THOMAS EVANS' FUNERAL

Impressive Services Conducted in Plymouth Congregational Church by Revs. Thos. Bell and Peter Richards.

Without ostentation, without a lengthy eulogium, but with a simplicity that was characteristic of the man, the funeral services of the late Thomas Evans were held yesterday afternoon in the Plymouth Congregational church.

The Rev. Thomas Bell, pastor of the church officiated, and was assisted by the Rev. Peter Richards, of Olyphant. In the course of the few simple words expressed by the pastor, he touched upon the strong characteristics which seemed to govern the dead man's every action.

The Rev. Peter Richards spoke feelingly and lovingly of the dead in words that expressed his and others' loss of one who had been a helpful companion on this pilgrimage to the celestial kingdom.

The choir under the leadership of Daniel Mathias, rendered several touching and appropriate selections, and Miss Lily Joseph sang a solo.

The remains were accompanied by a large representation from Stobon lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and the Knights of Pythias, No. 206, of which bodies the deceased was a member.

Among the people who attended from out of town were: Thomas J. Morgan, and W. G. Thomas, West Pittston; Mr. and Mrs. Carver, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, Morgantown, Gwynn M. Williams, Morgan, P. Morgan, Wilkes-Barre; David Pritchard, Susquehanna; Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Bradford; Enoch Evans, New York city.

FIGHT AT BELLEVEUE.

James Barrett of Philadelphia badly cut with a heavy glass.

It was pay-day at some of the West Side collieries on Saturday and in consequence a few more serious incidents occurred. One was a fracas which occurred in Bellevue at about 10:30 p. m.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

Maria Lucio, who was received into the hospital about a week ago suffering from a paralytic stroke, died on Saturday. She was removed to the house of afternoon and evening and filled too freely of the refreshments served by Mr. Davis. In the course of the evening several men dropped and in some way not clearly explained an altercation ensued between the two strangers and the others. One of the two, known as WILL, wanted to settle the differences by hasty methods but before blows were exchanged, he was ejected from the saloon.

They later appeared at the home of Dr. L. H. Gibbs, on South Main avenue, where the wounds of James Barrett, who really was acting as a peace-maker, was dressed and he announced his intention of going with his companion to Philadelphia.

REV. J. H. SWEET'S SERMON.

The subject of the Rev. J. H. Sweet's sermon last evening in the Simpson church was "Belshazzar's Feast." The sermon was the last given in this present conference year and was preached by special request. An audience of between eight and nine hundred persons listened to this able and powerfully given sermon.

The Rev. J. H. Sweet's sermon was a powerful and timely one, dealing with the subject of the "Belshazzar's Feast." He spoke of the beautiful splendor and magnificence of the City of Babylon, its central position, the mecca of powers, how it had conquered all other known nations, and had destroyed Jerusalem and taken captive the Jews.

LEWIS WAS DETERMINED.

John Lewis, of North Rebecca avenue, heard a noise in the lower floor of his home at an early hour Saturday morning and arming himself with a hammer Mr. Lewis went down to meet the foe. He saw a man climb through the dining room door and making for a window in the rear kitchen, Mr. Lewis followed and chased the fellow down the back lot. The man attempted to jump the garden fence but the tall broke and he fell just about the time Lewis reached the spot. Lewis pounced upon him and punned him for dear life. The fellow broke away and started down toward Price street. Unfortunately Lewis was handicapped by a long flowing night robe. At the corner of Sumner avenue and Jackson street Mr. Lewis gave up the chase. Nothing was taken from the house. The burglar had made ingress through a rear window.

WHAT IS YOUR TRADE?

Each Trade or Occupation Has Its Special Disease.

It is well known among medical men that certain diseases are more readily developed in certain occupations than in others. That such an occupation has its attendant physical weakness. Engineers, railroad men and similar occupations suffer mostly from kidney troubles and men who are often exposed to the weather suffer from rheumatism, while clerks and professional men, in fact the army of people whose business keeps them indoors, are often-times great sufferers from piles and constipation.

Mr. A. F. Calhoun, notary public and jeweler and watchmaker of Circleville, W. Va., writes: "I had been a severe sufferer from piles for years and had tried many remedies with but little benefit, when about three years ago I saw the Pyramid Pills Cure advertised and sent for it. I was hardly satisfied when I got them, but after only two applications the piles disappeared and from that day to this I have never felt a symptom of the disease."

I feel that I cannot recommend them too highly to sufferers from piles. The Pyramid Pills Cure is free from cocaine, opium or any mineral poison, absolutely safe, pleasant and painless; sold by druggists at 50 cents per package. If there is any doubt as to the Pyramid Pills should be used with the pure cure. The pills are 25 cents per package.

Any druggist will tell you that the Pyramid is the best known and most successful remedy for piles ever placed on the market and its reputation as a safe and radical cure has only resulted from the personal recommendation of people who have been cured of this distressing ailment.

Send to Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich., for valuable little book on cause and cure of piles.

her son, who resides upon the South side. The funeral services will be held there.

Mathew Mutherin, of Jackson street, suffering from severe injuries, received in the mines. His injuries to the left leg were such as to require a complete amputation, but the doctors are endeavoring by every means to save the limb. The dressing of the limb required forty-two stitches.

Mrs. Dickson, who was operated upon last Friday at the hospital, is improving as well as can be expected and gives promise of full recovery.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Miss Roseanna Davis, a Welsh evangelist, who was expected in Taylor yesterday to conduct services during the day, was detained in New York city, upon her landing Saturday night. Miss Davis is quite ill but expects soon to fill her engagement with the Taylor residents.

The Rev. W. S. Jones, of Washington street, did not preach his farewell sermon last night at the First Welsh Baptist church, as was expected, owing to the sudden decease of his oldest son, Isidor, last evening.

The Rev. J. T. Merris, of South Main avenue, preached a memorial sermon upon the late William D. Roberts, of Bellevue, at the First Welsh Baptist church, last night. It was a touching tribute to the memory and kindly life of the deceased, who had been a faithful member in the church and kind and helpful to him as a pastor.

John Matkiewicz, the domest-d Russian Pole, who drove a cab belonging to one Kelly, from the Central Jersey station around Hyde Park on Saturday night, will be committed to the Hillside home today.

The friends of Miss Bessie Wagstaff, of Bellevue, gathered at her home last Friday evening in honor of the seventeenth anniversary of her birthday. In the course of the evening games and other social amusements were participated in by the guests and a seasonable hour a repast was served. Those who enjoyed Miss Bessie's hospitality were: The Messrs. Caroline and Ida Bryden, Margaret Morgan, Anna and Marie Wagstaff, Annie Leidenor, I. and Marie Lewis, Eiddella Evans, Katie Coombs, May Davis, Gertrude Taylor, Viola Evans, Ida Hughes, Maggie James, Mary Morgan, Annette Williams, Edith Lloyd, the Messrs. George P. Green, Walter Lloyd, Charles Wagstaff, Harry J. Smith, Arthur Green, Thomas Mathias, Harry Ives, John Leidenor, Harry Kostenbender, Harry R. Wademan, Richard H. James, Richard Reese, Edward Peters, Roy Williams, Ernest Mills, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Bryden and Mr. and Mrs. William Wagstaff.

by Dr. P. P. Gunster and Dr. M. J. Williams and pronounced as suffering from acute meningitis. The unfortunate man formerly resided at 113 North Van Buren avenue with a brother.

The Scranton Choral society, Thomas G. Evans conductor, met last evening at the Welsh Baptist church, for a general rehearsal. The society has a strong rehearsal at the Tabernacle church, on Hyde Park avenue, last evening. Daniel Thomas is conductor and reports satisfactory progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brundage have removed from Wilkes-Barre to 215 Eynon street, where they will reside.

Enoch Evans, of New York city, well known among residents of the West Side, is visiting here.

David J. Davis, of South Main avenue, accompanied Mrs. Randolph Jones, of Jackson street, to Tolyhanna on Saturday evening. They were there in the interests of a new Patriotic Order of True American camp soon to be organized, and David made one of his usual brilliant addresses.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Williams and daughter, Miss Jennie, of North Sumner avenue, have returned from Pittston where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Williams' father.

DUNMORE.

Rev. C. H. Hayes occupied his pulpit in the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning for the first time in four months. The reverend gentleman deeply appreciated the many acts of kindness extended to him during his illness, and he sincerely hoped to be soon able to resume his labors among his congregation. It gave him great satisfaction to know that, although he had been stricken down for four weary months, the church had so greatly prospered and was never in a better financial condition than it is at the present. His text was taken from the first book of Corinthians, thirteenth chapter, and the twelfth verse, viz: "For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face; now I know in part, but then shall I know even as also I am known."

PROVIDENCE.

The funeral of Mrs. Ann Street occurred yesterday from her late home, on Mary street. The Rev. W. P. Davis conducted the services. Interment was made in Washington Street cemetery.

Simon Henrich, a merchant doing business on Fifth avenue, was given a hearing Saturday afternoon by Judge Roberts upon charge preferred by Michael Lasek, who claimed that Henrich committed an assault and battery upon him several weeks ago. The hearing was held in $300 bail for appearance at court.

Later Friday evening Patrolman Hawka was summoned to the residence of George Evans, Lafayette street, upon entering the house the officer found George and his brother, Jenkin, having a fist encounter. George was trying his best to defend himself against the savage onslaught of his brother, but was faring quite badly. The officer arrested Jenkin and he was given a hearing Saturday; his brother, however, expressed inability by not appearing against him. The defendant fined him, but having no money, he left his watch and chain for security.

OBITUARY.

William Parick, of Avoca, who was injured where his brother, Michael, was killed, in the Avoca colliery, on Thursday, died during the night. The funeral of the two victims took place on Saturday afternoon and was unusually large one. Several Polish societies and the Avoca Associated society attended in a body. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Gwendoline Hignett, the 25-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hignett, of 109 Price street, died Saturday morning after a brief illness. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Washington Street cemetery.

Mrs. Mary O'Hara, wife of P. C. O'Hara, died on Saturday at the home, at 109 Price street, after a lingering illness of several months. She was a native of a loving disposition and her bereaved husband, who is her only survivor, has the sympathy of many who knew and respected the lady. Mrs. O'Hara was a native of the West Side, having been born there thirty-one years ago. A high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Peter's cathedral on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. M. A. Collins, mother of M. W. Collins, 840 North Main street, died Monday morning at Philadelphia from the effects of a paralytic stroke. Mr. Collins was at her bedside when she departed. The deceased formerly resided here. She is survived also by Mrs. A. P. Maloney, of Philadelphia. The funeral will be Wednesday morning; services at Philadelphia.

Isidrous, the young son of the Rev. W. S. Jones and wife, of Washington street, died suddenly yesterday evening after a short illness from measles and stomach trouble. Funeral announcement will be made later.

Violet, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hughes, of 1215 Luzerne street, died at her home on Saturday afternoon. The funeral services will be held at the residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Washington Street cemetery.

ONE MINUTE. We want to talk about your spring overcoat. If you would follow fashion closely, cling to us. Few stores even pretend to carry the assortment we show. For reputation's sake we must sell them at the very lowest prices. Not the lowest for ANY overcoat. But easily the lowest for SUCH a one. We clinch the argument when we show you this coat. Made of the popular Covert cloth. And well made. Somehow these have the right "hang" to them. They don't wrinkle across the back. Nor around the shoulders. Nor is there any wrinkle in your forehead when you hear the price, $8.00. It would be a shame not to mention the line of spring suits we are showing. But since we haven't space to speak of all today, we ask you to step in when you're down and see what Scranton's foremost clothiers have to show in garb for spring. SAMTER BROS.
