Perry Smith, of Owego, whose death occurred at that place Monday evening, after a sickness of but a few hours, was held at the home of his wife, Mrs. M. Smith, on Lathrop street. A sad coincidence in connection with his departure from this life was the fact that the date of the funeral was precisely on the anniversary of his twenty-seventh birthday. Rev. A. W. Cooper conducted the funeral services, both at the house and at the cemetery. A quartet, consisting of Mrs. Jean Wilnot, Miss Eva Heckman, J. E. Barney and L. R. Titwiler, rendered appropriate selection. The pall bearers were three members of the Red Men's lodge and three members of the fire company at Owego, both of which organizations were a part of the funeral. The young man was universally liked and although for several years he has resided in Owego, his home-comings have ever been a source of pleasure to his numerous friends, and his loss is lamented by all who know him. The semi-annual meeting of the Susquehanna County Historical society will be held at Hopbottom Friday, Sept. 19. Mrs. Charles F. DeLong is seriously ill. Montrose fire company, No. 2, will attend the firemen's celebration at Mesopotam, Monday, Sept. 1. Miss Julie Cruser, a popular elocutionist of this place, will give an entertainment at the Binghamton Baptist church next Thursday evening, for the benefit of that church. Miss Cruser's melodious voice and graceful presence won for her an enviable reputation, and she is very popular as a reader and reciter throughout this section of the state. Samuel Smith, colored, who pleaded guilty to larceny, was sentenced to a year and seven months in the Eastern penitentiary by Judge Seale this week. The well known and famous Brothers team of Pittston played a hotly-contested game of ball in this place Thursday afternoon. The game was a record of twenty-eight victories and one defeat, but after the game another defeat had been added. Susquehanna had been defeated badly at two games previous and they assured the visiting nine that they would have an easy thing of it in this place. But Montrose was in excellent condition and won the game easily, the score being 12-4. Curran, of the Montrose team, made a home run and brought in two runs, besides scoring himself; Hollister brought in two runs by a fine hit, and Conkling's work behind the bat and Hoover's pitching was superb. The vanquished took their defeat pleasantly and were effusive in their compliments to our boys, which were reciprocated. The receipts of the game were about $50. Tunkhannock will play here Tuesday afternoon, and a very warm game is anticipated. The thirty-first annual encampment of the Susquehanna County Veterans' association will be held in the fair grounds in this place on September 2, 3 and 4. There will be reduced rates on all roads leading to Montrose during the encampment, and reduced terms at hotels. Following are the teachers who will instruct the pupils in the Montrose High school the coming year, beginning Sept. 2: Principal, C. H. Winder; assistant principal, Miss Clara E. Winans; of Meshoppen; assistants, Mrs. Edith Jones and Miss Rose Juday; manual teacher, Miss Rose Juday. Miss Jennie Sprong, teacher. Miss Sharpless, a celebrated singer of Philadelphia, sang at the morning services in the First Baptist church on Sunday last. Miss Sharpless is a very pleasing soloist and all enjoyed hearing her. Mr. F. A. Davis who was our candidate for register and recorder, made a very good showing at the Republican convention at Montrose last week but was not quite able to make it. We extend our congratulations on the good showing and would say try again Frank. The Baptist Sunday school will picnic at Crystal lake on Tuesday of this week and the Methodist school will picnic on Wednesday following at the same place. Would it not be a good idea to hold a union picnic and all go the same day? The fifth annual reunion of the George Lowry family took place on Aug. 29 at the home of Mr. H. W. Lowry of this place. The day was all that we could ask for bright and clear. Tables were arranged upon the lawn under the trees and at the noon hour were laden with such a variety of good things that there came the business of the reunion, this was opened by all singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name." Grambs, on the vacant lot on Main street next to the opera house, commenced excavating for the foundation Monday morning. One of the most interesting games of base ball ever played in Honestdale was enjoyed by a large gathering on Saturday. It is seldom teams so evenly matched as the Jersey and Honestdale ever come together. The ninth inning closed without a run for either side, and not until the last of the tenth inning, with Honestdale at the bat, was a score recorded. This closed the game with 1-0 in favor of Honestdale, Spencer umpired. Not a dispute marred the game. Billy Miller pitched for Honestdale and Curtis for Jersey. Visitors in Glen Dyberry cemetery, that beautiful city of the dead, will notice that very many of the monuments and grave markers bear names that are familiar in Scranton, families whose ancestors were once residents of Honestdale. Among the names that may be found in Dimick, Terry, Watters, Hand, Blair, Henwood, Fuller, Weston, Goldsmith, Cohen, Levy, and many others.
