POST THE VOTING RESULTS.

Members of the election boards in the various districts in the city and townships will confer a favor upon the newspaper men and public by posting the results of the vote as soon as a count has been made this evening. The failure to post the figures upon the doors of some of the election booths has caused endless annoyance in the past, and it is hoped that the officials in charge of booths will co-operate with the newspaper representatives today in the effort to give the public early and accurate election returns.

TO COLLECT THE CLIFFORD DUPLICATE

School Board Moves to Proceed Against the Tax Collector's Bondsmen for Full Amount of Duplicate Which School Board Statement Shows is $8,400—All Old Teachers Elected.

At the meeting of the school board last night after a ventilation of the matter, the board decided to proceed to the collection of the duplicate, amounting to several thousand dollars in the hands of Tax Collector Frank B. Clifford. This means that the board's solicitor, Attorney H. C. Butler, is to secure a settlement of the unrecovered duplicate of 1899, from Mr. Clifford's three sureties.

Mr. Clifford, himself, was present and made a brief statement. He explained that he had $6,000 to collect, $1,000 he has given to Alderman Jones for collection; $2,000 to Alderman Atkinson; $2,000 to Alderman Bunnell, while he kept $1,000 in his own hands.

"We suggested that this was a hard time to collect taxes and begged for an extension of time, finally suggesting that if the board allowed him grace until the expiration of his bond, which would be next September, he felt certain that every cent would be paid over."

"I agree with you that this is a hard time to collect taxes," said Mr. Copeland, after Mr. Clifford took his seat. "But you don't seem to think of this matter in the past. The taxpayers are howling, and this money ought to be collected. I don't think that they should suffer because this money has not been collected."

"It's time this matter was brought to a head," said Mr. Evans. "I move, therefore, that we refer this to the board's attorney for collection from the collector's bondsmen."

Mr. Butler, the board's solicitor, asked before the motion be put that the board specify the amount that he was expected to collect from the bondsmen of Mr. Clifford; the bondsmen might want a few days in which to meet this demand.

President Kerwin made a suggestion of leniency towards Mr. Clifford, if such was possible.

"We have been too lenient in the past, it seems to me," sharply insisted Mr. Copeland. "That seems to be the trouble. It would have been better for the board, better for Mr. Clifford and better for everybody concerned, if this course had been insisted on long ago."

Mr. Kerwin suggested that all the collectors held their duplicates about three years, though Mr. Clifford held his longer. Their bond was always good," said Mr. Kerwin.

"Yes," broke in Mr. Copeland, "but the bond company didn't pay interest as we are in this case."

Mr. Vanan expressed regret for Mr. Clifford's inability to settle and said he was willing to allow him thirty days' extension, making an amendment to that effect which, however, was not seconded.

Mr. Hughes, who had thus far been discussing the matter in a very earnest manner, "As man to man, I don't know what to say or to do in this case. I am willing to be lenient, if we can afford to do so. But I am ready to do my duty, whatever it may be, and without any fear or hesitation. It must not be said that we are fearful of doing our duty or that we have not done it, for I, as one, stand ready to do what is required of us. There is no reason for anything to be said to the contrary. I did expect that Mr. Clifford would settle tonight as promised at the board meeting of a few weeks ago, but since this has not been realized, we must act as the way is pointed out to us."

Mr. Evans' motion that the solicitor proceed to collect the duplicate from the bondsmen was not seconded up to this time. Mr. Copeland when a second was called for, assented and the motion was adopted, without a dissenting voice.

According to the books of the school board, there is yet due from Collector Clifford the sum of $8,400. In his statement to the board, as given above, it will be seen that there is in his hands and in the hands of three aldermen $6,000 which has not been paid over as yet by taxpayers.

It was the expectation that Mr. Clifford would make a part settlement at last night's meeting, as promised a few weeks ago. This, however, he said he could not do. The board then moved that the full amount of the duplicate be gotten from the bondsmen even though it has not been collected by Mr. Clifford.

Teachers Elected.

The other important transaction of the board was the election, but not the assignment of teachers. All of last year's teachers were chosen. No successor to Miss Joslin or an additional teacher for the ninth grade was selected. This will be done at another meeting. The teachers are as follows:

First School—B. Bryden, principal; three years; C. M. Leshner, A. Wilson Geary, Kathryn Pace, Cora Estabrook, Harriet Holthins, Sara Swigert, Angela Ellis.

Ninth Grade, Central Building—Frank H. Collins, Thomas Loftus, Anna Berry.

Eighth Grade, Central Building—Julia Kilbullen, Katherine Kelly.

No. 3 School—T. L. Gilmartin, principal; Kathryn Walsh, Anna Farrell, Ella Moran, Hattie Gilmartin.

No. 4 School—M. McAndrew, principal; Lydia Gilmartin.

No. 5 School—Mary Coogan, principal; Mary M. McLean.

No. 6 School—Nora Murphy, principal; P. M. Brennan, Lizzie Tlath, Anna B. Loftus.

No. 9 School—Ella Malone, principal; M. Louise Davis, R. Helen Passmore, Libbie Burke.

Substitutes—Mary Lally, Anna Stephens.

A resolution to give the superintendent power to place the teachers, presented by Mr. Copeland, met with opposition and was laid over.

CARBONDALE BOY ON THE HIGH SEAS

Frank Kelly, Well Known Resident of This City, Now Hospital Steward On United States Ship Buffalo, Writes an Interesting Letter from Along the Azores.

Carbondalians will be interested to hear from a prominent son of one of her oldest families, Frank Kelly, son of the late ex-Mayor John Kelly, and brother of Druggist B. A. Kelly and Joseph Kelly, of this city.

Mr. Kelly is now in the United States navy, holding a position of some distinction, being hospital steward on the United States ship, Buffalo. Mr. Kelly, like his brothers in this city, is a pharmacist. This is what qualified him for the position he holds and gives him the rank of a petty officer, with whom he messes.

Mr. Kelly writes home an interesting letter, while his ship is on the high seas making for the strait of Gibraltar. He gives his notion of life on the ocean and an idea of life aboard his ship. He writes:

At Sea, June 15, '02.

... We left New York on the 5th, with 50 men on board, and were given a very hearty send-off from about a thousand persons of all ages, friends and relatives of the crew. Then amid the report of cannon and the whistling of boats in the Statue of Liberty, on out past Sandy Hook, until the last sight of the United States was lost to view. The sensation was peculiar; nothing but water on all sides; but the novelty made us forget that we were leaving God's country behind, perhaps not to see it for four years, if ever.

Saturday, the 7th, the waves began to cut-up and the boat concluded that we had better get a taste of life on the ocean waves; by the way, the man who wrote the novel, "The Boat," never saw the ocean. And then such tossing and rolling; we seemed to be up a chip in the water. Then came the sea sickness of almost the entire ship's company. I thought I could have the pleasure of describing the sensation; but alas! and sick! I was disappointed! I was one of the few who did not get sick. After a couple of days, the old ship got down to business and since then we have been enjoying perfect weather, but with the air a trifle chilly.

We have seen very few ships since passing the Campania, just outside of New York, but we have thousands of "Mother Carey's chickens" following us; also schools of porpoises and jelly fish. I have seen only one shark.

The sunrise and the sunset are beautiful; but the ocean! Nothing but the ocean for days and days gets a trifle monotonous. Today we sighted the bleak, barren rocks of Portugal, and tomorrow about noon we expect to anchor about the island of Gibraltar, with Morocco across the strait from us. Thursday, we could just make out the Azores like a speck on the horizon.

Life on board has not been unpleasant, but I can assure you we are very sea-sick. Every man in the navy is with tips at 8; turning out at 2 a. m.; but I feel fine and with three square meals a day, I believe I can look ahead with some satisfaction to the four years before me.

You would laugh to see me get up at 4 o'clock every morning and scrub my own hammock. Every man in the navy is his own laundryman; in fact, everything from mending his own clothes to making up his hammock. You would be much surprised to see how well it is done. Cleanliness is the one thing demanded, and as the result, the ship is as clean as a pin.

Before Mr. Kelly concluded his letter his ship touched at Gibraltar, the announcement of which ends his letter. "We have just dropped anchor," he says, "under the hill of Gibraltar. Will write you a full description in my

A Sudden Twinge

Of pain is generally the first warning of an attack of rheumatism. It feels as if the disease were in the bones or muscles, but the real cause of rheumatism is found in impure blood. In order to cure rheumatism the blood must be cleansed of the poisonous impurities which are the cause of the disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is very successful in the cure of rheumatism, because it entirely cleanses the blood from the poisonous substances which are the cause of the disease. It not only purifies the blood but by increasing the activity of the blood-making glands, it increases the supply of pure, rich blood which adds to the vigor of every physical organ.

Mr. R. A. McKnight, of Williamsburg Co., S. C., writes: "I had been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years, so bad at times I could not leave my bed. I was badly crippled. Tried many doctors and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me much good. The pains in my back, hips and legs and at times in my head, would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took five bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four more of 'Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery,' and after suffering twelve years with rheumatism, I am now well."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.
