CITY NOTES.

Nineteen new cases of measles were reported to the board of health yesterday. Hart-Gart lodge held a ball last evening in Schimpff's hall, South Side. There was a large attendance. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company will not at Holden, Pym and Taylor collieries today. The Delaware and Hudson company paid its employees on the Waymart and Honesdale railroad divisions yesterday. Superintendent of schools Howell is attending the convention of city and county school superintendents at Harrisburg. Court yesterday granted a charter to Taylorville lodge, No. 98, Independent order of odd Fellows, on the application of Davis & Edwards. The board of trade will meet Monday night. The legislation and taxes committee will report on the alleged "hold up" of the telephone ordinance. Application was yesterday made to court by Thomas Clark for permission to adopt Julia and John Padden, aged respectively 8 and 4 years, children of Edward Padden of this city. The next lecture in the course at the Green Ridge library will be delivered by A. V. Bower next Tuesday evening, March 16. The subject will be "Who is the Author of Shakespeare?" The legislation and taxes committee of the board of trade will hold another session at 4 o'clock this afternoon to consider its charges with reference to the new telephone company's application for a franchise. A union meeting of Danmore's Brethren will be held Friday evening in the hall of the Smith House company of Danmore. The executive committee of the Friends' Volunteer association will meet with them and explain the objects of the association. The great Sleeking recovered from the illness that troubled him during his engagement here and played last evening in Wilkes-Barre before an astonishingly large crowd that exceeded in numbers either of the two previous audiences. A number of children, chiefly those who are attending the sleeking tour in this region, were present at the concert last night. Misses Genevieve Ballentine, Mr. and Mrs. J. Alfred Cunningham and Lewellyn Jones were among those present.

CLASS 22-ENTERTAINED.

Very Pleasant Affair Last Night at Penn Avenue Baptist Church. A successful entertainment for the benefit of the choir fund was held last evening at the Penn Avenue Baptist church under the direction of Class 22 of the Sunday school. Mrs. Frederick Pelensier, teacher of the class, has taught in the Sunday school for 28 years. Mrs. Pelensier's husband was yesterday and the affair of last evening was a double celebration. C. F. Whittemore was chairman. The fine programme was opened with a piano solo by Chorister Haydn Evans. Miss Maud Estelle recited in a charming manner, and a vocal duet by Misses Gertrude Long and Linda Smith was very pleasing. Miss Mildred Horton gave a recitation which was very amusing. The violin solo by Miss Clara Long showed a remarkable talent in the young lady. Miss Long played Cavatina, a very difficult composition of Raff. Miss Linda Smith favored with a solo, "Ode of the Deep," and composite declamation by Harry Smith, F. M. Koster and George H. Follenberg called forth much applause. Miss Gertrude Long sang "Asthore" in a pleasing way and the entertainment closed with a shepherdess drill by seventeen young ladies. A social followed during the progress of which Misses Alva Atkinson and Edith Judd, played delightful selections on the piano.

TROLLEY CAR KILLS A NORTH END BOY

Grover Cleveland Babcock Badly Mangled, but Lived Two Hours.

A PATHETIC DEATH-BED INCIDENT

Little Fellow Realizing His Fate Asked to Be Baptized--He Was Being Chased by Another Boy and Attempted to Dart Across the Track in Front of a Slowly Moving Car. Medical Skill of No Avail--Coroner Will Hold an Inquest.

Grover Cleveland Babcock, an 11-year-old boy of the North End, was run down by a trolley car almost in sight of his home yesterday afternoon and crushed so badly that he died two hours later. Coroner Longstreet impounded a jury on the case and will investigate.

Young Babcock with some other boys was on his way to No. 21 school. An older lad gave chase to him on North Main avenue near the Wood street switch at "Church's Corners." He ran in front of an inward bound car that was waiting on the switch and attempted to dart across the outgoing track in front of a Providence car that had just entered the switch and was moving at a slow rate of speed. Passengers on the front platform of the incoming street car saw the boy and cried out warning. The little fellow was running obliquely across the rails partly in the same direction as that being traveled by the car. He failed to clear the space in front of the trolley and struck his legs and knocked him down on the outer rail. Meanwhile Motorman Wm. Sprague shut off the power and began to apply the brake with all his strength as soon as he saw the boy dart in front of the car. The motorman's effort was too late, however. The fender had passed over the little fellow's prostrate form which was caught beneath the pilot board in front of the wheels. In that position the boy was rolled, crushed and shoved for a distance of about six feet. The wheel did not pass over his body.

BOY CARRIED HOME.

The car was reversed and the semi-conscious lad carried by Conductor E. M. Dobson and passengers into Burns' barber shop. Physicians were summoned but before their arrival the bleeding form was placed on a shutter and carried to his parents' home at 1435 Church avenue. Drs. E. Z. Bower, M. W. Ross, D. H. Jenkins, J. K. Bentley and E. M. Pennypacker appeared in response to the calls of many messengers.

It was found that the lower body was crushed to almost a pulp from the lower part of the abdomen to below the pelvis. The physicians at once realized that their skill would avail nothing and that only death would end the boy's suffering.

For two hours after 1:15 o'clock, when the accident happened, the little fellow lived and was conscious up to about twenty minutes before he died. Almost his last words were: "Papa, send for a minister and have me baptized; I am going to die." The father is Henry F. Babcock, a nephew of the head of the firm of J. Babcock & Co., the Franklin avenue soap and grain dealers, where he is employed.

Coroner Longstreet gave Undertaker Jones permission to prepare the remains for burial and lay them in the evening in the family vault. The body was viewed the day and adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening in the arbitration room of the court house and hear the testimony of the traction company employees and other witnesses. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock, but whether at the house or the Christian church, of which the parents are members, has not been determined.

FUNERAL TOMORROW.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, but whether at the house or the Christian church, of which the parents are members, has not been determined. Immediately after the accident Motorman Sprague and Conductor Dobson were suspended, pending the result of the inquest. Their arrest was not ordered by the coroner. Traction company employees claim the motorman was steady and reliable employee and that the accident was unavoidable.

THE CHERRY PICKERS.

Highly Interesting Drama Seen at the Frothingham Last Night.

"One of the most interesting dramas seen in Scranton this season," was the verdict of those who saw "The Cherry Pickers" at the Frothingham last evening. It is a drama of English military life in India from the pen of Joseph Arthur and is the best thing that playwright has done thus far. Manager Pitou has handsomely staged and mounted it and what is more important has given it into the hands of a company of most competent players. It is not an aggregation of miscellany grouped about a star but an evenly balanced company of experienced players who give a highly satisfactory interpretation of the thrilling story the dramatist tells.

The drama opens in the gardens of the British Residency at Rawul Pindie where a reception is being given for an English military band. The Cherry Pickers from the color of their trousers in a scenic way this act is handsomely embellished. It is here the characters are introduced and the story of the drama outlined. The next act is at Mrs. O'Donnell's hotel in Langlois in a suburb of Rawul Pindie and the third in the fortress at Candahar where one of the most thrilling scenes of the drama is located. John Nazare, a half-caste officer is charged to the command of the fort and a monster brass cannon trained on his body. He is of course rescued by his lady love before the cannon explodes. But the scene is so thrilling and the climax led up to in such an original way as to cause the audience to forget the somewhat conventional rescue.

The fourth and last act is in the Post Dak at Jaldug, fifty miles from Candahar, where the drama is brought to a satisfactory if conventional conclusion. It can be said in all justice for the drama that there is not a dull or uninteresting moment in it neither are there any aggravating, inefficient actors to bungle and spoil the scenes.

The half-caste officer Nazare, the central figure of the drama, is faithfully portrayed by William Harcourt and his vengeful enemy, Col Brough, a fine example of the coward and cad, was so well done by Ralph Delmore that he won unstinted hisses from the gallery. Miss Roselle Knott, was excellent as Nourmaljee, a half-caste who loves Nazare, and Miss Jennie Satterlee made the character of Mrs. O'Donnell-Dulce one of the most interesting of the drama. Miss Ethel Knight-Mallison proved herself a clever INGENUOUS AND R. V. FERGUSON, VERNER CLARKE AND W. P. CARLTON WERE OTHER VERY clever members of the company.

The audience that saw the drama last night was very large. It will be repeated tonight.

MISS PROCTOR'S LECTURE.

Attracted a Good-Sized Audience to the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

A good sized audience at the Young Men's Christian association last night heard a decidedly interesting lecture on astronomy by Miss Mary Proctor, of New York city, daughter of the well-known astronomical scientist of that name. The lecture was illustrated with stereopticon views displayed by Mr. Gray, of Philadelphia.

Miss Proctor's topic was "Astronomy of Other Worlds Than Ours." She introduced the lecture with a discussion of the old theories. A large number of celestial photographs were shown. Tonight Miss Proctor is to lecture in Springfield, Mass.

LAWING OVER A LAUNDRY.

Three Suits Have Been Instituted Within the Past Two Days.

The possession of the West Side laundry is in dispute. Monday afternoon John J. Kelly, Edward Kelly and Martin Kelly brought suit against the counter-claimant, Miles F. Clark, alleging wrongful entry and detainer. In the evening Clark brought a similar suit against the Kellys. Yesterday he supplemented this action with a suit in replevin for the goods and chattels in the laundry.

WORK OF CHARITY BOARD.

Details of the Business Transacted Last Night--Work for the Child-Saving Committee.

The Board of Associated Charities met last evening and went over the work done since the last meeting. There were present Colonel E. H. Rippey, president; Rogers Israel, secretary; W. T. Smith, treasurer; W. Gaylord Thomas, attorney for the board; John Gibbons, T. J. Moore, T. J. Kelly, J. R. Cohen, Mrs. Duggan, agent, and Miss Kiesel, nurse.

The report of Mrs. Duggan, agent, showed that twenty-five cases had come before the board, eight of which were found unworthy. The rest of the report showed that transportation was furnished in three instances, lodging and meals, and that the House of the Good Shepherd, two admitted to the Lackawanna hospital, two six beggars were warned, two cases were reported to the police, two to the district attorney, four persons were sent out of the city, and five children were cared for.

Dr. George L. Blanchard, through the agent, offered his services to the board as regular physician. On motion of Mr. Smith the offer was accepted with thanks. Dr. Blanchard is now the board's authorized physician. Mrs. Duggan stated that the St. Vincent de Paul society had greatly assisted in the work of charity during the past month. The society has begun a movement of its own. Twenty young ladies and as many young gentlemen have been appointed to care for the indigent in the several Catholic parishes of the city.

In reference to the employment of foreigners by Captain Shields, the man in charge of a railroad that is being constructed down the valley, Mrs. Duggan had been informed that Captain Shields had transported 175 foreigners from New York city. He has promised that no more will be brought here and home workmen will be given a chance to fill the remaining jobs.

As was expected, Mrs. Duggan reported the shameful case which was aired in Alderman Miller's court Monday. The children of Mrs. Josephine Icke, who is in jail, will be looked after by the child saving committee. This committee will also care for Arthur Davis, the lad who was arrested yesterday for drunkenness.

A GREAT INNOVATION.

How Enterprising Merchants Boom Their Business in Dull Months of the Year.

The past few days have seen a lively demonstration in one of our model dry goods stores. There is not another line of trade in which competition is as keen as the retail dry goods business and certainly not another in which the public at large is so well posted on prices. The reason for this is a house of this kind in order to reach the top and remain there must make such bargain offerings as will be recognized by everyone as to be truly bargains in every sense of the word.

This means that the aspiring merchant must needs sacrifice some of his stock at times and very often sell far below cost, especially in the dull season. This policy has been followed by every successful merchant of any importance, the intrinsic success of the policy being in the fact that it keeps the business at an even tenor all the year round, and (more important still) gives the consumer an opportunity to purchase goods at prices a conservative house cannot or will not approach.

There is no pretense that the dry goods house in Scranton that will cut prices as quickly as "The Leader" on Wyoming avenue, and surely not another that is patronized so freely on that account.

A bargain sale now going on in that establishment is evidence to the fact.

HOLDS WORLD'S RECORD.

Champion Watson Recommends Paine's Celery.

Professional Athletes Find this Remedy Invaluable in the Spring. Brings Fresh Blood and Regulates the Whole Nervous System.

It is useless to attempt to compare any other remedy with Paine's celery compound. Paine's celery compound is another sort of thing entirely from any substitute that was ever handed over a counter. It puts fresh blood into the shrunken veins, regulates the expenditure of nervous energy, and positively cures general nervous debility and such specific nervous disorders as neuralgia, headache, lassitude—in a word,

Paine's celery compound is able to soundly build up the nervous system and make it healthy and active. Among the testimonials received last month by the proprietors of Paine's celery compound was the following:

Boston, Feb. 8, 1897. Gentlemen--The strongest of athletes sometimes feels languid and drawn out. I have often found myself feeling so more especially in the spring before the outdoor season begins. I have tried many things, but have found nothing that does me so much good as Paine's celery compound. I say this with much pleasure. Respectfully yours,

J. P. Watson.

Mr. Watson is the world's professional champion jumper and pole vaulter. He defeated Tom Borroughs and others at the world's fair in Chicago.

Not long ago Hartberg, the champion steeplechaser, wrote to Wm. Richardson & Company that Paine's celery compound had been of great benefit to him, and said that he wished to recommend the remedy to others.

John Graham, of the Boston Athletic Association, who took the victorious American team to Athens; James Michael, the champion long distance bicyclist, and George Wright of Wright & Ditson, are among those who have recently endorsed this best of all spring remedies. Advice from such men is worth following in a matter of health and strength.

SEASONABLE ADVICE. Things That Should Be Remembered at This Time of Year.

Patrons readers will do well to remember that in these days of spring fever and grip there is no better preventive and cure than the Turkish bath. At M. Purdy's establishment, No. 506 Linden street, all the appliances for first-class service may be found. Steam rooms; shower baths; needle baths; the plunge; and other features are unequalled in this section of the state. The baths are in charge of skilled and polite attendants who are prepared to serve all patrons at any hour, night or day.

If you experience that chilly sensation or feeling of early springtime, try one of Purdy's baths and you will become another man at once.

TWO LINDEN STREET LOTS

They Have Been Purchased by Major Everett Warren, Conrad Schroeder and T. H. Watkins for $52,000.

An important real estate deal has been closed by which Major Everett Warren, Conrad Schroeder and T. H. Watkins have purchased by Dr. L. M. Gates two lots on Linden street opposite the court house. Each lot has a frontage of 25 feet on Linden street and a depth of 120 feet. They are on the opposite corner of Dix court from the new board of trade building and cost their new owners $52,000.

Dr. Gates who disposed of the lots made a handsome profit on them. Three years ago he purchased them for something less than $25,000.

The new owners have not yet decided what kind of a building they will erect on the lots. At present the front of them is covered by two one-story shops. It is said that negotiations are pending with the owners of the adjoining lots to secure a greater frontage on Linden street. Rumor has it that the gentlemen who purchased the gates lots contemplate the erection of a large office and business building, but the frontage of fifty feet they now own is not enough to enable them to erect the kind of a structure they want to put up. If additional land is obtained there will be another notable addition to Scranton's growing number of fine buildings.

There is talk of another large building on the Spruce street side of the square on lots owned by C. J. Davidson and A. D. Dean. They own a piece of land with a 30-foot frontage on Spruce street and a depth of 150 feet which is now partially covered by a two-story structure occupied by Biles on the carriage manufacturer. A preliminary plan and some figuring has been done as to the cost of a modern stone and brick building ten stories high to occupy the entire plot. If the plan to erect this building assumes tangible form it will be the largest building in the city.

Ground has been broken for the new Council building on Washington avenue and a large force of men was engaged yesterday excavating for a foundation basement as well as one of the largest in the city.

SALE OF HOME PROPERTY. Price of $25,000 Has Been Fixed by the Managers.

Mrs. C. P. Matthews, president, and Mrs. E. S. Morfat, secretary, of the Home for the Friendless, were empowered at a meeting of the Home's board of managers yesterday to sign any documents that may be necessary in connection with a sale of the Home building on Adams avenue.

The board has fixed a price of $25,000 on the property. Several prospective buyers have negotiated but their overtures have not assumed a definite form.
