A BIG DAMAGE SUIT.

Heirs of Leander B. Finch Sue the Delaware and Hudson Company.

Suit was instituted yesterday against the Delaware and Hudson Canal company for $18,000 damages for the death of Leander B. Finch, who was killed at the Maryline breaker June 14, 1887. The plaintiff are the widow and daughter, Mrs. Ella A. Finch and Miss Fieta H. Finch and they are represented by Attorney Charles L. Hawley.

NATIONAL VOLUNTEER RESERVE.

Its Officers Ask the Co-operation of Scranton's Mayor.

Mayor Bailey yesterday received from the headquarters of the National Volunteer Reserve a communication asking his co-operation in forming that much-advertised military organization. Mayor Bailey is asked to appoint a local enrolling committee, of which he shall be chairman, and to establish headquarters. The communication is signed: "The National Volunteer Reserve, James Longstreet, J. M. Schofield, J. E. Gordon, G. O. Howard, chairman military committee; Joseph Wheeler, vice-chairman military committee; A. McD. McCook, secretary; William D'H. Washington, president; and the military committee."

STATE COMMITTEE MEETING.

Lackawanna Delegates Had a Conspicuous Part in It.

At the meeting of the Democratic state committee in Harrisburg, Wednesday, the Lackawanna representatives took a conspicuous part in a lively fight which preceded the refusal of the committee to seat the delegates elected by the Philadelphia city committee, of which Thomas J. Ryan is chairman.

The credentials of Thomas J. Ryan, Charles P. Donnelly, Patrick Donohoe, William H. Murphy, Peter Monroe, Michael J. Ryan and Edward P. Bennis, who claimed seats in the state committee, having been elected by the city committee, of which Thomas J. Ryan is chairman, were presented to the state committee, together with those of their opponents, Thomas Deahunt, John Boyle, John C. O'Keefe, Thomas A. Fahy, James B. Givin, James E. Gorman and John Taylor, who had been chosen by the Judge Gordon city committee. A resolution was offered by C. B. Staples, of Monroe county, to refer the contest to a sub-committee of five members to examine into the merits of the rival claims and report to the general committee later in the day.

Richard J. Beamish, of this city, submitted an amendment providing for the postponement of action until the question should be determined by the courts of Philadelphia. This provoked considerable debate. Mr. Beamish's amendment was lost by a vote of 39 to 20, and the resolution for the contest to a sub-committee of five was carried. This committee reported in favor of the Gordon committeemen.

GLENCROSS KILLED.

He Was Employed as a Miner in No. 5 Shaft at Dunmore.

Samuel Glencross, a miner, employed at No. 5 shaft of the Pennsylvania Coal company, was killed yesterday morning by a heavy fall of coal.

Glencross and his laborer, Richard Dunnigan, were harring down the roof of their place, when suddenly, before they could get from under it, the roof gave way and they were buried under a heavy mass of coal.

Foreman Thomas Young was notified and as soon as possible the men were extricated and taken out of the shaft. Both men were living. Glencross' scalp was cut open, face badly lacerated and his thigh broken. It was plainly discernible that he could not live.

As hurriedly as possible he was taken to his home and Dr. Frank Winter summoned, but it was of no avail. Shortly after reaching home he died. He was 32 years of age, and is survived by his wife.

The funeral will occur Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Dunmore cemetery.

BARTOLOMEO IS APPREHENDED.

Today He Will Have a Hearing Before Alderman Howe.

Bisayate Bartolomeo, of Yatesville, was arrested in this city yesterday by Constable Cole on a warrant issued over a month ago by Alderman Howe at the instance of Mrs. Anna Lachelli, of Old Forge.

The information charges that on May 7, 1896, Bartolomeo induced the prosecutrix 12-year-old daughter, Catherine, to leave home with him and go to New York. They afterwards went to Carbondale where it is alleged, Bartolomeo left her. She was then sent to the home of her parents at Old Forge.

Bartolomeo alleges that he was legally married to the girl in New York, and that he is anxious to have her sit his home and to provide for her. He charges that she is being kept away from him by force. He spent last night in the police station and will have a hearing this afternoon at 1 o'clock before Alderman Howe. Officers have been looking for Bartolomeo ever since the warrant was issued.

HELPLESS YOUTH MISSING.

He is Deaf and Dumb--His Case Reported to the Police.

William Oliver, 15 years old, a deaf and dumb youth, is reported missing to the police. His parents live at 17 Sixth street.

Young Oliver can neither read nor write nor use the hand alphabet. He left here yesterday with two companions, a Delaware and Hudson coal train. Oliver became separated from the others between Moosic and Pittston.

THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS.

Bill for Today.

At the Academy of Music today Eugene Aberstrom and company will present "The Streets of New York," and tonight "The Crushed Tragedian." The engagement closes Saturday and on the afternoon of that day the company will present "Cinderella." At night they will be seen in "A Waif of London."

Wilson in Half a King.

Francis Wilson is sure of a hearty welcome this evening at the Lyceum. He secured the unqualified endorsement of the public last year and his opera, "Half a King," proved to be one of the most successful productions of the season. "Half a King" is a distinct advance upon the average which has been maintained during the past few years. The libretto has been adapted from the French of Letourneur and Van Lee, by Harry H. Smith, who has come to be recognized as the leading workman in this branch of stage mechanics. The story which has been worked into the opera has the advantage of being humorous in itself although not wholly new. The music by Ludwig Engelender is charming. Some of the melodies have all the languorous sweetness of Jacobowski at his best, and some of the choruses and marches ring as spiritedly as a charge of cavalry. To class it as a comic opera hardly does justice to the effort shown in every part to get very near the legitimate in the musical line, and these attempts seldom fail to achieve distinct results. Mr. Wilson is well fitted to this latest conceit for the part of a mountebank masquerading as one of the nobility, gives him opportunities that serve his ends admirably.

Greene and His Company.

Next Monday night Joseph Greene's company of players will begin their week's engagement at the Academy, presenting eight plays of deep interest, and with a cast of characters that are the equal of any who have been here. The opening attraction is "The Silver King," which is produced by special arrangement with Eugene Tompkins of the Boston Theater. The fact that Edward E. Ross has the direction of Mr. Greene's tour is in itself a guarantee that nothing but first class attractions will be presented.

MRS. WILLIAMS WAS FOUND NOT GUILTY

Acquitted of the Charge of Shoplifting at Clemons, Ferber & O'Malley Store.

TO BE TRIED ON OTHER CHARGES

District Attorney Jones Says the Five Other Cases Will Be Placed on the List for the Next Term of Criminal Court--Carbondale Woman Admits Grave Charges--Editor Langowski Mailed for the Costs in His Case Against Rev. H. Iwanowski.

Not guilty was the verdict arrived at, after three hours' deliberation, by the jury in the shoplifting case against Mrs. H. M. Williams. At the opening of court yesterday morning Mr. Strang made the closing argument for the defense and Mr. Jones for the prosecution. Judge Edwards made a lengthy and careful review of the case, submitting it to the jury at 10:45 o'clock. At 2:30 o'clock the jury returned with its acquittal. District Attorney Jones said that Mrs. Williams will be tried on the other five charges at the next term of court.

In the case of Editor Daniel Langowski against Rev. H. Iwanowski and Constable Murray, the jury in twenty minutes' time acquitted the defendants and put the costs on the prosecutor.

Mrs. Sarah Arnold, of Carbondale, was convicted before Judge Swartz of selling liquor to minors and keeping a disorderly house. The principal witness for the prosecution was a young girl now in the House of the Good Shepherd. The defendant admitted all the vile charges preferred against her, but pleaded irresponsibility, saying that her husband coerced her and in consequence she was not a free moral agent. The husband, James Arnold, who was jointly indicted with her, has been debarred. Judge Swartz suspended sentence in the tipping house case and in the other two cases a sentence of seven months in the county jail.

WALSH ACQUITTED.

Thomas Walsh was acquitted of the charge of shooting five tomcat pigeons belonging to William Smith, of Keyser Valley. The costs were placed on the county.

John Moore, Peter Farrell, James Kinney and George Kinney, of Winton, were on trial at adjourning time before Judge Swartz on a charge of aggravated assault and battery, preferred by Peter J. Burke. The defendants, together with James Fagan, who has since died, are accused of having waylaid and assaulted Burke late one night last May, after a quarrel in Mrs. Burke's hotel, in which Burke, it is alleged, assaulted Moore. They beat him into insensibility and one of them slashed his head in three places with a razor. The defense is that it was Moore's brother who did all the assaulting. He learned of the trouble at the saloon and that Burke had whipped his brother, and to revenge the drubbing his brother received, sought out and whipped Burke.

In the case of Frank Gidon, charged with aggravated assault, and battery by Edward Murray, a not pries was entered upon payment of costs.

John Curley was acquitted of the charge of larceny and receiving, the prosecutor, Frank Moran, failing to appear.

Fridget Baggett was returned not guilty of assault and battery, as charged by Sarah D. Lee. Two-thirds of the costs were placed on the defendant and one-third on the prosecutrix. The same parties have been in court frequently by reason of neighbor's quarrels. They live on Lloyd street.

VERDICT ORDERED.

W. A. Townsend, former proprietor of the American hotel, Franklin avenue, preferred a charge of defrauding boarding house against George Costlett, of Wilkes-Barre, but being unable to show fraudulent intent, a verdict of not guilty was ordered. Costlett is a patent medicine man and employs traveling agents. Three of them stopped at the American house and left without settling. Costlett did not make good the bill, whereupon Townsend had him arrested, alleging that he had agreed to pay the agents' bills.

Ida Reynolds did not appear to prosecute Daniel Loftus for assault and battery and was in consequence mulcted for the costs.

John McDonald, jr., tried yesterday for assaulting and robbing Moses Cabot, a pack peddler, was returned not guilty yesterday morning soon after the opening of court.

Joseph Shick was found not guilty of assault and battery on Sophia Lasser, and the defendant was directed to pay the costs.

Z. Lopatyner was on trial before Judge Edwards at adjourning time on the charge of assaulting without a license and selling on Sunday. Michael Kinowski is the prosecutor. Various witnesses testified to having bought intoxicants at Lopatyner's place, on South Washington avenue, week days and Sundays.

Michael Weston, convicted Tuesday of stealing clothing from the home of his aunt, Mrs. Ellen Carrington, of Carbondale, was called up for sentence yesterday by Judge Swartz and given one year and six months in the penitentiary.

TAXABLE INHABITANTS.

Scranton Has About Half of Lackawanna's 48,014

The county commissioners yesterday mailed to Dr. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction, a census of taxable inhabitants of the county by municipalities, upon which the school appropriations for the year are to be based.

The whole number is 48,014, of which Scranton has just about half. The number in each district is as follows: Archbold, 1,442; Blakely, 1,091; Bontz, 235; Clifton, 62; Covington, 239; Carbondale township, 357; Dalton, 294; Dickson City, 945; Dunmore, 3,159; Elmhurst, 1,027; Greenfield, 109; Greenfield, 231; Jefferson, 206; Jermyn, 816; Lackawanna, 1,522; Lehigh, 45; LePitons, 291; Madison, 216; Mayfield, 658; Newton, 261; North Abington, 137; Old Forge, 1,113; Olyphant, 1,779; Ransom, 137; Roaring Brook, 51; Scott, 387; South Abington, 1; Spring Brook, 161; Throop, 666; Taylor, 1,034; West Abington, 11; Waverly, 189; Winton, 1,925; Fell, 892; Gouldsboro, 32; Carbondale, 4,046; Scranton, 24,148; total, 48,014.

The South Abington assessor failed to make a return.

RELEASED FROM THE "PEN."

William Kane and Marshall Goodwin Finish Two-Year Terms.

William Kane and Marshall Goodwin, two Lackawanna convicts, were yesterday released from the Eastern penitentiary.

They were sent down by Judge Edwards on June 29, 1896, for two years, the former for statutory burglary and the latter for larceny and receiving. Each got a two months' allowance for good behavior.

HALF A KING TONIGHT.

What M. H. Burgunder Has to Say About It.

M. H. Burgunder, one of the trustees of the Lyceum sends the following to The Tribune concerning Francis Williams and his company who will present "Half a King" at the Lyceum tonight. "Mr. Wilson is now at the zenith of his powers and has a wonderful elver and mirth-provoking tale in 'Half a King,' which he will present at the Lyceum Friday night. You can tell the Tribune's army of readers that this will be the most theatrical attraction offered to Scranton, this season. Mr. Wilson has a company of sixty people, many of whom are the best on the comic opera stage. The scenery and costuming of the piece are very elaborate and beautiful. I am certain that Scranton has never had a better production of light opera than this will be and those who fall to see it will miss a decided treat."

WORSTED MILL READY.

Will Start About the Middle of May with One Hundred Hands.

By the middle of May, men of Scranton will be able to wear suits made from cloth of our own manufacture.

At least so said the members of the Taylor Worsteds company at the meeting held yesterday for final organization. The 75x125 plant located in Taylor is about complete, the machinery is being put into place, expert weavers from England and New England have been engaged and a $50,000 order secured as the first contract.

There is no question, the company contends, but that it can manufacture goods equal to the best English make and at a much smaller cost, and with the cheap fuel and water that this region affords, there is little question but that the New England factories can be successfully competed with.

The mill will occupy one hundred hands at first and the company hopes that its business will grow to such an extent that this number will be quadrupled before many years.

The officers of the company are: P. Mulhern, president; T. F. Jordan, vice president; J. P. Law, secretary; M. C. Judge, treasurer; George B. Jermyn, P. P. Jordan, H. Renard, J. M. Rhodes and M. P. Judge, directors.

DEATH OF MRS. T. D. DOUDICAN.

End Came at Denver, Col., Where She Went to Improve Her Health.

Mrs. T. D. Doudican, of Dunmore, died Wednesday at Denver, Col., where she had been sojourning for a year in the hope of improving her health. Her death was entirely unexpected by her husband and relatives. She is survived by a husband and one child, Mrs.
