AN AUSPICIOUS START

to Many Well-Known Guests.

VERY HOME-LIKE APARTMENTS

Galaxy of Scranton Business and Professional Men Enjoy the Association's Genial Hospitality—An Institution of Which the City May Well Feel Proud—Mayor Connell Presides at a Period of speech Making. sides at a Period of speech Making.

The Scranton Rowing association formally opened its handsomely ap-pointed and cheery apartments last evening at 410 Spruce street. While the rooms had been used by the members for several weeks, the finishing touches were not completed until last week. The date set aside for the opening formally and as an event to be re-membered in the history of the club was happily selected, as it commemorated the twentieth anniversary of the club's history.

Men recognized as leaders in the proesional, business, political and social ife of Scranton were present as guests or members to see the association aus-piciously started in its new home. The personnel of the gathering stamps the ssociation as a representative body.

ABSENCE OF FORMALITY. One feature of the entertainment which made the evening a most enjoyable one was the very absence of features. The term "formal opening" existed in sentiment, but not in fact. There were no reception committees or other evidences of social red tupe. it was simply a question of make yourself at home and the guests and nembers did make themselves to home and departed with the thought that the evening had been well spent.

A running suppor was served from 9 30 to 11 o'clock, and orchestral music was furnished by Baner,

After a couple of hours spent in eatng, visiting, playing billiards, or enoying the other diversions and privieges of clubdom, those present gathered on the third floor, where it was announced that Mayor Connell would onduct a period of speech-making. Mayor Connell said, substantially.

MAYOR CONNELL'S REMARKS, I am proud to preside over this assemblage, composed as it is of so many well known and representative men of our city. I am proud to preside in so beautiful a home occupied by so worthy an associaion. There are many reasons why I am had to call myself a member. First, be-ause it has a home, which is what the word implies, and is an association of men-also in the full sense of the word; secondly, because the club is non-political; thirdly, because the club is not imbued with Donyism or any other ism, but overy man is imbued with the right to be strictly tem-perate or govern himself as he pleases so long as he remains a gentleman.

The association has passed through many vicissitudes of ups and downs, but its very resurrection from the past to a front rank of busin se-social clubs makes it an organization of which all may be proud and of which a gentleman may become a member.

Pleading the lateness of the hour as an excuse for so brief a speech, Mayor Connell finished his remarks and called on President Charles E. Chittenden, of select conneil, as one of the original charter members of the association.

MR. CHITTENDEN'S RECEPTION, Long and loud applause greeted Mr. Williams & McAnuity only excuse for making a speech was because he is a charter member. While all seemed gay, there was to him an element of sadness in the occasion, be-cause, aside from the charter members, all that remains of the old association is an $800 debt which alone was saved from a fire which ruined the association's possessions.

> Dolph B. Atherton, secretary of the oard of trade, expressed the opinion that if they had called upon him for facts and figures pertaining to cheap fuel, or to say how much horse-power per day can be evolved from a certain weight of culm, he could no doubt en-huse his beavers. Under the old egime he got 15 cents worth of fun or$ 1 50-now he hoped to get a hundred cents worth for every dollar. Andrew Bedford said that for the club's sake he was glad he was not forgotten. The other speakers had been wrong in their opinion as to the pur-pose of the organization; its main object is to provide a place where Mayor

Connell and the other city officials can come when in trouble. The club will willingly settle all doubtful municipal and political questions, Lack of space forbids detailed mention of other remarks made by W. J. Welch, John H. Fellows, George F.

Barnard, James O'Connor, Milton Lowry and James Oakford. THOSE WHO WERE PRESENT.

The following were among the guests present: William Avery, J. Y. Bassell, jr., John Beaumont, George Barnard, John F. Broadbent, G. H. Cobb, S. R. Henwood, Herbert B. Cex, H. G. Dale, E. D. Fellows, Dr. W. G. Fulton, E. P. Henwood, Dr. Kierstadt, James H. Kays, T. F. Mason, Ceorge B. Mair, William R. Pierce, C. E. Pryor, Robt. Peck, F. J. Platt, Frank E. Platt, W. H. Pierce, W. D. Russell, E. C. Renshaw, A. H. and W. H. Store, W. D. shaw, A. H. and W. H. Storre, W. P. Connell, Newton Jackson, Dr. Charles

Park. Among the members present were. George Jermyn, Will Finch, Thomas Fliteroft, Edward Chase, James Bailey, Fred Connell, D. E. Taylor, F. M. Vandling, George B. Davidson, F. R. White, John H. Phelps, Dr. A. J. Connell, Frank Barber. Too much cannot be said in praise of three floors, including a reception, smoking, billiard and dining room, complete culinary department for pre-paring hot meals and lunches at all hours, with its tasteful decorations and its many conveniences perhaps it is sufficient to say that the members have a home of which they may well feel proud, and Scranton an institution of which it can bonst.

ENTERTAINMENT AT ELMHURST.

Professor Buck's Sunday School Class Spend a Pleasant Evening. The Elm Park church Sunday school class, taught by Professor Herbert D

Buck, went to Eimburst last evening, where they were royally entertained at the home of Miss Jessie Williams.

The class was in charge of Professor Buck, who looked carefully after their water. welfare. They left the Delaware, Lackswanna and Western station at 6 o'clock and after a pleasant ride reached Elmhurst. The young people presented a pleasing appearance as they marched from the station to the home of Mrs. Williams, where refreshments were served and a very agreeable evening passed, after which all returned to this city. Those who comprised the happy party were: Misses May La France, Ella Kinney, Mabel M. Munser, Vie B. Decker, Mame Shiffer, Beulah Brindle, Elsie Brown, Carris W. Faust, Elizabeth Faust, Ada M. Verney, Cora Yost, Blume, Underbill, Holkins, Toos, Rena Megargel, Hattie Griffin, Emma Rena Megargel, Hattie Griffin, Emma Bradley, Nellie Seward, Idell Barnes, Nellie Davis, Madge Simp-son, Helen Barnes, Bessie Wood, Mrs. J. It Will Open at the Frothingham on Another evidence of the alertness of What promises to be one of the most interesting events of the theatrical season occurs at the Frothingham next Monday night, it being the initial appearance of the Mackay-Kennedy Opera company presenting an elaborate and careful production of "Girofla Girofla." most entirely of well known Scranton and Binghamton men as follows:

Ex Judge William H. Jessup, William H. Jessup, jr., Horacs E. Hand, William J. Hand, John G. McAskle, J. Alton Davis and M. I. Corbett, Scranton; E. W. Rose, Silver Lake, Pa; George S. Jessup, Montrose; Senator Edmund O'Connor, Clinton Ross, Fred Ross, Harry Ross, Rollin W. Mecker and Mr. Davis, Binghamton. This organization, although comparatively unknown in this city, has met with very great praise and created a decided furore wherever it has appeared, the press and public being unanimous in saying that it is one of the best and most complete operatic companies now before the public, and notwithstanding the very great ex-pense entailed is presenting such a large company the management have decided to charge special summer Evening prices are 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents. At the Wednesday and Satur-day matinees, desinged especially for ladies and children, 10, 15 and 25 cents. Monday Night.

Jury Returned a Verdict Against Him. Electment Suit Tried Before Judge Edwards in Main Court Room.

Attorney Joseph O'Brien had reason to congratulate himself when the jury in the divorce case of John Ward against his wife Mary Jane, yesterday morning returned a verdict in favor of the respondent. It was the general opinion of nearly all who were present at the trial that the evidence against Mrs. Ward was particularly strong, but nothing discouraged. Mr. O'Brien put forth a skillful plea for his client, dis-crediting the testimony offered by the plaintiff to such a degree that the jury evidently came to the conclusion that Mrs. Ward was a much abused woman, All day yesterday the case of Mrs. Thomas Bromage against Nora Devers went on before Judge Edwards in court room No. 1. Attorneys A. A. Vosburg and Judge Stanton represent the plaintiff and Attorneys John P. Kelley and J. W. Carpenter, the defend-ant. The plaintiff seeks to recover for the one-half interest of a house and lot in Providence, which she claims to have derived the title to from her dead husband. The house in question was purchased in 1881 by William Barrett, with his brother, the former also Chittenden, who said it seemed his only excuse for making a speech was because he is a charter member. While of William Barrett who berrowed money from a building and loan asso-ciation which later foreclosed on the property, Enos Flynn president of the ompany, becoming the purchaser. By him the property was afterward sold to Nora Devers. Both of the Barretts are now dead. The defense deny that there was any parol agreement. The case of M. G. Haupt against John Sewall was called before Judge Gunster, Attorney John F. Scragg appearing for the plaintiff and Attorney E. C. Newcomb for the defendant. The plaintiff's claim was for $13 for a bill of lumber sold the defendant in 1889, when the plaintiff was doing business under the firm name of Haupt & Mitchell. Mr. Newcomb claimed that suit should have been brought under the firm name of Haupt & Mitch-ell and the court was of the same pinion. Mr. Scragg moved to amend the record by inserting the name of M.. Mitchell and court allowed the motion and continued the case. Before Judge Schuyler the case of foldsmith Bros. & Co. against Mrs. A. V. Evans came up. Attorney John Scragg represented the plaintiff, but the defendant did not appear either by attorney or in person. The claim was for $138 30 for house furnishings, and as the evidence offered was undis puted the jury found for the plaintiff to the full amount of the claim.

PREPARING TO LAY THE PIPES.

Several Carloads of Material Have Arrived in the City. Several carloads of iron steam pipes to be laid in the city streets by the American District Steam company, of Lockport, N. Y., for the Economy Steam Heat company, have arrived in the city. They are piled on land owned by the Delaware and Hudson Canal ompany, near its freight station at he foot of Wyoming avenue. A frame building has been erected on the same plot of land in which the workmen's tools and paraphernalia of the company will be stored during the progress of operations in this city.

Scranton business men and that there is a supply of capital there in the midst of financial depression, is shown in the incorporation at Harrisburg of the Binghamton, Pennsylvania and South ern Railway company. The list of the original stockholders is made up al most entirely of weil known Scranton

Meeker and Mr. Davis, Binghamton, The amount of stock represented i $800,000. Telegraphic advices mentioning the incorporation without giving the peared in yesterday's papers, and it was inferred that the new company was merely an offshoot of the old Bing-hamton and Williamsport company, which for several years has kept many residents of northeastern Penusylvania on the qui vive.

A TRIBUNE reporter ascertained yesterday that the new incorporation is an enterprise free from connection with the antiquated Williamsport and Binghamton project. It is proposed to run the road direct south from Bingham ton to the Monneghan farm in Susque-hanna county, on the state line. From this point the most direct line will be taken southwest to Wyalnsing on the Lehigh Valley railroad. Wyalusing is in Bradford county, between Towanda and Tunkhannock. The contemplated route will be about thirty-two miles long.

One of the gentlemen interested in the project said: "The enterprise is not undertaken for speculation; it is purely a business proposition with us. We consider the territory possible of giving a revenue from its products and passenger traffic." A meeting of the stockholders will be held in the near future when officers will be elected and arrangements made for starting an engineering corps over the route.

SIX COWS MEET DEATH AT WINTON. Two Injured and Had to Be Killed and Four Others Drowned.

The passengers aboard the Delaware nd Hudson train leaving Carbondale at 12 45 p. m. were unwilling witnesses of a distressful scene near Winton yesterday afternoon.

As the train was rounding the curve above the "Rock Cut," about 300 yards from Winton depot, it came upon and the plaintiff maintains that her husband, Patrick Barrett, acquired the one half interest by verbal agreement progebing train frightened the approaching train frightened than a progebing train from the pro near the track. The noise of the approaching train frightened them and they ran in front of the engine. The engineer slackened the speed of the train but could not avoid striking the ows. Two of them were hit and injured so severely that it was necessary to kill them and six others were driven down the steep bank into the Lackawanna river. Two of these swam across but the other four were carried away with the tide and drowned. The train was stopped and the pass-engers watched the struggles of the drowning animals. At the point at which the mishap occurred the water is quite deep, owing to the recent rains, and the current is very strong. The efforts of the animals to reach the banks of the river were pitiful to see. The current threw them about like so many logs until finally they sank, exhausted, and drifted away THAT PATTERSON SILK CONCERN.

Arrangements Being Made to Remove It to This City. A letter has been received from one of the Patterson silk companies which says that arrangements are being made, now machinery has been ordered and other steps taken to remove the industry to this city at as early a date as possible. The plant will be located on ne of two sites at Green Ridge.

No money has been required from this city to get the concern here. The only inducement was cheap fuel. A cuim burning plant will be used. About 100 hands, 45 per cent. women, will be employed at the start, the force to be increased later. The mill's pro-duct will be a particularly fine line of dress silks.
