PERSONAL.

Commissioner of Immigration T. V. Povedly, of Washington, D. C., is in the city. He came up to vote.

William W. Watson, of Washington avenue, has returned home after a five months' business trip through the south.

John Foote, of Archbald, a student at Georgetown college, Washington, D. C., returned home yesterday in order to be able to vote today at his home.

Dr. John W. Hunter and Dr. Charles Wender, resident surgeons at the Lackawanna hospital, Saturday left for Philadelphia, where they will today cast their ballots and then return. Their duties at the hospital are being attended to by Dr. Claude Walker, this city.

Lieutenant of Police John Davis and Patrolmen Fred Kervin and Louis Gerber, left yesterday from Pike county, where they spent their vacation fishing for the festive pickerel. Great success attended their efforts and they came home with baskets of piscatorial beauties which would make Louis Walton envious.

George W. Kitzmiller, of Washington, D. C., who has been stopping at the Fenner House for the past few weeks, will leave Scranton this morning at 6.30 for Bloomsburg, Pa., where one of Dr. Weller's last horses will await him at the station. Mr. Kitzmiller's wife will drive him to Catyville, leaving county, a distance of twenty miles from Bloomsburg, where he will vote, and return with his mother, and Mrs. Kitzmiller will drive him back to Bloomsburg in time for them to catch the evening Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train for Northumberland, where they will make connections on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad for Harrisburg, Pa. Mr. Kitzmiller will vote the straight Republican ticket. His father, although 70 years of age last election, and always a Democrat heretofore, after a careful perusal of Boyd's Political History, pertaining to the platforms that nominated the different candidates from George Washington down, has agreed with his son George that McKinley was the proper candidate to support.

Take Notice.

Every person who votes the Prohibition ticket straight, or any part of it, please send a letter to our county secretary, H. W. Crocker, 123 North Washington avenue, stating your ward, district and number of vote. We do this because we have heard that certain election boards are going to do some illegal work. All correspondence strictly confidential. By order of Prohibition County Committee.

Election Returns by Long Distance Telephone.

The Central Pennsylvania Telephone and Supply company have made extensive preparations to give the most complete election returns from all parts of the United States, at the earliest possible moment, by long distance telephone, by means of a stereopticon located opposite the court house, on Linden street.

Full Election Returns received at Fish's, 217 Penn avenue, to-night.

Election returns will be received at The Irving this evening.

DIED.

DEUBLER.—In Scranton, Nov. 5, 1900, Mrs. J. M. Deubler, at the home of her son, Otto Deubler, 239 Lee court, aged 84 years, 2 months. Funeral private. Interment at Canadensis, Wednesday, Nov. 7.

A CAMPAIGN LIE.

Editor Philbin Defends Himself Against Unjust Accusations.

The Archbald Citizen of Saturday contains the following which explains itself:

The editor of the Citizen is the Republican candidate for representative from the Fourth legislative district of this county. He had hoped that this campaign would be ended without recourse to any of the lying methods that have marked other campaigns, and he has been particularly careful not to print one line that would reflect on the public or private life of his opponent, Hon. P. E. Timlin, of Jersey. His regrets to see that his opponent is not equally considerate, for he has before him a printed letter which has been circulated throughout the district by Mr. Timlin and his friends, containing a statement that Mr. Timlin knows to be false. In the closing paragraph of this letter Mr. Timlin says:

"I pronounce myself as unequivocally opposed to the best interests of the state and to the support of which my opponent is irrevocably pledged."

Mr. Timlin may be as much as he has a mind to about his opposition to "the best interests of the state," but when he says that his opponent is "irrevocably pledged to base remarks of this character," he says what is not true. It is known to all who know Mr. Timlin that he has before him a printed letter which has been circulated throughout the district by Mr. Timlin and his friends, containing a statement that Mr. Timlin knows to be false. In the closing paragraph of this letter Mr. Timlin says:

"I pronounce myself as unequivocally opposed to the best interests of the state and to the support of which my opponent is irrevocably pledged."

NOTICE.

Owing to the size of the ballot and the probable closeness of the counting, correspondents are expected and friends are requested to telephone the returns into The Tribune editorial rooms, phone call 1043, as soon to-night as possible.

IT IS UNJUST TO THE MINE WORKERS

Samuel P. Morgans Takes Exception to Statements Made in the Scrantonian—Calculate to Mislead.

Editor of The Tribune—

Sir: There appeared in yesterday's Scrantonian a statement headed "To the Friends of organized labor," which is calculated to misrepresent our organization and mislead the public. It was signed by a committee which it said was appointed "at a recent meeting of citizens favorable to organized labor." This alone condemns the entire statement, for we have never been able to speak for itself, and it has anything to say, and it does not call on any outside parties to express its sentiments.

Moreover, it is well known to all the members of our organization, the United Mine Workers of America, that it is one of our cardinal principles not to meddle in politics since our membership is composed of men of all parties, who work side by side, and contend for better conditions for all of us.

The statement in the Scrantonian is, therefore, unjust to us and unfair to the public in specifying certain candidates for the suffrages of the people at to-morrow's election. We have not as an organization taken any action in this campaign; we dare not choose any particular candidate; every man is at liberty to choose for himself.

In the interest of fair play, however, I deem it proper to state that Hon. William Connell was of great service to us in the recent strike which was settled largely through his efforts. We are not out for Mr. Connell the miners might be not yet. His words to our officers in regard to the strike, call him at any time for any service he could render in settling the strike. He actually did more than any other man outside the organization to bring about the settlement.

These facts are known to all of the officers of the organization and they cannot be contradicted. Mr. Connell was our friend when we needed one, and the old saying "a friend in need is a friend indeed" was exemplified in the great service rendered by him in the settlement of the strike. The miners should remember Mr. Connell's friendship at the polls to-morrow.

JOHN BINGHAM SEVERELY INJURED

While in an Epileptic Fit He Fell Through a Skylight and Down Two Pairs of Steps.

John Bingham of Park Place, was taken to the Lackawanna hospital yesterday afternoon, severely injured, as the result of being suddenly taken down by an epileptic fit while working on the roof of the Morris building on Lackawanna avenue, and falling through an open skylight and down a pair of steps a total distance of about thirty-five feet.

Dr. Busch of the Lackawanna hospital after examining Bingham's injuries, stated that besides two bad cuts on the face and a strained muscle of the back, there were no visible evidences of any other harm being done, but from the man's groans and moans it was evident that he was also internally injured. He seemed to be in great pain, and every move appeared to cause him acute agony.

Bingham is subject to epileptic fits and the one which resulted in his fall was the second one of the day. He is a tinsmith by trade and was at work on the roof above the establishment of S. J. Fuhrman, at 328 Lackawanna avenue. About 2:30 o'clock he was suddenly attacked by his illness, and in a convulsive movement writhed towards the open skylight. He fell down the fifteen-foot ladder, which led to the roof from the third floor, and struck the rail at the head of the stairs. He fell over this and then rolled down the fifth steps, striking on the second floor with a loud thud.

Fred Petry heard the crash, and running out into the hall, found Bingham lying there, unconscious, with the blood flowing freely from two big lacerations on either side of his face. Petry's efforts to revive him proved in vain, and he then rang up the Lackawanna hospital and acquainted that institution with the accident.

Dr. Walker responded with the ambulance and Bingham was removed to the hospital.

Democratic County Committee Attempted to Foist Bogus Petitions on the Court and When Tripped Up by Judge Archbald Put Forward an Explanation That Evoked from the Court a Brief but Meaningful Rejoinder—Petitions Ignored and Some Districts Will Be Without Democratic Overseers.

About thirty districts of the county will today be wanting in Democratic overseers of election.

The law requires that the application for the appointment of overseers shall be accompanied by a petition signed by at least three voters of the district wherein the services of the overseers are desired. In elections like that of today it is customary to petition for overseers in every district and both county committees proceeded to do this.

By an amicable arrangement which has obtained in this county for years, the committees of the two leading parties divide the work of securing signers to the petitions, exchange their respective lists for prospective overseers for approval and then go before court to ask for their appointment.

This year, it appears, the Democrats neglected to look after all the districts allotted to them and when the time came for going into court yesterday morning the Democrats were shy about thirty petitions which they had agreed to furnish.

It was a physical impossibility, almost, to go into all of those thirty districts and secure signers to petitions, but when the deficiency was made apparent the rustlers of the Democratic committee proceeded to provide those who they judged would make interest, and they were ready for presentation to court.

Judge Archbald's sharp eye directed his honor's close attention to the thirty or more petitions furnished by the Democrats, and he picked them out carefully from among the other one hundred and twenty-five and began to scrutinize them.

ONLY FIVE STYLES.

He noticed that while there were five different names to each of the thirty petitions, that it was only here and there a familiar one appeared, and, as he prides himself on his extensive acquaintance with the good people of the county, he picked them out, and impelled to scrutinize some more.

This closer scrutiny revealed to him the fact that while there were all of one hundred and fifty names on the thirty petitions there seemed to be not more than five different styles of handwriting displayed by the one hundred and fifty signers, and equally as remarkable that a one certain kind of ink seemed to be in very general use in the various municipalities from which the petitions purported to emanate.

He didn't say anything very caustic, but the way he asked the Democratic county committee's legal representative, Attorney D. J. Reedy, how he accounted for the above noted remarkable things was an indication that what he thought would secure interest in reading, Mr. Reedy, in real or well affected surprised tones, joined the Judge in wondering how those remarkable things obtained, and after a moment suggested that probably the subscribers in the various districts, to whom the work of securing signatures to the petitions had been entrusted, neglected their duty, and at the last moment, to save to themselves the good graces of the party leaders, made up fictitious petitions.

"Whether or not Judge Archbald's "huh" was used in the sense of a synonym for "rats," likewise does not develop, but he said "huh," and let it go at that, as far as words are concerned. He, however, refused to appoint the overseers for whom the Democrats petitioned in these thirty odd districts. The overseers to receive appointments were as follows, the Republicans being the first named in each couple:

MARLEY BROKE HIS NOSE.

His Hasty Jump from a Lackawanna Train Resulted Disastrously.

Thomas Marley, of Pittston, was taken to the West Side hospital yesterday afternoon, badly bruised and with his nose-bone broken, the consequences of a hasty jump from a train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad at the Scranton street crossing.

Marley was enjoying a ride through previously taking the precaution of buying a ticket, and as the train neared the Scranton street crossing he was discovered by a brakeman, who ordered him off. The man made a threatening gesture, which frightened the passenger from Pittston and he made a quick jump from the car. He struck heavily and broke his nose bone, besides badly cutting his face and bruising his entire body.

The Lackawanna hospital was first notified, but Marley was afterward taken to the West Side institution.

The Broad oyster house, 124 Penn avenue, will be open all night tonight.

BIG PLURALITY FOR M'KINLEY

CHAIRMAN DAVIS SAYS IT WILL BE OVER 4,500.

Is Confident the Entire Republican Ticket Will Be Elected—Chairman O'Neill Says That Bryan Will Carry the County by a Small Plurality—Scenes at Headquarters During the Closing Hours of the Campaign—Meetings of the Democratic Workers in Snover's Hall.

Chairman Davis.

Editor of The Tribune—

Sir: McKinley will carry Lackawanna county to-morrow by from 4,500 to 5,000 plurality. This estimate is based upon a study of the situation in every district in the county.

The success of McKinley in Lackawanna, I am convinced, means the success of every man on the Republican ticket and to bring about this much to be desired result I would appeal to every Republican in the county to be true and loyal to his party to-day and to take a personal interest in the success of the whole ticket.

If every Republican votes and sees to it that his neighbor votes we are assured of the greatest victory in the history of the Republican party in this county.

DAVID J. DAVIS,
Chairman of the Republican County Committee, Scranton, Pa., Nov. 5.

Chairman O'Neill.

Editor of The Tribune—

Sir: I am not prepared to give figures on the result of to-morrow's election in this county, but I am confident that Bryan will carry the county by a small plurality.

Probably never before was there such harmony in the Democratic party in this county. The convention was undisturbed by factional wrangles and there has been no factionalism in the campaign. All of the candidates have worked harmoniously together and from the sentiment of the voters as shown in the meetings we have held all over the county warrants me in stating that Bryan will carry Lackawanna county and that the Democratic county ticket will be victorious.

J. J. O'NEILL,
Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, Scranton, Pa., Nov. 5.

At Headquarters.

Republican and Democratic headquarters were very lively places yesterday. Workers were busy carrying out the orders of those who planned the campaign work and there were the usual scenes of bustle that make the closing of a lively political battle, and a lively political battle this assuredly has been.

The indications are that the Republican victory in Lackawanna county will be complete and decisive, but as County Chairman Davis suggests above everything else, Republican voters ought to do their utmost to help bring about this victory.

Vote early to-day and then see that your neighbor votes.

The Republican candidates to be voted for to-day in each of the 25 districts of the county are: President, William McKinley; vice-president, Theodore Roosevelt; auditor general, Edmund A. Hardenbergh; congress-man-at-large, Galusha A. Grow; Robert H. Forrester; congress, Hon. William C. Culler; judge, George M. Watson; sheriff, John H. Fellows; treasurer, Joseph A. Scranton; district attorney, William R. Lewis; prothonotary, John Copleland; clerk of the courts, Thomas P. Daniels; recorder of deeds, Emil Bonn; registrar of wills, William K. Beck; jury commissioner, Edward B. Sturges; legislature—First district, T. J. Reynolds; Second district, J. J. Scheurer; Third district, Edward James; Jr.; Fourth district, P. A. Philbin.

There was a meeting last night in Snover's hall of men from all over the county who will man the polls to-day for the Democratic party. Speeches were made by Edward Merrifield and John J. Murphy, who urged those present to be earnest and faithful in their work to-day.

The Union League has taken charge of the work of receiving election returns this year relieving the county committee of that burden. The large store building on Washington avenue has been secured and a telegraph instrument and telephone installed. National state and local returns will be received which will be tabulated by a large force of experienced men. The Democratic county committee will receive returns in the Liberty hall building on Washington avenue.

"The Minister's Son."

The Macaulay-Patten company opened a week's engagement at the Academy of Music last evening, presenting Mr. Patten's own beautiful pastoral comedy-drama entitled "The Minister's Son." The house was well filled and judging from the applause the audience was very well satisfied with the performance. Mr. Patten was seen in the title role that of Simon Ray, the minister's son, and was cordially received. During the second act he was presented with a handsome bunch of chrysanthemums.

The supporting company was very strong and each member displayed exceptional ability in portraying their respective roles. The specialties introduced were excellent and added greatly to the evening's entertainment. This afternoon "Royal Rags" will be the bill and this evening "The Inside Track" will be presented.

OUR NEW CARPETS

are very elegant and attractive even in the lower grades the patterns are handsome and the colorings so fine that they have the appearance of very much more expensive goods—for instance, many of our ingrain are made up in Brussels patterns and effects, so that a room can be made to look very pretty at a small expense. Our 6c ingrain is as good an ingrain carpet you can get for 6c and worth 50c more than a half dollar ingrain in wear. We give a carpet sweeper with every purchase of carpet amounting to $15.00 or over. Ask for it.

"The Minister's Son."

The Macaulay-Patten company opened a week's engagement at the Academy of Music last evening, presenting Mr. Patten's own beautiful pastoral comedy-drama entitled "The Minister's Son." The house was well filled and judging from the applause the audience was very well satisfied with the performance. Mr. Patten was seen in the title role that of Simon Ray, the minister's son, and was cordially received. During the second act he was presented with a handsome bunch of chrysanthemums.

The supporting company was very strong and each member displayed exceptional ability in portraying their respective roles. The specialties introduced were excellent and added greatly to the evening's entertainment. This afternoon "Royal Rags" will be the bill and this evening "The Inside Track" will be presented.

Scranton Postoffice Election Day.

Tuesday, November 6 (election day) will be observed at the Scranton postoffice as follows: Money order and registry windows closed all day. Stamp and general delivery windows open from 7 a. m. till 12 o'clock noon. Carriers in the central city will make two deliveries in the morning; all other carriers one delivery. Regular collectors will make the usual daily collections. Ezra H. Ripple, Postmaster.

The Election Returns will be received this evening in one of the large show windows of Clarke Bros.' stores.

Moritz Moszkowski
WRITES TO
Mason & Hamlin
REGARDING THE
Mason and Hamlin Pianoforte

The eminent musician, composer, teacher and pianist, now in Paris, writes in a recent letter warm words of praise in regard to the new scale Mason & Hamlin Pianoforte. Moszkowski says, among other things, "It has a full, singing tone and a most satisfactory action. As a whole, the instrument I believe to be of the very first rank."

A stock of these superb instruments may be seen at the warehouses of
