CLARK REPLEVIN CASE ON TRIAL ALL DAY.

Plaintiff Was on the Stand for the Greater Part of the Time—Waterfield Case Given to the Jury—Verdict Not Yet Reported—Respass Suit Against the N. Y. O. & W. R. R. Co. Verdict Returned in Favor of Fred Webb in His Suit Against Bulls Head Company.

The Replevin case of Miles F. Clark against John J. Kelly and others was on trial all day yesterday before Judge Edwards and when court adjourned at 4:30 not all of the testimony for the plaintiff had been heard. Clark was on the stand for the greater part of the day.

In the main courtroom the case of John Waterfield against the city of Carbondale was given to the jury in the afternoon but a verdict had not been agreed upon up to the hour of adjournment.

After the Waterfield case went to the jury the trespass suit of Mrs. Bridget Sullivan, administratrix of the estate of her mother, Margaret Kennedy, against the New York, Ontario and Western Railway company, was put on trial before Judge Archbald. The plaintiff is represented by L. P. Wedeman and the defendant company by Attorneys J. E. Burr and Charles E. Daniels. On Sept. 23, 1898, Mrs. Kennedy was run down by a train of the defendant company's train at the Belmont street crossing, Carbondale, and was injured. She died a year later. It is contended by the plaintiff that her mother died from the effect of the injuries she sustained. This is denied by the company. In the case of Fred Webb against the Bulls Head Coal company, the jury yesterday morning returned a verdict of $80.00 in favor of the plaintiff.

NEMESIS OF THE DUST FIEND.

Written for The Tribune. There's a rising indignation 'mongst the women of this town. From gentle little Mrs. Smith to haughty Mrs. Brown: "Tis not the servant questions they are wrothing with now, but something quite as vexing I'm sure you will allow.

My lady dons her new spring suit, her hat and shoes so neat, From crown of head to sole of foot her outfit's quite complete. Her "tailor made" 's the latest cut, she knows this very well, And as she saunters along the street, she's sure she looks quite swell.

But alas! alas! how soon, our human joys are crushed; She comes in contact with the streets that all the day are brushed. Clouds of dust are in the air; it fills her mouth and eyes; She cannot get away from it no matter how she tries.

The freshness of her new spring gown is gone. It is a sight! And her erstwhile happy, smiling face becomes as black as night. The mayor and the council still are very wide at sea. About the Barber asphalt pave they never will agree.

Meanwhile, the streets are full of holes, they really can't be flushed, And so to wretcher in this dust it seems we always breathe. Oh, Mayor! Oh, Mayor! We here appeal to thee. From this distressing state of things to quickly set us free!

If not, the women of this town should rise up in their might, And demand that all this fifth and dirt be cleaned up in the night; And if these just demands are not attended to, they should organize a street brigade and show men what to do. Yes, and how to do it, too. —Y.

The Spring Medicine

The importance of taking a good Spring Medicine is well known—in fact, its necessity is universally admitted. To argue this point is useless—takes up your time and wastes our space. The real question is, what to take? Of course, you want the best. For your blood, you want a medicine which cures blood diseases. For your appetite, stomach-weakness, and dyspepsia symptoms you want a medicine containing appetite-giving, stomach-toning, dyspepsia-curing qualities. For that tired feeling, dull headache, miserable, all run down condition, you want a true tonic to bone, sinew, nerve and muscle—not a stimulant. Now we can prove, we have proved, we DO prove each and every day in the year, that Hood's Sarsaparilla IS the best; that it is unequalled as a general Spring Medicine; that it meets every requirement above named and more. We prove this by thousands of testimonials—not from people anxious to advertise themselves, but from people in the same walk of life as you. And our testimonials tell of Hood's Sarsaparilla CURES, real, bona fide CURES. We believe when you have given it a fair trial you will agree that America's Greatest Medicine and best Spring Medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.
