

Late Dining Injurious to Health. Causes Dyspepsia, Wakefulness and Insomnia.

The habit of dining out at night after concerts and theatres, or at balls, brings about a good deal of suffering. The stomach is overloaded without the necessary activity to aid the digestion. The tossing about at night and sleeplessness are the immediate results. Dyspepsia and indigestion are sure to follow in its course.

One glassful of Johann Hoff's Malt Extract taken before retiring will remove all this trouble. It will aid the proper assimilation of the food and produce a healthy, sound sleep. Johann Hoff's Malt Extract should also be taken during the day with every meal, particularly by weak and debilitated people and children who lack the necessary power to digest solid food.

The Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract has a remarkable nutritious action, both tonic and invigorating, and has proved to be of great value in chronic diseases, producing contractions of the muscles of the digestive organs.

Prof. Coleman of Glasgow, Scotland, read a lecture before the Philosophical Society, in which he said:

"Our esteemed President brought Johann Hoff's Malt Extract under my notice about twelve months ago, and acquainted me with the fact of its having in many cases coming under his own observation proved of service in restoring the energies of individuals suffering from faulty nutrition."

"Suffering at the time from an attack of illness which had not only reduced my strength, but brought on extreme exhaustion from inability to appropriate food, I tried the effect of Johann Hoff's Malt Extract in the usual dose of a wine-glassful twice or three times a day.

"It was used as followed by marked effects:—First—Food which had hitherto been found to pass the alimentary canal unchanged, digested properly.

"Second—There appeared an increased power of evolving animal heat and storing up fat."

Beware of imitations. Take only the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract. Johann Hoff, New York, Berlin, Paris.

EISTEDDFOD IN THE JACKSON STREET BAPTIST CHURCH.

Those Who Captured the Prizes in the Various Competitions—Rev. H. H. Harris and Attorney W. R. Lewis Were the Conductors and Charles Chandler and Prof. Howell the Adjudicators—Marriage of Miss Sarah J. Gurrell to Thomas Moran. Minor News Notes and Personals.

"Unqualified success in every particular" is the unanimous opinion of all who assisted in or attended the first annual eisteddfod given by the choir of the Jackson street Baptist church yesterday afternoon and evening at the church edifice. For months they have labored and it was not in vain. The attendance at both sessions was very large, especially in the evening when the seating capacity of the church was taxed.

The platform was artistically decorated with potted plants, the national colors and cut flowers. Suspended in the rear of the platform was a large frame bearing the legend "Welcome to Our Annual Eisteddfod." Upon the platform were seated the conductors and chairmen of the respective sessions, the accompanists, guests of honor and the members of the general committee. The local talent was well represented in all competitions and everything passed off smoothly.

Charles H. Chandler, of Powell's music store, was adjudicator of the vocal music and Prof. George Howell of the literary portion. The preliminaries in both departments for each competitive piece was conducted in Ivorite hall, on South Main avenue. The Misses Marion Hutchinson and Norma Williams acted as accompanists. The piano used was an Upright Grand, kindly loaned by Powell's music store for the occasion. Congratulations were tendered Chorister Lewis Davis and the members of the choir for their successful conduct of the affair.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Chorister Lewis Davis, of the choir, introduced Rev. H. H. Harris, Ph. D., of Taylor, who was to preside as conductor during the afternoon session. Rev. Harris made a short but happy address of acceptance bespeaking his appreciation of the honor tendered him. "The Star Spangled Banner" was then sung by the audience. This was followed by the introduction of Rev. Thomas De Gruchy, pastor of the church, who was to act as chairman of the session.

The first competitive piece was the solo "Little Lights" for girls under fifteen years of age. There were four competitors and the prizes were $1 for first, 50 cents for second, Miss Elizabeth Lewis and Miss Mary Davis were awarded first and second prizes respectively. While Adjudicator Chandler was preparing his award, Mrs. M. J. Williams sang an alto solo in her usual pleasing manner.

Miss Norma Hughes appeared as the only contestant in the soprano solo, "Little Georgia Girl." She sang the piece excellently and of course carried away the prize of $3. Following this number Miss Marion Hutchinson, one

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION MEETS

NUMBER OF INTERESTING SUBJECTS DISCUSSED.

David Thomas, of West Pittston, Spoke on the Temperance Question—Reports Concerning the Work Done During the Year Were Read at the Afternoon Session—Lengthy Resolutions Presented by the Committee and Adopted—Officers of Last Year Were Re-elected.

The seventh annual session of the Sunday School union of the Wyoming association convened in the Puritan Congregational church yesterday. The sessions were devoted entirely to the work of the Sunday schools. They were characterized by good addresses, containing very good advice for the improvement of the work in the Sabbath schools.

The morning session was called to order by the president, Dr. W. T. Williams, of Mt. Carmel. Invocation was asked by Rev. W. G. Thomas, of West Pittston, and Rev. W. H. Hyatt, of Coldside, after which several hymns were sung. Rev. H. H. Peckover delivered the address of welcome.

His address contained words of advice to the teachers and how their work of improvement could be systematically carried on.

The temperance question was handled by David Thomas, of West Pittston. Mr. Thomas gave an address on "What Position Should the Temperance Question Occupy in Our Schools." His remarks were discussed by the Rev. W. T. Evans, W. G. Thomas and W. H. Hyatt. A very lengthy address was given by Rev. W. L. Davis, of Williamstown, on "The Relative Importance of Sacred Geography in Sunday Schools." The subject led to a discussion which was indulged in by Rev. J. J. Evans and W. L. Evans and W. H. Hyatt.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session opened with devotional services. Addresses were given by W. T. Williams, of Mt. Carmel; Rev. William Smith, of Nanticoke, and Rev. E. H. Romig, of Lebanon. Reports of last year's work were read and approved. The resolutions concerning the cause of temperance were adopted. The following resolutions, which were adopted:—

Resolved—Whereas, Several of our churches are not able to support a minister by reason of their weakness, we recommend that in such cases two or three churches combine to support a pastor between them wherever practical.

Resolved—We rejoice in the great victory for Temperance and Prohibition in Canada as related in the report of the League, and we earnestly urge upon our people to labor incessantly for the advancement of the cause of temperance in our own country. We believe that these convictions we respectively appeal to his excellency, President William McKinley to abolish the canteen drinking system in every territory of the United States.

Resolved—We call attention to the fact that our congregations are trained in religious knowledge, as it is their privilege to be trained, we urge upon present pastors and teachers, to adopt a practical method of catechizing children regularly in the great truths of revealed religion.

Resolved—We call attention to the declaration of our national council that the educational standard of the ministry should be maintained at the elevated point where congregational usage has placed it, and we deprecate the effort to do to the ministry now too often practiced.

Resolved—We feel that the great cause of missions, both home and foreign, are of paramount importance, and we urge upon pastors and the leaders in our congregations to increase the cause of missions steadily to the people and to take up contributions for the great work which appeals so urgently unto us at present.

Resolved—We call attention to the fact that the Puritan church of Scranton for their generous hospitality and their kindly entertainment of the convention, we also appreciate the good singing of the choir and the inspiring words of Dr. Duncan, Rev. E. H. Romig and others who took part as visitors to the convention.

DUNMORE.

Odd Fellows' hall last evening was a scene of the third anniversary of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, council No. 1022. Long before the curtain rose, the hall was packed to its fullest capacity, many being compelled to stand in the aisles, and upon the landing. When the curtain rose a beautiful sight met the gaze of the audience. In the center of the front of the stage was a stand upon which was the Bible. Alongside stood a little red school house with an American flag waving triumphantly being stirred by a gentle breeze coming through the open door-way. In the background were several large flags artistically arranged to form a booth, while several pieces of furniture, pots, and plants, etc., added to the general effect. The committee, C. H. Smith, chairman; William Henwood and C. W. Sloan, deserve particular mention for the manner in which they carried out the duties devolving upon them. The programme was as follows: Piano duet, Misses Emma Ludwig and May Murphy, address of welcome, C. H. Smith; selection, Arlington quartet; solo, Miss Ruby Vest; selection, Messrs.
