Pay your poor taxes and save costs. Attorney D. J. Reedy has removed his office to the Commonwealth building.

Some good seats for the Cornell concert tonight at the Frothingham are still un-sold.

Eleven cases, mostly for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, were heard by Mayor Connell in yesterday morning's police court.

One hundred and twenty-seven girls are registered in the St. Luke's industrial school with a staff of twenty-five officers and teachers.

Christmas day at St. Luke's church: 6 a. m., holy communion; 8 a. m., holy communion; 10:30 a. m., morning prayer and sermon and holy communion.

The Scranton Vitrified Brick company on Saturday increased its capital stock from $5,000 to $50,000. Several valuable improvements will immediately be made in the plant.

Exchanges at the Scranton clearing house last week were as follows: Dec. 17, $15,089.64; Dec. 18, $10,148.82; Dec. 19, $109,683.94; Dec. 20, $121,570.45; Dec. 21, $127,196.71; Dec. 22, $131,341.15; total, $858,973.16.

The Christmas celebration of the Home for the Friendless will be held at the home between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock this evening. Friends are invited to attend and send gifts as early as possible today.

Alderman P. De Lacy, of the Seventh ward, has received a letter from a friend in Wisconsin informing him that L. D. Noel, a former resident of Lackawanna county, was recently elected sheriff of Buffalo county, Wis.

The hours at the postoffice on Christmas day will be as follows: The general delivery, stamp and carrier windows will be open from 10:30 a. m. to 12 m. Money order and register windows closed all day. No delivery will be made by carrier.

George W. Tebbel, aged 83 years, of Beckville, whose legs were crushed by the cars Saturday evening and who was taken to the Lackawanna hospital, where the foot was amputated, sustained the operation very encouragingly for one so old. There is no doubt about his recovering.

At 3:45 o'clock this afternoon in a special car over the Lackawanna road the Cornell Club and Bangs club will arrive. Many of the alumni will meet them at the station. Scranton has been honored by the first concert of the college performers who will go from here to New York, Brooklyn, Washington, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Rochester and the west.

Most effective work is being accomplished by the Girls' Friendly society of St. Luke's church in relieving women and children stranded in the city. The society have engaged a room at the St. Charles hotel where five women and eight children have recently been provided for. During the month of January the society will hold an entertainment for the purpose of replenishing its treasury, and there is no doubt that success will smile on their efforts.

When tonight over a thousand incandescent electric lights are burning in Music hall, the Christmas eve ball of Electrical Workers' local union, No. 51, can be better imagined than described. For several days the decoration committee has been engaged in preparing for one of the most gala labor union balls of the season. Messrs. Powderly, Jones and Callahan are announced as the speakers. H. B. Stock, James Murphy, William Farr, Patrick Campbell, James Harding, Robert Robinson, John Reilly and Harry Mannick comprise the decoration committee.

RELIGIOUS TOPICS.

W. C. Weeden, the well known revivalist singer, will spend a two week visit in the city at an early date and will have charge of the musical arrangement of a series of revival meetings at the Second Presbyterian church.

Tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock a sunrise prayer service will be held at the Penn Avenue Baptist church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor city union. All members of the society are respectfully requested to attend.

Rev. D. C. Hughes, D.D., will read a paper before the Baptist Pastors' union this morning on "Dispensation of the Lords." Dr. Hughes will leave on Wednesday to attend the annual meeting of the American Bible union at New York city.

Next Sunday morning at St. Luke's church Rev. Bishop Hillborn will ordain Rev. A. L. Egan to the full orders of priesthood. Bishop Hillborn has been wonderfully successful in his work at Dunmore and is building up a powerful congregation from a very small beginning.

An edifying and instructive programme has been prepared for the Christmas exercises of the Sunday school of "Little England" Evangelical church. The services will be held tomorrow evening, when a cordial invitation is extended to all participants in the pleasures of the evening.

On Christmas day the offerings at St. Luke's church will be devoted to a noble object—the support of aged and infirm widows and orphans of deceased clergy.

The scholars of the primary department of Elm Park Sunday school held a very pleasant and seasonable entertainment on Saturday afternoon in one of the class rooms, when a large number of gifts were distributed.

Yesterday a general consensus of opinion prevailed that the Christmas music of 1894 far exceeded the programme and rendition of previous years. The selections were more than excellent, as will be seen from the reports, while the music was served in a most commendable manner by the great masters of the present as well as of past days. No one can but admit that the choirs were so well trained that the selections were rendered with comparative ease and devoid of all strain. Scranton is to be congratulated upon the great advancement in the musical world which has been displayed. Christmaslike services also be held at the church of the Good Shepherd the day will be ushered in at midnight by the celebration of holy communion. At St. Peter's cathedral Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara will sing pontifical high mass at 9 o'clock and impart the papal blessing. Holy communion, with full choral service, will be celebrated at St. Luke's, St. David's and the Church of the Good Shepherd at 10:30 a. m. The various churches have been beautifully decorated by the ladies' societies. Special Christmas services will be held at the Grace Reformed church at 10:30 a. m.

CAME FROM FOREST CITY

They Went to the St. Charles Hotel and Blew Out the Gas.

HAD A VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Their Flight Was Discovered Just in Time to Save Their Lives—Started at Once for Their Homes in Susquehanna County.

About 5 o'clock Saturday morning two Forest City citizens called at the St. Charles hotel and requested Clerk Flannery to show them to a room. They asked to be called at 8 o'clock in the morning. They were assigned to room No. 22 on the top story and retired.

The porter, Thomas Stanton, on his rounds yesterday morning detected a strong odor of gas and notified Mr. Keogh, the proprietor. Together they went from the room to room but could not locate the point from where the deadly fluid was escaping until they reached almost the last room on the top floor. When Mr. Keogh knocked on the door there was no response and he crept on a chair and looked in over the transom. He beheld two men stretched at full length on the floor, apparently dead. Mr. Keogh burst in the door and was horrified to find the two sleepers rigid and cold.

He rushed to the room of Coroner J. A. Kelley and acquainted him of the state of affairs. Dr. Kelley after a half hour's energetic treatment succeeded in resuscitating one of them. The other showed signs of life a few minutes afterward, but it was two hours before they recovered consciousness, and only for the constant attendance of Dr. Kelley and the remedies he prescribed, the population of Susquehanna county would have been two less.

The men registered as Joe Campbell and M. Hengel, Forest City. Mr. Keogh inquired which of them blew out the gas. "Why, I did, said Campbell, and I had to climb on a chair to reach the gas light."

Coroner Kelley stated that if the men were in the room for thirty minutes longer their friends would be soon applying for letters of administration on their estates. What saved their lives was a broken window pane which allowed the first of the gas to escape. They took the first Peckville car out of town and said they would walk from Carbondale to Forest City.

BONTA GLASS PLANT.

First Section of the Main Casting Hall Arrived at the Site at Moosic on Saturday.

The new iron building of the Bonta Plate Glass company arrived at the company's works, at Moosic, Saturday. The dimensions are 140x112 feet. The building is the first of several sections which will comprise the main casting hall of the plant.

This structure, the frame of which is steel, covered with corrugated iron sides and roof, was built by the Berlin Iron Bridge company of East Berlin, Conn., one of the largest bridge and structural iron works in the United States, having an immense plant, which contains the most improved machinery known to modern science.

The annealing ovens at the Moosic plant are now completed. They contain over 350,000 bricks, and are considered by experts in the glass trade to be a valuable improvement in the process of cooling or annealing sheets of glass and holding them true and even, requiring less grinding and polishing to finish up. The melting furnace is well under way, and will be complete by time the iron workers have finished erecting the building.

In the pot house, which was finished some time ago, two experienced pot makers are engaged in building the vessels of clay, in which the glass is melted. The big machine is in full working order and ready for the glass, and as soon as the melting furnace and the building are complete, the plant will be ready for operation.

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS.

(Published in response to many letters.)

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house,
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In the hope that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced through their heads;
And mamma in her 'kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had settled our brains for a long winter's nap.
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter;
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters, and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow,
Gave lustre of mid-day to objects below;
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
Now rapid they came, and I caught them in flight,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name—
"Now, Dasher! now Dancer! now Prancer! now Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid, on Dunder and Blixen!
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away, dash away, dash away all!"
As the leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the house-top the convicts they fell of jolly.
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound;
He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot!
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.
His eyes-how they twinkled! his dimples-how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry;
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow;
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face, and a little round belly,
That shook, when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
He was chubby and plump—a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word, but went straight to my work,
And filled all the stockings—then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew, like the down of a thistle,
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight:
"Happy Christmas to all, and to drive out of sight!"

—Clement C. Moore.
