PRETTY JUNE WEDDINGS.

Marriage of William L. Reese and Miss Isabel Davis.

Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David P. Lewis on Park street their granddaughter, William L. Reese, the bride, stood under a floral arch, the bride being attended by her sister Miss Jennie Davis, and Richard Davis, a cousin, acted as best man. Miss Grace Williams was flower girl. The bride and maid wore gowns of light blue with lace and ribbon trimmings, and the flower girl was dressed in white. Rev. William Survival, of Jermy, performed the marriage ceremony, after which a reception was held. Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Abraham Jacobs, Albert Cogan, James Williams, Richard L. Davis, David Lewis, William J. Davis, Misses Jennie Davis, Mildred Davis, Nellie Thomas, Emmaline Matthews, Katie Davis, Besse Davis, Jennie Jacobs, Jennie Williams, Mary Jacobs, Jane Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. Reese will remain for the present with grandparents of the bride.

A Telegram Social.

A delightful evening was passed by the Trinity guild and their friends on Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Purple of Salem avenue. Musical selections were rendered by Mrs. Hannah Leonard, Professor Hessler, W. D. Leonard and William Helmes. Much amusement was occasioned by attempts to fill out a telegram blank, which contained only the first letter of each word. Mrs. Leonard alone was successful in giving the correct sentence. She received a silver paper cutter as a prize. Mrs. Berry deciphered the telegram with the exception of one word. The entertainment was a success socially and financially.
