CELEBRATION ON HISTORIC GROUND

Ceremonies on Independence Hall Square, Philadelphia.

EX-MINISTER BAYARD IS ORATOR

School Children Sing Patriotic Songs and the Declaration of Independence is Read—Mr. Bayard Argues Against Theories That Tend to Derange Our Currency.

Philadelphia, July 5.—The Pennsylvania branch of the Society of the War of 1812 today celebrated the one hundred and twenty-first anniversary of the nation's birth by appropriate public exercises.

Speaking particularly of the currency of a country is like unto a poisoning of the life blood of a man, and no greater calamity can await us than a deranged currency will confuse and demoralize every transaction in life great and small from the payment of the daily wages of labor to the financial arrangements to carry out the business and contracts of a country upon a currency which is not firmly anchored upon a stable standard and measure of value is to ensure ruin and disaster to every member of society.

ONE DOCTOR SUES ANOTHER.

Claims $50,000 for Alienation of His Wife's Affections.

New York, July 5.—Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, of No. 114 West Fifty-third street, has brought suit for $50,000 damages against Dr. William Stevens, of No. 70 West Fifty-second street, for alienating the affections of his wife.

Dr. and Mrs. Mohr were married seven years in Baltimore. While Dr. Mohr was practicing in Newport, R. I. during the spring of 1896, his wife came to this city and went to live at a boarding house at No. 135 West Forty-first street. Dr. Stevens had rooms at the same place.

"When I came here from Newport last fall my wife did return to live with me," said Dr. Mohr.

"At that time I only had suspicions. My wife has obtained money from Dr. Stevens, and I have been told that he promised her a house."

Dr. Stevens denied that he ever had given Mrs. Mohr any money or had promised her a house.

Dr. Mohr's attorney, William Greenleaf, of No. 100 Broadway, showed what purports to be a confession from Mrs. Mohr implicating Dr. Stevens. Mr. Greenleaf said that two days after Dr. Mohr got his wife's confession the attorney for Dr. Stevens was begun. Mr. Greenleaf said also that Dr. Mohr would institute divorce proceedings, naming Dr. Stevens as co-defendant.

PREFERRED HIS FATHER.

Boy Disregards the Court's Order to Go to His Mother.

Norristown, July 5.—Judge Wand yesterday decided that Mrs. Mary Reinhardt, formerly of Fatland, should have the custody of her 9-year-old son now in care of his father, Henry Reinhardt.

The parents became separated last fall. The father and son appeared in court and when the court announced its decision young Reinhardt clung desperately to the arms of his father and frantically pleaded to remain with him.

"For a time there was a scene in the court room. In vain the mother pleaded with the boy. The more she coaxed the tighter grip he took upon his father's arm. Mrs. Reinhardt's lawyer then reached for the boy only to be repulsed by the father, who told the attorney that he had no business to interfere, remarking that if the boy insisted in going with him, in preference to his mother, he would stand by him to the last."

When the mother saw that her recourse to law was vain, she asked for a parting kiss, which he gave reluctantly. Mrs. Reinhardt now resides in Philadelphia.

CYCLER'S SUDDEN DEATH.

John Shad Falls Off His Wheel and Lives but a Few Moments.

Philadelphia, July 5.—John Shad, 46 years, 2527 Huntington street, fell from his bicycle at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at Thirteenth street and Lehigh avenue and died a few minutes later.

There were several witnesses to the affair, among them H. Dager, of Twenty-first and Lehigh avenue; Frank Leach, of Twenty-fourth and Sudon streets; and Charles Noelle, of 2527 Huntington street, but it is not known whether Shad was killed by the fall from his wheel or whether his death was produced by natural causes. Shad's head struck the pavement and was badly bruised. The body was taken home and the coroner notified.

RAN DOWN AN ALLEGED THIEF.

Charles Rogolski Charged Detective to His Own Advantage.

Media, July 5.—Mrs. Felix Charnecky, a boarding house keeper at Carlington, was held in $500 bail by "Squire Naun yesterday, on the charge of receiving $215 of stolen money belonging to one of her boarders, Charles Rogolski, and with conspiracy to aid her brother, John Linoosky, to get away with the cash. Linoosky was arrested at Baltimore, where he was preparing a ship to Bremen.

Rogolski, the victim, proved himself a shrewd detective in working up the case. He had little to work upon at the start, but he suspected that the money would be exchanged for foreign money. He went to the money exchange office in Philadelphia and discovered where a woman answering Mrs. Charnecky's description, had received foreign money for about $200. She had told him that she wanted the money for her brother, who was about to sail for Germany from Baltimore. Rogolski, after a search, found a woman under arrest, started from Baltimore and arrived just in the nick of time. Linoosky had his ticket bought and his steamer would have been off in an hour. Foreign money, equal to what the boarder took was found on the accused, less the price of his ticket.

Restoratives were applied to the child and she soon was able to play about the house during the late afternoon and the evening. Yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Moriarity attempted to awaken the child she discovered that she was dead.
