"Where do the good clothes come from?" COMING ATTRACTIONS. The colored nightingale, Miss Sisieretta Jones, otherwise known as the "Black Patti," will be heard in one of her concerts at the Academy of Music Wednesday night. The New York World says of her: "She sings like Patti without the slightest visible effort; her voice is well cultivated, her high notes enable her to effectively render the most difficult compositions, and her low tones is peculiarly deep, intense and mellow."

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN AT WONDERLAND. Manager Davis, of New Wonderland theater, has gone to a large expense to provide a fine attraction this week. Uncle Tom's Cabin will be presented by Andrew McPhee's great company numbering thirty artists and a quartette. This aggregation is composed of the finest talent and comes with the best of recommendations. A grand street parade will be given daily with a full military band, headed by the only drum major in the city. This will attract much attention. The first performance at the theater will be given this evening.

The first assessment will be due when the holders of a majority of the stock shall decide, and the balance at the call of the board of directors. Subscriptions may be made to Thomas J. Moore of the South Side, or Secretary D. B. Atherton of the board of trade.

NEWS FROM WEST SIDE

Congregation of St. John's German Catholic Church Holds Indignation Meeting. THE RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED. A Demand is Made on the Court to Revoke the Decklinck License—All Christian Congregations Asked to Assist—James Moran in the Tolls Again—Banquet of Literary and Debating Society Tonight.

[The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 1400 Jackson street, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention.] An indignation meeting was held in the basement of St. John's German Catholic church last night, at which almost every male member of the parish was present. The object of the assembly was to attract the attention of the license granted to William Decklinck for the building at the corner of Luz street and South Main avenue, right opposite the church. The meeting was addressed by Rev. P. C. Christ, pastor of St. Mary's German Catholic church on the South Side. Father Fricker, pastor of St. John's, also spoke, but the case was covered entirely by Father Christ. He launched out in a vehement speech on the action of the judges of Lackawanna county in granting the license, when reasons were presented to the contrary. The meeting adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, The constitution and laws of Pennsylvania recognize the right of the people to assemble and worship God in accordance with the dictates of their own conscience, and Whereas, The policy of the law and courts has been to refuse all applications for liquor license at houses so near places of worship that they might interfere with divine services when the members of the church remonstrate against such licenses being granted, and Whereas, The members of the St. John's German Catholic church, comprising the majority of the congregation, petitioned the court for the revocation of the license granted to William Decklinck at a place within sixty-eight feet of the church with nothing intervening but an open street, and also within full view and speaking distance of the sisters' convent and school; and Whereas, The fact that boisterous conversations, possibly blasphemous language in the Decklinck saloon must be heard within the church, and would necessarily interrupt religious worship and morality and shock the congregation, was made known to the court; and Whereas, It was also shown to the court that the proposed saloon was located so near the convent school building that any unbecomingly noisy, unbecomingly indecent language by intoxicated men in and near the saloon could be heard in the convent and school; and Whereas, Those probable dangers and evils to the congregation, sisters and school children were fully made known to the judges in open court on the hearing of the Decklinck license application; and Whereas, The public necessity for a hotel or saloon at the Decklinck place, which the law contemplates before granting a license was not shown to exist, and as a fact does not exist, as is well known to the judges and the citizens of the neighborhood; and Whereas, Notwithstanding the premises, the license court granted a liquor license at the Decklinck place; therefore be it Resolved, That we, the members of St. John's church in meeting assembled, as Christians and American citizens, do solemnly and indignantly protest against the action of the court in granting said license, and in the name of Christianity, and justice and common decency, and in the interest of law and morality, we call upon all Christians and fair-minded citizens of Scranton to unite with us in demanding that the court revoke the Decklinck license.

Resolved, That all religious denominations should have equal consideration and treatment under the law and by the courts, and the license court in hearing the remonstrance of another congregation and disregarding ours are guilty of an unjust discrimination not warranted by the law or the facts, and can only tend to bring discredit on the judiciary and destroy all confidence in respect for the courts of law. Resolved, That all christian congregations should fraternize and assist one another in securing the rights and protection which the laws afford and contemplate, and that our appeal in this respect be made known to all who may be willing to aid us. It is ordered that copies of these resolutions be sent to the several newspapers of the county for publication. LOUIS SOERGEL, SEBASTIAN KLEIN, JOHN KIRBY, PETER LEKEMBRINGER, SEBASTIAN TISON, Committee on Resolutions.

The News Condensed. James Moran, an old offender, was arrested on Saturday afternoon on North Main avenue. Moran was in a state of intoxication, and was interfering with the men who were at work raising the sidewalk in front of the Scanton property. When the men would place a bar under the stone with the intention of raising it, Moran would put his whole weight on it in his endeavors to keep it down. Officer Saul reported upon the scene and he was removed to the station house. The members of the Hyde Park Literary and Debating society will banquet this evening in Fairchild's hotel. A preliminary meeting will be held in their rooms and the society will repair promptly at 9 o'clock to the hotel. John K. Edwards will be toastmaster. Responses to the toast will be made by the members and an enjoyable time is expected. Harry Harris of Lafayette street, has received from New York two handsome Beagle hounds four months old. Miss Grace Evans, of North Hyde Park avenue, has returned from a trip to Kingston. Joseph Hughes, proprietor of Fairchild's hotel, was in Pittston yesterday. Miss Joie Layahon, of Kingston, spent the Sabbath with friends on this side yesterday. The Sunday observance of the cloing of saloons and the cigar cases of drug stores was well kept yesterday. Mrs. Maud Snyder, of Elmhurst, is a guest of Mrs. Lily Joseph, of South Hyde Park avenue. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Daniels, of South Main avenue, spent the Sabbath in Parsons. Miss Minnie Hines, of Fairview avenue, was in Moosic on Saturday. Enoch Harris, of New York, city has returned home after a visit with West Side friends. P. H. Warren will break ground this week for a new home on North Lincoln avenue. Fred Warak has occupied his new hotel on North Main avenue. The place is fitted in excellent style and is one of the finest on the West Side. Misses Cora and Mamie Evans, of Carbonado, visited friends on this side yesterday. Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Julia May Seely, of North Hyde Park avenue, to C. H. Wallace on Wednesday, April 18, at high noon, at the Simpson Memorial Episcopal church. Judge Edwards will conduct the Cremo-American styled for at Pittston on Decoration Day. Rev. D. W. Skelloger will deliver a stereopticon lecture in the First Welsh Congregational church this evening under the auspices of the Junior C. B. society.

"Where do the good clothes come from?" PURITAN CHURCH DEDICATED. Congregationalists of Providence Open Their New House of Worship—Subscriptions Pledged. The Puritan Welsh Congregational church, Rev. D. A. Evans, pastor, organized January 31, 1889, was dedicated yesterday. The new edifice is located on West Market street, Providence, nearly at the top of the hill where the view for miles in any direction is imposing and unobstructed. The structure is built of wood upon a lot purchased from the late G. W. Miller. Two entrances are at the South End of the building and one at the north. The auditorium is lighted by fine ground glass, colored bordered windows and a large window of colored glass comprising the greater portion of the North End. The pews are arranged in a semi-circle, extending lengthwise of the building. The pulpit, chancel rail, nave and other furniture are of heavy polished oak and very handsome. Contractor C. L. Bell, of Jermyn, constructed the building under the supervision of W. N. Evans, R. W. Pow-H. Armit Thomas, R. O. Lloyd and John H. Phillips, who comprised the building committee. The total cost of the church, including the lot, was $8,395, against which sum $3,035 has been paid or subscribed; of the balance, $590 were pledged or paid at yesterday's afternoon services and a further sum during the evening meeting.

Services of praise and dedication were held morning afternoon and evening, and were participated in by a number of local pastors and some from neighboring towns. At 2 o'clock this afternoon there will be a ministerial meeting of the congregational pastors of Wyoming and Lackawanna valleys. A paper, entitled "The Building of Churches as an Element of Civilization in Society," will be read by Rev. T. Mackay of Plymouth, and Rev. L. Thomas Taylor will deliver a sermon on "Systematic Giving." A concert for the benefit of the Sunday School will be held in the evening. The formal dedication occurred yesterday morning when an invocation was made by the pastor, and T. R. Watkins, chairman of the board of trustees, received the church keys and financial statements from Armit Thomas, chairman of the building committee. A sermon was preached by Rev. D. L. Davis, of Elmhurst, and the dedication prayer offered by Rev. T. W. Jones, D. D. Short addresses were made during the afternoon exercises by Rev. M. D. Kinter, Rev. W. G. Watkins, Rev. W. F. Davis, Rev. R. S. Jones, D. D., Rev. G. E. Guild and Rev. M. D. Fuller. Sermons were delivered at the evening service by Rev. E. J. Morris and Rev. T. W. Jones, D. D. The vocal features of the exercises were conducted by W. D. Davies. The numbers rendered by M. Davies and choir were of special excellence.

"Where do the good clothes come from?" BIG CAVE IN THREATENED. No. 25 School Building Located Within the Affected District. The abandoned workings of the Leggett's Creek shaft, Providence, were in progress yesterday. Friday night. Hinge fissures and cracks showed themselves in the surface next morning in a manner indicative of imminent danger. A large area was affected and the people in the district were thoroughly alarmed. School building, No. 25 is located on the affected ground and several cracks are visible within the school yard. The structure was erected at a cost to the taxpayers of $40,000 and may have to be abandoned. The east wing suffered most. No school will be held in the building for the present. Cracks are visible in the yards of Edward Watkins, 21 William street and William Morgan, 205 William street, and at various other points. The Home of the Good Shepherd is in close proximity to the disturbed section but thus far has not been threatened with danger. The parts settling are portions of the old Leggett's Creek workings of the Delaware Hudson Canal company. The worked out vein was located some 300 feet below the surface and hence it does not seem possible that an extensive cave in can result. Nevertheless, a good deal of anxiety is felt by property owners whose possessions are located within the affected district. It is not thought, however, that the settlement will prove destruction to any great extent.

"Where do the good clothes come from?" THE DUDE IS DEAD. Young men have ceased to be howling swells. They can't afford it, those poor times. That's partly why so many quietly dressed young men about town buy their Spring Footwear at Schank's. They know he deals only in the very latest and best. They know his stock is large and never lags. And they know his PRICES ARE DOWN TO FIT THE TIMES. By the way, why not look at Schank's? ELEGANT NEW SPRING AND SUMMER DESIGNS? There's no charge for looking. When you buy, the chances are you'll buy.

NOTES OF HIS TERM RAN OUT. Because He Did Not Qualify to Law—Building of Law—Banquet of Literary and Debating Society Tonight—Tune Engine Company—Thomas Langan—Perspective Paragraphs of News.

John C. Moran, the constable of the Twelfth ward, came very near coming a statesman out of a job. He did not qualify according to law and his political enemies discovered the fact. The terms of office of the constables of the Twelfth and Twentieth wards ran out a year ago, and the incumbents were both re-elected; but did not qualify inasmuch as they were not sworn in or court. Michael Thornton petitioned court for the appointment of constable in the Twelfth ward in the place of Michael Murray, and his request was granted. This began an investigation as to the likelihood of not displacing other constables who felt secure. Moran heard of the movement and presented a petition to court asking the appointment to the position. The matter is now pending.

Building Boom Very Active. The building season promises to be unusually active on the South Side. Scarcely a street is free from heaps of lumber and building material. At the corner of Brook street and Pittston avenue Edward Durkin intends to build a very large business block. Mrs. Robinson has accepted the plans and specifications for her new building and work will begin today. These are two of the most important improvements.

Personal Mention. Rev. N. J. McManus, of the North End, visited Rev. Father Milley yesterday. W. H. Malla, Honorary correspondent of the Truth, visited his parents yesterday. Miss Katie Donahue, of Stone avenue, is visiting her cousin, Miss Mamie Coyne, of Minooka. Shorter Paragraphs. The funeral of Thomas Langan of Minooka was held yesterday afternoon. The St. Joseph's Temperance society and Greenwood Keg Fund, to which he belonged, attended the funeral. Painters are at work on the interior of St. John's church, and it will be an artistic piece of work when finished. Select Councilman Council has a force of men at work repairing the road on Cedar avenue near the old No. 7 school house. Branch No. 179, Young Men's institute, will hold a business meeting tonight. Branch 85 of the Catholic Mutual Benefit association will hold a meeting of importance tomorrow night in Pharmacy hall. The banquet of Neptune Engine company this evening promises to be a pleasant affair. A committee consisting of Jacob Geiger, jr., Charles Huester, Peter Robbing, jr., Max Rosar and Edward J. Robinson have labored hard to make a success of it. An elaborate menu will be served and after the feast dancing will be indulged in.

"Where do the good clothes come from?" SCRANTON'S BUSINESS INTERESTS. THE TRIBUNE will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographic views of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract orders and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon all persons whose names are desired in this edition and explain its nature more fully. As desiring views of their residences in time of view will please. Have notice at the office.
