SCRANTON'S BUSINESS INTERESTS.
 The Tribune will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographs views of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract new comers and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon those whose names are desired in this edition and explain its nature more fully.
 Those desiring views of their residences in this edition will please leave notice at the office.

THE $40,000 School House for Columbia avenue has been let and will be commenced immediately. There are still a few lots left at a low price.

ANDERSON FRINGHAM, Office, Theater Lobby.

ADOLF LALLOZ, carriage manufacturer, 19 Carroll street, Buffalo, N. Y., states: I was cured with success of the agonizing, sick headache and general debility. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. THE TRIBUNE will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.

MR. SCOTT VINDICATED.

EDITOR OF THE TRIBUNE:
 Sir: I am pleased to see a few statements in your valuable paper in defense of my character. Some few months ago serious charges of an indecent character were prepared against me by one Mrs. A. Langman, I being a member of the Primitive Methodist church of Piceburg, also a lay preacher of the above church. I was tried before the official board and those charges were sustained, with the knowledge that I was innocent, and not being satisfied with the decision, I made an appeal to the district meeting, which is a higher tribunal. This court decided in my favor. I got a fair and impartial trial. The members of the district meeting of that board proved I had been a persecuted man. Since that decision was rendered I have received the following letter from Mrs. A. Langman:
 "Sept. 20, 1894. Mr. Scott: I am going to give this all up. There was no meaning in it. I took it in the wrong light. I am very sorry for it and I clear you of all. I hope this statement will satisfy those who have listened to the fallacious stories which have been so widely circulated. I am, dear sir, yours respectfully
 JAMES SCOTT,
 Boulevard, Throop, Oct. 2.

At the Theaters.

John Sullivan, in the new play written especially for him, entitled "A True American" makes his appearance tonight at the Frothingham. Great interest is excited by this production, as contrary to many pessimistic critics who forebode a failure, Mr. Sullivan in adopting the stage as a profession has made a distinct success. His impersonation of John Desmond in "A True American" is said to be marked by a quiet force and a manly dignity few actors could bring to the part. Mr. Sullivan's rich voice adds not a little to the effect of the performance.

Tonight Roland Reed will be at the Academy of Music in "The Politician," one of the cleverest and most mirth-producing plays in which he has yet been seen. It will be a benefit for the local lodge of Elks, which should of itself be a sufficient announcement to crowd the house. Those who attend tonight's performance of "The Politician" will witness one of the most laughable and entertaining plays now before the public.

The Lester Wallace's great military comedy drama, "Albama" will be presented at the Academy of Music tomorrow night by Joseph S. Haworth and a fine company. By dramatic critics everywhere Mr. Haworth is recognized to be in the very foremost ranks of American actors. Unlike many other stars, Mr. Haworth has surrounded himself with a company notable for its strength and high standing. It includes, in its ranks, the very best of the dramatic talents of the city, as M. A. Kennedy, Charles Hanford, Charles Abbott, Isabelle Evesson, Maud Haslam and Mrs. E. A. Eberle.

At the Frothingham tomorrow night the comedy drama "Albama" will be given as a benefit for the stage hands. "Albama" is one of the few plays that will bear seeing many times. Each time the sees it now the beauties are discovered. The company contains all the old favorites, including Frank C. Bangs, Clement Bairbridge, Odell Williams, John J. Pierson, Charles Canfield, Arthur O'Neil, Frank Galloway, Lewis M. Canfield, Helen Corlette, Ethel Irving, Leez Knowlton and Katherine Darling.

Friday night "Irish Inspiration" will be given at the Academy of Music by a company headed by Henry O'Neil, "Ernie Modern Minstrel." Of the piece the New York Evening Telegram says: "A four-act heroic sensational comedy drama by Howard P. Taylor. Irish Inspiration, produced at the People's theater last evening under the direction of Manager Mart Hanley, was well staged and well acted, and it bids fair to prove a success. The action is brisk throughout, and although conventional the theme is a good one. The plot possesses much originality."

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES.
 Miss Mackey's annex No. 1 has in the preparatory grade seventy-two schools. The total number of pupils is ninety-four.

That nine buildings are being rented for school purposes will be considered by the board of control as an evidence of the immediate need of new buildings.

Principal Costello and his assistants in school No. 23 are making extensive arrangements to receive a flag which is to be presented Friday, Oct. 12, by North End friends.

Principal James C. Vaughan, of No. 17 school, is vigorously pushing his candidacy for state senator and is hopeful of carrying the Twentieth district, which has been hopelessly Democratic.

A large number of the high school scholars are preparing for college. Possibly fifteen are taking collegiate, classical and scientific courses. The Greek, Latin and German classes are exceptionally large.

The grammar B and C departments of No. 8 are occupying quarters in the old German Presbyterian church on Hickory street. The attendance numbers nearly one hundred and is in charge of Mrs. Renning and Miss Kiesel.

The handsome flag presented No. 25 school last summer still remains flying from the flagstaff. It is almost in tatters as the rope is so fastened that the once beautiful stars and stripes cannot be lowered, but has been whipping itself to pieces about the pole for several weeks.

Wood's College of Business and Short-hand.
 We are grateful to our friends, to the old students and to the business men who have aided us so materially.
 To have September of 1894 lead all former years in point of numbers and volume of business is a source of great joy to the management.

CASES HEARD IN COURT

Binding Instructions Asked for in the Collins Trespass Case.

WANT TO PUT BLAME ON THE CITY

Attorneys for the Defendant Say that the Traction Company is Not the Party at Fault—Sale of a Stove Brings a Case into Court—A Dispute Over the Size of a Commission. Two Non Suits Granted.

The trespass suit of Henry Collins, of Carbondale, against the Carbondale Traction company, which has been on trial before Judge Searle in court room No. 2 since Monday, was closed yesterday with the exception of the arguments of counsel and the charge of the court to the jury.

Photographs of the building of Collins after the street railway was built, were submitted in evidence. When the testimony of both sides was closed Attorney S. B. Price, for the defense, asked the court for binding instructions to the jury. Mr. Warren, for the plaintiff, followed and opposed the argument set up by Mr. Price, who held that the city of Carbondale and not the Traction company was liable for any damage done to the Collins' property after the street railway was built, as the city council granted the right of way to the company.

Judge Searle did not rule on the motion of Mr. Price. He will give his decision this morning.

SUIT FOR A STOVE
 In court room No. 1, before Judge Gunster, the suit of James Devers against Aaron McDonnell was heard. Attorneys Hulslander and James Devers appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney C. H. Soper for the defendant.

On June 18, 1893, McDonnell and a constable went to the house of John Ogden, on Jones street, one of McDonnell's tenants who had defaulted in the payment of rent. They found the door locked but the window was partly raised and both lifted it high enough to admit them.

On the inside they levied upon the goods, among which was a cooking stove. Later Ogden came back to the house and carried off the stove to the house of a neighbor. James Devers, the plaintiff in the case, McDonnell and the constable, having been apprised of the move, went to Dever's house, seized the stove and sold it.

The defense maintained that they were justified in entering through the window since it was partly raised and the court upheld their view of it.

DIFFERENCE OF THIRTY PER CENT.
 In the afternoon, before Judge Gunster, the appeal of Thomas Davis against D. F. Kearney was called for trial. J. Elliot Ross and T. P. Hoban were attorneys for Kearney and E. H. Shurtieff for Davis.

Kearney, who is general Scranton agent for the Edgewood Distilling company, appointed Davis a sub-agent and, it is alleged, agreed to pay him 60 per cent. of the net profits on all sales. Kearney disputed this agreement and held that 30 per cent. was the basis of commission on all sales. The plaintiff sued for recovery commissions amounting to over $200. The case was on at adjournment.

The ejectment suit of James M. Everhart vs. George F. Nesbitt and G. Mortimer Lewis was continued. That of W. D. Osterhout & Son vs. Anna E. Freeman, appeal, was settled and struck off the list.

TWO NON-SUITS GRANTED.
 The replevin suit of William J. Campbell administrator, against Anastasia Dunn and Thomas Dunn came to an abrupt ending. Court granted a compulsory non suit. Another suit, Joseph Ordanus against The Puleski association, appeal, was non suited, the plaintiff not appearing when the case was called for trial.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.
 Ex-Judge P. P. Smith, attorney for Mary Lavelle in the assumpsit suit vs. the Prudential Insurance company, yesterday filed a discontinuance as the case has been settled, the plaintiff paying the costs and the defendant attorney fees.

Marriage licenses were yesterday granted by the clerk of the courts to Harry Watkins and Sadie Snyder, of this city, and to Harry W. Adams, of Phoenix, Arizona, and Margaret Finley, daughter of P. B. Finley, of this city.

The millinery store of Mrs. Emma Diem, at Spruce street and Wyoming avenue, was sold out yesterday by Deputy Sheriff George C. Griswold to William Frantz for $80, on execution amounting to $286.26 held by Frantz and T. E. Green.

Two assumpsit cases were entered in the prothonotary's office yesterday, that of D. Powers & Sons, wholesale paper jobbers of New York city, for a debt of $422.14 against Philip Leonard, of West Side, and that of Gilmore & Duffy, wholesale grocers, of this city, for $599.09 against Anthony Cusick, of Minooka.

On and after Monday, October 15, the train from Lacka Avenue arrives in Scranton at 8:35 a. m. will be discontinued.

THE ORIENT TRANSPORTED.

An Enterprising Hotel Proprietor Gives His Guests a Taste of Eastern Luxury.

A new idea in the way of hotel luxury has just been introduced by E. N. Anable, of the Westminister, Sixteenth-street and Irving place, New York. It consists of a beautiful little smoking room furnished in true oriental fashion, to which the guests of both sexes repair to sip their after-dinner coffee or liquors, thus permitting the inveterate smoker to enjoy the company of his fair companion while indulging in a post-prandial cigar or cigarette. About this inviting little salon there hovers all the languorous charm of the Orient. The sensuous enjoyment of the hour, the perfume of the cigar, the aroma of the coffee, are increased by the subdued harmony and richness of the surroundings. The room is softly lighted by tony electric globes, whose red silk shades suffuse it with a warm, roseate glow which blends harmoniously with the rich Turkish draperies and exquisite colorings of the softest and most luxurious armchairs. Low tables carved in Egyptian pattern are scattered about, holding match boxes and ash trays of polished brass. At the farther end of the room small standards supporting candles, whose soft light shimmers through scarlet silk shades, are half hidden among palm trees, giving a graceful finish to the artistic whole.

The innovation has met with the enthusiastic approval of the guests of the Westminister. Every evening the apartment is the gathering place of all who are socially inclined, and the scenes presented are gay and charming to a degree, and unlike anything found in any other hotel in New York.

HOSPITAL NOTES.
 Ivor Joseph, who has been seriously ill of typhoid fever, has been discharged from Lackawanna hospital.

The employee of the Traction company, Curran, who sustained a serious fracture of his leg six weeks ago, was discharged from the hospital yesterday.
