JORDAN FOR STATE SENATE CHOICE OF REPUBLICANS OF TWENTIETH DISTRICT.

Very Harmonious Convention Held Yesterday Morning in the Central Republican Club Rooms—Attorney R. J. Bourke's Name Was Not Presented to the Convention and Attorney John B. Jordan Was Nominated by Acclamation—The Resolutions Adopted.

ATTORNEY JOHN B. JORDAN.

Attorney John B. Jordan, of Carbondale, was yesterday named by the Republicans of the Twentieth Senatorial district as their candidate for state senator.

The nomination of Mr. Jordan was accompanied by a great display of enthusiasm. Promptly at 10 o'clock E. P. Kingsbury, chairman of the senatorial committee, called the convention to order in the Central Republican club rooms and asked to be relieved from further work as chairman as his duties as foreman of the grand jury made it necessary for him to return to that body at once.

On motion of William Dawson, Dr. J. W. Houser, of Taylor, was named as chairman, J. N. Gelder, of Carbondale and Attorney R. W. Remyer, of Jersey, were selected for secretaries. The chairman named the following committees: Credentials—William Stevenson, Moses; Hon. C. P. O'Malley, Scranton; S. H. Master, Carbondale; James Edwards, Scranton; James Strong, Winton.

Resolutions—E. D. Jenkins, Scranton; David Jones, Carbondale; Joseph Moore, Shiner; Mills, R. W. Taylor, Haskely; Otto Schuler, Scranton; J. D. Davis, Avoca; W. J. Brokenshire, Carbondale.

FEW CONTESTS. The credentials in the meantime had been received and the roll prepared showed that very few contests had been instituted. On motion of Alderman John T. Howe, all contestants and those contested were granted one-half a vote each.

Nominations for state senator were declared in order and W. A. Stanton named John B. Jordan, a candidate who, he said, is sure to win. "He is one of the strongest young men in the district," continued Mr. Stanton, "a young man who has won an enviable position at the Lackawanna bar by his own unaided efforts."

Alderman Howe was then recognized by the chair and after paying a most eloquent tribute to the worth, manliness and patriotism of R. J. Bourke, said that in the interest of harmony his name would not be presented to the convention.

"Mr. Bourke's career will not end with this convention," said the alderman. "You will hear from him again and you will live to do him honor for some time to come. He is a Republican of Republicans from the crown of his head to the sole of his feet."

Hon. C. P. O'Malley seconded the nomination of Mr. Jordan and in doing so paid high tribute to the worth of the man who he said will be the next senator from this district and a worthy successor of the lamented Hon. J. C. Vaughan. The speeches were warmly applauded and at their conclusion Mr. Jordan's nomination was made by acclamation.

A committee consisting of Hon. C. P. O'Malley and Alderman John T. Howe was appointed to bring the candidate before the convention and while the convention was waiting E. D. Jenkins read the report of the committee on the resolutions which were adopted as reported. The resolutions follow:

THE RESOLUTIONS. We, the representatives of the Republican party of the Twentieth senatorial district, in convention assembled, again express our unwavering allegiance to the principles of the Republican party, and set forth in the last national and state platforms; and pledge our united support to the candidates nominated at state, county and legislative conventions, and to the person nominated here today.

throughout the commonwealth under such legal regulations as shall best secure the participation of all our citizens in the selection of public officers. We declare the present senatorial and legislative apportionment to be unjust and unfair to this locality, and we request and urge the prompt passage of a more fair bill by our next legislature.

CANDIDATE INTRODUCED. Candidate Jordan was introduced to the convention by Alderman Howe and after thanking the delegates for the nomination said he would use his best energies to secure his election and afterwards to perform his duties in a way that will meet the approval of the people of the Twentieth district.

In response to calls for Bourke the latter came before the convention and after congratulating the nominees said he will do what he can to secure the election of Mr. Jordan. Last night Mr. Bourke asked the Tribune to say for him most emphatically that he did not use the language last night's Times quotes him with uttering.

Candidate Jordan was born in Olyphant, April 15, 1870, and his early education was obtained in the public schools. He worked in the breaker and mines until 1887 when he moved to this city with his parents.

He entered Wood's Business college and was graduated from it in 1890 when he entered college at Worcester, Mass.

After being graduated from that institution he entered the law department of the University of Pennsylvania and since he was graduated there he has been in active practice at the Lackawanna bar achieving a commanding position among its members.

Mr. Jordan possesses a well trained as well as a well stored and disciplined mind and he will make a very efficient member of the senate.

THE LACKAWANNA PRESBYTERY MEETS. Interesting Session at Pittston. Candidates Examined for Admission—Dr. Lansing's Address.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Pittston, Sept. 17.—The Lackawanna Presbytery has been in session here since last Sunday night, and will continue its deliberations tomorrow. Yesterday morning was devoted to the appointment of committees and the roll call.

In the afternoon, Fred N. Jossup, son of a Syrian missionary, and H. J. Smith were examined for admission. The former was licensed to preach, and a letter, being an ordained minister, was received into the Presbytery. Rev. W. I. Steans, who has been in the Presbytery at Northumberland, was received back into the Lackawanna Presbytery.

It was reported that the annual convention of the Presbytery, which will be held this year at Lake Carey, Oct. 6, 9, and the Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., would be present at that time to speak. At his request, the pastoral relations between Rev. A. M. Higgins and the churches at Bethel and Newton, were dissolved.

Dr. Lansing, of Scranton, addressed the meeting last night on the subject, "The Church and Civic Righteousness." At this morning's session, the committee on work among the foreign-speaking people made its report. The work among the Italians was discussed and Mr. Milne, a layman, a missionary, made an address. Rev. W. H. Swift, of Honesdale, presented the report of the committee on synodical sustentation, and the work of the past year was thoroughly gone over.

Among the resolutions made by the committee was the choice of Rev. Charles Lee, of Carbondale, as the representative of the Presbytery on the synodical committee on sustentation, and the election of Rev. Dr. Brooks, of Wilkes-Barre, as the Presbyterial missionary for a term of three years, three months and thirteen days. The term is usually one or three years, but the additional months are added this time in order to make the term always expire on the first of January, whereas, at present, it expires at the time of election of a new FIRE DESTROYS THIRD WASHERY. BLAZE WAS PROBABLY OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN. The Taylor Coal Company's Washery in the Third Ward Burned to the Ground by Fire Which Started Just Before Midnight—Watchman Kinehan Had Chased a Party of Young Men Away from Premises Twice—Loss Is Estimated to Be About $7,000.

A small washery owned by the Taylor Coal company and located on the Abington turnpike near the city line was totally destroyed by a fire which broke out last night shortly after 11:30 o'clock. There seems to be no question but that the blaze was of incendiary origin.

The washery was about 24x40 feet in size and had a capacity of twenty tons a day. It has been in operation for several weeks employing six men. Last night the watchman, John Kinehan, saw four or five young men loitering about the place and ordered them away. They came around again later on at night and were again chased away by Kinehan shortly after 11 o'clock.

The latter had occasion to visit the office a little later and when he came out he noticed a small blaze at the far end of the washery. There was no fire or anything which could have caused a blaze in that vicinity and Kinehan became convinced at once that the place had been deliberately set on fire by the fellows he had chased away.

If there had been any water nearby he might have succeeded in extinguishing the blaze himself, but there was not and he found himself unable to cope with the situation and requested several of the crowd which had gathered to send in an alarm from box 55 at the corner of West Market and Winona streets, but they one and all refused point blank to do any such thing.

He was finally obliged to go himself. When the companies did arrive practically the whole washery was destroyed, and as there are no hydrants in the vicinity it was found impossible to extinguish the flames.

The loss is estimated at $7,000. The president of the Taylor Coal company is P. Mulherin and M. M. Williams is the secretary and treasurer.

This is the third washery in this region which has been burned since the inauguration of the strike. The other two were the Capouse and Bellevue, both of which were burned during the first week in August. Before the strike a washery had never been burned.
