JIM CORBETT IN A SCRANTON UNIFORM

Played Well, but Didn't Check the Miners' Slide.

PROVIDENCE BAGGED THE GAME

Champion Jim Attracted Over 3,000 Persons to Athletic Park, Where He Punched McVey and Showed That He Could Play the National Game Passably Well--The Miners Were Never in the Hunt on Their Two Hits Off Braun.

James J. Corbett--"Jim," Gentleman "Jim"--and Scranton were unable to shake off their hoodoo yesterday. James came all the way from New York city in a parlor car just to help his friend Sandy win a game, but the game wouldn't be won for Scranton. Of course the $400 guarantee had nothing to do with Corbett's presence here, or of Manager "Billy" Brady's watchfulness at the gate, as those were only the things usually incidental to Corbett's appearance for the benefit of a gaping public. Corbett played first base for Scranton and played well, but he went down with the rest of the miners because the whole lot of them could gather only two hits off Braun in nine uneventful innings.

Financially the thing was a success. A few more than 2,000 persons paid admission at the gates and 1,000 of those bought seats in the grandstand at 25 cents per. That netted a total of $1,625, out of which there was a divvy of $400 to Corbett and $100 to the Providence club. So the day was not altogether bad even though the champion Grays did bag the victory.

CROWD TO MEET HIM.

Corbett reached here on the 1:42 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western afternoon train at New York. He was accompanied by his manager, W. A. Brady; his sparring partner, McVey, and E. W. Roberts, a young gentleman who earns a fair salary as valet de chambre and rubber-down to the erstwhile champion. The spot platform was jammed with people when the train rolled in. When the Corbett party alighted they were surrounded by a pushing, clamorous throng and it was only by extreme difficulty that they made their way to a cab and were driven to the hotel. The ex-champion was dressed fashionably, but in extreme good taste. He wore a tight fitting dark blue serge sack suit, a straw hat with a fancy band, white linen and patent leathers, carried a cane and was wearing a big black cigar when he arrived. After being shown to his room at the hotel he received a party of reporters and talked freely with them before dressing for the game.

When Corbett entered the park he was held up by a troop of gamins and a chorus of "Hello Jims," "You're de stuffs," and the like. He gathered a little fellow under each arm and with the other young admirers clinging to every loose spot on his uniform trotted to the dressing room entrance to the field.

He admitted early in the afternoon that he had practiced this season only one day and that at the polo grounds last week. A little daily exercise with dumb bells and push weights, he said, had been his only manual work since the Carson City matinee. It was a surprise then that he played such a good game. His performance was not on the professional order, of course, but he covered the initial bag with as much ginger and proclivity as would a crack amateur first-baseman.

SPARRED THREE ROUNDS.

At 3:45 o'clock McVey and Corbett sparred three rounds of irregular lengths and waits. McVey was tired in a maroon colored suit of lights and Corbett in his base ball uniform. The sparring had evidently been planned to show Corbett instead of his partner, but it pleased the crowd and the tameness of the affair was witnessed by the sight of a trickling of blood from McVey's nose at the conclusion of the exhibition.

Corbett had ten felling chances in the game and accepted each of them. All were putouts on infield assists and two were difficult pick-ups of fast fielded grounders. In his three times at bat he first went out on an assist from Weigand to Drauby, was fanned the second time up and finally went out on a pop fly to Cooney. He was hit by two bases on balls and Drauby's error, which permitted three men to get on the circuit. Not a Scrantonian reached third.

It was the first time this season that Scranton has been shut out, but with an absence of hitting it would be hard to figure how the result could have been different, although a little sharper fielding would have prevented the Grays from getting two of their seven runs. Gilson puzled them more than the result shows. Six hits for eight bases is pretty good pitching, but Gilson's bases on balls were costly as were the bunched errors of Bonner and Maguire in the sixth inning.

That's about all there is to tell about the game, excepting the work of Knight, Coogan and Cooney, whose fast playing made unexpected outs and possibly robbed the Miners of chances to tally. The score:

AN UP TO DATE SMOKE

AMORITA MENTHOL

101 WALL ST. NEW YORK

Ponies later and Meany will do the turn in the box.

Following is a table showing the total runs, hits and errors made by the Miners and opposing clubs while on the trip:

Scranton.....	45	35	15
Opponents.....	68	100	35

That is an average of about 8 runs, 9 1/2 hits and 1 1/2 errors for the Miners per game, and 7 runs, 10 1/2 hits and 2 errors for their opponents. With such a record in figures, but with 9 games lost out of 50 played, the only conclusion is that the other clubs have played the faster. In Buffalo and Toronto the Miners were excused, but on the whole the club has been somewhere. Griffin should and probably will use the axe without fear or favor in setting things to rights.

ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Sunday Games Scheduled for the Athletics Are Changed.

Philadelphia, June 16.--A special meeting of the board of directors of the Atlantic league was held here today to rearrange the Sunday schedule of the Athletic club. The Athletics have been unable to secure suitable grounds at Gloucester, N. J., where they were scheduled to play Sunday games, and the directors today gave authority to the club to play these games at Newark and Paterson on the dates originally scheduled for Gloucester.

Lancaster-Norfolk.

Lancaster, June 16.--Lancaster broke two games with Norfolk today and played even, winning the first and losing the second. The game between the two clubs in the first game kept the visitors guessing, while Newton was an easy mark. The conditions were reversed in the second. Norfolk was trounced merely by Norfolk. IS BRADY BLUFFING?

Says He Is After the St. Louis Franchise for Cooney.

"Billy" Brady, Corbett's manager, announced to a group of friends last night that he had made an offer for the St. Louis National league base ball franchise and was daily expecting an answer to his proposition.

Brady remarked that it was his purpose to make Corbett the manager and first baseman of the team. It was his opinion that Corbett would not only prove a money making drawing card, but would develop into a fine first baseman.

The Corbett party remained at the St. Charles hotel last night and will leave for New York city this morning. Corbett, Brady and Manager Griffin played billiards in Backus' parlors early last evening and later at the Wide-Awake parlors on Penn avenue.

Corbett is being looked for by managers of base ball games in minor leagues. Brady tried unsuccessfully for Corbett to play in Wilkes-Barre, but the Wilkes-Barre management declined to deal.

HODKIN'S WHEEL WAS SMASHED.

Wants to Recover $74.55 Damages to Make Good His Loss.

William Hodkin made another effort yesterday to obtain pay for damages done to his bicycle last April on South Main avenue, West Side. Hodkin was riding along when he was run down by Antonio Pasco, who was driving a stone wagon, which ran over Hodkin's wheel.

Hodkin sued Pasco for the damage done, but Alderman Howe dismissed the case. Now Hodkin sues Salvator Magnotta, who at that time was the employer of the boy Pasco. Hodkin wanted damages in the sum of $74.55, a great part of the horse tied to a post on the sidewalk by him while his wheel was being repaired.

Attorney Dawson appeared for Magnotta and Attorney Dale for Hodkin. Alderman Howe reserved judgment.

YESTERDAY'S "BIKE" ACCIDENTS.

Two Prominent Citizens Injured While Riding Bicycles.

Two persons were injured in this city yesterday by bicycle accidents. W. S. Cook, the Latin street carriage man, was riding in front of his place of business yesterday morning, when the head broke and Mr. Gould was precipitated to the pavement. In falling he was struck in the groin by the frame of the machine. He is hardly able to walk.

Cramer Von Storch, of the North End, was thrown from his bicycle while wheeling along Main avenue yesterday morning. His right hip was fractured and he was otherwise hurt.

ALLEN-GARDNER BOUT.

Has Been Arranged for Monday Night in Music Hall.

The final arrangements have been made for the ten-round bout between Joe Allen and Toby Gardner. They will meet Monday night at Music Hall. The bout is being held in honor of the work preparatory to the final training for the event and will enter the ring fit to battle and settle the question of supremacy, a disputed point among their followers for over a year.

Reliminary bouts have been arranged between Jim Fields, Joe Healy, George Ward, and "Jack" Tighe, of the South Side; Thomas Kenny and John Connors. There will be another curtain riser between prominent local boxers.

Maher will go against the California for a side bet of $5,000, or any amount above that may be agreed upon.

CORBETT SCARED HIM.

Riley Edwards' Horse Runs Away with a Pair of Trousers.

Riley Edwards, the Linden street livery man, had a runaway yesterday. Bauer's band and its music is at the bottom of the whole affair. Mr. Edwards' horse, which was being driven to Pittston avenue yesterday afternoon while he was inside a house. A street car came along in which was Bauer's band, making a go-to-see-Corbett tour of the city.

Edwards' banners, the rumble of the car, the name of "Corbett" and the music was too much for the horse so he escaped, breaking the strap.

The animal ran down Maple street to Cedar avenue, to Lackawanna avenue, and disappeared. The buggy struck a telegraph pole and was demolished. The horse was cut up a bit.

Mr. Edwards could stand all this, but a choice pair of trousers also disappeared from the buggy en route.

AT BINGHAMTON

Bicycle Races

Bald Easily Defeated Tom Cooper in the Mile Open.

ALL THE CRACKS WERE THERE

Louis Callahan, of Buffalo, Was the Only Heavily Handicapped Rider to Get a Place in the Two-Mile Handicap--Dawson, of Columbia, Won the College Mile-Open--Large Fields of Starters and Many Tests.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 16.--The state circuit bicycle meet held here today. This circuit offers races throughout the state each day this week and is, on account of the exceedingly short jumps, a very desirable one. All the cracks except Earl Kiser are following it.

Bald today again defeated Cooper in the mile open, winning out with ease. Cooper was second, with Church a close third. The Scranton men were unable to land anything in the two-mile handicap and the only short mark rider able to win in this event was Louis Callahan, of Buffalo. He rode with the short mark men, who made repeated efforts to close the wide space between themselves and the fellows away out.

At a meeting of the Wilkes-Barre stockholders Tuesday night financial plans were made which suggests the probability that the club will finish the season. The Wilkes-Barre papers say so, anyhow.

Whitehill, the Springfield pitcher, was selected to umpire for one of his Powers failed to receive Manager Griffin's telegram of Tuesday asking that someone be assigned for the game. Whitehill was not at hand.

The wall of the feeble-hearted crank who has a vision of last place is abroad in the city. A month ago he was the real thing, but the long string of defeats is more than the weak-kneed fan can bear. Knocking is his only resort.

A typhoon of some kind is doing trouble the equality of the Providence team, so old and well-seasoned are the players. Few minor league teams can boast such a galaxy of veterans as Deauby, Cooney, Bassett, Knight, Lyons and Murray--Buffalo Express.

The Young Standard says of Maguire: "Byron Hamlet Maguire has no superior on third base in the Eastern league. He is a graduate of the State league of last year and for one of his experience in good company plays a good game. He is a comer."

It required a surgeon and five stitches to mend Jim Fields' face presentable after being hit with that sociologist in the Buffalo-Providence game on Monday. While playing for New York a few years ago he was put out of the game for a month for trying to stop a pitched ball with his head.
