ONCE MORE A HAPPY WOMAN.

Completely Cured of Catarrh by Peruna,

Miss Ida Murray writes from 2537 Polk street, Minneapolis, Minn., as follows: "Every fall and winter of late years I had a severe cough and cold which physicians have been unable to cure. This last winter at the advice of a friend I decided to try Peruna. Both my friend and her family had used Peruna with good results. I was not used to the medicine did for me, and keep it always in the house. I also had chronic catarrh of the head, which made me slightly cold so much worse. I am completely cured of my catarrh after four months' faithful use of Peruna, and my general health is greatly improved. I always speak a good word for Peruna."

Mrs. Annie Glenn, President of the General W. L. Laverne Circle, No. 17, Ladies of the B. A. R., writes the following letter from Edgewater, Ill.: 831 Rosemount avenue, Columbus, O.: "Gentlemen—I have suffered for nearly the last year with more or less headache and bearing down pains which no doctor's medicine seemed to relieve. Finally I became discouraged and decided to try patent medicine. My druggist recommended that I take Peruna, and it was simply a God-send to me. Inside of a few days I felt more comfortable and happy. This is nearly a year ago, and I have had no recurrence of the trouble. I am so glad to have found so reliable a medicine, and shall take pleasure in recommending it to my friends."

Catarrh Generally Thought to Be a Disease of the Head Only. Catarrh has been so generally thought to be a disease confined to the head that the name of the medicine is difficult to get many people to understand that catarrh may affect any organ of the human body. SOUTH SCRANTON

MORE APPARATUS FOR THE LIFE-SAVING CORPS.

Gun for Shooting a Large Projectile That Will Carry a Cord to Persons Imprisoned in a High Building and Permit them to Pull Up a Rope by Which They Can Make Their Escape—Martin Rafferty's Birthday Celebrated—Attempt to Steal a Can of Milk.

Yesterday the life-saving corps of the William Connell Hosiery company received the last lot of supplies necessary for this work. A ladder thirty feet in length was among them. This will be used to carry insensible persons down from the second, third and fourth floors, and the men will also be taught to pull it from one roof to another. Another instrument received is a gun, from which is shot a twelve-inch projectile, carrying a cord, for pulling rope to any height, to let imprisoned men down.

The gun is of Springfield pattern, but only three feet in length, and the projectile is shot with a short cartridge of special design. A trial yesterday by Captain Simrell proved the efficiency of the gun. The projectile was shot over the high tower with great ease. The material was furnished by C. F. Beckwith & Co.

Celebrated His Anniversary. In honor of the thirty-ninth birthday of Martin Rafferty, of Fig street, a surprise party was tendered him last evening by a large number of his friends. After congratulations had been extended in the joyful evening was spent in singing, dancing and instrumental music. After a social hour refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Alice Purcell, Elizabeth Burns, Marie Foley, Mary Murphy, Mary Cullen, Kate Cullen, B. Bohan, Elizabeth Clare, Kate Heins, Elizabeth Dowley, Margaret Moran, Nellie Moffit, Kate Whalen, Anna Whalen and Anna Clark; Messrs. James Barrett, Patrick Moran, Martin J. Kelly, M. J. Higgins, Patrick Kelly, Thomas Bohan, James Reilly, Michael Reilly, John Turney, Joe Tuane, James Kennedy, Patrick Ruddy and John O'Malley.

Tried to Steal a Can of Milk. An attempt was made early yesterday morning to carry away one of the large milk cans of Mearns John Burgess, of Cedar avenue, and the attempt was only frustrated by Miss Burgess, who heard them, and who scared them away. Burgess is in the habit of getting his milk over the Erie and Wyoming valley railway every evening about 9 o'clock. Sunday night the milk did not arrive until about 2 o'clock in the morning, and the man who conveys the milk from the station, knowing it was nearly daybreak, set the milk cans outside the door, from which place the thieves attempted to carry one. They were away, and Burgess promises a warm reception for them on their next attempt.

Brief News Notes. Sunday the Schvettzer Maennerchor journeyed Elmhurstward, and had a delightful outing at the home of Casper Jenny, a member of the society. A concert was given in the afternoon by the society, which was very much enjoyed. One incident is worth mentioning. Some of the members, thinking they were still boys, climbed to the hay loft in the barn and began disporting themselves in the hay. The result that they fell through the chutes and had to be dug out from beneath oats, dust and hayweed. The Young People's society of the Church of Peace, on Prospect avenue, is arranging for a social to be given Wednesday night in the church. Stereoscopic views will also be shown. While Mrs. G. W. Warner and young son, Clarence, of Providence, were visiting Mrs. Warner's mother, Mrs. Muscott, of 621 Genet street, Clarence, while playing about the barn, fell on a sharp saw and severed the little finger of his left hand at the first joint. Dr. J. J. Manley dressed the wound. George Freuhan, of Hickory street, leaves today to resume his studies in the Philadelphia Dental college. Mr. Henry Denver, of Stafford avenue, is suffering from a severely swollen foot, resulting from her stepping on a rusty nail last week. The exhibition and ball committee of the Scranton Athletic club will hold a meeting this evening in Athletic hall. SOLOMON WASN'T SO WARM. Alderman Millar Adjudicates Case, Like the Ancient Sear. Once more has the revered King Solomon been used as an authority on difficult legal points, and the wise old Hebrew monarch was last night consulted by Alderman Millar in the adjudication of a knotty little problem. B. A. Fox, the birdman, last April lost a handsome black spaniel, known as "Coatie," which was recently discovered in the possession of Harry Wing, of Sixth street. Fox swore out a warrant for Wing's arrest and at last night's hearing identified the dog as his property. The defendant vigorously maintained that the animal was his own, and the magistracy of the Eighth ward was perplexed for a moment. Then his brow cleared as he thought of King Solomon and the way he used to settle difficulties of this kind, and he told Fox to call the dog by name. "Here, Coatie, dog, here," murmured the birdman gently, and the animal wagged its tail responsively, kissed Fox's hand, and turned a canine back-somersault. "Now Wing," said the alderman, and the defendant remarked, "Hi, Nellie, doggie," whereat the peculiar animal again manifested delight, lashed much affection on Wing, and performed some more gymnastics. The fact that the dog responded to the peculiar name of Coatie, and evidently recognized Fox, induced the alderman to hold Wing in $300 bail for his appearance at court.
