miss Mary Hurvill presided at the piano and furnished several selections during the evening. Refreshments were served at a seasonable hour. Mr. and Mrs. Evans will make their future home on Washington avenue.

Election of Trustees.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the West Side bank was held on Monday evening at the rooms of the bank. Judge Edwards was appointed chairman of the evening. The annual report showed the earnings of the bank to have increased during the year, notwithstanding the depression of trade. Dr. David, Richard Nichols and W. G. Taylor were elected trustees to serve as trustees for a period of three years, and contractor W. R. Williams was elected to serve the unexpired term of two years caused by the resignation of Judge Edwards. The board will reorganize this evening.

Personal and Other News.

SMITH'S TALE OF WOE

Said That Myron Kesson Drew a Jury Favorable to Lehigh Valley Company.

HE OBJECTED TO HIS ACTING

Court Said There Had Been Too Many Charges Made Against Court Officials Without Any Proof Being Offered to Substantiate Them. Wanted Some Form of Proof to Back Up Allegations in Future.

Another of the series of sensations that has marked the progress of the famous Jennings case against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company was sprung on the court yesterday by Attorney Cornelius Smith, who represents Mr. Jennings.

The suit of John Jennings, father of James Jennings, who was injured in the Mt. Run accident on Oct. 19, 1888, was called for trial yesterday morning. Mr. Jennings sues the Lehigh Valley company to recover damages for the loss of his son's services. When the case was called, Attorney Smith objected to allowing Prothonotary Myron Kesson to draw the jurors in the case, alleging that he was in sympathy with the Lehigh Valley company and on the best trial of the suit of the younger Jennings, by means of an adroit trick drew a jury that was favorable to the company.

The court asked Mr. Kesson what he had to say concerning the accusation and he replied that the charge was wholly unwarranted and that the jury had been drawn strictly in accordance with law. He said that the whole matter was a product of Mr. Smith's imagination.

EXPRESSION OF THE COURT.

Judge Archibald said that at previous trials Mr. Smith had made aspersions against the character of officers of the court, but had failed to sustain them. They had been founded on a suspicion, and he objected to any further charges which attack the honor and integrity of the court without some manner of proof being offered to sustain the statements. Major Warren, of counsel for the Lehigh Valley company, then asked for a continuance of the case, stating that Mr. Smith was in the habit of making charges without any manner of proof being offered to sustain the statements.

OTHER CASES HEARD.

The suit of Richard Ross against Frank M. Cobb to recover $100 wages that is alleged to have been due to Mr. Cobb, was tried before Judge Schuyler and a verdict for the defendant returned. When court adjourned a suit by Mr. Ross against John Cobb was on trial. Mr. Ross claims $30 from Mr. Cobb for his son's services. David Greening, of Evelyn, Jones obtained verdict against James Garber, the former for $17.84 and the latter $19.52. They are wage claims. A verdict for the defendant was returned in the case of Miss B. O'Malley against Frank Carpenter. A similar verdict was returned in the case of Michael Fitzpatrick against Frank Meyer.

When the court adjourned the inter-pleader case of Frederick Durr against D. R. Koplegie was on trial before Judge Archibald.

The case of Patrick Scanlon against William J. Lovelle, of Wilkes-Barre, was on trial before Judge Archibald in court room No. 1 during the greater portion of the day. Attorney R. J. Beamish appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney John R. Jones represented the defendant. The case arose through the alleged agreement made by the defendant to pay Scanlon a fair price for work done on his cellar wall and building constructed in Archibald borough in the fall of 1892. Scanlon claimed that he worked 267 hours, and that 20 cents per hour was but a fair compensation. Yarns contended in the agreement that Scanlon was to be paid $30 for his services. An amusing feature of the case was that the defendant could not read his own handwriting, nor even identify his own signature, although he wore spectacles. After the case Mr. Beamish's eye-glasses, however, and plaintiff to state a certainty that the epitaph was his own. The jury retired at 3 o'clock.

SIGNOR MULL IS DEAD.

Expired in St. Louis Where He Went After Leaving Scranton. Signor Mull, the stinger whose remarkable career in this city is well remembered, is no more, his demise having occurred a few days since at St. Louis. A few months ago this man's magnificent tenor voice won him many admirers in this city. He was also well known in Wilkes-Barre, having at one time taught a large class of pupils there. Left this city suddenly about five months ago, and when next heard from was in St. Louis, where, it is claimed, he afterward married a lady of wealth and position.

PARDON FOR WALLACE SNOW.

Board at Harrisburg Recommends That He Be Released. The board of pardons at Harrisburg yesterday recommended that Wallace Snow be granted a pardon.

Snow was convicted of being implicated in the robbery of Spencer's pay office at Danmore and was sentenced to three years imprisonment in the eastern penitentiary, where he now is. Over one-half of his term has expired. His case was presented to the board by Attorney R. J. Beamish.

Scranton's Business Interests.

The Tribune will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographs of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable possession of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract new comers and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of The Tribune will call upon those whose names are desired in this edition and explain its nature more fully.

Those desiring views of their residences in this edition will please I. A. Van Hook at the office.

Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Many Tribune Readers.

CONCERT AT GERMANIA HALL

It Proved to Be a Delightful Affair. Hall Was Thronged—Case Against Myles Varley Ignored by the Grand Jury—Prosecutor Burke Did Not Put in an Appearance—Crane-Melvin Nuptials—Other Notes.

The concert at Germania Hall last night under the auspices of the church choir of the Hickory Street Presbyterian church was successful in every particular. The music was notably excellent and the applause of the audience was appreciative. Special mention of the work of Schmidt's orchestra is deserved by the leader of which takes front rank among the musicians of this state. The biggest burden of the arrangements for the concert fell upon John Lentes, the organist at the church, and it is due to his enterprise and energy that the affair succeeded so well. The program was well planned and if it were twice as large the seating capacity would have been exhausted.

Crane-Melvin Nuptials.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the marriage of Miss Margaret Crane to Edwin Melvin took place in St. Joseph's church, Minooka, by Rev. D. H. Green. The bride wore a blue traveling suit and was attended by Miss Mary McCallie, of Jefferson avenue, who was attired in cream color silk. Both bride and her attendant carried beautiful bouquets of March roses. The groom and his best man were dressed in black. Mr. Melvin was attended by his brother, Edward Melvin, of Cedar avenue. After the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large gathering of spectators, the bridal party was driven to the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Crane, where a wedding breakfast was served. The young couple took the noon train for Philadelphia to spend their honeymoon and will return next Saturday. They will begin housekeeping in Harvey, where Mr. Melvin has charge of the outside department of the William Council Coal company.

Prosecutor Did Not Appear.

The indictment against Myles Varley, of Minooka, for assaulting Motor-man John J. Burke at the scene of the fire in Germania Hall in Minooka on St. Patrick's day, was ignored yesterday by the grand jury. When the case was called for hearing the prosecutor was not on hand to push the case and it was ignored and the costs imposed him. Unless the warrant is renewed, the master will have in the disposition of the case yesterday.

Personal.

William J. Lovelle, of Wilkes-Barre, visited his mother at Cedar avenue and Maple street yesterday. Miss Margaret Melvin, of Remington avenue, will leave at noon tomorrow for Philadelphia, where she will remain for the summer. John Gardner, of Pittston, is visiting Professor Thomas J. Coyne, of Brock street.

Shorter Paragraphs.

The meeting at Callery's arcade of the citizens of Minooka and the upper end of the Twentieth ward, announced for this evening at 7:30, has been postponed until Saturday night. A 2-year-old son of Morris Mangan, of Minooka, died yesterday, and the funeral will be this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

THE CONCERT AT CEDAR AVENUE.

The concert at the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church last night was financially a success and delighted the large audience that attended. Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Clearwater were the prime movers and are entitled to all the credit of the worthy undertaking. The members of Columbus council, No. 179, Young Men's institute, decided at a meeting Monday night to receive holy communion in a body with uniform next Sunday morning, at the 7 o'clock mass, in St. John's church.

NOW MR. JERMYN'S PROPERTY.

Transfer Made of the Real Property Adjacent to Forest House Site. It can now be authoritatively announced that John Jermyin has bought and possesses the deed of the real property adjoining the Forest house site. This statement was substantiated by Mr. Jermyin to a Tribune reporter last night. The transfer was made by C. J. and Spencer D. Reid yesterday through their attorneys, Patterson and Wilcox. The property bought has a frontage of 87 feet on Wyoming avenue and is 175 feet in depth.

The price has not been divulged but it is understood that Mr. Jermyin has held out a standing offer of $30,000 for the plot. The Tribune reporter asked Mr. Jermyin what the real price was. He said: "I cannot tell you; but the property is now mine and I possess the deed."

"Was the consideration as much as $50,000?" he was asked. "That, also," he said, "I am not in a position to answer."

While not prepared to specify the changes Mr. Jermyin stated that the plans of the new hotel structure would be altered to accord with the additional land.

ADMIRERS OF THE WORK.

From a Few of the Hundreds Who Praise the Britannica. The copy of the reprint of the ninth and last edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica offered by The Trustees at the price and easy terms of payment should find a place in every home. In no way can that amount of money be expended so judiciously on book substance.

Within the past two years, or during the month of June, 1892, I purchased the Scribner edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica at $5.00 per volume, bound in cloth, $125.00 for the set. W. A. PAINE, M. D., Physician and Surgeon.

The Britannica is unquestionably the leader among Encyclopaedias. The subject matter is not only authoritative but also the most complete and up-to-date. The addition of the "American Additions" and latest maps with its good paper and binding renders it preferable to the expensive $125 edition. The "American Additions" and latest maps with its good paper and binding renders it preferable to the expensive $125 edition. The "American Additions" and latest maps with its good paper and binding renders it preferable to the expensive $125 edition.

Referring to the Encyclopaedia Britannica offered by The Trustees, I consider it an excellent work. I have the Edinburgh edition, which cost me $8 per volume. This reprint at $5.00 per volume is another instance of American ingenuity. REV. P. R. ZIEGLER, Principal School 25.

The Scribner edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica has been in my library some years. I have found it accurate and reliable and fully illustrated.

The edition offered by The Trustees is not abridged, but, in matter of fact, the same as the original paper and substantially bound, having the additions and revisions, American articles and maps up to date. The additions are in the back of each volume and give the latest statistics, together with history, science and biography of living men, thus rendering the work more desirable and practical as a book of reference than the original. That this work can be sold for $5.00 per volume seems almost incredible, as I paid $2.00 per volume, or $125 for mine bound in cloth. D. C. HITCHCOCK, Pastor Jackson Street Baptist Church.
