Fire in the Millinery Store of Miss Ida Thompson on South Main Avenue.

BOY BADLY INJURED BY A WAGON

Fine Entertainment Given by Electric Camp of Patriotic Order of True Americans—Lecture of Kengo Moriya, of Japan—Drunken Men Create Trouble on a Taylor Car—Other News Notes from Across the River.

The alarm of fire which was sounded from box 35 at Main avenue and Jackson street yesterday afternoon was caused by a blaze in the millinery store of Miss Ida Thompson on South Main avenue.

The building is a two story frame dwelling owned by Mrs. W. Hackett of the central city. Miss Thompson uses an oil stove and some very light fabrics in the store became ignited by it. The whole interior of the store was soon in a blaze.

Franklin and Columbia fire companies responded, and two streams of water soon subdued the flames. The interior of the store is completely destroyed. The upper floor of the building was occupied by Mrs. W. T. Griffiths, the basement by Richard Gray and the front by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. House. The latter carried no insurance, and their loss by both fire and water is great. Mrs. Griffiths and Richard Gray fared better.

Miss Thompson's insurance is $1,000, which does not cover her loss on the stock. The damage to the building is about $900. An incident in connection with the fire which may yet come up for official consideration is the right of an officer to remove any person from the front of a burning building who does not appear to be a fireman.

Officer Stephen Dyer yesterday took his post in front of the burning structure to make room for the fire ladders to perform their duties.

The crowd surged backward before the baton, except one man. Mr. Dyer told him to move back, but he would not. He asked him if he was a fireman.

"Oh, I'm all right."

He would show no fireman's badge and Officer Dyer removed the man by force.

The latter afterward proved to be a prominent member of the fire department, and will report Officer Dyer's conduct to the head of the police department.

Miss Anna Higgins recited and the Dickson Band club gave one of their splendid selections. Miss Lillie Evans, a child of 5 years, gave two recitations with marvellous expression. A duet by Miss Stella Stabile and Anna Burnett followed. A duet by the Clark sisters drew forth great applause and a baritone solo was rendered by Bonnie Gidzinsky. Miss Etta Moyle, of Moscow, also sang.

The entertainment closed with a selection by the Ladies' Glee club, consisting of Mrs. Randolph Jones and Misses Anna Higgins, Mattie Williams, Etta Moyle and Norma Williams. Cake and cream were afterward served and a social time indulged in.

NEWS OF NORTH END

Constable Bernard Davies on Unlicensed Sale of Liquor.

HIS EXPERIENCE IN THE PAST

Four Years Ago the Hotelkeepers of the North End Formed an Association and by Co-operating with Constable Davies Much Good Was Accomplished—Mr. Davies' Opinion on the Subject—News Notes.

A TRIBUNE reporter yesterday called the attention of Constable Bernard Davies, of the Second ward, to the previous articles in this department dealing with the question of "holes in the wall." Mr. Davies was some time ago one of the most energetic constables in connection with the suppression of illegal drinking shops and his remarks will be of interest.

He stated that four years ago the North End saloon keepers formed an association from which emanated a request to him to return all unlicensed drinking shops in the Second ward. Furthermore, they promised all legitimate assistance in obtaining reliable evidence and securing convictions of guilty parties. Accompanying this was their expression that they were anxious to live up to the letter of the law and to be protected in turn by wiping out the unlicensed business. Mr. Davies added:

"They did assist me and the result was that with our joint efforts we secured a conviction nearly every day and practically wiped out the holes in the wall in the Second ward. However, nothing was done in the adjoining wards and naturally our hotel keepers became discouraged in having to fight the battle alone."

IN UNION THERE IS STRENGTH.

Mr. Davies said with some emphasis that he is confident that if the hotel keepers and the citizens throughout the city and county would join in the crusade and assist the constables in one united effort the days of the unlicensed liquor seller would soon be numbered. Referring to the proceedings in the Second ward, he added:

"Since the disruption of the work of the Hotelkeeper's association I have returned several parties, but have had no assistance or encouragement on the part of the citizens except at rare intervals. It is an anonymous letter, and in these cases they have resulted in an expense to the county and practically endangered other officers who were more diligent than they saw the poor results of the prosecution. I am satisfied that there are a number of unlicensed places in this ward, but I have no evidence sufficient to convict. I know what the law requires me to do and I try to do it. I believe if the county would expend a little money by the way of remunerating constables, say $25 or $30, we could afford to do some detective work and be held in some respect by the public."

In conclusion Mr. Davies made the following remarks which are of special importance:

"It is a plain fact of the matter is, there are a great many voters in this county and some officials who do not want crime of the kind suppressed. It can be stopped if the citizens want it, under existing laws, without assistance, the constables of this county will never wipe out this illegal traffic."

MORE CARE IS EXERCISED.

Mr. Davies outspoken words coming from a man of his experience and knowledge of the question are of great value. He has in concise sentences reflected the opinions of many leading and respected citizens in the North End. Some one must be at fault in this disgraceful neglect in carrying out the law. Since the matter has been ventilated in THE TRIBUNE an improvement has been manifest in some parts of Providence, and more care is exercised in these vile dens as to persons who are granted admission.

A prominent citizen of the North End said to a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday:

"Many persons are delighted with the Tribune's exposing the movement against holes in the wall. The Bush and Nitch are honeycombed with these places. Last Sunday I observed batches of boys ranging from 10 to 16 years of age entering these openly and without difficulty and others of the same age coming out in a drunken condition. I am convinced that more deeds of evil are sown by these places than by any one other cause."

ELECTRIC WIRE FIRES AN AWNING.

Lots of Excitement for a Short Time, But Little Damage Done.

An electric light wire set fire to an awning in front of H. Lehman's clothing store, corner of Lackawanna and Franklin avenues, last night about 8 o'clock, but before the fire arrived the blaze had been extinguished with buckets of water.

The alarm was sounded just at a time when the streets were thronged and consequently an immense crowd was quickly assembled. The bad condition of the Penn and Lackawanna avenue street intersection caused the fire company no little trouble in reaching the scene.
