CHANGE OF VENUE REFUSED.

New Trial in Jennings Case Will Occur Here.
Court again on Saturday refused a change of venue in the case of John G. Jennings against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company. The motion was made by James Mahon, who is associated with Cornelius Smith on the plaintiff's side. The usual reasons were advanced.

This is the case in which a new trial was granted by Judge Steier last Monday. The verdict was for $1 and the plaintiff appealed on the ground of error by the judge in charging the jury and also that while the jury found that the plaintiff was damaged only nominal damages were allowed. Court admitted that error had been committed in the charge.

BISHOP TALBOT'S OFFICIAL VISIT

Head of Central Pennsylvania Protestant Episcopal Diocese Is Here.

HE CONFIRMS FOUR LARGE CLASSES

The Bishop Is Accompanied Here by Mrs. Talbot and Their Daughter. There Will Be a Big Reception in Their Honor at the Scranton Bicycle Club House This Evening—Tomorrow He Will Visit Points of Church Work in and About the City.

Bishop Talbot, the recently elected bishop of the Central Pennsylvania diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, is making his first official visit to this city. He is accompanied by Mrs. Talbot and Miss Talbot. They reached here at 5:30 o'clock on the Delaware and Hudson road Saturday afternoon. Bishop and Mrs. Talbot are being entertained at the home of Major Everett Warren, and Miss Talbot by the Misses Jernyn.

In each of the four Protestant Episcopal churches a large class was confirmed by the bishop yesterday. A reception will be given in his honor at the Scranton Bicycle club house tonight.

The initial presence here of the new prelate made a pronounced favorable impression upon all who heard him preach or had opportunity to observe him closely. For one on whom so great an honor as the bishopric has been conferred and who has to bear the peculiar responsibilities and burdens of his church and office, he is comparatively young. But a scrutiny of his stalwart physique and strong, fine featured smooth-shaven face brings a conclusion that the man is equal to the tasks of his exalted office.

A STRONG CHARACTER.

His mental force and strength makes itself felt from the pulpit. In nothing that he says is there a lack of interest to his auditors. His points are brief and objective, showing the positive character of the man and attracting his hearers to him.

Previous to his election to this diocese Bishop Talbot was for eleven years missionary bishop of the Diocese of Wyoming and Idaho. The territory under his immediate direction was equal in extent to the New England and Middle States and Maryland. During his eleven years as missionary bishop he was able to only spend six months under his home roof. This activity is indicative of the character of the man.

Saturday evening Bishop Talbot confirmed a class of twenty-eight catechumens at St. Mark's mission (Dunmore) of St. Luke's parish. Yesterday morning he confirmed a class of forty-six in the mother church (St. Luke's), a total of seventy-four in the parish. At each service he administered Holy Communion and preached. Yesterday afternoon he confirmed a class at St. David's on the West Side and in the evening at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Green Ridge.

Social calls will be made by the bishop this morning. He will be taken for a drive this afternoon if the weather is favorable. Mr. and Mrs. John Jernyn will entertain Bishop and Mrs. Talbot, Miss Talbot and Rev. and Mrs. Rogers Israel at dinner this evening.

TONIGHT'S RECEPTION.

This evening's reception at the Scranton Bicycle club house will be from 8 to 11 o'clock. It is to be given by the rector, wardens and vestry of St. Luke's church. Bishop and Mrs. Talbot and Miss Talbot will receive with Rev. and Mrs. Rogers Israel and Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Haughton. Invitations to attend the reception have been extended by Mr. Israel to members of all the city congregations and their friends through the pastors of the churches.

Rev. F. Y. Doty, pastor of the Hampton Street Methodist church, being in attendance at the Wyoming conference at Norwich, N. Y., his pulpit was occupied at yesterday morning's service by Rev. W. W. TENTH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.

Interesting Event at the Y. W. C. A. Rooms Tomorrow Night.
The tenth anniversary of the Young Women's Christian association will be observed tomorrow from 4 until 10 o'clock p. m., at the association rooms, 105 Washington avenue. Former and present board members and the state executive committee will receive the guests, and chairman of the committees will assist in serving the light refreshments.

The event is to be of a social nature in which both women and ladies are invited. The committee of arrangements, Mrs. L. M. Gates, Mrs. W. D. Kennedy, Mrs. C. B. Derman and Miss Hannah Deacon, and the present board of managers extends a cordial invitation to all the friends of the association.
An invitation in the form of a poem was written by Miss Susan Dickinson. Accompanying this invitation birthday bags have been sent out which are used as a hint of what a tin wedding usually suggests of a financial nature. Special music will be furnished by Miss Cordelia Freeman, Miss Katie Crye Timberman and Mrs. O'Brien and others.
Miss Emma Hays, city secretary of Pennsylvania, will be present and give a few remarks concerning the association work, and Mrs. L. M. Gates will speak of our present work.
Mrs. E. H. Ripple and Mrs. C. D. Stinson will preside. This will be an occasion when the young women and ladies will have an opportunity to thank their friends for their support, and when the gentlemen friends can express their good wishes for a work which has helped the whole city.

The man was not identified and the jury after a careful examination and inquiry find that he came to his death by a self-inflicted wound inflicted by his own hands. A. E. Vorhis, C. H. PREPARING FOR THE IRISH CENTENNIAL

Big Day of Field Sports Is Being Arranged For.

MEETING WAS HELD LAST NIGHT

Executive Committee to Take Charge of the Details Is Appointed and a Sub-Committee Is Empowered to Secure a Site at One of the Best Athletic Fields of the Country. It Is Expected Will Participate in Competitions. Prominent Speakers to Be Engaged.

Another meeting to forward the movement for a centennial celebration of the Irish uprising of 1798 was held last night at the rooms of John Boyle O'Reilly council of the Young Men's Institute on Lackawanna avenue.

Delegates were present from thirty-eight Irish societies scattered throughout the country. The plan already suggested of having an athletic field day and some appropriate addresses was adhered to, and an executive committee consisting of the presidents of the different societies participating was appointed. C. T. Boland, the time date selected is July 4, but there is some objection to this on the part of various of the societies because it would conflict with other like events, and there is a possibility that the time selected for July 1, the day upon which the centennial will be celebrated throughout Ireland, is being talked of as a more appropriate date.

COMMITTEE ON SPEAKERS.

A committee consisting of C. T. Boland, J. J. Costello, Hon. J. C. Vaughan, John J. Murphy and C. C. Donovan was selected to secure speakers. It was decided to call the organization the United Irish societies of Lackawanna county. The committee on grounds, appointed at the previous meeting, reported having secured an option on several sites and was given discretionary power to engage one of them. T. J. Monahan and James McGinnis were appointed a committee on music. Adjournment was made until Sunday, May 1.

Following the meeting, the executive committee met and organized by electing C. T. Boland, president; John H. Devine, vice president; James McGinnis, recording secretary; Robert Emmet O'Boyle, corresponding secretary; John J. Costello, treasurer. The executive committee adjourned to meet Friday evening, April 22, at Young Men's institute hall.

Efforts will be made to induce the best athletes of the country to participate in the field day sports. Wefers, the Georgetown crack, and champion short distance runner of the world; Sweeney, who holds the record for the high jump and who is now engaged in training Harvard's jumpers for the Mott Haven games; Flanagan, the
