LIEUT. JAMES A. HIGGINS.

What Philadelphia Inquirer Says About a Former Pittstonian.

The Philadelphia Inquirer yesterday contained the following concerning Second Lieutenant James A. Higgins, who formerly resided at Pittston:

"Second Lieutenant James A. Higgins, of the Fifteenth United States Signal Corps, which was organized in this city by his brother, Captain Amos Higgins, last summer, has just returned from Cuba, where he has been stationed since active operations were begun in the Cuban campaign. He is now at his home, 1015 North Sixth street, but will return to his post shortly.

"Second Lieutenant Higgins gives an account of an interesting branch of military work that does not receive much attention in the exciting times of military operations. The corps with which he was connected was located principally in the Pinar Del Rio province, where they erected over three hundred miles of military telegraph and telephone lines to facilitate the government of the island in bringing all parts into closer communication.

HALLSTEAD SAYS HE HAS NOT RESIGNED

IS NO FOUNDATION FOR THE STORIES TO THAT EFFECT.

Does Not Know Now What He May Do in the Future, But Just at Present Has No Idea of Giving Up the Railroad Business—Statement That Mr. Bogart Is to Resign Is Also Without Foundation, He Says—Changes in Other Departments.

The expected rumors that General Manager Hallstead would sever his connection with the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company broke forth into print last week, and, as was to be further expected, they culminated yesterday in "positive" stories that he had resigned. The resignation, according to these stories, was handed in last week and promptly accepted. It was to go into effect in six months, and the Mr. Hallstead would become associated with the Lehigh Valley road.

"Yes, I have seen the stories," said Mr. Hallstead, smilingly, when questioned on the matter yesterday by a Tribune reporter. "They are on a par with the rest of the yarns now afloat concerning the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, and which the men on the road call 'stove committee stories.' I have not resigned. You can say that positively. What I may do, of course, can not say. No one can nip out with certainty what his future course will be."

HAS NO SUCH IDEA.

Mr. Hallstead looked out the window for a moment, as if carefully framing his answer, and then, with emphasis, said: "I do not at present contemplate resigning. There is no ground whatever for such a story."

When asked if he knew anything as to the truth of the story that Superintendent Bogart proposed to give up the railroad business on the account of ill health, Mr. Hallstead said: "No, no, there is no truth in that. Those stories as far as they affect Mr. Bogart and myself are wholly without foundation."

Stories were also afloat to the effect that a number of mine superintendents had been asked to resign and that several additional changes had been made in Superintendent Fitzgibbon's department.

Superintendents Bert Green, of Bellevue; Lanestaff, of the Diamond, and M. J. Mackin, who were mentioned, as among those in the coal department who were to be displaced. In only one case could the story be verified, that of Superintendent Green. His resignation went into effect Saturday and M. J. Mackin, who was a clerk in the superintendent's office, was placed in his stead.

WALSH PROMOTED.

The only change of any importance in the department of motive power and machinery that Superintendent Fitzgibbon was ready to announce was the transfer of Michael Walsh, master mechanic at Stroudsburg, to Buffalo, where he is to become head of the company's shops.

Mr. Fitzgibbon also gave it out that in line with the policy of concentrating the construction work in Scranton, the Kingston shops would be done away with. The machinery is now being moved to Scranton.

FAILED TO GET A QUORUM.

Meeting to Kill Telephone Ordinances Did Not Materialize.

The special session of common council called for Saturday night did not materialize, owing to the failure to muster a quorum. Nearly all the members were present, either in the council chamber or the corridor, but only ten of them answered their names.

These ten were David H. Reese, Morris V. Morris, James J. Grier, P. P. Calpin, J. J. Ruane, J. J. Monaghan, C. E. Wenzel, E. F. Morris, W. J. Smith, Michael Norton.

The purpose of the meeting was to deal with the new telephone ordinance. Those who did not attend the meeting say that an effort was to be made to take the ordinance from the hands of the committee and kill them.

EIGHT SENT TO COUNTY JAIL.

Big Batch from Police Court Yesterday Morning.

Eight prisoners went up to the county jail yesterday morning. Five of them were terms who were arrested Saturday and Officer Block rounded up in the rear of the United States hotel. On Friday a report was received at headquarters that a gang of five tramps had stolen a hatchet from a yard on the hill. Saturday afternoon a telephone message apprised headquarters that gang of five tramps had stolen a pair of overalls and jacket from a barn in Raymond court. The two officers went on a search for the tramps and quickly located them near the rear of the yard. The hatchet and overalls were found in their possession. Mayor Moir gave them thirty days each. They are registered as Ambrose Gibson, Michael White, Benjamin John, Thomas Carroll and James Quinn and each claims to be a native of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Grace Jewell, who was picked up in a box car on the Millin avenue switch only a week ago and was allowed to go free upon the promise to leave the city, was arrested on Lackawanna avenue Saturday night in company with Daisy Richman, for drunkenness and street walking and was given thirty days. Her companion paid a $2 fine.

John Connolly, of Scranton, and James Dickson, of Nanticoke, went up for ten days for drunkenness.

INDUSTRIAL JOTTINGS.

This morning fourteen Scranton carpenters will leave for Long Island, where they have secured situations.

S. W. Roberts, of this city, and John Simons, until a few months ago one of the owners of the Hotel Columbia, at Lake Ariel, have purchased the Sweater Manufacturing company of Hawley.

The manufacturers of automatic mine doors located at Terre Haute, Ind., are anxious to locate here, and an effort is being made to move the plant to this city. S. M. Reynolds, of Terre Haute, a former resident of Scranton, is the promoter of the project.

FRIGHTFUL DEATH OF A YOUNG WOMAN

SHE WAS RETURNING FROM A PICNIC IN MOUNTAINS.

Miss Cassie Ziegler and Three Companions Got on a Stone Rigging Driven by Bernard Gilmore to Ride Part of the Way Home and at Irving Avenue She Was Thrown Off and Sustained a Fractured Skull and Other Injuries. Coroner's Inquest Tonight.

Miss Cassie Ziegler, who was the brightest and happiest of a merry cortege returning from a day's journey in the mountains at No. 5, met a shocking death Saturday evening, shortly after sunset, on the "old log truck road" in the Nineteenth ward. Her death was caused by her falling or jumping from a stone wagon driven by Bernard Gilmore, a lad of 15 years of age.

John Ziegler was also 15 years of age and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ziegler, of 1925 Cedar avenue, formerly of Pittston. She was a member of the Loyalty club of the South Scranton branch of the Young Women's Christian association. The members of the Loyalty club arranged to spend Saturday in the No. 5 mountains, and in one of the groups were Cassie Ziegler, Millie Dickman, Minnie Gardner and Mary Dymond. A short distance from the old brick yard on the log truck road the young ladies rested, and young Gilmore came along with his stone rigging. The girls got on and as the three remaining ones all state, they were given a swift ride over the rocky roads. The "old truck road" was a narrow one, and the stone rigging, a few rods from Maple street, at this point that Cassie Ziegler met her death by being thrown from her position on the wagon, or in an attempt to jump from it. The true facts, probably, will never be known.

WHAT THE GIRLS SAY.

The three girls who accompanied Miss Ziegler, stated to a Tribune man yesterday that owing to the dense clouds of dust due to the rapid pace of the horses, they were unable to say how their companion left the wagon. One loud moan attracted their attention and the wagon was halted. Reaching her side it was found that she was dead.

John Murray, of Crown avenue, who was enroute to his home from the South mill, raised the lifeless form from the road and carried it to the home of Mrs. Dougherty, a few feet from where the accident occurred.

By permission of Coroner Roberts the remains were taken to the home of Miss Ziegler's parents.

At 10 o'clock the coroner arrived and empaneled the following jurors: Edward Cavley, Alderman Storr, Joseph Lewis, W. R. Dawes, George Fenne and Henry Kemmer. The jury viewed the remains and adjourned to meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the arbitration room of the court house. The examination of the body by Coroner Roberts showed the girl's skull was fractured and her jaw bones dislocated. Death was caused instantly by the fracture of the skull.

Young Gilmore, who was driving the wagon, when seen at his home on the No. 5 mountain yesterday, made the appended statement:

GILMORE'S STATEMENT.

"The wagon I had belonged to M. J. Ruddy, the contractor, and I was returning it when the terrible accident occurred. With me were Rob. Walsh and John Overmyer. About a half a mile from where the girl fell I met the four of them, and they climbed on the rigging. I asked them to get off, as my team was flimsy, and they might get hurt. They paid no attention to me, and they had a high old time singing and shouting. "I had a log truck road ends, and you turn on Irving avenue, my team became frightened and made a dash to run away. I tightened my lines, but could hardly hold them. I heard a cry, and turning around saw the girl jumping from the wagon. When we reached the Ziegler girl she was dead."

As Gilmore told his story he was deeply moved by the sad event. The funeral of Miss Ziegler will be held tomorrow. At noon she will be taken to Pittston and laid to rest in the Hartwood cemetery.

TRANSFORMATION OF ARMORY

It Will Be Accomplished for the Firemen's Fair.

In a few weeks the old Scranton armory will hardly know itself, judging from the preparations that are being made for its decoration for the firemen's fair. There will be colors and bunting and bunting and colors galore. Old Colonial booths, Moorish booths and every other kind of a booth bedecked and bedizened until the old armory will look like a different place altogether.

It is quite fitting that the armory should contribute a few of its last days to so meritorious an enterprise as the firemen's fair.

OPERATION WAS BENEFICIAL.

As a Result Shannon Will Gain Strength Rapidly.

As a direct result of the operation performed Friday upon John Shannon, the wounded burglar at the Lackawanna hospital, as exclusively mentioned in The Tribune of Saturday, he will, it is expected, gain strength rapidly.

It was the intention for some time past to operate, but Shannon's peculiar condition would hardly permit. He did not rally well on Friday, but Saturday was greatly improved and yesterday expressed himself as feeling wonderfully relieved.

ALDERMANIC CASES.

Ellen Shine and Mary Scanlon, both of Pine Brook, and neighbors, were defendant and prosecutor, respectively, in a hearing before Alderman Miller Saturday. The defendant was charged with uttering threats to kill and was held in the sum of $200 bail for her appearance at court.

Thomas Lyons, the ex-employee of the Scranton Dairy company, who was arrested Friday charged with embezzlement by T. S. Huffling, agent for the above company, was given a hearing Saturday afternoon and held in bail for his appearance. Old-fashioned Alderman Kannon heard the case.

David Davis, charged with hurling a stone through the windows of car No. 11, of the Street Railway company, near Dunmore Corners, recently, was given
