LIVE NEWS OF WEST SCRANTON

FIRE IN BANNER BLOCK ON SOUTH MAIN AVENUE.

It Breaks Out in the Furniture Store of H. L. Wall and Ruins His Stock on Which He Had No Insurance—Other Tenants Are Not Damaged—Marriage of Miss Harriet Fellows and William D. Griffiths in the Simpson Methodist Church.

Once again fire nearly destroyed the "Banner Block" on South Main avenue and this time seemed for awhile to be on a fair road to success. The alarm of fire last evening about 10:25 o'clock followed the discovery of smoke issuing from the transom of the furniture store of H. L. Wall at 121 South Main avenue, in the "Banner Block."

The discovery was made by Frank Reese and Edwin Peters who were standing just opposite. Word was conveyed to Patrolman Evans and he sent in the alarm from No. 35, corner of Main avenue and Jackson street. The Columbus and Franklins immediately responded.

Meanwhile, the two young men rushed across the street and aroused the tenants who reside over the store in the rear. They were Mrs. Henry Rosser and children and Mr. and Mrs. Augustus N. Allen and children. All were gotten out safely though nearly suffocated with smoke as they had retired.

The firemen after heroic effort succeeded in gaining control of the flames and prevented their spread beyond the store room itself. A large mattress which seemed to be one mass of flame was dragged out of the store. It was almost impossible to get into the place owing to the dense volumes of black, sooty smoke.

H. L. Wall, under whose name the store is conducted with C. C. Hinman as a silent partner, was seen by a Tribune reporter and stated that he had no insurance. He valued his stock at about $1500. When questioned as to the probable origin of the fire, he said he could only attribute one cause and that was gas leakage. There was no fire of any kind in the store with the exception of a single jet of gas, which was always left burning during the night.

He had been in the store about 45 minutes previous to the discovery of the fire and though he noticed no fire, he did smell gas strongly. He, however, thought nothing of that as nearly every morning for several weeks he has had to ventilate the store to drive out the odor of gas. He said that he has been fixing around for several days this week attempting to find a gas leakage. It was thought that the sewer gas was finding an outlet into the building.

The stock is for the most part ruined and the store is a mass of ruins. A little water was used. About a year ago when the furniture store was run by Wall & Barrett, a fire occurred in the rear of the store. Mr. Wall dissolved partnership with Mrs. Barrett and at that time the insurance held by Phillips & Holmes was cancelled.

Above the store is the room occupied by the Welsh Philosophical library. They have several thousand dollars worth of books. In the rear on this floor are rooms occupied by the Rosser's and Allen's. Across the hall is the tailor shop of Eric Anderson. On the ground floor next the store is the jewelry store of George Waters. On the other side of Wall's is the branch store of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company. No damage was caused any of those enumerated above other than by smoke.

RESIDENTS INDIGNANT.

Residents along South Main avenue, between Jackson and Washburn streets were startled and surprised by the appearance of a large force of men yesterday who began to tear up the pavement. The work is preparatory to relaying the track which has been a crying necessity for many months.

This part in itself is all right, but there is much more and the surprise quickly gave way to concern and indignation. A double stretch of track is to be laid along this main portion of Main avenue and this accounts for the feeling aroused. One resident who owns considerable property along this section and has resided here for many years, pronounced it a "downright imposition." They are taking advantage and sneaking in on us "like a hawk swooping down on a pigeon," he continued, "and pretending only to repair the present track."

"Well what will be done about it," was queried. "That will come later," said he, "and we will look out for that part all right." The above expressed sentiments seem to be the general impression among the majority of other property owners along the affected portion of the avenue.

An attempt was made to see Manager Sullivan, of the Traction company but he was said to be away. Other Traction officials had nothing to say. From external appearances the action of yesterday means a permanent double track beyond a doubt. The branch running out of Washburn street will cross over near the switch at Washburn street by means of a switch. This new stretch of track will only be used by inward bound cars. This will do away with the present "wait" at Jackson street corners, and facilitate the movement of the cars. Another switch will be put in near Jackson street, just below where the track turns down Jackson street, inward bound.

New sleepers, new ballast and new rails will be laid. The rails will be similar to those recently laid on Washburn street. They are 60 feet in length, 80 pounds to the yard and 7 inches deep. The Luzerne street branch switch is also being repaired and in all probability the whole line from Main avenue to Elyon street will be overhauled some time.

The present work is in charge of Engineer Reed and Foreman Thomas McTierney. It is intended to pave between the tracks and rails with brick, as was done on Lackawanna avenue.

FELLOWS-GRIFFITHS WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Harriet Rietz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Fellows, of 23 Tenth street, to William D. Griffiths, of North Sumner avenue, was solemnized in the presence of many friends yesterday at the Simpson Methodist church, at 12:30 o'clock.

The centre aisle, up which the bride party passed, was partitioned off with wide white satin ribbon and similar streamers. The altar railing and pulpit platform were beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers, the handwork of Florist Miss Harriet Davis. The wedding marches were played by Walter Davis and promptly at the hour set, the bride party left the church vestibule.

Pierce Fellows, Bert Fellows, Robert Cooper and Arthur Stover, ushers, led the way, followed by two petite misses acting as flower girls and carrying each a basket of flowers. They were the brides Ruth Fellows and Clara Haas. The bride, leaning on her father's arm, followed and the maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Fellows, a sister of the bride, came next. The party were met at the altar railing by the groom and the officiating minister, Rev. J. B. Sweet, pastor of the church.

The bride was attired in a becoming tailor-made travelling costume of brown cloth, with the bodice worn a pretty tailor-made gown of grayish green cloth. The flower girls were attired in white. The nuptial ceremony was performed according to the ritual of the Methodist Episcopal church, the nuptial vows given away by her father. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the bridal couple departed on the noon Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train for New York city, Philadelphia and Ashbury park on their wedding tour. They will be at home to their friends September 1st. The groom furnished home at 928 West Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths are both exceedingly popular West Scranton young people and were remembered by their many friends in a handsome and substantial manner. Mrs. Griffiths is active in church affairs and was one of the teachers at No. 19 school. Mr. Griffiths is a son of Common Councilman William V. Griffiths and is engaged in the plumbing business on Jackson street.

PROBABLY MISSED THE EXCURSION.

An amusing accident happened early yesterday morning on South Main avenue, near its intersection with West Locust street. It was amusing only to the onlookers and not to the person directly interested. A driver for one of the "truck" farms at West Pittston was coming into town with a load of garden produce.

Just as he was passing one of the new residences being erected along the avenue, his front wheels went down until the axle rested on the ground. Fortunately, he was moving slowly at the time and though the horses were brought up with a sudden jerk, nothing was broken. The wheels had sunk in the soft earth of the recent filling in of a water trench.

He was compelled to remove nearly his entire load before he could get out. The fellow "took things" and, though he remarked that he wanted to get home to go on an excursion, and that was his second trip of the day.
