

M. NORTON,

Bookseller, Stationer, And Dealer in Artists materials, Draughtsmen's materials, Wall decorations, Window shades, Lamps and fancy Art goods, Scranton City Maps, Scranton City Guides, Scranton City Directory, Scranton City History, Periodicals and Newspapers. 222 Lackawanna Ave.

Have a Cigar?

Thanks—Don't care if I do. Ah this is a Popular Punch I'm in luck. It's my favorite.

Garney, Brown & Co.

Nortman & Moore FIRE INSURANCE, 120 Wyoming Ave.

Well Tested and with One Acclaim the Public Proclaims Lackawanna, THE LAUNDRY. Established 1885. 208 Penn Avenue. A. B. WARMAN.

DR. W. B. HENWOOD, DENTIST, 316 LACKAWANNA AVE.

CHAS. McMULLEN & CO. Have opened a General Insurance Office in The Traders' National Bank Bldg. Best Stock Companies represented. Large Losses especially solicited. Telephone 1861.

UNION LABEL BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Scranton isn't adding to what may be termed an enviable reputation, as her fame goes abroad over the nation. People afar off are already convinced that the whole town is in continued danger of tumbling down several hundred feet into the mines, while the rumors of Sunday christenings, weddings, funerals, etc., with the usual accompaniments, becomes very gory indeed as they travel. Now when the story of a falling window is heralded abroad, with the customary exaggerations, readers at distant points will be persuaded that Scranton is exceedingly shaky, when the fact is, it is a very safe city, indeed, for a dwelling place.

BOY FATALLY INJURED.

He Was Crossing Penn Avenue and Was Accidentally Knocked in Front of a Trolley Car. While attempting to avoid a collision with a bicycle on Penn avenue yesterday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock, three-year-old Albert Denier was thrown beneath a trolley car and his right foot badly crushed. The toes were severed from the foot. He died from his injuries at the Lackawanna hospital at 5.15 o'clock, never recovering consciousness. The little fellow was playing with some companions on the sidewalk in front of C. S. Seaman's grocery store at 309 Penn avenue, and had run out into the street. A Providence car, No. 159, manned by Motorman Enoch Evans and Conductor William McAndrew was coming up the street and at the same moment two young men rode along on their wheels. Albert tried to get to the sidewalk and succeeded in avoiding the first wheel ridden by S. R. Ward, of Park Place, but ran directly against the second wheel, ridden by Harry Stevens, of Green Ridge. Mr. Stevens was thrown from his wheel and the boy rolled back toward the track with his legs directly beneath the on-coming car. The fallen wheelman made an attempt to pull the boy away and Motorman Evans brought the car to a stop inside of twenty feet, but the little fellow's right foot had been caught and crushed, the toes being severed. Neither car nor wheelmen were moving very fast and the accident happened so suddenly as to be unavoidable. The injured boy was picked up by B. Atlas, who keeps a feed store opposite and was taken to the hospital. He is a son of Mr. Denier, storekeeper at 326 Penn avenue, and residing at 327 Penn avenue. His other injuries consisted of a small cut near the right temple, and several contused wounds about his body.

PERSONAL.

Attorney W. F. Boyle is in New York city. Mrs. Henrietta Ritz, of Ashland, is visiting her son, Dr. R. J. Ritz, of Cedar avenue. Carl Lorenz, of Webster avenue, is visiting friends at Sayre. Rev. Thomas Brebony, of Eckley, spent yesterday in this city. Miss Etie Snyder, of Berwick, is visiting friends on Quincy avenue. Rev. J. A. Whelan, of Lawrence, Mass., is visiting his mother on Prospect avenue. Harry Smith and Harold Gillespie, returned yesterday from Lake Winola. Miss Mamie Ruddy, of Penn avenue, has returned from a trip to the seashore. Mrs. George N. Zink, of Green Ridge, is visiting Miss Nera Sherwood at Falls, Pa. Miss Annie McDonnell, of Fourth street, is spending a few days with Binghamton friends. Hon. T. V. Powderly, commissioner general of immigration, is in the city for a few days. Thomas A. Edwards and daughter, Miss Sadie, of Edwardsville, visited friends here yesterday. The Misses Walsh, of Olive street, are entertaining Mrs. Robert P. Walsh, of New York city. Myer Davidson, the Lackawanna avenue shoe merchant, spent yesterday in New York city. James J. Long, of Philadelphia, is the guest of Mrs. P. McCrea, of Prescott avenue. Miss Mary Scott has returned to her home on Hemlock street after a visit with friends at Falls. Misses Anne and Jennie Ryan, of the North End, are spending their vacation at Niagara Falls. Mrs. J. E. Kern and son, Robert, returned last evening from a stay of three weeks at Hackettstown, N. J. Miss Mary Lavelle, of Emmet street, left yesterday on a vacation trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. Mr. and Mrs. George Benore left yesterday for a two weeks' trip through New York state and Canada. Harry Reinhart, of "bicycle pump fame," has returned from Lake Winola, after a two weeks' vacation. Miss Warner and Miss Sweet, of Conolly & Wallace, have returned home from Wilkes-Barre and Harvey's Lake. Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Woodward, of Dunmore, started yesterday for Penn avenue, where they will spend several days. Miss Annie Nallin, of Hawley, returned to her home yesterday after a two weeks' visit to the Misses Ruddy, of Penn avenue. Mr. E. E. Southworth, the musical director, has gone to his old home in Susquehanna county, to attend a family reunion. Miss Elizabeth Dickson, of Waverly, has returned home after a visit at the residence of R. W. Palmer, of Webster avenue. Wiam Roberts and Eva Mellon, both of Jersey, were married yesterday afternoon by Rev. Richard Hiorns, both of Pine street. Miss Clara Chapin and Miss Mamie Chapin, of Wyoming, Pa., are spending a few days with Mrs. B. E. Cowles, of Quincy avenue. Miss Mamie Duffy, of the North End, and Miss Fannie Tyrrell, of Second street, left yesterday to visit friends at Paterson, N. J., and New York city. Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Woodward, of Dunmore, and Editor Harry W. Dony, of the Avoca Argus, are spending this week at Oswego, on Lake Ontario. The engagement is announced of Parker J. Sullivan, of Troy, N. Y., and Miss Mary A. Latta, of Mulberry street, this city, formerly of Honesdale. Mrs. A. B. Hazlett, formerly Miss Kittie Brown, and family, of Philadelphia, who have been summering at Lake Ariel, are visiting Mrs. Hazlett's mother, Mrs. J. M. Brown, of Capouse avenue. Richard Dell, of Woodbury, N. J., has been camping at Lake Ariel for several months, and is having great success in bass fishing. He landed a bass weighing four pounds and was twenty-four inches long, yesterday. The Misses Elsie Keller, Laura Nebel, Gertie Lloyd, Ethel Pearl and Leila Porter, Lou Deppen, Lida Weaver and May Hill Swartz, who comprised the party occupying "Fernland" cottage, at Lake Winola, for the past few weeks, returned last evening. Monday evening, a very enjoyable time was spent at the residence of J. J. Schlotterbeck, 712 Adams avenue, when J. Frank Richards entertained his friends, W. B. Mosteller and R. C. Miller, of Milton, Pa. Among those present were: Miss Adams, Miss Minnie Gand, Miss Josephine Denker, Mr. Charles Adams, Miss Nellie Hornback, Miss Cora and Mary Richards, Mr. Harry Stanton, Miss Maud Field, Mr. Webster, Mr. Harry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hollander, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kamer and M. F. Frazer.

BORN.

BRIGGS—In Scranton, Aug. 16, 1897, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Briggs, a daughter.

DIED.

HUMMELER—In Scranton, August 16, 1897, Mary A. Hummeler, aged 64 years, funeral Wednesday, August 18, at 9 a. m., from 211 Willow street. MORATH—In Scranton, August 17, 1897, James McGrath, aged 28 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McGrath, of 125 Prospect avenue. WALSH—In Scranton, August 16, 1897, Mrs. Ellen Walsh, 24 North Ninth street, funeral tomorrow at 9 a. m., High street, St. Patrick at 10. Interment in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

LOCAL G. A. R. MEN WILL GO TO BUFFALO National Encampment to be Held in That City Next Month. PLANS OF THE SCRANTON MEN They Have Arranged for a Special Train Which Will Leave This City at 10 O'clock Monday Morning. Bauer's Band Will Accompany the Party—General J. P. S. Gobin of Lebanon, a Candidate for Commander-in-Chief. It is quite probable that a large number of the members of Grand Army of the Republic posts of the city and surrounding territory will attend the national encampment of the Grand Army Republic at Buffalo next week. About a month ago, General Ezra Griffin post, No. 139, voted to attend in a body and invitations were sent out requesting the company of other posts. A special train will leave the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot at 10 o'clock Monday morning, Aug. 23, and will stop at all stations between here and Binghamton. This will give any one residing along this route an opportunity to take this train. Bauer's band will accompany Lieutenant Ezra Griffin post, No. 139, of which Asa E. Stevens will be commander. It is expected that Colonel Monies post, No. 319, will also attend in a body. Captain P. J. McAndrew in charge. William Davis post of Carbondale will also accompany the Scranton veterans. Word has been received here that free accommodations will be furnished those who care to put up with a little inconvenience. Public school No. 45, of Buffalo, will be utilized and 250 can be comfortably taken care of there. Coats, etc. will be furnished, but those intending to take advantage of this arrangement must carry blanket and towels along. The train will arrive in Buffalo about 6 p. m., and it is expected that those who accompany Lieutenant Ezra Griffin post will join with the Post in the parade on Thursday, following. Bauer's band will lead.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building. The draft thus created caused the front window to slam and break. The pane then loosened the frame from its frame and causing it to drop to the street. Contact with telegraph wires and other obstructions broke the glass into smaller pieces as it was falling. One large piece, however, found its way past the obstructions and it was this that struck Miss Judge. It smashed into a hundred fragments when it landed on the sidewalk. Miss Judge was to have returned home this morning. A farewell party in her honor was arranged by her cousin, Miss Ruane, for last night.

GENERAL J. P. S. GOBIN.

May Be the Next Commander in Chief of Grand Army of Republic.

WEEK'S PROGRAMME.

Following is the week's programme to be carried out at Buffalo: Sunday, Aug. 22—Special services in the churches. Monday—Reception to Commander-in-Chief Thaddeus S. Clarkson upon his arrival with his staff. Evening civil and military reception to the commander. Tuesday—Parade of the Naval Veterans and the Sons of the American Revolution of War. In the evening there will be an illuminated bicycle parade. There will be fifty reunions of veterans this day. Wednesday—The great Grand Army of the Republic will parade. It is anticipated there will be 7,000 men in line. President McKinley will review the procession along with Commander-in-Chief Clarkson. In the evening there will be several camps, one of them the president will make a speech. All the camps will be held at army camps. Thursday—Parade of the National Guard. There will be 100 reunions this day. There will be camps in the evening and open air concert. During the week there will be numerous excursions on Lake Erie, to Niagara Falls and in other directions. There will also be national conventions held by the Grand Army, Naval Veterans' association, Grand Army Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., ex-Prisoners of War and by the colored veterans and other societies. GOBIN A CANDIDATE. Pennsylvania will present the name of General John P. S. Gobin, of Post 42, Lebanon, a past department commander for the convention and commander-in-chief. There will be several other candidates, but it is believed that General Gobin will be elected. Shipmate Daniel F. Kelley, commander of the Philadelphia association of National Naval Veterans, No. 32, will be presented to the convention as a candidate for the office of rear admiral, which is the highest office in the gift of his shipmates. The Naval Veterans will ask the Grand Army Encampment to select Shipmate Francis B. Allen for the position of junior vice-commander-in-chief. The name of Mrs. Julia P. Shade, of Philadelphia, a past department president of Pennsylvania Ladies of the G. A. R., will be a candidate at the national convention, and it is believed she will be successful. Mrs. Shade since joining the organization, seven years ago, has been indefatigable in her efforts to further the interests of the order. She filled with ability the offices of senior vice-department president, department president and department counselor of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Shade was the founder of the Home for Veteran and Wife, at Sixty-fifth and Vine streets, Philadelphia, three years ago and has been its only president.

OF INTEREST HERE.

AMONG the conventions of special interest to Pennsylvanians that will be held at Buffalo, will be that of the Twentieth army corps, commanded at one time by General Joseph Hooker, and later by General H. W. Stocum. It will be held on Thursday morning, August 28, at 9 o'clock, in the big tent at Camp Jewett. The veterans of the Eleventh, Twelfth and Twentieth corps are eligible to membership. Dr. Lawrence Wilson, formerly sergeant of Company B, Seventh Ohio, will preside. Cincinnati may be the place selected for the next national encampment, although Denver will make an effort to be selected.

USURY AND INTemperance.

They Were Discussed by Mr. Williams and Rev. Dr. Bird. About two dozen people, exclusive of the two speakers, met in the Carter building last night to hear the debate on the question, "Resolved, That the manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks is a greater evil than taking usury." In the negative side Mr. Williams, of Dunmore, spoke earnestly against loan associations, which he declared not only bought the judges, but often also bought the preachers. He told his listeners that usury was the great curse of the land and the cause of all the hard times. Editors and philanthropists had given up in despair their conscientious efforts to reform the abuse of legal money-getting. He asserted that usury has some good features, while the drink habit has not one. The widow who is left with a few thousand dollars well invested, finds the interest of that sum is a great comfort and strength. She would not so readily drink and wait acquired by her son reclining across the threshold was in any way a comfort. Scranton's wealth was acquired by payment of interest. The interest rates are a mutual benefit every time.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building. The draft thus created caused the front window to slam and break. The pane then loosened the frame from its frame and causing it to drop to the street. Contact with telegraph wires and other obstructions broke the glass into smaller pieces as it was falling. One large piece, however, found its way past the obstructions and it was this that struck Miss Judge. It smashed into a hundred fragments when it landed on the sidewalk. Miss Judge was to have returned home this morning. A farewell party in her honor was arranged by her cousin, Miss Ruane, for last night.

GENERAL J. P. S. GOBIN. May Be the Next Commander in Chief of Grand Army of Republic.

GREAT INTEREST IN THE CAMP MEETING.

Some Notable Services Are Being Held at Wyoming. MANY ABLE SERMONS HEARD. Severe Rain and Hail Storm Prevented the Afternoon Service From Being Held Sunday—Rev. W. S. Frisby, of Taylor, Delivered the Evening Sermon and E. D. Buckalew, of Wilkes-Barre Y. M. C. A., Led the Young People's Meeting. Friday morning brought clear skies and ideal camp meeting weather. Rev. Joseph Madison conducted the Love feast at 9.30, and at 10.30 Rev. F. P. Doty, of Scranton, preached, taking for his text Isaiah 1-18: "Come now and let us reason together said the Lord." Among the many valuable thoughts presented, one was that if intelligent beings can show why they ought not to obey God, they should candidly state it, and then abide the consequences. The afternoon sermon was preached by Rev. William Edgar; text, 2 Timothy 1:12, followed by Dr. William G. Simpson. The theme of Rev. J. S. Wagner's sermon in the evening was "Satanic Power and Influence;" text, Ephesian 6:20. Of the twenty-five or more ministers who have been on the ground, several were obliged to leave to fill their pulpits on Sunday, nevertheless Saturday meetings were well sustained. Rev. N. J. Hawley had charge of the Love feast. The preachers of the day were Rev. G. C. Jacobs, of Newton, Text I, Timothy 6:12; Rev. Joseph Madison, text John 1:29, and Rev. C. M. Surdan, text Luke, 17:20-21. Under the leadership of Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. J. N. Lee, interesting children's meetings are being held each afternoon at 1.30. SUNDAY LOVE FEAST. Rev. Stephen Jay, of Ashley, is the efficient chorister, with Rev. T. M. Furry, of Hendham, at the organ. Sunday morning Love feast, led by Rev. Wilson Freible, was well attended and a large number took part in prayer and testimony. At 10.30, the hour for public service, the spacious auditorium was well filled. The Rev. G. F. Eckman, of St. Paul's M. E. church, New York city, preached a sermon of great interest and power, his text being John 6:6. A severe storm of rain and hail made it impossible to hold the afternoon service, much to the disappointment of a vast audience who had assembled expecting to hear Dr. C. E. Mogg, of Wilkes-Barre. An inspiring praise service was held before the storm broke upon the encampment, the presence of a double male quartette being a great attraction. Towards evening the rain abated, and though hundreds left the ground on account of the storm, there was a large attendance at the evening services.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building. The draft thus created caused the front window to slam and break. The pane then loosened the frame from its frame and causing it to drop to the street. Contact with telegraph wires and other obstructions broke the glass into smaller pieces as it was falling. One large piece, however, found its way past the obstructions and it was this that struck Miss Judge. It smashed into a hundred fragments when it landed on the sidewalk. Miss Judge was to have returned home this morning. A farewell party in her honor was arranged by her cousin, Miss Ruane, for last night.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building. The draft thus created caused the front window to slam and break. The pane then loosened the frame from its frame and causing it to drop to the street. Contact with telegraph wires and other obstructions broke the glass into smaller pieces as it was falling. One large piece, however, found its way past the obstructions and it was this that struck Miss Judge. It smashed into a hundred fragments when it landed on the sidewalk. Miss Judge was to have returned home this morning. A farewell party in her honor was arranged by her cousin, Miss Ruane, for last night.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building. The draft thus created caused the front window to slam and break. The pane then loosened the frame from its frame and causing it to drop to the street. Contact with telegraph wires and other obstructions broke the glass into smaller pieces as it was falling. One large piece, however, found its way past the obstructions and it was this that struck Miss Judge. It smashed into a hundred fragments when it landed on the sidewalk. Miss Judge was to have returned home this morning. A farewell party in her honor was arranged by her cousin, Miss Ruane, for last night.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building. The draft thus created caused the front window to slam and break. The pane then loosened the frame from its frame and causing it to drop to the street. Contact with telegraph wires and other obstructions broke the glass into smaller pieces as it was falling. One large piece, however, found its way past the obstructions and it was this that struck Miss Judge. It smashed into a hundred fragments when it landed on the sidewalk. Miss Judge was to have returned home this morning. A farewell party in her honor was arranged by her cousin, Miss Ruane, for last night.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building. The draft thus created caused the front window to slam and break. The pane then loosened the frame from its frame and causing it to drop to the street. Contact with telegraph wires and other obstructions broke the glass into smaller pieces as it was falling. One large piece, however, found its way past the obstructions and it was this that struck Miss Judge. It smashed into a hundred fragments when it landed on the sidewalk. Miss Judge was to have returned home this morning. A farewell party in her honor was arranged by her cousin, Miss Ruane, for last night.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building. The draft thus created caused the front window to slam and break. The pane then loosened the frame from its frame and causing it to drop to the street. Contact with telegraph wires and other obstructions broke the glass into smaller pieces as it was falling. One large piece, however, found its way past the obstructions and it was this that struck Miss Judge. It smashed into a hundred fragments when it landed on the sidewalk. Miss Judge was to have returned home this morning. A farewell party in her honor was arranged by her cousin, Miss Ruane, for last night.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building. The draft thus created caused the front window to slam and break. The pane then loosened the frame from its frame and causing it to drop to the street. Contact with telegraph wires and other obstructions broke the glass into smaller pieces as it was falling. One large piece, however, found its way past the obstructions and it was this that struck Miss Judge. It smashed into a hundred fragments when it landed on the sidewalk. Miss Judge was to have returned home this morning. A farewell party in her honor was arranged by her cousin, Miss Ruane, for last night.

MISS RUDDY INJURED.

Large Piece of Glass Fell From the Sixth Story of a Building and Struck Her on the Head. A thirty-five foot square pane of plate glass fell from its frame in the front of the sixth floor of the Kennedy & Carter building, 211 Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and crashed down to the sidewalk seriously injuring Miss Beale Judge, of New York, and inflicting painful cuts on Charles and Margaret Ruane, of Luzerne street, with whom Miss Judge is visiting. The three young people were walking leisurely along the avenue viewing the decorations when the accident occurred. When in front of the upper side of the building which is being renovated for the purpose of the Washington avenue, Miss Judge heard a crashing sound above him and without losing any time in looking above she rushed towards the street and reached for Miss Judge to drag her out of harm's way. She tried to catch the pane, however, broken glass showered down upon them and Miss Judge fell on the edge of the sidewalk with blood spurting from a terrible gash in her head. A large fragment of the glass had struck edge of her head and inflicted a cut four inches long on the right hand side and severing the temporal artery. A corner of the same piece caught in the young man's coat ripping it out, painfully cutting his little finger. Another piece struck Miss Judge on the knee causing a painful wound. Two of Foote and Shears' clerks, who were standing in front of the building at the time and who witnessed the accident hurried to Miss Judge's assistance and carried her to the vacant electric room, Mrs. Heilner, Burnett and McGrath attended her there and after stopping the flow of blood and sewing up the wound had her removed to the Lackawanna hospital. She was still unconscious at a late hour last evening and the physicians gave the attending physicians hope that she would pull through all right. She is 17 years of age and a large, strongly built girl, which is everything in her favor. At 1 o'clock this morning the hospital physicians reported that Miss Ruddy's condition is extremely critical. The young lady has not recovered consciousness since the accident and it is feared that the worst may happen before consciousness adds to the probability that the brain is injured. The window from which the glass fell had a secondary frame which permitted it to be swung open on a pivot. Plasterers who were at work on that floor yesterday had opened the window in order to cool the room and ignorant of the danger, one of them, later, threw open a corresponding window in the rear of the building.