NEWS OF WEST SIDE

Dr. Haggerty Discharged on Charge of Dr. Haggerty by Karl and Connors.

KEELEY WAIVED A HEARING

Will Make His Defense in Quarter Sessions Court—New Singing Society Organized to Compete at the September Elstetified—Officers That Are Proposed—Personal Mention and Many Minor News Notes of Interest.

A continuation of the case of William A. Connors against Dr. Haggerty for keeping and maintaining a gambling house, and Michael Keeley for abetting the same, was heard yesterday morning at 9 o'clock before Alderman T. T. Morgan, of the Fifteenth ward. Attorney John B. Collins opened the case for the plaintiff. He stated that all gambling and similar houses are, according to the common and statute law, nuisances.

"It is an unlawful way of obtaining money," he said, "and we claim that these people established a gaming house. The act of March 31, 1863, says they should be abolished. It is a great temptation to our young men whose welfare is oftentimes ruined by indulgence in this nefarious business."

Mr. Keeley was then sworn and stated his place of business was at 236 Lackawanna avenue. He said it was a place similar to the Stock exchange, with the exception that they had horses on the blackboard instead of grain, etc. On being further examined he said that Dr. Haggerty was in no way connected with the establishment. Mr. Keeley said his only partner is Mr. Kirk whose office is situated on different race tracks at New York and other places.

Fred Stark, attorney for the defendant, stated that he saw no reason why Dr. Haggerty should be held, as no evidence could be produced making him connected with the affair. He was discharged. A hearing was waived by Keeley on the case of George Karl and William Connors against him. Dr. Haggerty becoming his bail for $300 in each instance for appearance at the next term of court.

VERDICT IN SHEVINSKY CASE.

Jury Consents to Kill with Slaying He Killed Edward Geivinsky.

Coroner Kelley was in Archbold last evening to inquire into the cause of the death of Edward Geivinsky, who was shot by Michael Shevinsky on Monday afternoon.

The jury sat in the office of Justice of the Peace Munley and heard the testimony of several witnesses. There was considerable difference in their evidence; so much so that the jury was unable to discern what malice, if any, there was in the shooting. They, therefore, merely said in their verdict that the death of the deceased resulted from a shot from a revolver in the hands of Michael Shevinsky.

MRS. CORWIN'S POSITION.

Was Unjustly Arrested, She Says, and Wants Damages.

Mrs. Elizabeth Corwin, of the North End, through Attorney Hulshander & Vosburg, yesterday began a trespass suit in the sum of $3,000 damages against John Guy and Bernard Davis.

She alleges that on Jan. 23, 1894, John Guy caused a warrant to be issued against her before Alderman Bailey, of the Thirteenth ward, on the charge of assault and battery, of which charge she disclaims all guilt, and charges that such suit was brought as the result of a conspiracy to injure her good character.

Constable Bernard Davis served the warrant on Mrs. Corwin, and at the hearing the alderman directed her to furnish $200 bail to await the action of the grand jury. She was unable to furnish bail and was imprisoned for twelve hours, until bail was procured by her.

For the indignities she claims damages in the sum of $3,000.

WORKING A NEW KIND OF A GAME.

It is Most Likely a Swindle and Should Be Watched For—Wears a Lottery Guise.

The police are on the lookout for a young Freeholder who is canvassing this city in the name of a lottery. He tried to do business with Grocer Reed yesterday and it was through Mr. Reed's information that the officer went on the track of the offender. If he is captured he will have to either answer for being a lottery agent or for being a downright swindler.

His game is a new one and rather unique. He says he represents the International Banking company, of 212 Broadway, N. Y., which concerns he claims operates also in London, Paris and Berlin.

The victim, if he catches one, pays $1 a month for a month and at the end of that time he receives his $30 back, providing that in the meantime he has not drawn one of the prizes which are distributed at quarterly drawings and which range in value from $50 to $10,000. The company purports to exist on lappes and the interest derived from the money paid in by the investors.

Mr. Reed's suspicion was aroused from the first, and when the fellow declined to give the names of any person who had purchased his bonds, as he calls them, he became satisfied that the thing was a swindle. He made an appointment to see the fellow at a later hour, and in the meantime notified Captain Edwards. The fellow returned to see Reed, but he was out. No further report of his operations has been received.

Brooklyn Bridge in Soap

One of the most remarkable show window displays ever seen in this city is that which will appear in the double window of Gorman's Grand Depot, Wyoming avenue. Mr. M. H. Miley, a professional window decorator from the H. & G. A. Riever company of Cincinnati has with assistants been engaged upon it for two days. It consists of a faithful reproduction of the big Brooklyn bridge in Castle soap. Some 7,000 cakes are used in the construction of the same and the entire work is a novel as well as handsome production. The ornaments and cables are all produced. The accessories upon and under the bridge, in the shape of wagons and boats, put the finishing touches on.

BARBER ZANG'S FINGERS CUT.

He Street His Hand with a Hatchet Yesterday.

Barber John Zang, of Pittston avenue, is a good man at the tonsorial trade, but at the carpenter business he is not hopeful of winning renown. Yesterday he was out very busy in the afternoon and turned his leisure hours to profit by getting a hammer and saw to put a new screen door on his shop.

After he had hung the door, he was cutting a piece of India rubber to attach to the sill so that the door would slam against it noiselessly. He used a nail tomahawk to cut the rubber with and one of the blows of the ax glanced from the rubber and he was cut on the thumb and forefinger of the left hand very deeply. The injury, however, does not prevent him from attending to business, although his forefinger is nearly severed from his hand.

PLANS OF YOUNG MEN'S INSTITUTE.

That Society May Buy the Lot Near the Cutover.

Columbus council, Young Men's Institute, composed of over 150 young men, is considering the purchase of a plot of ground on Pittston avenue at the corner of Brook street. If the institute can buy the land at a reasonable figure it is understood that negotiations will be entered into with William Connell & Co.

A hall will be built and fitted up in the most approved style. The location is eyed by other societies with a view in the same line as the institute proposed to follow. There were rumors to the effect that the plot was about to be donated to the William Connell Hose company, but there is no foundation whatever to the stories.

DEATH OF MISS CATHERINE NEALON.

She Was a Pious and Upright Christian Woman.

The death of Miss Catherine Nealon, of 733 Prospect avenue, at an early hour yesterday morning, after a short illness, removed from this life one who had lived according to the precepts and teachings of righteousness.

She passed away from this sphere consoled by the sacrament of her church. P. E. Padden, of Power's drug store, was her nephew. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Peter's cathedral. Burial will be made in Hyde Park cemetery.

SOUTH SIDE JOTTINGS.

Stephen Besco, of Pittston avenue, returned home yesterday after a week's visit down the valley.

NORTH END BRIEFS.

The North End office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at the Lewis Drug Store and John's store, Wyoming avenue, where subscriptions and communications will receive prompt attention.

Willie Muehrome, the boy who fell from the roof of a house near the Marine, is progressing very favorably.

A car went off the track last evening at Weston avenue and struck a horse, the result where several cars were dented.

Again complaints are made of the invasion of sidewalks in Providence by reckless wheelmen. The sidewalk from Putnam Street to Bull's Head seems to be claimed by them.

A man of the name of Thomas McGinley, of Parker street, was arrested last evening at the instance of his wife for a brutal assault on the person of a young girl named his furniture. The North End patrol wagon conveyed the prisoner to the station house. Lieutenant Spellman made the arrest.

The coast of Alderman Moran resembled a steam bakery when William Wallace and John Mazzeo discussed their misunderstanding before a host of Polanders. The former charges Mazzeo with having taken his mangle drill machine, and he replied that he had purchased it from a man now in jail. The alderman decided that Mazzeo must return the machine and pay the cost of the mangle.

At a meeting held last evening Alderman Thomas, presiding, the North End Corporation was organized as a permanent institution and also in view of the Laurel Hill competition on Sept. 6 and 7. The following officials were appointed: President, Arthur Thomas; vice president, Morgan H. Williams; conductor, William M. Davy; assistant, W. D. Watkins; secretary, Thomas Davies; treasurer, Wesley Mitchell; press committee, T. Owen Charles, John R. Davies, Henry Cole. A large number who were present were enrolled.

A Big Deal on Court House Square Recently Talked Of.

And still another large estate deal is on the tapis. This time it is the McKimsey property on the corner of Adams avenue and Spruce street. C. P. Davidson has secured an option upon it and if negotiations are successful it will be his in the course of a few days. The details of the proposed transaction could not be learned, but it is said that the land will bring a very fancy figure.

Yesterday witnessed the transfer of a Jefferson avenue property. S. N. Callender purchased the home of the late Dr. George B. Turrop, for $23,000. This includes the house and furniture. The property had been upon the market only a few days when Mr. Callender secured it.
