TIMELY TOPICS.

The prediction which Dorrance Burdette (Dorie Burdette), the sage philosopher from Newton lake, made about Thanksgiving time that Christmas turkeys would be as high as the Lucknowians after a thaw, was verified yesterday when market prices for the American bird of Turkish descent started at 16 cents and crept along toward night when some merchants got 20 cents per pound. Even at this price they were at a premium and today there are a number of houses ungraced by a turkey, simply because there was not enough to go around.

The number of farmers came to town was the smallest in years. Christmas eve has heretofore been a great day for the farmers around the horizon to journey to Carbondale, many of them holding a glorious celebration in the evening on the profits of the day's sales. For two or three years, though, the number has been less, and yesterday there were still fewer. The merchants and meat-dealers handling turkeys has been regarded as an invasion of the farmer's rights, but he has not made much of a fuss about it, submitting to "habeas" unfelicitous trains with characteristic grace and patience.

The prediction made by "Dorie" was that turkeys would be as scarce as Christmas as policeman during a fight. "I tell you as a friend," said he as he patted the "Dorie" man on the back, "that if you want a turkey you'd better order one now. Up on Lakeside, where I was, one or two men has gone over all the turkeys in sight to take down to Scranton. Now there won't be any from Scranton, and you can't tell you there's mighty few out Dumfries or Greenfield. You just take my advice and order your bird now. Better see my friend and neighbor, James Clume; his are all right."

What this keen observer said came true yesterday as related in the early paragraphs in this column.

The sport of bowling which has taken on a firm hold on lovers of indoor sports throughout the county, has appeared so strongly to Carbondalians that it is likely before the end of the season there will be several contesting teams, such as are stirring the lovers of the sport in the Electric City. There is only one bowling alley in the city, the one opened by Gus Messen on South Main street several months ago, but this has already won quite a lot of followers of devotees and every night there are interesting contests in which some high scores are run up. This alley is the forerunner of others. The Carbondale Cycle club is considering the proposition of building a splendid alley and has gone so far as to agree on the plans. It is proposed to sell bonds to cover the cost of building the alley which will be over a thousand dollars. Letters have been sent to the members of the club asking them to send their vote by mail as to whether or not they are in favor of raising the sum of money required. As the proposition found great favor when first discussed, it seems certain that it will be carried, thus giving Carbondale a bowling alley that will rank with the best in the country.

SOME ONE'S VILLIANY.

Enters Central School and Cause Much Damage—Stole pictures and Clock Pendulum.

A gang of miscreants gained an entrance to the Central school building on Monday night by aid of a window which they pried open and caused much damage to the assembly room as well as making way with pictures, books, etc. The gang which is suspected of being comprised of being students will be dealt with severely if found out.

Two Hustlers.

The local office of the National Express company was literally swamped with packages last night and during the past ten days there has been a rapid breaking rush and the taking charge of the vast amount of packages was very capably attended to by Agent G. J. Higgins and his assistant, John O'Rourke. They took special care that all packages reached their destination. The way in which these two hustlers took charge of the work is deserving of mention.

Able to Sit Up.

Charles Hull the freeman who was badly burned while fighting the fire at the Methodist church blaze is improving rapidly at his home on Belmont street. The patient is now able to sit up though he has not as yet used his eyes which still remain sore.

Great Satisfaction Over Carbondale Taking Two of Word Contested Prizes.

There was widespread satisfaction and a feeling of intense local pride in Carbondale yesterday when the morning Tribune announced that two of the prizes of the word contest were by Carbondale misses, Gertrude Kilpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kilpatrick, of 122 Wyoming street; and Madeline H. Walker, daughter of Mrs. Walker, of 124 Washington street. Frank Stanton of Spring street was a winner in the guessing contest in connection with the word contest. He had the exact number of words but his name appears eighth on the list, his having been the eighth correct guess received. Miss Kilpatrick won fourth prize, a solid silver watch and Miss Walker was given the checker board and checkers as the reward for her work. What increased the feeling of local pride over the result of the contest was that this was the second time in which Carbondale was conspicuous in important contests inaugurated by The Tribune as a means of helpfulness for young people. In the educational contest closed in August Carbondale was next to the top notch, Gertrude Anderson taking second prize, which gave him a four years' course at Lafayette college.

Miss Walker, whose likeness appears in this column, is a pupil of Carbondale high school. She is a studious and apt scholar as her work in the contest goes to attest. The same may be said of Miss Kilpatrick, whose likeness The Tribune regrets does not accompany Miss Walker's, she, unfortunately, not having a recent photograph at hand. Both young misses are receiving the felicitations of their friends over their meritorious work.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES.

Rev. Charles Lee Address Students in Central School—Programmes in Other Schools.

In the Central high school yesterday afternoon all the pupils assembled and enjoyed a Christmas entertainment. Two numbers on the programme, a vocal solo by Miss Mina Frank and a piano solo by Leon Bly were omitted owing to the condition of the piano which received attention from the vandals who entered the school Monday night as detailed in another column. The programme opened with a hymn by the school. Rev. Charles Lee then delivered an address to the students. He took for his subject "Birth of Jesus," and divided it into three parts: Fine arts when the holy family came into existence, influence of birth of Jesus in the household, when the word was made flesh. The speaker was listened to very attentively during his most interesting discourse. A song by the school followed and Prof. W. D. Bryden then spoke to the students and on behalf of the teachers thanked the pupils of the past few months. He wished them all, as did also Rev. Lee, a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Berean Baptist Sunday School.

On Christmas night at 6 o'clock the members of the Berean Baptist Sunday school, with their parents and friends, will celebrate the day. The school will render a Christmas exercise, entitled "The Promise Fulfilled." The following is the programme: Opening solo; Grace Stone Prayer; "The Promise Fulfilled" School Responsive reading; Mildred Lamoureux "Wake, O Bethlehem" School Recitation; Robert Hopkins "The Angel's Song" School Recitation; Sarah Patterson as did also Rev. Lee, a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Reached Twenty Cents.

Not a turkey was visible in the city last night shortly after 6 o'clock, and a farmer's wagon could not be found in the town. One farmer sold twenty-two turkeys in a bunch for twenty cents a pound. Owing to the scarcity, many families are without the usual meat today.

Visiting Masons.

George S. Kimball, Horace J. Likely, George M. Patterson, Dr. W. W. Fletcher, J. B. Shannon and Dr. W. J. Baker made a visit on Monday evening to Jermyn, where they participated in the installation ceremonies of the local lodge.

P. J. Kelly Injured.

Patrick J. Kelly, of South Main street, dropped on the Carbondale division of the Scranton Railway company, was quite painfully injured on the shoulder and body yesterday by being squeezed between two cars.

Returned Here.

The sale of property in Waymart occupied by Rev. J. P. Wade, presiding elder of the Homestead district, has caused his return to Carbondale. He is now located at No. 1 Morris place.

Presented with Turkeys.

Each of the local postal employees were presented with a fine big turkey for today. Postmaster J. H. Thomas being the donor.

Gratitude for Promptness.

SCHOLARS HOLD EXERCISES.

Programme of Pupils Taught by Miss Jay and Miss Rashleigh.

The pupils in No. 8 school taught by Miss Carrie Jay and Miss Alice Rashleigh, had a most enjoyable afternoon yesterday, when they held exercises in observance of the joyous feast day of Christmas. The young folks, who had been diligently and patiently trained by their teachers, acquitted themselves most creditably in the rendition of the following programme, and showed that they recently enjoyed the pleasures of the afternoon: Song and recitation, "Joy to the World." Clara Fisher and School Address, "Words of Welcome." Lily Griswold. Duet, "Gospel Hells." Jeannette Huddy and Maude Arthur Recitation, "Little Fir Tree." Gertrude Schuster Dialogue, "Christmas." SIX Girls Recitation, "Christmas Time." Earl Gates Song, "O, Christmas Bells, Ring Out." School Recitation, "Bob Tumpkins." Ruth Knapp Recitation, "Santa Claus Is Snubbed." M. E. Blankenburg Trio, "Merry Christmas." Ralph Histed, George Nicholson, Will Reupert. Recitation, "A Christmas Thought." Florence Robinson Recitation, "Kris Kringle's Surprise." Jeannette Huddy Double Quartette, "Kings to God in the Highest." Misses Mills, Schuster, Oliver, Wills, Arthur, Griswold, Sampson, Huddy. Recitation, "Christmas Questions." Lila Carlton Recitation, "Instructions of Santa Claus." Bessie Burrell Trio, "Silver Star." Misses Wills, Arthur and Huddy. Recitation, "Christmas Tree." Mabel Oliver Recitation, "Adventures of Christmas Eve." Olive Sampson Song, "A Song of Joy." School Recitation, "If You're Good."

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Grand Opera House Today.

David Belasco's opera drama, "La Belle Russe," direct from the Murray Hill theatre, N. Y. city, with Elita Proctor Otis in the star part, is a thrilling emotional play, bright in dialogue and all action. The intriguing woman, impersonated by Miss Otis, embodies all the elements of a finished tragedienne, in which Miss Otis has achieved a pronounced success. The intensity of the play and the carefully selected company will be at the Grand opera house today.

Mildred Holland.

All of the newspapers of New England have said, hardly without exception, that Mildred Holland, who is starting in "The Power Behind the Throne," is giving a strong performance and meeting with great success. Miss Holland's triumph will be outstanding, as her remarkable talent is beyond question. "The Power Behind the Throne" is a brilliant piece of dramatic work, and is well acted by Miss Holland and a powerful supporting company. Her return appearance at the Grand opera house is for Thursday evening, December 25.

Voluntary Assignment.

George N. Norris, who for years has managed a grocery store on Belmont street, will on Thursday morning close his store and turn the stock over to his creditors. Mr. Norris has sent notices to all his creditors, advising them of his intention and warning them to be present to guard their interests. Mr. Norris states that he believes there is enough stock to cover all his creditors' demands.

Married in Oneonta.

P. James Gallagher, of this city, was married December 18 to Bertha Nagor, of Oneonta, by Rev. Father Murphy. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Grace Young, and Frank Gallagher, of this city, is a brother-in-law. The groom is a well-known and popular young man of this city.

More Students Home.

Miss Lucy Westlake is home from her secondary, Miss Grace Alderson, from Wyoming seminary; John Evans, from New England Conservatory of Music; Miss Nina Raynor, from Vassar college, and John Aitken, from a military academy along the Hudson.

her; also to the Knights of Malta, of which the deceased was a member.

A Large Sale.

Over two hundred dollars' worth of seats was sold in the first thirty minutes for Mildred Holland, at the Grand tomorrow night.

Resumed Work.

Deil Cole, a clerk in the Reese cash store resumed work yesterday, after being laid up with a sore hand the result of having a barrell of vinegar fall on it.

OBITUARY.

THOMAS E. POWDERLY, aged 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Powderly, of 122 Wyoming street, passed away yesterday forenoon about 10 o'clock, after several week's illness.

The deceased was born in Carbondale in April, 1882 and spent his young life here. He was a youth of splendid habits. He showed a sunny spirit and gave promise of realizing all that was good in a noble manhood. His early garnering is a sad affliction to his parents and his sisters and brothers, who were so hopeful of his future. The sorrow of his death which overcasts the gloomsome joy of Christmas has awakened the warm sympathies of the whole community.

The departed young man was the son of Joseph Powderly who is employed as an inspector of immigration with headquarters at El Paso, Texas, and he is a nephew of Hon. T. V. Powderly, commissioner-general of immigration. The senior Powderly was unable to reach here before the young life of his beloved son was closed. Until recently the young man was employed as delivery clerk by James Gorman & Co.

Besides the parents, the survivors are the following sisters and brothers: The Misses Maggie, Tossie, Margery, Mary, Hannah and Ruth; P. J. John, James, Daniel and Clyde Powderly. This is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Powderly who has passed away in early manhood. The funeral arrangement depend on the coming of the father of the deceased from the Southwest.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

Christmas day will be appropriately celebrated in the Sacred Heart and St. James churches. At the former the masses will be celebrated this morning at 6 a. m. and 10:30 o'clock. The first and last will be high masses.

At St. James church at 10:30 the regular morning prayer will be said, special music will be sung and there will be a celebration of the holy communion. In the evening the usual children's service, consisting of carol singing and distribution of gifts, will take place.

There will be no Christmas services at the Methodist Episcopal church on Christmas morning or afternoon, but a ceremony appropriate to the occasion of the day will be held in the evening by the Sunday school. The Sunday school choir have rehearsed special music for the occasion. A Christmas design, representing a castle containing an imitation of Santa Claus, will be placed on the platform in the upper auditorium of the church. An entertainment, containing songs, recitations and responsive reading, will be carried out. Following is the programme in detail: Song, "Merry, Merry Bells;" selection from Scripture, "Wake Up to Gladness;" prayer, pastor; recitation, "When Christmas Comes;" song, "Rejoice and Sing;" exercise, "The Christ Child;" song, "O, Little Town of Bethlehem;" recitation, "Their Tree;" song, "Shine, Blessed Star;" responsive reading; song, "Hail, Happy Christmas;" exercise, "Little Lamb;" song, "Have You a Song?" selection, "O, Wondrous Infant;" song, "Peace on Earth;" address and recitations; song, "The Spirit of Christmas;" song, "Crown Him King."

At the Baptist church the children's exercises were held last evening. The programme, which consisted of choruses, quartettes, solos and recitations, was one of considerable merit and was carried out in a manner that reflected much credit on those who took part and their instructors.

The fair to be held under the auspices of the congregation of Sacred Heart church will open this evening. The pastor and congregation have been working hard in preparation for the event for some time past. Many articles of value have been purchased and others donated for the fair. Booths representing the Blessed Virgin sodality, the Altar and Rosary society are situated on either side of the spacious upper auditorium of the church. A dining room, dedicated to the patrons of the fair, is constructed and somewhat re-modeled, and this in itself presents a spectacle that is a booster of beauty. The other booths, ornamented on every hand by bunting of picturesque colors, also present an enchanting appearance.

The one representing the Altar and Rosary society is roofed with beds of straw and is of ancient design. The programme committee have been diligent and untiring in their efforts to secure well-known and worthy talent to furnish their nightly entertainments. While their efforts may have been met with obstructions and inconveniences, they are fraught with excellent success. The fair has been purchased and others donated for the fair.
