

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

UNION MISSIONARY MEETING OF CONGREGATIONALISTS. Held in the First Welsh Congregational Church—Addresses by Rev. Charles Creegan, Rev. T. C. Edwards and Rev. W. C. Wilcox—Initial Supper This Evening—Pie Social at Miss Daggers—Two Weddings Yesterday—Funerals and Other Events.

A large audience attended the union missionary meeting in the First Welsh Congregational church last evening. Rev. David Jones, pastor of the church, led the devotional exercises and introduced the speakers.

The object of the meeting was to stimulate interest in missionary work and to acquaint the members of the various churches with the work being done along that particular line. The speakers were trained workers in missionary fields and gave vivid pictures of what has already been accomplished and what is now being done to educate the heathen.

Rev. Charles C. Creegan, of New York, secretary of the Congregational Missionary society, outlined the policy of that organization, and told of the good work being done.

Rev. T. C. Edwards, of Kingston, who has traveled extensively, dwelt upon the question of missions and appealed to the people to support the cause, which has placed the Bible in every known land.

Rev. W. C. Wilcox, a South African missionary who spent sixteen years among the Boers, gave a very interesting talk and interspersed his remarks with occasional references to the present war now being waged in the Transvaal.

You always expect to see a baby plump and rosy, don't you? Thinness in a baby is a disease. If not corrected serious results follow. The first year often determines the health for the whole of a long life.

Scott's Emulsion is a true and tried friend to the little ones. It gives them just the plumpness all healthy babies should have.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF HIGH SCHOOL

The members of Sophomore Latin and Scientific, of which Miss Esther Craig was a member, experienced a great sorrow in her death. The news of the death of such a bright and agreeable class-mate was a shock to every pupil.

Esther Craig was beloved by the pupils who knew her. Besides being the brightest scholar in her class, she was always ready to aid her fellow students who were backward in their lessons. At the first period Monday there was abundant evidence of the grief that Miss Craig's tragic death had caused.

As the girls entered the class room and saw the unoccupied seat of their late class-mate they could not hide the outward evidence of their grief.

When Miss Gregg, the teacher, entered the room her eyes were red from weeping. It was sometime before the pupils and teacher were sufficiently composed to begin the duties of the day. A meeting was held after the close of the session by the members of Sophomore Latin Scientific, to appoint a committee who will draft suitable resolutions expressing the deep sorrow of the class-mates of Miss Craig.

On account of the death of Miss Craig, the banner, which is usually brought to the platform when a victory has been won by the foot ball team, was kept in the locker room and carried up at the close of school. The presenting of the new foot ball which was given to the boys by Superintendent Howell because they won the game Thursday, was postponed for the same reason.

The foot ball team Mr. Howell promised, is one of the best that can be procured in the city, and is a thing which was greatly needed by the boys, as they were almost destitute of a ball for practicing. Tropp will no doubt be able to kick more goals with the new ball than with the one the team has been using.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the literary society will be held Friday at the close of the session. This meeting will no doubt be a very elaborate affair, as the programme committee has been working extremely hard and has secured a very fine programme for the meeting. A very large gathering of the pupils is expected by the members of the society. These meetings are becoming very necessary in school work, and are looked upon by most of the pupils as an hour well spent. A considerable amount of knowledge can be gathered by the pupils from the coming meeting as a fine debate is to be on the programme.

Paul Williams, who is a member of the Sophomore class and who has been suffering from a sprained ankle, which he sustained during a small foot ball game, was able to be out Friday. As he was returning home in the evening of that day, the steps being made slippery by the recent rain, he fell and sprained his ankle. This will prevent him to be absent from school the remainder of this week. Although he suffers considerable pain yet he manages to get his lessons and forward them to his respective teachers. This will enable him to keep up with the class better than if he did not study.

The game with Binghamton High school on Thanksgiving, came out as every one expected. The score of 5-0 was earned by hard pushing and genuine playing. De Bow and Vaughn undoubtedly played the best games. De Bow, especially, did some fine running and his usual made long runs around the end; he made the star run of the game. Vaughn also played a very fine game and the way in which he hit the interference and tackled proved that he has not lost one bit of his usual playing. Williams' full-back, in as good as ever at smashing interference.

There are many humorous and sometimes very absurd things found written on the covers of books at the school. For instance, one of the writings which was found on the cover of a Caesar read as follows: "Tis midnight, and the setting sun; 'Tis rising in the glorious west; The rapid rivers slowly run; 'Tis the first sleep in his downy nest; The pensive god and sportive god; Hilariously leap from bough to bough; This piece of twisted poetry was signed "Shakespeare."

John Price, a member of the Freshman class, while hunting in Pike county last Wednesday, succeeded in killing a large deer. Mr. Price although very young is a very enthusiastic sportsman. Besides shooting the deer he also obtained a considerable amount of smaller game. John is very joyous over his first deer and looks upon the deed with a certain pride which an old backwoodsman usually possesses.

The boys had considerable fun in interment yesterday sliding on the pavement on Vine street. The snow of the night before made the sport very fine. They had a long slide across the street. There were many falls but no one was hurt.

The committee on the programme for the meeting Friday, will hold a meeting today for the purpose of selecting a suitable programme.
