CITY NOTES

HAND WAS CUT.—George Nelson Teets is suffering from blood poisoning in the right hand as the result of having cut it by colliding with a glass show case last week.

CONTRACT CERTIFIED.—Controller Howell yesterday certified the contract between John Gilmore and the city providing for the grading of Taylor avenue between Vine and Olive streets.

BURNED IN STEEL MILL.—Thomas McDonough, of Moose street, was burned at the North steel mill by the splashing of molten metal Monday afternoon. His face and hands were badly injured.

PROPOSALS TO BE OPENED.—Proposals for the renting of a store room for the new West Scranton postoffice will be opened on Saturday in the postoffice by a government inspector and the contract awarded.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.—Jim Murphy, of Pine Brook, accepts the challenge of Al Fox to wrestle for the championship at 112 pounds, May 12, 12 years. Prize answer as soon as possible. John McGinnis, manager for Murphy.

PAY DAYS.—The Lackawanna trainmen and firemen will be paid tomorrow, commencing at 8 o'clock. The Delaware and Hudson paid Monday at the Conyngham shaft, Baltimore slope, Baltimore No. 2 and Baltimore tunnel, Wilkes-Barre. Yesterday the employees of the White Oak at Archibald and Jernyn mines at Jernyn were paid.

COMPLIMENTARY SMOKE.—A complimentary smoker was last night given to the members of Camp R. S. of Veterans, by First Lieutenant W. M. Hamlin, of Moose, and Second Lieutenant Warren Pierce, newly elected officers. The affair was given at the rooms of Lieutenant Ezra Griffin post, Grand Army of the Republic, and was a great success.

WINDOW BROKEN.—Eugene Coleman, of the South Washington avenue flats, was last night given a lesson on the charge of breaking a window in the house of M. Mendelziev, also of the flats. He was held in $500 bail. It seems that the window was broken by a ball being batted through in a base ball game which was being played in an adjoining lot and in which young Coleman was one of the players.

WILL TALK ABOUT DOWHEISM.—The Principles, Practice and Purpose of the Christian Catholic Church, will be the subject of an address by Rev. Gideon Hammond, of Philadelphia, in the church in Guernsey hall. This is the church of which Mrs. C. S. Boyd is a member, who has been prominent of late by the death of Mrs. C. F. Newell. Rev. John Alexander Dowie, of Chicago, is the general overseer of the church. Public is invited.

MILITARY BALL.—The Volunteers of '98 association last night gave a military ball in Music hall, which was very well attended and proved a great success. Professor McPernett furnished the music and the committees in charge of the affair consisted of: Corporal Committee, Corporal John T. Cokley, Corporal

Weeks, Private George Cleveland. Reception committee, Sergeant James J. Corbett, Corporal Arthur Weeks, Corporal John T. Cokley, Private William Vaughn, Private Calvin Decker.

A MINISTER'S KINDNESS.—The Rev. Dr. Hughes, late of Kimberley, South Africa, is a strong believer in practical Christianity. A poor woman, by the name of Thomas, with five children, left this city yesterday for the far west, to join the husband and father who is employed there in mission work. Mr. Hughes heard of the case and the straitened condition of the family, and he went to the rescue. Finding they had not sufficient money to take them so far, he laid the case before the railway authorities who kindly gave him transportation for the whole family as far as Buffalo. Mr. Hughes also made all arrangements for the transportation of their goods, and he gave them a check to purchase what was necessary for the mother and the children on the way, etc. It was stated by him on his way from the depot, "This is one of the happiest days of my life, that is a worthy family, but poor, and I am truly thankful that I am able to assist them. I always feel gentlemen of position and means willing to help the worthy poor when the cases are respectfully brought before them."

SHOTS AND SCREAMS.
Heard Near Millfin Avenue and Mulberry Street.

Rev. Robert P. Y. Pierce, pastor of the Penn Avenue Baptist church, and who resides on Millfin avenue near the corner of Mulberry street, was aroused this morning at 12:30 o'clock by hearing a woman screaming for help in his yard, saying she wanted protection. He rushed down and admitted her into the house. She said that two men had attempted to assault her on the street corner.

He noticed that she was intoxicated and of disreputable appearance, and accordingly telephoned to police headquarters for an officer to take her in charge. When he got back to where he had left her, however, he found that she had left by the front door. The officer who was detailed inquired a short time afterwards in a saloon at the corner of Franklin avenue and Linden street, and found that she had just left there a few minutes before.

A peculiar fact is that Dr. Busch, house surgeon at the Lackawanna hospital, heard four pistol shots fired near the hospital just at about the same time Dr. Pierce was aroused.

JUDGMENT BOND FILED.

Contractor M. J. Gibbons Will Begin Work on the Scranton Street Sewer Today.

Contractor M. J. Gibbons, as fore-shawed in yesterday's Tribune, late yesterday afternoon filed a judgment bond with the city treasurer, in the sum of $673.80, the same being the city's share of the cost of the Scranton street sewer. Controller Howell will accordingly certify the contract today and work will be commenced tomorrow, as Mr. Gibbons has all the material now on hand.

The controller will certify the contract only because Mr. Gibbons has promised to put the Mr. Pleasant strikers at work on it. "Otherwise," he said, yesterday, "I would under no consideration certify until the bond ordinance appropriating the necessary funds is passed. To secure myself I required Mr. Gibbons to file a judgment bond which I am assured by the city solicitor is perfectly binding."

Mr. Gibbons will commence work on the sewer at the west end of the gas house bridge at the foot of Scranton street, and will work upwards. The sewer is to be 4,200 feet in length and will traverse Scranton street as far as North Main avenue, with branches on parts of the following streets: Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Jackson streets. He will open up two blocks and will start with 200 men.

He will also file with the city treasurer later in the week another judgment bond in the sum of $4,972.50, that being the city's share for the construction of the Section B, Fifth sewer district, in North Scranton, which contract has also been let to Mr. Gibbons, as soon as this bond is filed Controller Howell will certify that contract also.

This sewer will be 10,470 feet long and embrace a large number of streets, including the following: North Main avenue, Dean street, Providence place, School street, Edna avenue, Depot street, Pond street, Kennan's street, Weston place, Spring street, Margaret avenue, Hollister avenue and Belmont street. Mr. Gibbons will place about 200 men at work on this job also, but cannot start work until next week, as the large twenty-four inch sewer pipe which is to be used has not yet arrived in the city.

The contract for the Scranton street sewer was signed by the mayor on April 12, 1899, and the North Scranton sewer contract on Sept. 29, 1899, and they have been lying in the controller's office ever since waiting for the bond issue.

JOHN SWEENEY INJURED.

Was Employed as a Switchman by the D. L. & W. Company.

John Sweeney, of Eynon street, employed as a switchman in the Lackawanna yard, stepped from an engine in front of another engine yesterday afternoon and was knocked down and had his foot badly crushed.

The engine and three cars passed over the member, severing several toes. He was taken to the Moses Taylor hospital for treatment.

LECTURE ON THE MUSIC OF IRELAND

DELIVERED BY REV. THOMAS P. McLOUGHLIN.

First of a Series Under the Auspices of the Catholic Young Women's Club—He Said That Ireland Had a Musical History Before Any of the Great Nations of Europe and Claimed That Early Scotch and Welsh Musicians Outed Their Inspiration to the Irish.

Rev. Thomas P. McLoughlin, of New York city, lectured before and delightfully entertained a large audience last night in St. Thomas college hall, his topic being "The Music of Ireland." The lecture was the first of a series to be given on Tuesday nights for the benefit of the newly organized Catholic Young Women's club.

Prior to the regular lecture a short musical programme was given, the songs being all tuneful Irish melodies. Miss Alice Burke rendered "An Irish Love Song," and "The Old Flaid Shawl" in her beautiful contralto voice and Mrs. Joseph O'Brien sang "Kathleen Mavourneen" and "The Dear Little Shamrock" with her accustomed finish. Miss Isabel Clarke, who has a resonant contralto voice, sang during the lecture "Benedicite Stream" and "An Irish Folk Song."

Father McLoughlin was introduced by Rt. Rev. Bishop M. J. Hoban, who studied with the lecturer in Rome for a number of years. Father McLoughlin has been most pleasing personality and grace of speech and is not only a lecturer on music but a musician as well. He is possessed of a magnificent baritone voice, of wonderful depth and power, and during the evening sang several of Tom Moore's Irish melodies, including "The Rose Tree," "Once Through Tara's Halls," "The Minstrel Boy" and "The Meeting of the Waters."

ITS EARLY HISTORY.

In beginning his lecture he told of the wonderfully high standard music had reached in Ireland prior to the twelfth century, when the musical history of the other great nations of Europe really begins. The Druidical religion, practiced by the early Celts, was responsible in a large degree for this remarkable musical development, all of the Druids having been bards, who were the earliest exponents of poetry and music.

The greatest period of musical development in Ireland, he said, was between the sixth and ninth centuries, though not much is known of the exact history of those times.

"During the twelfth century," said he, "when all Ireland had been racked by fire and by the sword, such wondrous melodies as 'The Last Rose of Summer' and others were produced. What, then, must have been Ireland's musical condition from the sixth to the ninth centuries, when she was at peace?"

He contended that all of the early Welsh and Scotch musicians owed their inspiration to Ireland and thought many melodies now claimed by both of these countries in reality are old Irish airs. In support of this he quoted "from the memory" as he expressed it, from the pen of the historians, in Powell's History of Cambria, a recognized modern authority in early Welsh history, the statement is made that in the early ages it was musicians from Ireland who devised the instrumental music played in Wales. In conclusion he said:

SIMPLE AND TUNEFUL.

"The Irish melodies are simple and tuneful, they appeal to every heart and it does not require any special cultivation to appreciate them. I am confident that the time is coming when the English, having studied the Irish character of the present and the Irish music and the Irish poets of ancient times, will realize that there is in the Irish people an innate nobility that deserves recognition."

"The time must come when Ireland will again flaunt her beauteous banner of green with its harp of gold and take her place among the nations of the world as the land of music and the home of song."

RYAN WAS DISCHARGED.

Alderman Kasson Found Him Not Guilty of Larceny of White's Coat.

James Ryan, of Forest court, was arraigned before Alderman Myron Kasson last night on the charge of larceny of a coat, preferred by A. J. White, of 1221 Prospect avenue. He was discharged, as it developed that there was a misunderstanding in the case. The two men are employed at Cusick's livery and one day in March White, while at work, was kicked by a horse and rendered unconscious.

ANNUAL PEW LETTING.

Seats for Year Assigned to Congregation of Elm Park Church.

The annual pew letting at the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church took place Monday night and proved a great success, a very large sum of money being realized. The committee in charge of the letting of the seats was composed of G. F. Reynolds, Charles Schlager, W. H. Peck, S. T. Jones, A. D. Pierson, J. L. Connell, J. C. McNulty and B. B. Hicks.

Some very high bids were made, there being one offer of $500 for the rental of a pew for the year.

CIRCUS TENT TIPS.

Social hospitality has found a new opportunity in the getting up of circus parties, and those given for the purpose of visiting the Great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' United Shows have proved the most enjoyable of holiday successes. It will hold in this city tomorrow.

The splendid programme of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' Great United Shows is a magnificent one, including all kinds of the most sensational and brilliant races.

Low excursion rates from all points will enable everybody to cheaply enjoy the thousand and one wonders, sensations, and hilarious episodes of the great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' stupendous amusement aggregation.

MEETING OF UNION LEAGUE.
Executive Committee Was Appointed and Addresses Made.

The recently organized Union League of Lackawanna county met last night in the Central Republican club's headquarters in the Price building and held its regular weekly meeting. An executive committee was appointed and candidate for the legislature John Scheuer and T. J. Reynolds addressed the club.

The executive committee was chosen by the committee on nominations, appointed at the previous meeting, and was elected by the vote of the members of the club. It is composed of Thomas R. Brooks, of the central city, Hon. John F. Scheuer, candidate for legislature in the Second district; B. T. Jayne, of North Scranton; John R. Edwards of West Scranton, census enumerator of this district, and Harry W. Seaman, of Benton.

Mr. Brooks was also appointed to make arrangements for the securing of permanent headquarters for the club. It consists of George M. Marshall, Jr., Will Johns and L. B. Carter.

Both Mr. Scheuer and Mr. Reynolds in addressing the club spoke of the work done by organizations of this nature all over the state, the strength they add to the party and the general benefits derived from them. A large number of new members were enrolled in the club and the meeting then adjourned to meet again Tuesday, May 15.

CONTROLLER'S PRICE LIST

Those Who Sell to the City Must Make Their Figures Conform to Regulation Prices.

Controller Howell yesterday announced that he has now on file in his office a fairly complete list of the market prices of all supplies bought by the city and that in future he will make an effort to have all bills turned in conform to this list before any warrants for their payment are countersigned.

The controller said that he believes that in the past the city has been paying exorbitant prices for various supplies and said that there were numerous cases where even without a price list, it could be seen that the prices charged were way beyond what they should have been. He would mention no names, but he said that in nearly every case the merchant or person selling the goods had lopped off large amounts from the bills at his request, thus confessing that over-charges had been made.

In proof of this a Tribune reporter was shown several bills which have been paid and from which large amounts have been taken off. One bill in particular was reduced over $20.

The members of the auditing committee of councils do not carefully examine all bills that pass before them. This would be manifestly impossible, as they meet only once every sitting and on some occasions as many as four hundred bills have to be passed upon. Assistant City Clerk Morris reads the bills one by one and if there is no objecting voice they are passed. In some instances where there are long bills he is requested to read only the total amount and the bill is passed without any of the members knowing what price is charged for each individual item.

If the controller finds that too much is charged for anything, he returns the bill to the auditing committee and if they do not object to it again all the bill can do is to compel the creditor to come before him and swear to each item. This he has heretofore required in many instances. All bills are, of course, signed by the various heads of departments, but they approve of the bill inasmuch as they are generally the persons who order the supplies and they could do nothing less than approve of the prices which they themselves bought goods at.

The controller says that he believes he can save the city a large amount by his plan and also the school district, for he will in the future compare all bills against the school district with his list, as well. It has taken him several months to compile the price list and he will make an effort to keep it thoroughly up-to-date.

FUNERAL OF MRS. KINGSBURY.

Services were Conducted by Rev. Dr. James McLeod.

The funeral of Mrs. F. H. Kingsbury took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence on Mulberry street, and was very largely attended. It was almost without exception the saddest occasion of the kind those present had experienced. The beautiful young wife, whose friends wept above her quiet form, lay amid flowers which her affection and generosity had secured for her, and it seemed the conservatories of this region must have been rifled of their treasures, as had the desolate home of its chief joy.

The services, conducted by Rev. Dr. James McLeod, were brief but most touching in character. John T. Watkins sang two hymns, favorites of the dead. They were, "When He Cometh to Make Up His Jewels," one that she had loved since childhood, and "Some Sweet Day." Miss Florence Richmond accompanied with the piano. The interment, which was private, was made in Forest Hill, where the dearly loved one was laid near the little child which had wept and smiled but a brief day on earth. Funeral Director Price had charge of the arrangements. The pallbearers were W. H. Jessup, Jr., H. W. Kingsbury, Montrose Bernard, Dr. H. V. Logan, William Mulford, of Montrose, and Robert Jessup.

NO PHYSICIAN ATTENDED.

Coroner Is Investigating the Death of Roland Frantz, of Green Ridge.

During the early hours of yesterday morning, Coroner Frantz was summoned from bed by Undertaker Jones to grant a permit for the burial of Roland Frantz, of Wyoming avenue, Green Ridge, whose remains were being prepared to be taken out of town for interment.

The coroner found that the deceased had been ill for two weeks, but as no physician had been called, a formal certificate of death was wanting. A post mortem examination was made, with the result that death was found to have been primarily due to a liver ailment. The coroner gave a burial permit, but concluded to have a jury pass upon the case and in the course of a few days will conduct an inquest.

The deceased, it is said, was a follower of the Christian Science faith, and on this account no physician was called. It is alleged.

NO MORE WARRANTS FOR THE PRESENT

CRUSADERS GIVE THEIR REASON FOR THIS ACTION.

They Do Not Want Cases to Go Over from Term to Term and They Think They Will Have as Many Chances at the Coming Term as Can Well Be Disposed of—Saloon Men Are to Have a Meeting Friday Night to Decide Upon the Course of Action They Will Pursue.

No new warrants were issued at the instance of the crusaders, yesterday, and the probabilities are that none will be issued for the present.

The attorneys for the Men's union deem it inadvisable to allow cases to go over from one term to another, and as there is little possibility of the list for the next term being able to accommodate any more than the half hundred cases now underway they concluded to wait till just before the time for the convening of the next grand jury before bringing any more cases.

"You can assure the people that the crusade has not ceased or even halted," said Mr. Beers, yesterday, to a Tribune man. "We propose to carry out our original purpose of cleaning up this city if it takes a lifetime."

The agents of the crusaders were busy yesterday in attendance upon the grand jury. Only one of the cases were heard, but it is expected that a batch of them will come up today. This single case was that against the Raine brothers of the First ward, who are charged with selling without a license on Sunday to a minor. The case of Peter W. Jones, returned by Constable Barron, of Dickson City, was also heard. The jury will make its first return this morning.

Benjamin Arnovitz, of Scranton street, charged with selling without a license, gave bail before Alderman Howe, yesterday morning, in the sum of $300.

Warrants are yet out for James C. Taylor, of Ninth street; James A. Herne, of 601 Eynon street; Mary Goff, of 401 Cedar avenue; J. J. Mangan, of 401 Stone avenue; Richard Zaleski, of 929 Pittston avenue; James J. Kelly, North Washington avenue; J. J. Skelly, Penn avenue; P. J. Gibney, North Main avenue, and Louis Boncampagni, of Lackawanna avenue.

The central city hotel keepers are to meet Friday night. It is understood they propose to enter into an agreement to keep closed on Sunday and ask that the unlicensed dealers shall be compelled to obey the law.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Rev. A. Lychowicz Replies.

Sir—I find in yesterday's Tribune a sort of answer to my remarks in the Times of last Friday concerning a certain Polish Independent society called Free Liberty and signed by several of its members. It tries to whitewash its members by simple details, some of which are really unfortunate. The worst of it is when they say: "It is a slanderous falsehood that we have done anything wrong to the late Bishop O'Hara, as he was on his deathbed by playing the tragic comedy 'Criminals.' Our performance took place four months before his death." The fact, however, is that the "Criminals" was played by them in Music Hall on the 20th of January, 1899, while Bishop O'Hara died four days and not four months later, namely on the 3d of February. Nor is the scene enacted in that theater during the appearance of the actor who played the bishop forgotten. Further, their statement that "it is false and untrue that our society has the purpose to fight with any church or churches" may be correct with regard to their stated intention, but it falls to the ground by their simple admission that they played "Criminals," which is a vicious libel on priests. It will appear from the above that the aims of this Independent Polish society is remarkable for its disregard of the facts.

Yours respectfully,
Rev. A. Lychowicz.
