

WEST SCRANTON

SPECIAL MUSIC PROGRAMMES

RENDERED IN MANY OF THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.

Services Were Appropriate to the Christmas Tide—Rev. McDermott Spoke on "Glad Tidings of Great Joy"—Officers Nominated and Elected—Political Announcements. Recent Funerals—Fire on West Lackawanna Avenue—Other News Notes and Personal Paragraphs.

Special Christmas services were held in many of the West Scranton churches yesterday, the chorists having prepared special programmes for the occasion.

In several of the churches the usual decorations were in evidence, and large congregations were the rule everywhere.

Simpson M. E. Church.

Two very large congregations attended the services at the Simpson M. E. church yesterday and enjoyed the excellent musical programme provided by chorister W. W. Jones. The music was appropriate to Christmas and all the special numbers were rendered in an excellent manner by the soloists and choir.

Rev. McDermott spoke in the morning on the subject of "Glad Tidings of Great Joy," the text being selected from Luke II, 10. He said the primary facts of religion exert a wonderful influence on believers, and pictured the persons sitting around the manger at Bethlehem when Christ was born.

He foreshadowed some of the rich things in Christian experience. The persons and birthplace of Christ suggested human things. The presence of Mary teaches the exaltation of human life, as God had manifested himself to her wise teaching by the personal acknowledgment of Christ as the spiritual King of humanity.

The shepherds' presence illustrated that God only reveals himself to pure characters. In the evening the pastor spoke of Christ as the supreme factor in human history. He cuts the chronology of the world in two. Previous to his coming the dates were A. C. C., and since, A. D.

To illustrate this the speaker cited Ingersoll, the unbeliever, who always dated his documents from the date of Christ's birth. This is an age of great Intellectual activity—of books, magazines, newspapers, schools, colleges, etc., he said, and some have raised the question as to whether the mental activities of this age did not supersede the necessity of Christianity.

If we allow human hearts, human consciences and human memories to answer, no discovery of man can ever take the place of Christ.

First Baptist Church.

Both morning and evening, at the First Baptist church, the pastor, Rev. S. F. Matthews, delivered two excellent sermons from the subjects, "The Promise of Christ" and "The Angel's Song, and What It Meant," respectively. The services were well attended and a healthy interest manifested.

The special music rendered by the choir was very beautiful and was warmly appreciated.

On Tuesday evening the annual Christmas Sunday school treat will be held and a very fine programme has been prepared for that occasion. All Sunday school children and their parents are cordially invited to be present and enjoy themselves for that evening.

Washburn Street Presbyterian.

The morning and evening services yesterday were almost entirely composed of music. The chorus choir, under the direction of Prof. C. B. Derran, assisted by the orchestra, furnished a delightful programme at each service.

Thursday evening the Christmas exercises of the Bible school will be held in the church, commencing promptly at 7:30, with a selection by the orchestra, greeting, prayer; duet, "Hail to the King," Misses Evelyn Jones and Selma Phillips; "What Christmas Means," song by primary department; remarks by superintendent; song; selection by orchestra.

The room will then be darkened and part second will be conducted by A. V. Bower with the stereopticon; "Chorus, 'Hark! Through the Heavens,'" words and music on screen; Scripture reading; "The Star and the Magi," words on screen; views from the nativity; recitation, "Twas the Night Before Christmas" with views on screen; chorus, "Beautiful Star of Night," special views of Scranton and vicinity, accompanied by ringing of bells and arrival of Santa Claus, when the lights will again be turned on, and the gifts be distributed by the teachers to their classes, under the direction of Santa Claus, concluding with a selection by the orchestra.

The parents and friends of the school are especially invited to attend this service of peace and good will. Admission will be free to all.

There will be no prayer meeting this week.

Dr. Moffat will spend Christmas with his mother in Indiana.

Next Sabbath morning, A. V. Bower will occupy the pulpit; in the evening Rev. Mr. Rankin will preach.

The chi fraternal fraternity will meet this evening.

In the Other Churches.

At the Jackson Street Baptist church, the pastor, Rev. Thomas de Gruchy, D. D., preached in the morning on "The Infant Christ," drawing lessons from birth and surroundings. The evening subject was "The Mature Christ," showing his life and character and the influence it has on humanity.

The music was rendered by an augmented choir, under the direction of Prof. Lewis Davis, and the programme included some choice selections.

"God's Christmas Gift to the World," was Rev. James Boninger's morning theme at the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church, and in the evening he gave "The Message of Christmas." Both services were well attended, and the music was of a high order.

The matins and sermons were given as usual at St. David's Episcopal church yesterday morning by the Rector, Rev. E. J. McHenry, and evening and an address were given in the evening. The Christmas services will be held tomorrow evening.

No special services were held at St. Patrick's Catholic church yesterday, but special masses will be said on Christmas morning at 6, 7, 9 and 10 o'clock.

The usual services were conducted at St. Mark's Lutheran church yesterday by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Ramer.

Rev. Mr. Rankin, formerly of Elmhurst, occupied the pulpit of the Summer Avenue Presbyterian church last evening.

A special salvation meeting for sinners was held at the Salvation Army barracks, on Price street, last evening. The Christmas exercises will be held on Wednesday evening.

Nomination of Officers. An adjourned regular meeting of the West Side Central Republican club was held in the rooms Saturday evening, when the following officers were nominated for the year 1902:

President, W. Gaylord Thomas; vice-president, William V. Griffiths; recording secretary, Frank B. Reese; financial secretary and treasurer, William R. Hughes; marshal, William A. Phillips; trustees, William J. Thomas and W. E. Thayer.

The election will occur the first meeting night in January. The club expects to see an overhauled steering committee and increased membership. It is the oldest political organization in Northeastern Pennsylvania, having been organized in 1884.

Its membership includes many of the best known business and professional men living in Scranton, and consists among them are lawyers, doctors, officeholders, statesmen and men in various walks of life.

Fire Saturday Evening.

Workmen engaged in plastering Cassese's block of houses on West Lackawanna avenue left an overheated stove burning in the building Saturday evening to dry their work, and the woodwork caught fire and blazed away furiously for a time.

An alarm was turned in from box 34 at the corner of North Main and West Lackawanna avenues, and caused considerable excitement, as many people imagined that the fire was in Clarke Bros' department store.

The local firemen responded quickly and subdued the flames before any serious damage resulted. The new hook and ladder truck lurch on the scene for the first time but the ladders were not needed.

SOUTH SCRANTON

SHORT SKETCH OF A PROMINENT YOUNG MAN.

Preparations That Are Being Made for the Observance of Christmas in the Churches—Miss Mame Rosar Honored for Her Work for the Kardia Komos—Funeral of the Infant Child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kellerman—Social Session of South Side Club Last Night.

Alfred Gutheinz is a young man well known and popular in this community, who is rapidly attaining prominence in the business and social world of this city. Born in the state of New York, about twenty-seven years ago, he came to reside on the South Side when only a boy, having been adopted by relatives at an early age. As a youth he was studious and reserved, and these characteristics are still prominent with him as a man.

He started in a humble position, after leaving school, at the Scranton Savings bank, and now, through merit, integrity and faithful service, has attained to the responsible position of a teller, and is one of the youngest in the city. His genial disposition and gentlemanly deportment has endeared him to both superiors and subordinates alike, and his friends and associates hold him in the highest esteem.

Mr. Gutheinz is a charter member of the Junger Masonic order, and is one of the best German tenor singers in the state.

For Observance of Christmas.

Christmas day will be observed in the various churches in this part of the city. Regular services will be held at the usual hour in the morning and exercises for the Sunday school children will take place during the afternoon and evening. Christmas trees will be appropriately decorated, and an abundance of presents will be furnished by Santa Claus for the little ones in nearly all the churches.

Services will be held on Christmas morning in the Hickory Street German Presbyterian church at the usual hour, and at 3 p. m. Christmas tree exercises for the junior Sunday school classes will be held. The senior classes will be entertained at 7 o'clock and all will receive appropriate Christmas presents. The English classes will be entertained on Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at the same place.

The Christmas tree exercises for the Sunday school children of Christ Lutheran church will take place tomorrow evening, and services will take place on Christmas morning and evening, when the Lord's supper will be served.

At the Church of Peace, on Prospect avenue, services, followed by the Lord's supper, will be held at 10 a. m. In the evening short services will precede the Christmas tree exercises, in which the little ones will participate.

Services will also be held at St. Paul's Lutheran church and the German Methodist Episcopal church, on Prospect avenue, and the usual Christmas tree exercises will be held during the afternoon and evening.

Won First Prize.

Miss Marie Rosar, of 132 Birch street, took much interest in the "Kardia Komos," which was presented at the Lyceum recently, under the auspices of the Spanish war veterans. A death in the young lady's family prevented her from taking part in the stage, but, nevertheless, she acted in behalf of the veterans remained as strong as ever, and nearly every night she attended the rehearsals to help instruct the classes.

In addition, Miss Rosar started out in a practical way to assist the boys by selling tickets, and the success of her efforts was shown by the fact that on Saturday night the committee awarded her first prize for having disposed of the most tickets and for having turned in the most money. Miss Rosar is to be congratulated for her excellent work in behalf of the veterans.

The young lady's name was recognized in the vicinity where she lives was shown on the last night of the performance, when a handsome bouquet was presented her on the stage by Mrs. Thomas Spruks.

A TEN POUND TURKEY FREE

718-720 W. Lackawanna Avenue.

10-Pound Turkey Free

Carnegie gives libraries—Joyce gives turkeys. One feeds the brain, the other the stomach—both are commendable acts. This is how Joyce does it: Every family requires staple groceries, and at Christmas a turkey, too. Joyce decided upon a combination grocery order, composed of standard articles. Then he bought them in such immense quantities—for his 3 stores—that the difference between regular prices and "Joyce" prices, made it commercially possible to give a ten-pound turkey for good measure.

This is the Grocery Order you must buy to get the Ten-Pound Turkey Free.

Table listing grocery items and prices, including 25 pound Scotch Ham, 100 lb. Corned Beef, etc.

A great $5 worth and a $1.50 Turkey—all for $5. Everything to eat for the Christmas table, from Soup to Nuts, will be found at its best here. Money-Saving Prices.

DUNMORE DOINGS.

Observance of Christmas in the Churches—A Deadlock on the School Board.

Large congregations were present in all the churches yesterday. Christmas sermons were preached and Christmas music was an attractive feature. The various Sunday schools were never so largely attended.

Celebrations for the scholars will be held this week as follows: Tuesday evening, by the Tripp Avenue Christian at 7 o'clock; Wednesday evening, by the Methodist Episcopal at 7 o'clock; Friday evening, by the Presbyterian at 7 o'clock; St. Mark's Episcopal, Saturday evening.

A sunrise prayer service will be held in the Methodist church Christmas morning at 5:30 o'clock.

The public schools here will close December 24 and remain closed until January 2, 1902. Teachers and pupils are alike happy.

TOLD IN BRIEF.

The school board met again on Saturday evening and tried to elect a teacher to fill the vacancy in No. 4 school. All the members were present, but the board was evenly divided between the two applicants, the Misses Gortly and Murray. Adjournment was taken until next Saturday night, after several ballots had been taken.

This and next week the prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church will be held on Thursday evening, instead of Wednesday.

Mrs. Robert McMillan is visiting friends at Lake Winola.

The Christmas exercises of the Presbyterian Sunday school will be held on Friday evening, December 27, in their regular places at 6:30, and the exercises will begin at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. D. E. Garton and children, of Philadelphia, are the guests of her mother, on Drinker street.

Mrs. James Cole and daughter left on Saturday for Elizabeth, N. J., where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweet are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Shupson, at Hoboken.

Miss Lucy Head, a student at the Stroudsburg Normal school, is home for the holidays.

POLICE NOTES. Stewart Collier, of Park Park, was held in $200 bail in police court, Saturday, by Magistrate Storr, on the charge of threatening to kill his wife. He was arrested the night before by Detective Louis De, and Patrolman Webb. A couple bottles kum, advanced to a roadside was found in his possession. His wife claimed he came to her parents' home, corner of Adams avenue and Gibson street, about midnight, and brandishing a big knife threatened to take her life.

Patrick Layton was fined $5 in police court Saturday morning, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Sergeant Deiter and Patrolman Nudd found him peeing about a residence on Wyoming avenue, early in the morning. At that it was thought he was burglariously inclined, but the police came to the conclusion that he was only drunk.
