TOBACCO SMOKING.

One Million Tons a Year Goes Up in Smoke in All Countries of Globe.

Spain is not a wealthy country, and her 4 per cent. bonds, guaranteed by the government and protected by the security of public property and the revenues from customs and local taxes, are selling at 55 cents on the dollar. But the people of Spain last year (and not the male inhabitants of the Spanish peninsula exclusively) smoked $11,000,000 worth of tobacco, an average of $1.80 for each inhabitant. The total consumption of tobacco in Spain in a year for cigarettes (which are very popular), cigars and snuff is twenty thousand tons, the same quantity that is consumed in Italy, a country with nearly twice the population of Spain. The Spaniards are greater smokers than the Italians, as those figures show, and the fact that it may be added, a much better quality of tobacco, or more properly speaking, they use more of the better quality. One-third of the tobacco used in Italy is raised, so to speak, on the premises, and its excellence is such that there is a large foreign demand for it.

The consumption of tobacco in the United Kingdom amounts in a year to about 25,000 tons and in France to 40,000 tons, a disparity which is much greater than the difference in population, and has been steadily growing of late years. At the beginning of the present century more tobacco was used per capita in England than in France, but gradually and steadily the French per capita consumption has increased, owing to the fact that for more than eighty years the sale of tobacco in any form in France has been a government monopoly, the profits from which have gone toward the reduction of taxation, and the business of which has been greatly stimulated by legislation. An enormous quantity of tobacco, amounting in a year to 75,000 tons, is consumed in Germany, and the Germans, it is to be observed, are rather pipe than cigarette smokers, and tobacco in Germany being the chief item of demand, Germany raises about 40 per cent. of the tobacco which its people use and imports the other 60. Germany is the country of pipe smokers as the United States are, beyond all other countries, the land of cigar smokers. And when the figures of foreign countries are compared with those of the United States, the extent of the American consumption may be judged readily.

There were collected as revenue last year by the Treasury department taxes on tobacco to the amount of $30,000,000—$12,500,000 on cigars, $1,600,000 on cigarettes, $850,000 on snuff, and the balance, $15,250,000, on smoking and chewing tobacco. The American production of tobacco in 1900 was 250,000 tons, and the amount of the whole tobacco product of the world, the exports of American tobacco are about 150,000 tons, of which Holland, Belgium, England and Germany are the chief consumers. The imports of tobacco into the United States, chiefly from Cuba and from the Dutch possessions, amount to 15,000 tons in a year. Since the beginning of the Cuban war the amount of tobacco imported has decreased. Holland uses in proportion to her population more tobacco than does any other country in the world, the average consumption being 100 ounces a year for each inhabitant. Belgium averages 80, Turkey 70, and the United States about 60. Although the habit is no longer so generally diffused as it once was, the United States hold the unenviable position of being first among the nations in the amount of chewing tobacco used.

Rheumatism Cured in 24 Hours. T. J. Beckmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of 'MYSTIC CURE.' It got me out of the house in twenty-four hours. I took to my bed with rheumatism nine months ago and the 'MYSTIC CURE' is the only medicine that did me good. I had tried of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the 'MYSTIC CURE' to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers. Sold by Carl Lorenz, druggist, 418 Lackawanna ave., Scranton.

A SOFT ANSWER. From the Cleveland Plain Dealer. At a little up-town card party a night or two ago what was the game. All the players were experts except one lady, who played in the object of the game, and finally, with diamonds trumps, she trumped clubs the first time round. A little later on she herself led a small club.

"Why, hold on," said the other lady; "you just now trumped my ace of clubs!" "Yes," said the club trumper, "I remembered—wasn't I lucky?"

"What can you say to a player like that?"
