LIVE NEWS OF WEST SCRANTON

Michael McNulty Arrested on a Warrant Charging Robbery.

PROSECUTION DID NOT APPEAR

Funeral of Wright Broadbent from His Residence on North Bromley Avenue -- Entertainment of the Young People of the Sumner Avenue Presbyterian Church -- Fortnightly Session of the Pickwickians at the Residence of C. H. Hall -- Notes of a Personal Nature.

Michael McNulty, a young man residing on Twenty-second street, was given a hearing last evening before Alderman John on a double charge of assault and battery and highway robbery. He was held in his own recognizance until Monday evening. The prosecutor in the case, Michael Sieschuck, must be found meanwhile.

The charges were the result of an alleged trouble which occurred between the two men one night during last January on or about the 14th. The story told by Sieschuck was a pitiful one if, as he alleged at the time, it was true. It was in substance as follows: After several long days of hard labor in the mines he had saved $100. It was a labor of love, for he intended using the money to bring the sweetheart of his youth from far off Poland to this land of plenty and liberty, and make her his wife. Carefully wrapping his wealth in a piece of cloth he went over to the central city one idle day and sought a steamship agency. He found one, and to his sorrow, he also found that he was shy just a little and the ticket could not be gotten then.

Nothing daunted he returned and was happy for it would be pay day soon, and then he would have enough. It must have been that his great happiness got the better of his caution, for on his return he gave way to a desire to take just one drink. It was an evil moment for him as he entered a notorious resort on Luzerne street, to carry out his impulse. He called for his drink and several were placed on the bar. Friends, unknown to him, saw he was happy and they wished to share with him.

The good naturedly paid for all, but it required the taking out of his roll to do it. Shortly afterward he left the place and had proceeded but a few steps when a young man overtook, accosted him and forcibly removed his wealth from his pocket, striking him in the face as the robbery was being committed.

He thought he recognized in the fleeing form a neighbor, and the next day he had a warrant served out. The warrant was served on McNulty yesterday, he having to return to answer a charge standing against him in court. For some reason or other Sieschuck has disappeared from these parts since the alleged robbery and assault.

YOUNG PEOPLE ENTERTAIN.

At the Sumner Avenue Presbyterian church, last evening, the members of the Young People's Christian Endeavor society of the church entertained a large number of their friends in an enjoyable manner. The early part of the evening was devoted to the carrying out of an excellent programme. Bezael Brown, president of the society, acted as chairman and Mrs. John L. James was accompanist. The exercises consisted of solos by Mrs. L. R. Foster, and George Morton; recitations by the Misses Gertrude Fellows, Lillian Tewksbury, Etta Williams and Anna Thomas, and George Travers. The whistling solo by Miss Clara Haus was unique, as also the tin whistle duet (two whistles being used) by William Palmer. The Misses Fisher and Kendall played a piano duet and Miss Anna and George Morton played a duet, cornet and piano. Ray Morgan played a piano solo.

The exercises concluded, a social session followed, and refreshments were served. A substantial sum was realized by the society.

PICKWICKIAN'S POT-POURRI.

As usual every two weeks, the Pickwickians met last evening and discussed literature and literary subjects. The session last evening was held at the residence of C. H. Hall, 912 Eynon street. President Hall presided. The programme was miscellaneous in its make-up, but was nevertheless thoroughly interesting. Miss Bertha Crawford gave a spicy word sketch of the "Life of John Howard Payne." W. T. Hall dramatically recited "The Constitution and the Union," and Miss Kate Chase's paper upon "Daniel Webster as a Statesman" was very interesting and indicated a careful estimate of the great statesman.

John J. York reviewed "The Spy," and President Hall gave a short, but review of the present-day. The next meeting of the Pickwickians will be held May 4, at the residence of Miss Kate Chase, of North Sumner avenue.

LITTLE ONE RETURNED.

It is usually quiet in and about the police station, but yesterday afternoon, and it was very much as usual yesterday until shortly before 4 o'clock, when Mrs. W. R. Longel timidly approached Day Patrolman Hart, and tearfully informed him that her little 5-year-old daughter was missing. The child was not given to going away from home and apparently had only been gone, but a few minutes when the mother missed her. For two hours Mrs. Longel, almost distracted, looked for her girl, but could not find her. As a last resort she came to the police. A search was made, but no avail, and Mrs. Longel, who resides at 128 South Lincoln avenue, returned to her home heavier hearted. She said she would come back to the station house later, but she did not. Her darling was safe at home, a neighbor having found her and brought her back. The little one could not explain her absence and must have wandered off while playing with some other children.

The bier was strewn with many exquisite floral tributes.

The services were conducted by Rev. J. B. Sweet, pastor of the Simpson Methodist church, who also preached a funeral sermon. A selected quartette sang the selections. At the conclusion of the services, the remains were borne to the Dunmore cemetery and interred. A large cortege accompanied the remains to the cemetery, and the pallbearers were: Thomas L. Our sincere wish is that upon his return he will be as he was of yore, strong in health and hearty. Turning to Mr. Spruks the speaker continued, "Mr. Spruks, on behalf of our brother members, kindly accept this gift, and with it goes the prayer of the loyal boys, that the coveted boon you seek will crown your efforts."
