over $40 to Mrs. Morgan for board. Early yesterday morning the two were arrested and at a hearing later in the morning paid the board owed, the costs and regained their freedom.

FUNERALS OF A DAY.

The funeral of the late John R. Lewis was held yesterday afternoon from the residence of the deceased's sister, Mrs. W. H. Williams, 1405 Luzerne street. The remains were borne to the First Welsh Baptist church where services were conducted in the presence of a large number of friends. The casket was almost covered beneath the many beautiful floral offerings.

Rev. D. D. Hopkins, of Wales, and Rev. Charles Jones, of Nanticoke, were the officiating ministers. Both spoke briefly and in Welsh, and their remarks were eulogistic in tone. The church choir assisted in the services at the conclusion of which the remains were viewed. Later they were borne to the Washburn street cemetery where interment was made. The pall bearers were Thomas Howell, John Reynolds, H. P. Davies, Thomas M. Jones, J. L. Jenkins, and John J. Morgan.

The remains of Robert, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Crook, of 1895 Jackson street, were interred at the Washburn street cemetery yesterday afternoon. Short services were conducted at the residence previous to interment and was in charge of Rev. Charles Prosser, pastor of the Green Ridge Primitive Methodist church. The pall bearers were the Messrs. Elizabeth, Thomas H. Morris, M. Reed, E. Williams, E. Hughes, S. Evans, M. Judge and M. Jones.

The funeral of Harry, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Zimmerman, of 222 Meridian street, was held yesterday afternoon from the paternal residence. Many friends of the parents were in attendance. Rev. S. F. Matthews, pastor of the Scranton Street Baptist church, conducted the services. Interment was made at Forest Hill cemetery.

FUNERALS TODAY.

The funeral of the late George Watkins will be held this morning from the residence, 828 South Main avenue. Services will be conducted at 10 o'clock. The remains will be taken to Dalton for interment.

The funeral of Mary, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sanders, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 915 West Elm street. Interment will be made at the Washburn street cemetery. The funeral of Alfred M., the young son of Mrs. Kate Hughes, of 123 North Grant avenue, will be held from the residence this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Interment will be made at the Washburn street cemetery.

Mrs. Catherine Kivlin died at the home of her son, John Kivlin, of Mary street, yesterday morning. Funeral Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in the Cathedral cemetery.

The Loving Cup. From the Shoe and Hat Reporter. The loving cup is a historical emblem. In the middle ages at the close of an entertainment the parting guest was presented with a drink in a large bowl. Just as he was mounting his horse. It was called the "stirrup cup." Sometimes when the friendship between host and guest was frequent occasions among Italian nobles, and to put a stop to the chalice introduced the loving cup, which had three handles. Two of these were grasped by the host and the third by the guest. The host raised the cup and the guest raised the cup and incidentally so that his right hand might be too busy to draw a sword or dagger. When the guest had drunk, the host released the cup, which was passed to the next one. The monks in early times named this the "cup of charity" or "cup of love." It was filled with wine with a piece of toast floating therein and circulated from right to left around the table. Hence the phrase "drinking a toast."

At Natter's hall the annual masquerade ball of the Star Social club, an organization composed of the representatives of the young men of the city, was held last night. The past efforts of the club were outside at last night's occasion. It was the most successfully managed masquerade dance conducted on this side, from every standpoint. The costumes worn by the immense group of dancers were exquisite. The Ringgold band gave concert music and Prof. Johnson furnished the dance music.

DAY'S DOINGS IN DUNMORE BOROUGH

ADJOURNED SESSION OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

An Opinion from Willard, Warren & Knapp with Reference to the Powers of Tax Collectors—Officers of the Knights of Honor Installed. Party of Young People Went to Jessup on a Straw Ride—John Apasink Arrested for Disorderly Conduct.

An adjourned session of the school board was held in No. 1 building last evening. Messrs. Wilson, Bronson, Webber, Spencer and Kellam were present. The object of the meeting was to try and settle the tax duplicates of ex-Tax Collector T. E. Boland for the years of '94, '95 and '96. The secretary, as instructed by the board at the previous meeting, had seen his friends on Blakely street.

It stated that if the account for the above years remained unpaid it is the duty of the present school board to take the matter in hand and settle them. Also, if the tax collector is not able to collect the tax from the taxable, then it becomes the duty to return the property and that may be sold for the collection of the tax. The personal property of the taxable or the personal property upon premises is liable to be distrained for the payment of taxes. It matters not whose personal property it is, so long as it is upon the premises. All this is set out in the tax collector's warrants and there should be no difficulty in the tax collector following the law. If he will read his warrant he will find exactly how he is to collect his tax.

The tax collector should collect all the taxes on his duplicate within a year and then these questions about the change of ownership would not occur. Also, that the school board has not the right to compel the auditors to perform their duties. The auditors are independent officers and are responsible for the faithful performance of their duties. Instructed by this opinion and after going carefully over the duplicates, the board exonerated such as they saw fit.

Officers of Knights of Honor The following officers were installed at the meeting of the Knights of Honor, held in their rooms Saturday evening, to serve for the ensuing term: Past dictator, Oscar Ridgeaway; dictator, William St. John; vice-dictator, Wilbur Beasing; assistant dictator, Edward Oakley; recorder, Edward Angwin; financial recorder, Theodore Sargeant; treasurer, William Carrell; chaplain, Abram Morris; judge, Joseph Seigle; guardian, Floyd Schoonover; William St. John, vice-dictator, James Guiney, William D. Griffin and Delman Swingle; medical examiner, Dr. J. C. Bateson. The next meeting will be held Thursday evening and all members are urged to be present, as it is their duty to sign application for their papers.

AN INCIDENT RIOT. John Opasink, of Sport Hill, was arrested last evening by Special Officer James McCall on a warrant sworn out before Justice of the Peace Cooney on a charge of assault and battery.

The row started in a hotel on East Drinker street and nearly ended in a riot, but the appearance of Officer McCall prevented it. Opasink was held under $200 bail to appear before Justice of the Peace Cooney at seven o'clock this evening.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. They should be held responsible for opinions here expressed.]

Soldiers Express Their Indignation Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: As members of Company H, Thirtieth regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, having read in some of the Sunday papers of our city, the libelous and untrue articles published about Captain Selah W. Corwin, we wish to go on record as saying that, as we have been associated with him some of the years, we have perfect confidence in him as an officer, soldier and friend.

As every officer is obliged to give bonds and vouchers for every cent received from the state of Pennsylvania, it must be the ravages of a diseased mind to write any such foolishness, and as we come out in the name of humanity, it disgusts us that the laws we are ready to die for, if necessary, should allow the greatest inhumanity at home.
