COUNTY BOND ISSUE.

Commissioners Decide to Wipe Out the Floating Debt of $235,000 That Now Exists.

Bonds to the amount of $235,000 or more are to be issued by the county commissioners to meet the floating debt that has been accumulating for the past half-dozen years. Here are the items that go to make up the debt:

Monument	$61,000
Constables' fees	25,000
Assessors' fees	4,000
Langstaff election contest	100,000
Condensation of roads	20,000
Nineteen bridges	15,000
Overhauling county jail plumbing	10,000
Trial of surcharges case	1,000
Total	$235,000

The decision was reached at a meeting of the commissioners yesterday. At its conclusion they gave out a statement in which they claimed that the previous boards of commissioners were responsible for the big debt.

The item of constables' fees is for the "non est inventus" cases for the most part. The constables claimed they were entitled to these fees but for five or six years past they have been withheld, although the Supreme court decided in a test case in favor of the claimants. Just before retiring from office, last year, the former commissioners paid a few of these claims. The necessary fees are for making the military enrollment. The former commissioners would not allow the extra 3 cents a name allowed for this work but one of the assessors, D. R. Watkins, brought suit, secured a judgment last week, and now all the assessors for six years back are coming in with their claims for this extra compensation.

The county now has outstanding obligations in bonds and the like amounting to $235,000. The annual expenses are about the same figure.

RICHARD BUSTEED, JR., DEAD.

Expired Yesterday at His Hotel in Elmhurst of Heart Trouble.

Richard Busteed, Jr., proprietor of the Park hotel at Elmhurst, died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock of rheumatism of the heart, from which he had suffered for many years.

He was born forty-seven years ago in New York city, and practiced law there for over fifteen years. About nine years ago he came to Scranton, was admitted to the Lackawanna bar and practiced for a time, but gave up the law for business pursuits and finally, six months ago, purchased the Park hotel, establishing himself there with the hope of benefiting his health.

His wife and his father, ex-Judge Busteed, who for five years was corporation counsel of New York city, are his only near relatives surviving. His mother died here two years ago, and was buried in Montpelier, Vt. She left her son a good-sized estate.

Mr. Busteed was a man of bright attainments. He was liberally educated, had traveled extensively abroad, and kept himself thoroughly abreast of the times. He was a thirty-second degree Mason and a member of the Scranton Lodge of Elks.

The funeral will take place from the home, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, and will be in charge of the Elks. The remains will be taken to Nicholson, via the Lackawanna road, for interment.

PROMOTION EXERCISES.

They Were Held in a Number of the City Schools—Pupils for the High School.

Between the hours of 11 and 12 yesterday morning the pupils in the various schools throughout the city were promoted a grade higher. That is, the larger portion of them were, for there is always a few who are left behind. Superintendent Howland said yesterday afternoon, however, that the percentage of those who did not pass was very low and below the usual average.

There were 189 pupils promoted from Grammar A into the high school, according to the reports in the superintendent's office, and this number will probably be swelled to 225, as there were some reports missing. The high school building will accommodate 250 new pupils a year, so there is no especial fear of its being over-crowded just at present.

There were very few special promotion day programmes rendered in any of the schools yesterday, but in the attendance of parents was reported to be greater than in any past years.

The promotion exercises of the Grammar A class of No. 27 school were held in the school room yesterday forenoon and were interesting to an unusual degree. Principal Hawker presided. The first paper, "To Our Principals," by Miss Gertrude Williams, was full of praise for the faithful instruction which she had received. Every number on the programme was well rendered and deserving of praise. An address by Warren Van Blarcom on "The Things the Principal Did See," was full of wit.

Margaret Wilson sang in a very pleasing manner, "Mamma's Black Coat." At the close of the exercises Mr. Hawker delivered a farewell address to the class, in which he spoke of the splendid work they had accomplished as scholars. In conclusion he urged them to keep up the record they had made there. The class numbered twenty-eight, twenty of whom are girls. A large number of parents and friends of the pupils were present and enjoyed the exercises.

Miss Niland, of school No. 3, had an entertaining programme, during which ice cream was served. The pupils of Miss Edna Klumtzer, of No. 3 schools, gave a most delightful entertainment yesterday, the programme rendered being as follows: Song, by the school; recitation, Miss Elsie Martin; solo, Bertha Martin; recitation, Elmer; recitation, Edith; dialogue, Joe Durkin, Charles Hoffecker, Irvin Fleck and Charles Ditzberger; recitation, "The Days of the Week," by Carrie Scheuer, Anna Lynn, Edith Hoffecker, Margaret Merrick, Barbara Meyers, Hilda Storr, Verma Wolf and Katie Schick; recitations, Edith Hoffecker, Sadie Gannon and Irene Gannon.

Nearly all of the schools in South Scranton had closing exercises of some kind, some social, some literary and other musical, and the children entered into the spirit of the occasion with a zest that spoke plainly of the words of the approach of the glorious vacation time.

The teachers of school No. 11, the Misses Gibbons, Miss Nellie Jones and Miss Julia McGuigan, had literary programmes, as had Professor O'Malley and Mrs. Dempsey, of school No. 15. Miss Rankin, together with Miss Pitcher, of school No. 8, had a musical entertainment, while Miss Zang and Miss Maginnis, of the same school, had a short but delightful literary program.

CLOSING RECITAL.

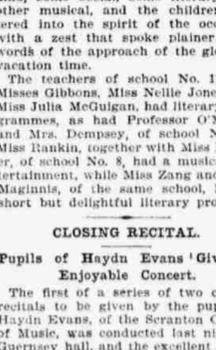

Pupils of Haydn Evans Give an Enjoyable Concert.

The first of a series of two closing recitals to be given by the pupils of Haydn Evans, of the Scranton College of Music, was conducted last night in Guernsey hall, and the excellent showing made by the many pupils who participated was indeed creditable.

The opening number was a duet, charmingly rendered by the Misses Katherine and Lillian Burr. Piano solos were next given by Misses Bessie Pierce and Ruth Histed, and a song by Arthur Moran. Other songs were sung by W. F. Jones and Miss R. Lavelle. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Grace Rettew, Miss Nolte Edmunds, Miss Margery Spencer, Miss Mary Harvitt, Miss Edith Moran, Miss Estelle Howard, Miss Jennie Herbert and Mrs. N. C. Class.

In addition to the musical part of the programme, there were very cleverly rendered recitations by Master Haydn and Lester Evans and Miss Sarah Price. The second recital will be held next Tuesday evening.

ASSAULTS ON YOUNG WOMEN FREQUENT

TERRIBLE CONDITION OF AFFAIRS IN WEST SCRANTON.

Organized Gangs of Young Men Make a Practice of Seizing Young Women in the Sparsely Settled Districts—One of the Victims of Wednesday Night's Outrages Says That She Has Had Similar Experiences Before—She Gave the Names of Her Alleged Assaultants.

The story in yesterday's Tribune relative to the attempted criminal assault on two young women in West Park, caused a profound sensation in many homes, and incidentally served to bring out facts which tend to show that the ruffian world in West Scranton, but also in Nay Aug park, Lincoln Heights and other isolated suburbs, where the lack of police protection is plainly apparent.

When Lieutenant Williams was notified of the occurrence in West Park he made the assertion that a similar assault with identically the same circumstances, had been committed on a young woman on Sunday night, June 10, in West Park, but it had been kept from the newspapers in the hope that the ruffian world would be trapped in their vicious practice.

At that time a young man named Connors complained to the police that he was held up by two Italians in company with a young woman, forced to disappear at the point of a revolver, and that the woman's clothing was torn and she was roughly handled. He refused to divulge the name of his companion and nothing has been heard of the matter since.

Both Miss Sanders and Mr. Gould substantiated the story which was exclusively printed in The Tribune yesterday, and when a reporter called on North Rebecca avenue yesterday afternoon she was confined to her room suffering from the shock and excitement of the previous night's experience. Her story was substantially as printed yesterday, except that it was her assailants who were with her at the time the officers fired on them, instead of young Gould, as stated in The Tribune.

The young woman is only 17 years of age, and resides with her married sister, Mrs. Stevens. The latter blames the girl for going out in such a lonely place late at night.

Mrs. Stevens stated that young Gould came to the house and asked permission to accompany her sister to an entertainment in the central city, and when the family refused to admit her she fled but had not yet returned home. Miss Sanders alleged that she was walking with Gould near the Summer avenue entrance to the park, when they were confronted by the two men, and at the point of a revolver they forced young Gould to run, threatening to shoot him if he showed his face in the vicinity again.

The two men then took her into the open field and threw her down and attempted to assault her, also threatening to kill her if she made an outcry. She prevented them from accomplishing their purpose, and when the officers fired on them the two ruffians ran away.

THREE SHOTS FIRED.

Lieutenant Williams fired three shots after them as they ran, but owing to the darkness was unable to tell whether he hit them or not. As Patrolman Evans was about to fire his revolver, while running across the field, he stumbled and fell, and had a narrow escape from serious injury.

Gould was seen at his sister's carriage works on Linden street yesterday afternoon and admitted the truth of the story. He stated the circumstances as related above, and said that when he left the girl, the two men started across the field with her. He ran out two blocks to the second boulevard in the park, and down to Main avenue, where he ran. Davis' door bell and met young Jones.

His story was to the effect that he and Jones went in search of the girl and spent several hours in the park looking for the assaultants. He also went to the girl's home and informed her sister of what had occurred and visited the police station to inform the officers. He was with Patrolman Evans when they found the girl in the field after her assailants had escaped.

The Weaver girl, who was also assaulted, tells a rather disconnected story of the affair in which she figured. She could not give the time, but seemed to think it was about 10 o'clock when the two men accosted her and her companion. In fact it must have been 11:30 o'clock as she admitted that the assault occurred about half an hour before she was found on North Hyde Park avenue, which was a few minutes after midnight.

Her hands and face were scratched and she was bleeding at the nose when found. At first she denied any knowledge of what had occurred, and said she was returning home from a party. When asked to account for the scratches on her face she broke down and admitted the statements already credited to her. Further questioning brought out the fact that the same thing has occurred to her on three or four previous occasions.

The young men who are suspected of

MORE POLICE NEEDED.

The direct cause of these outrages is due to lack of police protection, and while members of the present force are doing all in their power to suppress such occurrences they are totally unable to cover the territory assigned to them by reason of the length of their beats. In West Scranton there are at present only five officers, west of the Lackawanna river.

One man has the fourth Main avenue, which includes the territory south of Main avenue and Jackson street, as far as Lincoln Heights and west to Keyser Valley and all the intervening territory. Another is on the Scranton street beat, which includes the Fifth, Sixth and Eighth wards, and abounding in the Fourth ward and all of the Twenty-first ward, west of Main avenue. Another is assigned to the whole Fourteenth ward, and the fifth covers the Jackson street or Bone Hill beat. The lieutenant of police supervises the entire territory, and the station house and three times a night makes his usual rounds over the different beats.

CAR JUMPS THE TRACK.

Three Women Injured in a Trolley Accident at Olyphant, One of Them Seriously.

An open trolley car, which left Olyphant for Scranton at 12 o'clock noon, yesterday, jumped the track in front of Kelly's hotel, near the borough line, and plunging into a bank, overturned, tossed the ten passengers and crew violently about, injuring three women.

Mrs. Hugh Lally, of Wyoming; Mrs. Arthur Wrightson, of Blakely, and Mrs. Daniel Jones, also of Blakely, are the victims. All sustained severe bruises, and Mrs. Lally, it is feared, is injured internally. She was taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Michael Dempsey, of Olyphant, where she had been to attend the funeral of Mr. young Gould's mother. Dr. Price, who is recovering.

Mrs. Wrightson and Mrs. Jones were taken to their respective homes in cabs, and attended by Dr. Price. Their injuries, as far as the symptoms indicate, are not serious.

L. Slesbecker, of this city; Mrs. John Richardson, of Troop, and Undertaker J. W. Sweeney, of Olyphant, who were other of the passengers, received a severe shaking up and slight bruises.

ENTHUSIASTIC STUDENTS.

High School Boys and Girls Give Miss Gregg a Farewell.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western station was the scene last night of an outburst of enthusiasm by the students of the Scranton high school. The occasion was the departure of Miss Mattie Gregg, instructress in mathematics, for Buffalo, N. Y., where she will meet Mr. De Foe, of Tecumseh, Neb., whom she is to marry. Miss Gregg has taught at the high school for the most of her life, and her school was one of the most popular teachers in the institution.

Something like three hundred of the students were at the station last night, and made the welkin ring with cheers for Miss Gregg and her future husband.

Every yell in the high school category was brought into play, and the result was a noise which could be heard blocks away. Showers of rice descended on Miss Gregg, who at last escaped from the mob of friendly pupils and ascended the steps of a Pullman sleeper. Her trunks, covered with the high school colors, and bedecked with all sorts of jocular squibs was hoisted into the baggage car, and there were thunderous cries for a speech.

Miss Gregg refused, however, and the car bore her away, while the students shouted themselves hoarse.

WILLIAMS' LEG BROKEN.

Providence Man Put Off Street Car Has Limb Injured.

Thomas Williams, of North Scranton, was taken to the Lackawanna hospital yesterday morning with a broken leg, as the result of being forcibly put off a car. Williams boarded a Providence street car about 5 o'clock yesterday morning and when the car reached the Dickson works, at Vine street and Penn avenue, the conductor requested his ticket. He handed him a transfer, given him the day before, which the conductor refused to accept. Williams then grew indignant and swore he would not give any other fare.

He was ordered off the car but refused to go, and the conductor picked him up in his arms and carried him out, Williams who is old and feeble offering little resistance.

In putting him off the car Williams fell from the conductor's arms and struck the pavement with considerable force and broke his leg.

ACCUSED OF LARCENY.

Ollie Matthews, of Center street, yesterday had John Harry Baker, a central city youth, arrested and arraigned before Alderman Miller, charged with the larceny of $14.55. She claims that Matthews made an entry into her room, Thursday night, while she was sleeping, and took the money from underneath her pillow. Baker went to Wilkes-Barre yesterday morning, and Alderman Miller before whom information was lodged, phoned the Wilkes-Barre police, with the result that Chief of Police Kline arrested and brought Baker to the city. He was held in $500 bail.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Class Was a Large One and the Exercises Were Very Impressive.

Wayland Dunn Gates Was the Salutatorian of the Class—Other Pupils Who Won Honors Before and at the Commencement—Speech Delivered by President Jayne, of the Board of Control.

In the presence of a multitude of relatives, dear friends and members of the upper classes who had braved the storms and signs of a very disagreeable night, one hundred and two stalwart young men and fair young ladies last night bade farewell to the High school, where they spent the last four years of their public school education and held the commencement exercises of the class of 1900, the largest class that ever graduated from the institution, and the first really representative one. The members of the class were:

Classical Course—Anna Washburn Clark, Loretta Cleary Dimmick, Wayland Dunn Gates, Mary Eleanor Jennie Miller, Walter Phelps Stearns, John Gooding, Randolph Irving Footingham, Warren Persons Grant, James Lynn Matteson, Charles Norwood Pletcher, Minnie Mary White, Susanna Walkers.

IMPRESSIVE EXERCISES.

Impressive exercises certainly were. A ceremony of this nature is always impressive, and when accompanied by the good and blue sky, like those connected with last night's commencement they are especially so. When the members of the class fled through the audience and came on the stage in couples, with Bauer's band playing a slow, gentle march and the rich draperies of old gold and blue, the class colors, which formed the background of the stage, swaying slightly in the breeze which came through the open windows a picture was presented which will live in the memories of all those who witnessed it.

Rev. M. Giffin, D. D., of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church, opened the programme with prayer, in the course of which he made mention of the class motto, "Truth Conquers All," expressing his hope that the members will live in accordance with it.

President Grant, of the High school, together with Dr. Giffin, Superintendent of the City Schools George Howell and President of the Board of Control B. T. Jayne sat together on the stage. President Grant announcing each speaker. After the invocation the first speaker, George Howell, superintendent of the school, spoke on "Russia as a Menace to Anglo-Saxon Supremacy." He opened his speech by welcoming to the exercises all present. In speaking on his selected subject he first told of the general progress made in the world's history by the Aryan race, and in speaking of the Anglo-Saxon races said they now stand, as did the ancient Romans in the world of their time. The Slavonians alone are powerful rivals, possessing all the necessary attributes and ability.

He concluded with a strong plea for friendship between this country and
